Burns to Death Under Load of Wood and Motor

ST STEPHEN, N. B. March 2—A very sad accident occured on the board road about ten miles from this town this afternoon, when a big motor truck loaded with wood belonging to L. Saddler of Calais, skidded on the road, which was very icy, turned turtle and pinned one of the occupants, John Hatt, beneath it. The other occupant of the car, Mr. Saddler's son, escaped but owing to the weight of the car and the load he was unable to get Hatt out. The auto immediately took fire, and before assistance could be reached, Hatt was burned to death. Mr. Hatt was a resident of Calais and about sixty years of age and very highly respected. He leaves a wife and one daughter to mourn his loss.

Japan To Insist On Mandatory

Has No Official Cognizance of Reservations Regarding Yap

TOKIO, March 2.—Japan will insist upon its mandatory to the island of Yap, according to authoritative Japanese opinion. It is expected here that Japan bases her mandatory on the final decision of the Supreme Council in May, 1919, which handed over the German islands north of the equator to Japan without mention of reservation. If President Wilson made oral reservations regarding Yap at previous deliberations of the Council, it is declared that Japan was not represented, and has no official cognizance of this.

Japan will take the stand that the mandatory means control of the cables on the same status as Germany prior to the war. During the war Japan diverted the Yap end of the cable from Shanghai to the Loo-Choo (Liu-Kiu) islands, between Japan and Formosa, for administrative purposes.

Therefore, cable communication from the United States to Shanghai by way of Guam and Yap does not exist.

It is understood that Japan has suggested to the United States to lay a cable direct to Shanghai from Guam as a substitute for the Yap route.

GERMANY ABOUT TO BE BROUGHT TO HER KNEES

Action to Compel Germany to Pay Up Decided Upon by Supreme Council. French Railroads Ordered to be Ready to Move Troops into Germany. Germans Customs to be Seized.

(Special to The Guardian)

LONDON, March 2.—Preliminary movements of French forces to compel German obedience to Allied reparations demands were approved by the supreme council today. A further session was scheduled for this afternoon to determine the part each of the Allies shall play in exerting pressure on Germany The Allied leaders surrounded by famous military officers, legal advisers and economic experts had not completed their deliberations at two o'clock and adjournment was taken until five p. m.

Marshal Foch's plans for occupation were spread before the supreme council which was informed also of the progress the French have made in preparing to reinforce the army of occupation.

It was semi-officially admitted that French forces are on the move and that the Ruhr Valley will be occupied by them if the council approves. The French were said to plan seizeure of all German customs houses along the frontier, levying a fifty per cent tax on all German exports Several Japanese officers were among the military group which attended today's conference. The group included Field Marshal Wilson, Marshals Foch and Weigand, and Generals Maglinse and Marietti of Belgium. The councillors were in constant communication with the areas in France and are preparing for forward movement. It was indicated today that when the Germans are again called in tomorrow there will be no discussion of the figures.

FRENCH ALL READY TO MOVE ON GERMANY

PARIS, March 2.—French railroads were ordered today to hold themselves in readiness to transport troops to the German frontier. The order was the most important of a series issued by military and government authorities to prepare for a military movement to force obedience to the Allied reparations demands. French forces now on the frontier were announced to be as follows: 110,000 infantrymen, three corps cavalry, 1,000 guns, 300 airplanes. The most important feature of the military preparations was believed to be the concentration of cavalry at the Rhine bridgeheads serving as a threat to the Germans gefore the actual advance is begun The Allies will name definite dates for use of force if Germany does not accept the Allied demands.

PARIS, Mar. 2—Everything is in readiness along that part of the Rhine held by the French for a jump forward at a few hours notice should the occasion arise, official circles intimated last night, a high official of the war office declared: "Marshal Foch has but to say the word." The German counter proposals created nothing short of amazement in the French diplomatic circles.

LONDON, Mar. 2—When German delegates faced the Allies around the table yesterday with the object of coming to a final settlement of the German indemnity, a gulf was revealed even wider than any predictions had forecast. Germany's counter proposals fell so far short of the Allied programme drawn up at Paris, that the British Prime Minister declared: "the German government appears to have a complete misunderstanding of the realities of its position" and tersely adjourned the conference after Dr. Simons, German Foreign Secretary, had presented a document and tried to advocate its reasonableness. The belief prevails in Allied camps tonight that negotiations are ended and that the ultimatum is on the eve of action. Their reply is expected to be an ultimatum clear and imperative.

LONDON, March 2.—The London Daily Mail on Monday understands that the commission of experts agreed upon at Chequers will not deal with military penalties, which are a matter for military advisers, but with economic sanctions or penalties. The paper adds that with regard to the military penalties there is reason to believe that Foch took to Chequers a comprehensive plan, and that the plan contemplated to go much beyond the occupation of the Ruhr.

LONDON, March 2.—From a French source at Chequers Court tonight, it was learned that Mr. Lloyd George and M. Briand in the course of a conversation with Marshal Foch, discussed sanctions in the event of Germany's non-acceptance of the Paris agreement.

The premiers were in accord on the necessity of summoning the commission of experts for the purpose of considering the sanctions proposed by the Paris conference. General Nollet, president of the Allied control commission, has arrived in London to attend the conference.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL FOR MURDER

O GAIUS STEEVES SAYS HE IS INNOCENT

MONCTON, N. B. Mar 1—Oliver Gauis Steeves, who was recently arrested here in connection with the tragedy on Feb. 12th at Niagara Road, Albert County where the bodies of his wife and five children were found in the ruins of their house was this morning committed to stand trial at Hopewell Cape, Albert County on the charge of murdering his wife.

The accused, who was again brought before John W. Gaskin, J. P. In Union Hall Coverdale when asked if he had anything to say replied :"I am innocent and will reserve my defense for the next hearing if sent up."

In committing the prisoner, Magistrate Gaskin asked:

"I have listened to the evidence presented and I think there is enough evidence to place him on trial. I think it is a case that should be investigated by a grand jury. If this is an accident, it certainly is a tragedy; and if the poor families in our country are being put in places to sleep that are merely traps, it should be investigated and if it is a crime it is much worse."

Steeves' trial will take place in the fourth week of April.

The Devil's Pass Key At Prince Edward

The master picture, "The Devil's Passkey", a Universal jewel production de luxe, was presented for the first time at the Prince Edward Theatre before a large audience. The story was written by Baroness De Meyer and is the story of an American husband and wife and a crowded hour in their lives in Paris.

Warren Goodwright is a writer of plays, not yet successful but moving with his wife, Grace, in the best Parisian society.

Grace, for love of her husband's dream of her, gets badly in debt to Madame Malot, a famous—and infamous— modiste. In her attempts to extricate herself she is forced to meet clandestinely an attractive young American army officer, Captain Rex Strong. Out of their meeting—innocent enough—springs a scandalous story which all Paris promptly learns and which Goodwright just as innocently takes for the plot of a play in which he presently makes a great success at the Theatre Francais. Jeered at and scorned by all society for making, as they think, his own wife's indiscretion a source of fame and income, he suddenly wakes to the terrible truth and goes sorrowfully, grimly home to the supposedly guilty pair to have his settlement.

While "The Devil's Passkey" is splendidly clean and ends happily, its powerful story is stronger rather than weaker on that account. If ever or never you've felt almost unbearable suspense you will feel it all through the latter half of this remarkable picture. You will sit helpless before the wondrous pictured march of its inevitable events. It will be repeated today.

Serious Illness of Champ Clark

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Representative Champ Clark, Democratic leader of the House, was described as seriously ill in a buletin issued last night by his physician after a consultation. The condition of the former Speaker, who has been sick for several days, was said to be not as favorable as yesterday.

Mr. Clark who is suffering from a series of complications resulting from an attack of pleurisy, showed a decided improvement yesterday, but a turn for the worse developed during the night.

SHACKLETON'S NEW POLAR EXPEDITION

CHRISTIANIA, March 1.—Sir Ernest Shackleton will leave in May or June on a new Polar expedition to the Arctic. He contemplates being away for about two years. The Norwegian whaling boat Foca, purchased for the expedition, in all probability will first proceed to Hudson's Bay, where 150 dogs will be taken on board. Thence the expedition will proceed by way of Baffin's Bay, which will be reached by the end of July, providing the ice conditions are favorable, through Lancaster Sound and Axel Heiberg's land.

From there Sir Ernest intends to explore the islands eatward to Parry Island, this being the main object of the expedition.

Dr. Michael Clark On Floor of House

OTTAWA, Mar. 2.—The speech by Dr. Michael Clark of Red Deer, Alberta the leading debater of the National Progressive Party today awakened in the House a discussion of address with renewed vigor. Mr. Clark held the floor for the major portion of the afternoon. The House was full to the galaries, a closely attentive House, a tribute to his powers. As he has often done before Mr. Clark urged the free trade doctrines of Adam Smith and Cobden. He chided the Prime Minister for "nailing a protectionist flag to the mast for life", but Dr. Clark added, Mr. Meighen joining laughter, that any man who can change his mind three times in six months on the luxury tax is quite capable to change his mind in regard to tariff. Mr. Clark, too, said the Minister had been too busy hunting Bolshevists to study rural re-population.

He had little sympathy with Mr. Campbell's sub-amendment. People who tried to sit between two stools often found themselves occupying more lowly position. He proposed to support the Opposition amendment but was not satisfied with it. He thought re-distribution should proceed an election.

Mr. Clark was followed by Hon. Mr. Guthrie, Minister of Militia, who challenged the free trade position. Academic treatises of British Trade Policy, said he, "are interesting but not revelant to present conditions in Canada." The 1919 Liberal fiscal programme was not the policy followed when the Liberals were in power and Mr. King is assuming something beyond his rights when he claimed it for the leading old historic Liberal party.

Later in the evening the debate (for the second time since the opening of session) almost collapsed." "Is the House ready for question?" the deputy speaker asked hastily Mr. J. A. Robb, chief Liberal whip, responded with a sharp "no move the adjournment", he remarked to Ernest Lapointe of Quebec East. At this time Hon. C. J. Doherty, Minister of Justice, was leading the House and Mr Doherty declined to accept the motion to adjourn. Finally the situation was saved by the appearance of Pius Michaud of Restigouche-Madawaska, who armed with papers continued the debate. The attendance in the House had dwindled to about thirty.

THE PERRY TRIAL AT YARMOUTH

EXTRAORDINARY CONDUCT OF PERRY HOUSEHOLD ALLEGED—DYING MAN LEFT TO SUFFER IN TERRIBLE AGONY

YARMOUTH, March 2.—A man continually haunted by the dread of a violent ending to his life drama and suffering from the inexplicable premonition that he would be poisoned, a man whose life had been twice menaced in insidious ways by an unknown foe, a man whose domestic life is not ideal, who envied the glow of happier hearth fires, such a man was the late Captain George Perry, according to the sensational testimony of a neighbor and friend at the inquest into Capt. Perry's murder last night. This neighbor was Thomas Nickerson, at whose house the murdered man spent his last evening of life and to whom Perry often indirectly expressed the fear of four play and told of two previous efforts to put him out of the way once by a poisoned cake and the second time through tampering with his cellar steps. Mr. Nickerson also spoke of the domestic life of the Perry's of a separation between Capt.and wife and their later reconciliation and Perry's wistful longing for a home that was happy.

The testimony of William Mc Nutt and Dan. MacIsaac, next door neighbors to Perry's who were summoned by Ross when he discovered the body, referred to the extraordinary conduct of the Perry household.

From their statements it would appear that Perry had lain in the yard for more than half an hour in terrible agony, his life blood oozing away, while within doors, his daughter had calmly washed the dishes of her supper party and his wife had stood in the hallway apparently unconcerned. McNutt alleged that Ross had claimed that the doctor whom he summoned had ordered him to leave Perry lying in the open, a statement which the doctor had later denied, while McIsaac claimed that the next morning Ross had profanely objected to the presence of the Captain's body in the kitchen because it interfered with his appetite. Other testimony went to discredit the theory that robbery was the motive of the crime. The mystery is further heightened by the testimony of Chief of Police Babine that the iron bar, the instrument of death had been placed in a tub on the storm porch between his first examination of the premises when he had not seen it and Sunday morning.

DUBLIN, Mar 1—The report on the wounding of Gen. Sir Nevill Macready says that on the night of Feb. 12, not one lorry, as announced officially, but six military cars headed by a touring car, in which were staff officers, escorted by two armoured cars and three lorries from Kingston, were attacked at the Merrion Gates from behind the wall of the Merrion Blind Asylum. The eports say that the members of the attacking party were not aware that General Macready was in the leading car, but they were confident it contained staff officers.

It is stated that at least two bombs burst in one of the lorries and that the belief prevailed that heavy casualties resulted. The entire attacking force, consisting of eleven men, escaping uninjured, although there were narrow escapes.

Potato Growers Hard Hit When Prices Decline

FREDERICTON, N. B. Mar 2—Harvey Mitchell, deputy minister of Agriculture, has returned from a trip to Madawaska County where he had been looking over the Madawaska Creamery at St. Hilaire and states that conditions for potato growers along the upper St. John River valley are serious. Potatoes are selling as low as 70 cents a barrel, fertilizer is high and the potatoes cannot be moved, all this producing a serious depression. The farmers have stated that they have no intention of buying fertilizer this year unless there is a big reduction in price and many of them who relied upon paying for last year's fertilizer from the sale of their potatoes have been unable to do so because of the low price the potatoes are commanding. At some stations not a single car load of fertilizer has been unload ed yet this season.

Potatoes from Maine have poured into the country and now that there are more than enough the price has dropped.

Fertilizer firms state they can do no better in price as they bought their present supply of fertilizer on a rising market and to lower the price would be a dead loss to them.

Fines aggregating $600 were imposed at the police court this afternoon as a result of the raid by the police early Sunday morning at a rooming house on King Street.

One inmate, charged with drinking liquor prescribed for other than herself, was fined $50 or three months in the jail. The keeper, F. House was told by the Magistrate that she was liable to a year's sentence without option of a fine, but imposed a penalty of $200 or six months jail.

Two of the male inmates were fined $100 or six months jail, while the third was fined $25 or two months jail and the three women charged with being inmates of the house were fined $25 or two months jail each.

The largest crowds seen at the police court in recent years followed the case throughout.

VICTORIA, B. C., March 1.—When the liner Empress of Russia arrived in port today from the Orient, it was reported that $20,000 in gold bullion had been stolen from the ship's mail. The greatest secrecy prevailed regarding the discovery and no details could be ascertained. It is understood that the liner was carrying a large shipment of gold bullion on this voyage.

NEW YORK, March 2.—Enrico Caruso, descendant and namesake, it is said, of a long-ago emperor named Carus felt "like a king," when he awoke on the forty-eighth anniversary of his birth.

P. E. I. LIFE UNDERWRITERS HOLD INTERESTING MEETING

The members of the P. E. Island Life Insurance Underwriters Association held their monthly meeting in White's Tea Rooms at noon yesterday. There was a good attendance, the President, Mr. J. K. Ross presiding

It was an interesting occasion the members discussing various important matters in connecton with the profession and at the conclusion luncheon was served and a pleasant period of social enjoyment was spent.

Mr. W. G. Hogg the Secretary read the minutes of the last meeting and was followed by Mr. J. O. Hyndman, who read an interesting paper on "Altruism in Life Insurance," showing that service to others is the standard entrusted to the keeping of the profession and which was supplemented by a number of interesting selestions from various magazines, etc, dealing with insurance from a number of standpoints including the following extract from a newspaper report of a sermon by an Ottawa clergyman:—

The Pulpit on Life Insurance

"How would you feel if you knew that while you played a tune on a Celestial harp, your wife was playing a tune on a washboard? What would you think of yourself singing in the Hallelujah chorus while your wife sang "The Song of a Shirt?" asked Rev. J. A. Pue-Gilchrist, in the course of a sermon on "Life Insurance," at Erskine Presbyterian Church last night.

"The man who can not afford life insurance, can not afford the movies; can not afford any luxuries, and must live upon bread and water. I haven't met such a man. The man who is not insured must think of the spectacle of the real estate agent ejecting his wife from her home, as the angel ushers him into a heavenly mansion."

Rev. Mr. Gilchrist stated that he drew no commission on account of his sermon, other than the premium of satisfaction in knowledge of good accomplished." Next to the ministry, he thought the calling of the life insurance agent offered the greatest opportunity for accomplishing good for mankind. Some persons were inclined to look upon life insurance as a gamble. It was nothing of the kind; being insured was the "elimination of chance for non-provision of dependents," he said. "Insurance is the only means afforded the salaried man of providing for his family. The gambler is the man who says he will take a chance on living without insurance."

Another timely selection read by Mr. Hyndman was entitled "Farmers and Life Insurance. In closing Mr. Hyndman expressed the opinion that the Life Underwriters should give more publicity to matters affecting their business and put the public in a position to more fully comprehend the same.

Mr. J. C. Irving in moving the thanks of the members to Mr. Hyndman expressed the opinion that such gatherings as this should prove of much benefit in aiding the insurance men to discuss their problems and in carrying out the principles they believe in.

Mr. T. E. McNutt submitted the report of the Committee Program outlining meetings to be held in future which was adopted after remarks by Messrs H. Lapthorne and G. J. McCormac.

On the suggestion of Mr. J. O. Hyndman a Publicity Committee was appointed to look after the matter of advertising and other duties of that nature.

Messrs G. J. McCormac, Keith Rogers and Wm. Johnston were appointed the committee for this week.

After some other matters were briefly discussed the business portion of the gathering was concluded and refreshments were served.
