BRITISH MANUFACTURERS TAKING INTEREST IN CANADIAN MARKET

Secretary of Industries' Federation Says They Can Probably be of Considerable Assistance if Any Government in Canada is Anrious for Factories.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The valedictory warning given by G. T. Milne, the senior British Trade Commissioner in Canada, that Britain was being ousted from the Canadian market by the United States, partly owing to the former's failure to establish branch factories and distributing establishments in Canada, seems to have caused some perturbation in trade circles here. The secretary of the powerful federation of British industries has written to F. C. Wade, Agent-General of British Columbia to state "where any overseas Government, Dominion or Provincial, is anxious to promote industries within its borders, we here can probably be of considerable assistance. There are many firms in this country who are following the establishment of home industries overseas with interest. I can assure you that there is an amount of interest taken in the Canadian market which would surprise some critics of the British manufacturer if its full extent were known."

Loss of Foot or Death the Only Alternative

(Special to The Guardian.)

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Oct. 3.—When his left foot became firmly wedged in a frog on the Welland ship canal construction railway at Thorold, 16 year old William Speck, Thorold, yesterday was faced with the alternative of death or of having his foot ground off, as the construction train was right upon him, and the train crew did not see his plight. He chose the loss of a foot, and throwing himself away from the track, the entire train passed over his foot, crushing it to a pulp. Speck's foot was amputated at the Canal Hospital, and in spite of the terrible shock, it is believed he will survive.

Twenty-Two Lost From Portugese Fishing Vessel

(Special to The Guardian.)

ST. JOHN'S Nfld., Oct. 28. —Twenty two men were lost with twenty-six dories from a Portuguese fishing vessel (name unknown) during the north Atlantic gale of three weeks ago, according to the French steam trawler Fleurus, here from the Grand Banks. The trawler stated that the news reached her indirectly. The Portuguese vessel, it was stated, remained on the fishing grounds for several days in the hope of finding at least some of the missing men, but finally gave up the search and made for Portugal with barely enough crew to work the vessel back.

Little hope is entertained here that any of the fishermen were saved as it is thought they would have been heard from before this. The loss, if the account is correct, constitutes one of the worst tragedies of the Grand Banks.

Please get the co-operation of the management at Toronto, Moncton and Captain of the car ferry and I feel sure this late trip can be safely and successfully accomplished.

Lewis Repudiated By District No. 26 U. M. W. of Sydney

(Special to The Guardian.)

SYDNEY, N.S., Oct. 28.—Whether the United Mine Workers of America will revoke the charter of District 26 for alleged "red" activities, now rests entirely in the hands of International President, John L. Lewis, according to Silby Barrett, who returned today from Indianapolis headquarters.

Mr. Barrett reported that Mr. Lewis refused to recognize Alex. Stewart who defeated Barrett for the International Board membership in the election of August 15, and said he would, therefore, continue to carry on, although unrecognized by the executive board of Nova Scotia.

Some time ago international headquarters were reported to be considering revoking the charter of District 26, because of the action of the Truro convention in June in affiliating the Nova Scotia miners with the Red Internationale of Moscow.

"District 26 will continue to uphold Aler Stewart and ignore Silby Barrett' declared District Secretary J.B. MacLachlan today. The men elected Stewart and the executive will respect their wishes, rather than those of John L. Lewis," he said.

Martial Law Proclaimed in Italy But Rescinded

(Special to The Guardian.)

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Martial law was proclaimed in Italy to take effect at noon today but the proclamation was rescinded it is stated in despatches from the Stefani agency in Rome the semi-official Italian News organization. It is explained that the withdrawal of the proclamation is the result of an improvement in the situation.

ROME, Oct. 28.— The Cabinet Council has been in session since midnight in order to receive reports from the provinces where the Fascisti movement has taken a subversive decision and to adopt necessary measures to meet the situation.

The cabinet decided first to issue a proclamation declaring a state of siege in all the provinces beginning at noon today, but later this decision was modified and a proclamation was issued urging the public to maintain order in the face of insurrectionary attempts

ROME, Oct. 28.—The Italian cabinet in a proclamation to the people says:

"Seditious movements having manifested themselves in certain provinces of Italy having as their object the interruption of the moral functions of the state's powers and calculated to plunge the country into grave trouble, the government has as far as possible tried every means of conciliation in the hope of re-establishing peace and reaching a peaceful solution of the crisis.

"In the face of such insurrectionary attempts it is the duty of the government by all means at whatever cost to maintain law and order and this duty it will carry out to the full in order to safeguard the citizens and free constitutional institutions.

"It is the government's expectation that the citizens will remain calm and have confidence in the measures taken for their safety.

"Long live Italy. Long live the King."

The Campaign is Warming Up In England

Former Premier Asquith Spoke at Peterborough and Winston Churchill Issues Manifesto.

(Special to The Guardian.)

LONDON, Oct. 28. —The election campaign has now reached a stage where there is such a number of political speeches and announcements that it is becoming almost a physical impossibility for the newspapers either to report or follow them. Herbert Asquith, former Premier, and Winston Spencer Churchill, Colonial Secretary in the Lloyd George cabinet, were the two principal figures engaging attention today. Mr. Asquith, who had been rather slow in getting into action, delivered his first important campaign speech at Peterborough. His address was devoted chiefly to criticizing the Coalition government's shortcomings and the new Bonar Law Ministry. "We have today the unusual spectacle of two authors of coalition, Lloyd George and Bonar Law, writing rival epitaphs to carry upon its tomb," declared Mr Asquith.

Bonar Law's Policy.

The speaker described the two wings of the coalition and hitherto in the same stable as now separated, but still neighing wistfully over the temporary paling separating them. He alluded to Reginald McKenna, former chancellor of the Exchequer and now director of the London City and Midland Bank, as the sixth party in the election and declared he was surprised to find him on a Tory platform. Mr. Bonar Law's policy was characterized as "when not negative gelatinous."

Referring to the Laborite manifesto, Mr. Asquith said that Labor on many questions spoke almost with the same voice as the Liberals, but their ultimate purpose was gradual accomplishment of organized control of enterprise by the state over a greater part if not the whole, of the industrial field.

His own party, Mr. Asquith described as "few in number—voices crying in the wilderness—derided in debate and overwhelmed in the division lobbies."

But, he added, "they fought on and challenged any other party with their record."

Mr. Churchill's Manifesto.

Mr. Churchill is still confined to bed in consequence of an operation for appendicitis and although recovering he has been obliged to entrust his campaign in Dundee to others. Today he issued his manifesto, considered in political circles the most breezy that has yet appeared, containing biting phrases at the expense of the Conservatives who smashed the Coalition. Notable in the manifesto is Mr. Churchill's declaration that a centre party such as his chief David Lloyd George, is credited to aspiring to create, is in his opinion, needless.

Mr. Churchill declares himself a Liberal and free trader, but says he is willing to keep with progressive unionist elements if this should be necessary to counteract what he terms the predatory and confiscatory policy of the Socialist Party.

A reference is made by Mr. Churchill to fact that the Bonar Law ministry is the first pure Conservative ministry since Salisbury's administration in 1885.

It was during this period that the secession of a part of the Liberal Party occurred over Gladstone's home rule for Ireland bill and since that time whenever a Conservative minister has been in power, it always has had an infusion from those seceding Liberals called Liberal Unionists.

Ovation For Lloyd George.

Mr. Lloyd George today delivered addresses while on his way to Glasgow. He was given an ovation by the University students and crowds of townspeople at the station at Glasgow where tomorrow he will deliver a speech. Austen Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer in the Lloyd George cabinet spoke to his constituents in Birmingham tonight.

Tragedy Added to Sensations of Schooner Race

(Special to The Guardian.)

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Oct. 28. —Tragedy was added today to the list of sensational incidents which have marked the process of the races for the International fishermen's trophy off this port, when the dead body of Captain "Bertie" Memone, 35 and married, of Lunenburg, a member of the champion Bluenose's crew, was found in a dock, back of the Olympia Theatre this city. A hurried investigation showed it was stated, that the man had been dead but a short time. The body was immediately rushed to the undertaking establishment where a coroner's inquest was underway at two-thirty o'clock. Captain Memone went ashore last night, with Melbourne Kennedy, a brother member of the champion's crew, who left him to return to the ship at nine-thirty. No member of the crew had seen him alive, it was stated this afternoon since that hour. News of the tragedy came as a thunderbolt to all concerned with the series gathered at a luncheon at the Canadian headquarters, just after H. R. Silver had made the announcement that the Canadians feeling they had fairly and honorably won the trophy were departing for home today,, leaving the disposition of the silverware and the prize money held up by protests made on behalf of American challenger, to the American members of the International committee. Captain Angus Walters will return to Nova Scotia with the body instead of aboard the champion schooner.

Gossiping Over Canadian Envoy to Washington

(Special to The Guardian.)

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 28.— Reports from Washington that either Lord Shaughnesy or Sir Charles Fitzpatrick may become Canadian representative there have given rise to considerable speculation over that much-discussed office. But there is no official confirmation of the reports. Last session, parliament again dppropriated $60,000 for Canadian representation in the United States but, as far as can be ascertained, no representative has yet been formally chosen. Sir Charles Fitzpatrick's term as Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec does not expire till October of next year.

CANADA TO GAIN $10,000,000 YEARLY FROM CATTLE EMBARGO'S REMOVAL

Estimate Made by Experts Assisting Canadian Ministers of Benefits That Will Accrue to Farmers, Railways and Steamship Companies.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The removal of the embargo on Canadian cattle will mean a gain to the Canadian farmers, railways and steamship companies of almost ten million dollars a year. This is the estimate made by the experts who assisted the Canadian Ministers in the recent conference on embargo removal with the British Ministers. They point out that where the Canadian breeders now receive only two to three cents per pound for cattle sold to the United States, or less than cost in many cases, the throwing open of the English market will allow them to obtain five to six cents per pound. It is estimated that they will ship at least two hundred thousand head annually to this side, which will mean a minimum sum of five million dollars in the pockets of Canadian farmers. It will also bring about two million dollars yearly to the treasuries of the Canadian railways and a correspondingly large sum to the Canadian Merchant Marine.

Plenty of Rum but Great Scarcity of Food and Water

(Special to The Guardian.)

SYDNEY, N. S., Oct 28—Forced into port by scarcity of food and water, the rum-laden scooner Arabia, Captain Ryan of Little Bras D'Or, was seized by the revenue cutter Vagrant in the outer harbor today. She was found to have ten cases of whiskey and 250 gallons of rum on board, the whole was valued at over $2,500. Captain Ryan said they left St. Pierre over two weeks ago, and by stress of wheather, and other causes, had made little headway, being off the Cape Breton coast for about 14 days. The customs officers will seek to show that she was merely waiting for a chance to run her cargo ashore.

The Vagrant which made the seizure was herself originally a rum-runner, and about a year ago was seized and condemned.

(Special to The Guardian.)

OTTAWA, Oct 28—A year of splendid progress was reviewed yesterday afternoon at the twenty ninth annual meeting of the executive council of the Canadian Boys Scouts' Association, held in the Governor-General's office. His Excellency, in an interesting address, reported that in his recent tour throughout Western Canada, he found the scout movement in every community he visited with the exception of three, and these communities are undertaking to establish scout troops shortly.

Lord Byng suggested that strenuous efforts be made to have boy scouts in every part of Canada and in closing declared that what he had seen in the West of the scout movement was extremely flattering to both Dominion and provincial headquarters, which realize the interest taken in this work and who are working so hard to develop the Canadian boy.

Dr. Jas W. Robertson, chief commissioner of boy scouts, presented his report showing great advancement, as 486 warrants have been issuel to scout officers, which is a large increase over last year. Dr. Robertson announced that Sir Robert Baden Powell, chief scout, would visit Canada netx spring.
