The death of Mr. James Henry which occurred at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. C. Hobbs, Georgetown, on Tuesday April 16th has occasioned a deep sense of loss and regret not only to his bereaved relations but to all who were fortunate enough to know this man of unfeeling courtesy, good-will and kindness. The high esteem in which he was held was truly merited and the memory of his kindly spirit will be cherished alike by kindred and friends.

The late Mr. Henry was born at White Sands, P. E. I. in the year 1851. For a number of years in youth and early manhood he worked at sailmaking in company with his father and older brother, but shortly after marriage he settled on a farm at Burnt Point where he resided for the remainder of his life with the exception of intervals spent in Georgetown during the last few years. Being possessed of wonderful powers of endurance he toiled persistently until health and strength finally collapsed a few months ago.

He leaves to mourn three brothers and one sister: Thomas, Georgetown; Mark and Ezra, Boston, Mass.; Mrs. Capt. John McDonald (Mary Jane) Dartmouth, N. S. Also two sons and four daughters, Sullivan, a farmer at Burnt Point; Mrs. Andrew Levers (Clara) and Mrs. W. C. His wife predeceased him about eighteen years ago.

The pall-bearers were: Messrs. A. A. McDonald, D. P. McKinnon, Alfred McCullough, Melville Ross, J. A. McCullough and J. H. Skinner.

There was a large choir under the direction of Mrs. A. Lawson, with Mrs. E. S. Rogers as organist, which in addition to leading the hymns and psalms contributed two finely rendered anthems at the morning service. At this service also, a duet was sung by Mr. and Mrs. Raoul Raymond, whose magnificent voices blended most effectively and harmoniously.

Three stained glass windows, erected in the chancel wall, were unveiled and dedicated in an impressive ceremony at the morning service. The windows represent respectively: St. Andrew, the Patron Saint of Scotland, "The Faith of our Fathers"; St. Nicholas, the Patron Saint of the City of Aberdeen, Scotland, and the Santa Claus of the children, representing "The Charity that edifieth", and a symbolic angelic figure of Hope, "The helmet of Salvation".

HARBOR CLEAR OF ICE - Charlottetown Harbor is clear of ice and the Rocky Point ferry service is expected to start within a few days. Most of Northumberland Strait and the Gulf of St. Lawrence along the north side of Prince Edward Island are still blocked with drift ice, however.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH - At St. Peters, Wednesday evening, 17th an elderly lady after getting off the train, while proceeding on the track fell in a culvert and the train in the act of backing down to unload freight had almost struck her when Mr. Ernest Molinis, ex-C. N. R. employee ran to her assistance and rescued her just in time.

The news of the death of Mr. Charles A. McDonald was received with regretful surprise by his many friends in Georgetown. The late Mr. McDonald was engaged in a literary business here for a number of years before going to Montague and was well and favorably known. The remains were brought from Charlottetown for burial in St. James Cemetery here and the funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon with Rev. O. Klignin officiating.

FORMER ISLANDER DIES - On April 15th, James E. Trainor, a former resident of South Melville, P.E.I., died suddenly at his home in New York City. He leaves to mourn besides his widow and family in New York City, two sisters and one brother in Prince Edward Island, Mrs. Mary Case, of North River and Mrs. Catherine Cullen, of North Wiltshire and Patrick Trainor, of South Melville.

SAD BEREAVEMENT - Many friends will regret the death of the late Mr. Frank Fraser, who died on Friday morning at his home in Charlottetown. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Fraser, and several children.

It was with deep regret that the communities of West Covehead and St. Peter's Bay learned of the unexpected death of Mrs. Isabelle Webster on Tuesday, April 11, 1935, at the home of her daughter Mrs. W. A. Way in St. Peter's Bay where she had gone for a visit but a short time before. Mrs. Webster, who for the past three years has been living with her son Robert and her daughter Mrs. Blanch Cameron in West Covehead, P. E. I., was born in Dundas, P. E. I., 83 years ago. Her maiden name was Isabelle MacDonald and in 1876 she married Mr. Charles D. Webster of Masie, whom Mrs. Webster has lived for fifty years of her life. Mr. Webster died in 1914 leaving a large family. Mrs. Webster's death was peaceful and seemingly without pain, and she faced the end with simple faith and quiet trust in her Savior, and in peaceful assurance of her heavenly home. She remained conscious to the end, and shortly before she died she sang quietly that hymn "Christ the Faith, 'Nearer My God To Thee'".

The following interesting communication from Mr. Neil McKenzie, of Broderick, Saskatchewan, speaks for itself: "I am sending you the following note, believing it to be of interest to some of your readers. The Family Herald of April 2nd, an account is given of the first incident of the 1885 Rebellion. Also an imaginary sketch is drawn on the same page, in which a former Islander would be one of the soldiers represented in the drawing. Dan MacKenzie, a nephew of the late Alexander MacKenzie of Long Creek, a member of that unfortunate party who on March 26, 1885, went with sleighs to remove the Government supplies from the Duck Lake to Prince Albert.

"It is related by his sister, who is still living at Prince Albert, that he was shot, while sitting on a sleigh, on the 26th of March 1885, the opening day of the struggle which brought grief to many hearts. "Also in the same papers in the issue of April 15th, reference is made to one Sergeant John Martin, as being among a party who made a perilous escape down the Saskatchewan river from Fort Pitt to Battledore in a leaky scow while much ice was floating. "I am informed that Sgt. Martin was in reality a man named Mitchell who, after his retirement lived for a time at New Dominion. I have no doubt some still living knew him personally. I am writing this merely to show that even in those early days of the West, Prince Edward Island was not without its representatives in all the stirring events, and there may be others that I know not of."

The Misses Alice and Rena Younker have returned home from Easter holidays with their grandmothers, Mrs. J. A. Younker at the home of Miss Edna Jenkins.

Mr. Chas. Mallett of Alberton had the misfortune of being badly bitten by his German police dog. Mr. Mallett was feeding his dog when the animal grew quite savage and severely bit his master's hand in several places. The dog was immediately disposed of as this was not his first offence.

LAI'D TO REST - The funeral of the late Patricia Budge was held from her late residence yesterday morning to St. Dunstan's Basilica, where Requiem High Mass was celebrated by Rev. Eugene Murray. The pall bearers were: Messrs. Alphonse Dolron, Jas. Campbell, Jas. Sampson, Frank Murphy, Edward Bradley and Isaac Doucette. Service at the grave was conducted by the Rev. Dr. McMahon.

Mr. Hubert Campbell of Montrose must have received inside information about the weather temperature of the coming summer. Evidently he must be going to his job, as he is adding to his ice supply, and is at present at the job. Mr. Campbell reports the ice in real good condition for storing, the only disadvantage being in the handling of the ice as it is three feet eight inches in thickness, a good amount of ice for the middle of April.

On Monday, April 22, he is scheduled to deliver an address before the Graduate Society of McGill University, on the subject of the Carnegie Library demonstration in Prince Edward Island. The Premier will be accompanied by Mrs. MacMillan and his daughter, Mrs. Alban Farmer, who are proceeding to Boston.

Approval of the establishment by the Federal Department of the Interior of a Wild Bird Sanctuary at Black Pond, was given on behalf of the Province at a meeting of the Executive Council last night. The sanctuary, which will be situated five miles east of Souris, will cover an area of about 200 acres.

Black Pond is a noted breeding haunt for black duck, and the farmers and sportsmen of that vicinity, as well as the Fish and Game Protective Association, are strongly behind the movement to establish a sanctuary there. It will be the first of its kind in this Province.

It was required of the Provincial Government was to give its approval to the Federal Department declaring the area a sanctuary, which has been done following correspondence with Ottawa on the subject. The following appointments were also made at last night's meeting: To be Commissioners for taking acknowledgment of deeds, and also Justices of the Peace: Messrs. Harry Hughes, Northboro, Harry Bourke, Fortune Bridge, and Milton Dingwall, Bay Fortune.

Two men lost their lives while fishing seals yesterday morning at Trout River, near Edward Williams' shore, between Tyne Valley and the Bideford Shore. The men were Martin Thompson, aged 32 years, who is a native of the district and leaves a wife and three children. The other man William Callough, 28 years of age, was a native of England. At 10 o'clock yesterday morning they decided to put into the village to purchase supplies. They drew a sled along the ice on which were placed their baskets and fishing gear. Before the horrified eyes of fellow fishermen they appeared to walk right off the ice into open water.

"They didn't seem to notice the current stepped right into the river eye-witnesses said. Rushing to their assistance, Alfred Ramsay, Charles Newcombe, and Angus McLennan recovered the body of Thompson shortly after he had gone under. They applied artificial respiration but without success. Mr. Callough's body was brought to the surface about an hour later.

Inquest Unnecessary - Dr. Stewart, Tyne Valley, was summoned but found on arrival that both men had passed away. Dr. Tanton, coroner, and Constable Miles and Key of the Summerside detachment, R. C. M. P. held an inquiry last evening, the coroner deciding that an inquest was unnecessary.

The inquiry showed that Mr. Thompson had been in the water fifteen to twenty minutes, and was accompanied from three quarters of an hour to an hour. The water at the scene of the tragedy was about eight feet deep.

Strange Coincidence - A strange coincidence in connection with Mr. Thompson's death is that his father, James Thompson, was rown twenty years ago yesterday at Black Banks, a few miles further west, on the same shore. It is understood that the men had been warned by Mr. Burns MacAsland that the ice was not safe, but evidently they had forgotten the warning in the pursuit of their work. Mr. Callough who lived most of his life in Halifax came to Lennox Island, Prince Edward Island's Indian reservation, about two years ago and married an Indian girl named Sarah last June. They had one child.

Spencer arrived back from Cavendish claiming he had found goods valued at more than $50 but under a hay mow and announced that charges would be laid against William Irving Green who is at present serving a 30-day term after being convicted on another charge.

The store of Boyle and MacGough at Summerside was entered within the past fortnight when entry was made through a rear window, fastened down by three-inch nails. Finger prints on the window pane were taken and forwarded to Ottawa for identification. Stacks of clothing and other articles of men's wear were stolen. Earlier the store of L. B. Wayne at Mayfield had been entered on March 8th the store of E. C. Legape, North Rustico had reported a break. Green received good marks in the examination of the store of L. B. Making their first appearance before the public in some of the most memorable scenes of the Shakespearian drama, last night the Kirk Shakespear Group scored a decided success, and aroused an interest and enthusiasm in classical dramatic entertainment which is most encouraging. The audience was large and appreciative. The performance was given in costume. The scene setting, especially designed for the occasion, followed the Shakespearian tradition. The performers were not only word perfect in their parts, but entered with zest and appreciation into the dramatic characterizations. The masterly portrayal of Shylock by Dr. Moorhead Legate, and of Fortia by Mrs. Legate, were of course the high-spots of the performance, as Shakespeare intended them to be. They were played with a naturalness, a surmise of touch, and an emphasis on the poetic as well as dramatic quality of the lines, which made a lasting impression on the audience. No less creditable, however, was the splendid showing made by the younger members of the group. Mr. Ian Burnett, as Antonio, and Mr. Stuart Dickson, as Bassanio, had important and difficult parts which they handled shyly and adequately. The support given by the other players was also highly satisfactory. They were Messrs. Louis Badier, Niall Burnett, Jack O'Hanlon and Joseph Hunter as Gratiano, Salario, Lorenzo and Salario, friends of Antonio; Mr. Heath Saunders, as the Duke of Venice; Mr. Hunter as Balthasar, Portia's servant, and as Gaoler; and Miss Dorothea Stewart, who was both charming and effective in the role of Nerissa, Portia's waiting-maid.
