MISS MARGARET and Shirley Harper of Woodstock, N.E. have returned home from North Carleton, P.E.I. where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Allison Harper.

When it was being unloaded and taken into the headquarters of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police it caused some little stir of excitement in an otherwise quiet, wet afternoon.

It was also understood that perhaps three automobiles were seized. As a sort of preliminary to the big raid town police and members of the R.C.M.P. swooped on a premises on Duke Street north Saturday afternoon and found a small still in operation. It was seized, together with a small amount of spirits and wash.

The seizure yesterday was believed to be the last of its kind in the Summerside area for some time. Court action is expected in connection with both seizures.

WASHINGTON, July 30 (CP) - Warship Communists outbiped sailors at United States government offices to sell mosquito nets, snowploughs and rubber life rafts but the office of war information revealed today that this problem of war surpluses may be a week but at that speed it would take years to dispose of even a small portion of the accumulation. Some estimates place the probably ultimate war surpluses at $100,000,000,000 but the nearest official estimate contained in the Baruch-Hancock report is half that amount, $50,000,000,000.

WASHINGTON, July 30 (CP) - Dan Lyons, Pardon Attorney in the Justice Department, yesterday revealed that a recommendation for clemency in the case of Captain Randall Lumburg, skipper facing a 12-year-old run running charge, had been sent to the White House.

This is the result of an appeal for clemency initiated three months ago when Randall, who jumped bail of $10,000 when sentenced to 18 months for running a 13-year-old run, was picked up in Gloucester, Mass.

Randall's Attorney appealed for presidential clemency on the grounds that the conviction was under an obsolete law and that Randall's service during the present war, as a cargo boat officer, was essential to the war effort.

Nature of the justice department's recommendation is secret but it is believed that it suggests that the President grant Randall a pardon.

After the first great war armistice, production ended overnight. This estimate, contained in the Baruch-Hancock report, is half that amount, $50,000,000,000. Last February President Roosevelt set up the surplus war property administration to handle this gigantic problem. S.W.P.A. will be the policy-maker, controlling surplus property. The agency will report their surpluses to the proper disposal agencies.

Veteran Captain Alberta's Social

Died Saturday Credit Leader

Is Young Man

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS - Seven years ago religious-minded Ernest Manning bought a radio and listened in at his farm in Rosetown, Sask., to the broadcasts of William Aberhart, founder of the Prophetic Bible Institute at Calgary. That purchase paved the way for his present position as premier of Alberta and leader of the Social Credit forces in their bid for reelection August 8.

Deeply impressed by the words of Mr. Aberhart the 18-year-old farm youth left his home and went to Calgary, became a student at the Institute, close friend of Mr. and Mrs. Aberhart and was "adopted" by the couple, staying at their home.

Manning and Aberhart studied night after night a new political doctrine, social credit, and when this new political philosophy swept the province in the 1935 general election, William Aberhart became premier and "young" Manning took over the portfolios of provincial secretary and trade and industry. He was at 26, the youngest cabinet minister in the British Empire.

Eight years later - May 26, 1943 - Premier Aberhart died and Manning was called upon to form a government. He took over the premiership at 34, the youngest prime minister in the British Empire. He still retains the post of minister of trade and industry.

On becoming premier Mr. Manning said it was his intention to carry on the campaign of the late Mr. Aberhart "for the security of the people."

He adopted many of the managements of his teacher, copying even Mr. Aberhart's low, resonant voice. On becoming premier Mr. Manning has taken over the late premier's weekly radio broadcasts, and his weekly newspaper columns.

Burdened with the two cabinet posts in 1935, Mr. Manning said he was "too busy" to get married. He soon after he married Muriel Alison Preston, who played the piano in Mr. Aberhart's Bible Institute. They have two children. Born at Cardiff, Sask. Sept. 26, 1908, his family moved to Rosetown, Sask., the following year. He was educated at Rosetown.

Mr. Manning's hobby is fishing. He has been fishing since he was a boy. He has entered public life and when he does find some free hours he spends it with the 2nd Battalion, Edmonton Regiment, in which he holds the rank of captain.

Police Seize Stills In Raid Near Summerside

An early morning raid by Mounted Police on a woods in the vicinity of Linkletter Road, west of Summerside yesterday resulted in the seizure of stills and partially manufactured liquor and the arrest of four men.

Authorities did not reveal details but it was rumored in Summerside that four stills were taken together with a quantity of sugar and possibly some sugar.

The four men, all residents of Summerside, were still in the police station at several hours after their arrest.

Along with the distilling equipment a large quantity of moonshine was seized. The stills and other goods was taken in Summerside by motor truck.

When it was being unloaded and taken into the headquarters of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police it caused some little stir of excitement in an otherwise quiet, wet afternoon.

It was also understood that perhaps three automobiles were seized. As a sort of preliminary to the big raid town police and members of the R.C.M.P. swooped on a premises on Duke Street north Saturday afternoon and found a small still in operation. Sgt. Charles Hogan Home From O'seas

Sgt. Charles Hogan arrived in Summerside Saturday evening having been on leave from the battlefields of Italy. He was wounded the last week of May in the drive that breached the Hitler Line and took the Allies on to Rome. Fragments from a shell burst caught him in the right arm and the hip. It was necessary to amputate the arm above the elbow. He was wounded slightly in the heel a couple of days previously.

In good spirits and looking well in spite of his experiences Sgt. Hogan expressed his pleasure at being home. He joined the army at the outbreak of war but it is only a year and three months since he went overseas. While in Italy he served with the Cape Breton Highlanders.

While in hospital in Italy two of his fellow patients were Clair Kelly and John Mark Agnew, both of Summerside. Both had been wounded and are now doing well. Later, on being transferred to hospital in England, Sgt. Hogan became acquainted with the German robot bomb. His hospital was located in the London area and nearly every day they could be heard passing over. One day they landed about a mile away and its burst shook the walls of the hospital.

Previous to leaving England on the hospital ship for Canada he had the pleasure of seeing his brother, Sgt. Major James Hogan and his wife, Sgt. Major Hogan in with the artillery.

After spending a thirty days leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hogan, Winton, Sgt. Hogan will return to hospital for further treatment.
