Needles And Pins

Fly As Lillibet

Awaits Trousseau

By NORMAN CRIBBENS (Canadian Press Staff Writer) LONDON, Aug. 14 (CP) — World-famous dress designers are working on tentative designs for the tresseau Princess Elizabeth will wear when she marries Lieut. Philip Mountbatten at Westminster Abbey on Thursday, Nov. 20, at 11:30 a.m.

A few rough sketches have been shown to the Princess and it is believed the final design will be chosen while the royal family is taking its annual holiday at Balmoral. The Princess will probably return to London for the first fittings before the end of the vacation.

Though extra clothing coupons are being issued, court officials say the finished tresseau will be "on the conservative side" in view of today's austerity conditions.

The wedding itself, while following traditional lines, will lack the ostentation of earlier royal marriages. The wedding cake, for one thing, will be much smaller than the 800-pounder, standing nine feet, that was cut at the wedding of the present King and Queen.

In other ways precedence will rule arrangements. The Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Robert Fisher, assisted by the Dean of Canterbury, Dr. Alan Don, will solemnize the marriage with the Archbishop of York, Dr. Cyril Garbett, taking part. Choir and organ music will be on a traditional scale with an augmented choir and at least two distinguished musicians at the organ.

Plan State Drive

There will almost certainly be a state drive from Buckingham Palace to the Abbey and after the ceremony the Princess and her husband will probably drive back to the palace in an open horse-drawn carriage.

All the Princess's wedding presents will be displayed in the state rooms at St. James's Palace and the public will be admitted on payment of a small sum to be devoted to charity.

Tentative plans call for morning clothes for the men and long dresses for the women in place of formal court dresses. There will be television broadcasting from various points along the route from Westminster Abbey to Buckingham Palace with commentaries by leading BBC broadcasters.

Lieut. Mountbatten is to have a personal guard, appointed by Scotland Yard, who will take up his duties on the morning. The officer will have duties similar to those of the recently appointed personal guard to Princess Elizabeth. Usher is 43, 6 feet 2 inches and a first-class amateur boxer.

In choosing a November wedding Princess Elizabeth has followed the example of her two uncles, The Duke of Gloucester and the late Duke of Kent, both married in November.

By TOM REEDY NUERNBERG, Aug. 11 (AP) — The top secret files of Martin Bormann have yielded evidence that Hitler believed in war every 15 or 20 years as a good thing for the German people.

This is disclosed in a memorandum by Dr. Robert W. Kempner in his preparation of the case against Ribbentrop's Foreign Office. The memo related a conversation between Hitler and his party leader, the dusky Bormann.

Bormann relayed the memorandum to all high officials in the various ministries. It is dated Aug. 19, 14 1/2 weeks after the invasion of Russia by the Wehrmacht.

The writer quoted Hitler directly as saying: "If one wants to wish the German people something good then it should be that it could have a war every 15 or 20 years."

"An army whose only objective is to maintain the peace leads to playing soldiers. One has only to look at Sweden or Switzerland. Otherwise such an army becomes a danger of a revolutionary nature."

However, only two years later Hitler wrote that Jodl informed him it would cost 800,000 men to defeat the "play soldier" Swiss Army, so the venture was abandoned in the planning stage.

Hilke explained casualties to the people through the Bormann note this way: "If one holds it against me that 100,000 or 200,000 people have lost their lives in war making, I can counter that through my activity up to now the German nation had already gained over 2,500,000 people."

"If I ask 10 percent of this as sacrifice, I have given 90 per cent. I hope that we will have, in 10 years at least, 10 to 15 million more Germans in the world. Whether men or women that is the same. I am creating the living conditions."

He inveighed against birth control, commenting that many great men were the sixth or the seventh child and Germans must not fall into the mistake of being satisfied with one child.

For the Russians, in the Ukraine especially, he saw slavery. He forecast feeding the entire continent from the Ukraine.

He said this, too, would come from the east. He said poor German working families would be removed from Thuringia and the Erzgebirge to better places. The Russians occupy those areas now and Germans are reported in forced labor in uranium mines.

CERTO gives you SURE RESULTS and 50% MORE JAM or JELLY!

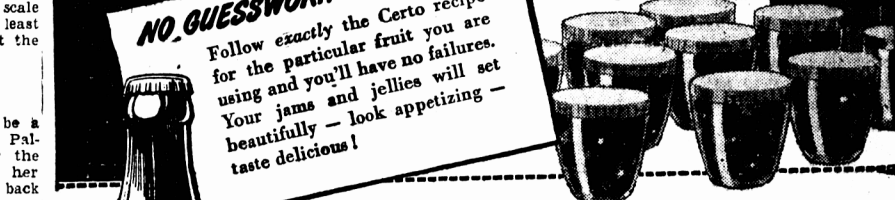

QUICK EASY Jam and jelly making with Certo takes about one third of the time needed for old-fashioned recipes. Certo jams need only a one to two-minute full, rolling boil... Certo jellies only a half-minute to a minute.

YOU GET 50% MORE jam or jelly. In the short Certo boil practically no juice can waste away in steam as it does in the old, long boil.

NATURAL TASTE and COLOUR The Certo boil is too short to spoil the fresh taste or luscious colour. They remain in your jam and jelly.

NO GUESSWORK Follow exactly the Certo recipe for the particular fruit you are using and you'll have no failures. Your jams and jellies will set beautifully — look appetizing — taste delicious!

Look for BOOK OF TESTED RECIPES UNDER THE LABEL OF EVERY BOTTLE

Certo is fruit pectin — the natural jelling substance extracted from fruit. It enables you to use fully ripe fruit instead of the under-ripe fruit called for in old-fashioned recipes.

A POUND OF JAM OR JELLY MADE WITH CERTO CONTAINS NO MORE SUGAR THAN A POUND MADE THE OLD LONG-BOIL WAY.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

ACTIONS REVEAL GREED

Of course, many fathers and mothers who will not let their grown daughters have dates or go out with boys, or even let a boy cross their thresholds, are actuated by greed. They want Sally's and Mary's pay envelope and they are going to keep them from marrying just as long as they possibly can.

But with many other parents it is just sheer lack of knowledge of life that makes them keep their girls prisoners in their homes. They have all sorts of weird, distorted ideas about the origin that the young people of today indulge in, and they actually think they are protecting their daughters if they never let them go around with any other youngsters, or attend a dance, or even go to the movies, unless they go with them.

Why they can't see that it is a girl's character, and not being watched, that is her protection and keeps her going straight, nobody knows. From the time a modern girl is 17 years old she has to be her own chaperon, because mother and father can't be with her while she is at work; they can't hold her by the hand every time she goes on the street; they can't keep her from meeting all types of men, and she has to take care of herself. And the only way she can do it is by knowing the world of men, and how to handle whatever situations that come up. And, most of all, by being trusted and being put on her honor by her parents to do the right thing.

It is the girls who have to lie to their parents about where they go and meet boys on the sly who are pushed into doing wrong by their overstrict fathers and mothers. In trying to save their daughters, many parents ruin them.

DEAR MISS DIX: When a girl cannot swim, or dance, or skate, how can she expect to be popular with boys who all like to do these things? If there is no place where she can learn to do these things, how can she learn?

THREE GIRLS

ANSWER: If there is no water near you, I don't see how you can learn to swim, but even if you live in a hot climate where there is no ice you can learn how to roller skate. There must be someone who can serve as a dancing instructor. Why don't you girls get up a club and hire someone to teach you how to dance and play a good game of cards and the usual social tricks that make one fit into any society?

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Do you think that a man who works long hours every day on a heavy job should be expected to do all the marketing as he comes home from work? My wife's excuse for not doing the housekeeping is that seeing raw food takes away her appetite.

HENPECKED MAN.

ANSWER: Unless your wife is a bedridden invalid, there is no excuse whatever for her not doing the marketing as well as the cooking, and you should force her to do her part in the domestic partnership. Anyone is lucky these days to get a look at raw food. It is a fair treat to the eyes now to even see a steak.
