—SENATOR MCGADOO CONSENTS TO HIS DAUGHTER'S MARRIAGE — LOS ANGELES, Nov. 13.—Parental objections to the marriage of Ellen McAdoo, daughter of Senator William Gibbs McAdoo and grand-daughter of President Woodrow Wilson, to Rafael Opez de Otero, of Manila, were removed yesterday by the senator in a brief formal statement issued at his offices here.

The statement indicated the daughter had won her battle, in which the parents raised strong objections to the marriage after reports indicated the prospective bridegroom might have a touch of Filipino blood.

Through Col. William H. Neblett, his law partner, the Senator issued this statement:

"In reply to inquiries, neither I nor Mrs. McAdoo, who gives me authority to speak for her, will interpose any objections to the marriage of our daughter, Ellen, to Rafael Lopez de Otero."

"She is 19 years of age and capable of choosing her own husband."

"The time of the marriage is for Ellen to determine."

—MINING FOR GOLD IN MINT CHEMNEY CARSON CITY, Nevada, Nov. 9.—Gold and silver are being mined here as the work of converting the building into Government relief headquarters proceeds. The directors of the mint has assigned men to the job of prospecting.

In the days of the famous Comstock Lode—1870 to 1893—more than $50,000,000 in gold and silver was received for coinage by the Carson City mint. There was so much bullion coming in no one bothered much about small amounts of gold and silver which got lost during the minting operations.

The prospectors have found gold almost everywhere in the old stone building. They found it on the floors, in the carpets, on the walls—even up the chimneys. All the soil has been scraped from the inside of the chimneys, the dust carefully fanned from the flues and furniture, and it is all being shipped to the recovery department of the San Francisco Mint.

—A reconciliation was effected and the mother thereupon brought the children back to Italy. But she returned to the United States recently with her daughters, Donna, Christina and Donna Marina. The household servants of Beatrice and Alessandro were busy packing their luggage, since they were leaving for England tomorrow. There the mother will present her fiancé to her mother, former Queen Victoria, who is living here.

—Died in a heavy steel diving ball, Dr. William Beebe, marine explorer, and Olin Burton, his assistant, recently descended almost half a mile into the ocean depths off Bermuda. The descent was made in a special apparatus that had never been used before.

Fox Show Opened At Alberton By Hon. Thos. McNutt

Opening the Fox Show at Alberton on Monday, Hon. Thomas McNutt, Minister of Agriculture, said: "President, Your Worship the Mayor and Gentlemen: It is indeed very gratifying to be present at a fox show in Alberton as this place has been referred to frequently and rightly so as the cradle of the fox industry."

"I know of no good reason why a fox should not be held here nor do I know any good reason why a fox show held here should not be a decided success. This show is in no way antagonistic to the great show which was held recently at Charlottetown in fact it should be a help to it as well as a help to the whole industry on the Island."

"These exhibitions must certainly mean much to those who are actively engaged in the work—here they have an opportunity to discuss matters of mutual interest—here they have a chance to find out the weak spots in their work and they also have an opportunity to gain information that will be valuable to them in carrying on their work advantageously during the days to come. In this territory which surrounds Alberton and which contributes to this show there must be many splendid individual specimens of fox excellence and these should certainly be shown and commented upon by those present. In this way much valuable information will be spread abroad which means very much to those engaged in the industry."

"Our aim at all times should be to raise the standard of our foxes to the highest possible. It takes as much to feed a poor fox as a good one and the greatest profits go to those who have the best stock."

"At the present time there is uncertainty in all our undertakings. Even farm products which constitute the necessities of life have fallen very far down on the markets—but fox furs and live foxes alike maintain a healthy, high rate and give every promise of endurance and stability."

"I wish to commend very highly those who are actively engaged in promoting this show. I wish also to congratulate the promoters on the success which they have achieved."

"I have been asked by your president to officially open this exhibition which I now do. I therefore officially declare this exhibition open for business."

Other Speakers
His Worship Mayor Babour of Alberton, who presided, welcomed the visitor and expressed the hope that they would enjoy their stay in Alberton.

Mr. O'Brien, President of the Exhibition Association made a few remarks stressing the importance of fine quality foxes and the necessity of this province having its own factories for the manufacture of furs, rather than having to import them from the other provinces.

The president called on Mr. Peter G. Clark, Summerside, who has taken a lively interest in the exhibition since its inception two years ago, to speak.

Mr. Clark gave a very interesting talk on the fur industry and the condition of the fur markets at the present time. It is expected, he said, that the higher quality furs will give a good price this year.

The poorer quality furs, though, on account of the large quantities thrown on the markets, may not hold to the price of last year. One great competitor that Prince Edward Island has at present is Norway. A few years ago they used to come here and buy large quantities of our breeding stock, now we have to compete with them on the fur markets. Their furs, however, are coarser and do not have the fine lustre of the Island furs.

Immediately after Mr. Clark's address the judges Mr. George Callbeck and Mr. Donald O. Stewart, began their work.

Lad Succumbs To Injuries Received In Street Fall

(Special to the Guardian)

The sympathy of Summerside citizens goes out to Mr. and Mrs. John Clow and their family in the death, which came with startling swiftness into their home yesterday afternoon and claimed their little ten year old son, Ray.

At twelve o'clock Ray was a happy school boy glad to be released from the classroom and with his companions was going home to dinner. Laughing and playing as they went along the children had reached the corner of Church and Summerside Streets when Ray fell just at the corner and struck his forehead on the curb. Mr. J. P. MacPhee came along just then and found that the little boy was seriously hurt and only semiconscious. He carried him over to the hospital, where his father was sent for.

There were no marks on the boy and his father carried him home. The doctor was sent for and went to the home where he found the little chap suffering from concussion. About 1.30 he became worse with semiconvulsions. His condition did not improve and he passed away shortly after four o'clock. Death was due to hemorrhage of the brain which was brought on by the fall.

The little boy was a bright little lad with a lovable disposition and will be much missed at home and by his classmates. There are left behind a mother, a father, a sister and brother, his sorrowing parents and the following brothers, Harold, Donald, Marshall, Ralph and two sisters, Jean and Madeline.

Mr. Clow is the baggage master at the Summerside depot of the C. N. R. and Donald and Marshall are messenger boys at the Canadian National Telegraph office to whom the Guardian extends sincere sympathies in their sudden bereavement.

The funeral takes place on Thursday morning at St. Paul's Church at nine o'clock.

There passed away at his home in St. Nicholas on Tuesday morning Mr. Oliver Ryder at sixty-two years of age after an illness of some months. Mr. Ryder was a prominent farmer in the district and a strong Conservative; a staunch worker for his party.

He was born in Tignish, a son of the late John Ryder of that place and Mary Fowler his wife. When Oliver was about twelve years of age the family moved to St. Nicholas to take care of the Caleb Polly estate. After the death of his father Oliver remained on the estate which he has farmed with much success.

He married a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Crawford MacAusland of Wellington, who survives him. There are also left to mourn two sons Nelson in St. Raphael, Stirling at home, three daughters, Mrs. John Black of Alberton and Miss Ruby and Miss Doris at home also a sister, Mrs. John MacLeod of St. Nicholas of whom much sympathy is extended.

The late Mr. Ryder was a member of the Baptist Church and his parents are buried in the Baptist Cemetery at Belmont, Lot 16. The funeral will take place on Wednesday afternoon from his late residence to Union Corner where interment will take place in the cemetery the best members of his family.—S

Where all was suffering there comes comfort and rest. Breathing becomes normal and the bronchial tubes completely cleared. This unequalled remedy is worth many times its price to all who use it.

PRINCE COUNTY CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY MEETS

Dr. J. A. MacPhee Elected President — Work Accomplished Reported Upon.

The annual meeting of the Children's Aid Society of Prince County was held last night in the Red Cross rooms, Summerside. Dr. J. A. MacPhee, President, presided over the reading of the minutes of the last annual meeting, by Miss Green and reports of committees were submitted and passed the President gave his report to the town in this regard. Dr. MacPhee in his report expressed great satisfaction in the improvement shown in truancy which is decidedly less. This is due to the efficient service of Mr. Harrington, the truant officer, who is also agent for the society. There is also a marked improvement in the juvenile delinquents to which credit should be given to Judge Inman, who shows great judgment in dealing with delinquents who come before him. Dr. MacPhee said much had been accomplished since they had the juvenile court in Summerside. He considered it the right idea although much criticism had been thrown at it. The parent was made responsible for the children and he considered the juvenile court was the greatest factor in keeping down delinquency. The Children's Aid Society was a great asset to the town in this regard and was not fully appreciated. Citizens do not take the interest they should in this work. The society was a small group carrying on a great work.

Dr. MacPhee had nothing but praise for the way that Judge Inman conducts the juvenile court, as he deals kindly but firmly with delinquents. He also spoke in terms of praise of the work of Miss Green, Mr. Heath Strong, K.C., and Mr. Harrington. Dr. MacPhee pointed out that the society was doing a great deal of relief work, which had depleted the funds. The society was a relief organization but an aid society to aid neglected and dependent children. In the past the society had been too responsive to the demands for relief. There are other organizations to attend to the needs of the children. The Catholic and Protestant Orphanages have been very sympathetic in assisting the society for which they were very grateful.

Rev. Dr. MacLellan, G., in moving the adoption of the report added his praise for the work accomplished by the society through its very efficient officers. He also spoke of the excellent manner in which the Judge of the juvenile court carried out his duties. He is broad and humane in outlook and fatherly in his sympathies. He also spoke highly of the work of the Children's Aid Society.

Mr. Harrington, in his annual report, showed that much work had been accomplished in caring for homeless and neglected children as well as for the sick and mentally afflicted. The record of the juvenile court stands second to none under the capable guidance of Judge Inman. This year there were six individual cases as compared with 31 in 1929. Eight homes out of town had been visited and many children given clothing. One boy was placed in a country home by order of the juvenile court and clothed by the society. Seven children placed in St. Vincent's Orphanage, one girl placed in Home of the Good Shepherd, St. John, N.B., and two boys in St. Patrick's Home, Halifax. Several children have received medical and financial aid. Forty-two children have been clothed, thirty-one in rural districts. Thirty-eight visits have been made to the school and 79 homes visited. Some children had to remain home for want of clothing. There have been several calls for school books which, have been supplied.
