THE UNITED STATES AND GERMANY

Resolution Declaring Existence of State of War Expected to Receive Support of Both Houses before the End of the Week. A Stormy Scene in the Senate.

(Special to the Guardian.) WASHINGTON, April 3.—President Wilson met with a great reception in Congress last night when he read his address reviewing the rise and development of the controversy with Germany covering several columns of a newspaper and may be summed up in a declaration that through Germany's aggression a state of war now existed between the two countries and he advised Congress to declare the United States to be a belligerent.

The developments today point to the joint resolution being adopted in both houses before the end of the week by enormous majorities. There may be some minor verbal changes, but the joint resolution is as follows: "Whereas, recent acts of the Imperial German government are acts of war against the government and people of the United States."

"Resolved, by Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled that a state of war between the United States and the Imperial German government which has thus been thrust upon the United States is hereby formally declared: "That the President be and he is hereby authorized and directed to take immediate steps, not only to put the country in a thorough state of defence, but also to exert all of its power and employ all of its resources to carry on the war against the Imperial German government and to bring the conflict to a successful termination."

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee adopted the resolution with only Chairman Stone dissenting. The resolution then came before the Senate, and by the objection of Senator La Follette, it was forced over until tomorrow for consideration. There was a stormy scene.

CANADIAN SOLDIERS UNDER TREATMENT

4,705 Canadian Soldiers Cared for in Canada; 15,060 in United Kingdom.

ANOTHER WOUNDED SOLDIER RETURNS

Private Jack Stewart of Charlottetown, who was Wounded at Ypres, Arrived Home Yesterday.

Another brave young Island soldier arrived home yesterday afternoon from England, after gallantly doing his share for King and Empire—Private Jack Stewart of Charlottetown, son of Gunner John Stewart of No. 5 Overseas Artillery Draft, and Mrs. Stewart, of Passmore Street. Private Stewart is one of the youngest soldiers—if not the youngest—that has come from this province to the front. He enlisted in Charlottetown in the 55th Battalion, and in March, 1915, was transferred to the R. C. R. He saw some of the war and was severely wounded in the thigh on June 8th, last, at Ypres. Since then he has been undergoing treatment in the King George Hospital in London and the Massey-Harris Convalescent Home, for Soldiers at Dulwich.

Unfortunately, the telegram announcing Private Stewart's departure from Halifax, received yesterday morning by Miss Gillespie, Secretary of the Returned Soldiers' Aid Committee, stated that he "left" at 2 o'clock this morning. Assuming that the telegram was correct, it was taken for granted that he could not arrive home before Wednesday and for this reason there was no formal reception on his arrival, which is deeply and very generally regretted.

HON. A. E. ARSENAULT RESUMES DISCUSSION OF ISLAND'S FINANCES

Hon. A. E. Arsenault, K.C., who moved the adjournment of the debate on the Budget on Friday night, continued last evening, and in a masterly and incisive speech occupying upwards of an hour and a half, ably reviewed the financial situation of the province and contrasted the correct facts and figures with those of the Leader of the Opposition, credit triumphantly with the several charges laid against the Government, and in a peroration which was admirable for its diction and the lofty sentiment that prompted it, paid fitting tribute to the Hon. P. L. Blondin, P.M.G., and General Lessard on their joining the ranks in defence of the Empire and appealed to all to realize the gravity of the hour and aspire to the highest conception of patriotic duty. Mr. Arsenault was listened to with keen attention and his speech was punctuated with loud and frequent applause. He said: "Mr. Speaker, when the House adjourned on Saturday I was proceeding to discuss the motion to go into supply, and also to criticize the remarks made by the Leader of the Opposition with reference to the financial situation of the province. I said on that occasion that I was greatly surprised that a man occupying the position he holds in this House should deliberately make statements, concerning so important a subject as the finances of the province, which he could not substantiate and for which he had not the slightest justification in fact. As I was addressing you, Mr. Speaker, the Leader of the Opposition challenged me to show the weak spots in his criticism of the financial situation; and I think that I convinced you, Sir, as far as I had gone, that there were a great many weak spots in his statement of the "facts" as conceived by him. I showed that if the Leader of the Opposition wanted to have the assets of the province on December 2nd, 1911, credited against the debt and liabilities then he should concede that the same thing should be done on December 31st, 1915, although I said that such crediting would not be good book-keeping and would not be done by any man who had a proper regard for the financial interest of the province. Why? Because those assets shown every year, may be good or they may be bad. Part may be good and coal-
