IN MEMORIAM

WILLIAM H. COUSINS

Once more the community of Burlington and vicinity was saddened by the death of a life long resident, when William H. Cousins passed on to his eternal reward on Sunday, January 9th.

He was born at Burlington, 73 years ago, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Cousins. In early manhood he settled near the cross roads, know as the Black Horse, where he and his wife, the former Florence Paynter, built up one of the most attractive and well kept farm homes in the district.

The late Mr. Cousins was ill for more than a year, but was able to be about, much of the time. He bore his suffering with courage and faced the thought of death without fear. Of a quiet home-loving nature, he will be missed in the church and in the community but more especially in the home, where he was a kind husband and father.

The funeral on Tuesday was very largely attended and the floral offerings were especially beautiful. The services were conducted by his pastor, the Rev. A. D. Stirling, at one time pastor of Long River Church, which the Cousins family formerly attended, and now of Kensington United Church, of which the departed was a faithful member. His words on the theme Jesus Christ abolished death, were a message of comfort to the bereaved. Led by a full choir, the hymns, The Lord's My Shepherd, Rock of Ages, and Forever With the Lord, were sung. The pallbearers were Messrs Frederick Warren, Roy Tuplin, Stanley Caseley, George Lockhart, Edison Bryanton and Nelson Paynter. Left to mourn their loss are his wife on daughter, Jennie Mrs. Rex. Kielly, Charlottetown; one son Everett, at home and two sisters, Mary, widow of the late Peter Warren and Lilly, Mrs. Herbert Ramsey. A sister Janie, passed away many years ago and one brother, Alexander, more recently.

Mr. J. L. Davison and his assistant, Mr Russell MacKay were in charge of the funeral arrangements. Burial was at Kensington People's Cemetery.

MISS ZILLA ARSENAULT

For fifteen years she carried on her duties as nurse in Jersey City Hospital from which organization she was graduated in 1926. Prior to her illness she held the position in Jersey City Hospital of lecturer on therapeutics.

She endeared her self to all by her many little kind acts, and her readiness to impart knowledge and advice to the many student nurses with whom she came in contact.

Central Figure In Famous Divorce Case Passes

NEW YORK, Jan. 13—(AP)—James A. Stillman, 70, a director of the National City Bank of New York and central figure in a sensational divorce case in the 1920's, died today at New York hospital. He had been ill a week.

Stillman only yesterday observed his 40th anniversary as a member of the director's board and had intended to leave within a few days for his winter home in Havana.

He was elected president of the bank in 1919, but resigned two years later when he and his wife, Anne Urquhart (Fifi) Potter, entered 10 years of divorce litigation. She later married Fowler McCormick, a grandson of John D. Rockefeller, 18 years her junior.

Stillman had been married 20 years to "Fifi" wen he charged her with infidelity.

She denied his charges and countered with an accusation that he had had improper relations with Florence Leeds, a former chorus girl and that he was the father of the dancer's son.

A referee held Stillman guilty of adultery and cleared Mrs. Stillman of all her husband's charges.

An appellate court in 1923 awarded her $7,500 a month alimony and $15,00 counsel fees. She began suit for divorce in 1925, but six weeks later the case was withdrawn. The Stillmans took a trip to Europe, then bought a new home on Park Avenue.

Five years after the reunion, however, she obtained a secret decree on statutory grounds at Poughkeepsie. The decree became final on June 4, 1931, and Mrs. Stillman the next day married McCormick at the Pocantico estate of the Rockefellers. She was 51 at that time and McCormick 33.

Stillman was involved in another suit in 1933. Luc Rochfort, one-time candidate for Mayor of Montreal, brought a $1,000,000 suit charging the former banker with having stolen the affections of Rochefort's wife, Marjorie. After two years of litigation, during which Rochefort reduced his demands to $200,000 the suit was dismissed.

He is survived by three sons, Navy Lieut. Alexander Stillman; James Alexander Stillman of the Army Medical Corps; Navy Lieut. Guy Stillman; a daughter, Mrs. Anne Stillman Davidson, and a brother, Dr. Ernest G. Stillman.

His second son, James, married Lena Wilson, the daughter of a Canadian farmer, in 1927. The marriage took place in the Stillman Lodge on the St. Maurice River in Quebec.

More Civil Servants

OTTAWA, Jan 13—(CP)—Changes in regulations covering the appointment of civil servants to the permanent staff were announced today by the treasury board.

By an orcer-in-council passed in 1940 the proportion of permanent employees in each unit of the civil service was restricted to specified percentaages which varied from 100 per cent in some peacetime units down to none in purely temporary units such as war departments.

In addition, permanent appointment may be granted an employee who now holds or is assigned to "a position of continuing indeterminate duration for which he is qualified," provicing the employee has been continuously employed since prior to the war or is a qualified war veteran appointed during the war and has completed a minimum of one year's satisfactory service.

It is expected that the change in regulations will result in some 1,500 civil servants in Ottawa and 4,000 across Canada being moved from temporary to permanent classifications.

Kahle—Saunders Nuptials

The Church of Our Lady of Perpetual Help, Ottawa, was the scene of a charming wedding on Wednesday, Dec. 29th at 7.30 a.m. when Miss Doris Frances Patricia daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Saunders, Kensington, P. E. I. became the bride of Cpl. Mervin Edward Kahle, R. C. A. F., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R Kahle of Mitchell, Ont. Rev George McKenna, C.SS. R., formerly of Holy Redeemer parish, Charlottetown, performed the ceremony and celebrated the Nuptial Mass. The altar was beautifully decorated with roses.

The organist, Miss Theresa McDonald, played the wedding marches and also accompanied Miss Eileen Mahoney who sang very sweetly the "Adeste Fideles" and "Ave Maria."

The bride was given in marriage by a friend, Mr. Ray Kinsella of the Trade and Commerce Department of which staff she is a member.

The bride was charming in her wedding gown of white satin, princess style with brocaded neckline. She wore a floor length veil and carried an arm bouquet of sweetheart roses. She also carried a pearl rosary, the gift of the groom. Her only attendant was Miss Clara Shea as bridesmaid, who wore a floor length gown of turquoise blue sheer with shoulder length veil, and carried a nosegay of tea roses and baby's breath. The groomsman was attended by LAC. Paul Hamelin, R. C. A. F. The ushers were Sgt. Allan Shafer, R. C. A. F. and Flt. Sgt Frank Sobb R. C. A. F.

The bride's gift to the groom was an onyx and gold rosary, to her bridesmaid a glamor pin and to the organist and soloist gold identification bracelets. The groom's gift to the groomsman was an air-force writing kit and to the ushers initialed gold tie sets.

The bride's mother was dressed in gold crepe with bronze beaded bodice, fox scarf and corsage of matching roses. The groom's mother wore sea-green crepe and corsage of red roses.

After the ceremony the bridal party and guests, numbering 25, were served a wedding breakfast at the bride's home 219 Waverley St. The table with its lace cloth, silver candlesticks and white tapers made a pretty setting for the beautiful wedding cake which was made in P. E. I.

In the afternoon a reception was held when the bride and groom were assisted in receiving by Mrs J. L. Saunders, mother of the bride and Mrs. A. R. Kahle, mother of the groom.

Girl friends assisting in serving were Misses Marguerite Birmingham, Lois Fleming, Lillian Bradley and Marguerite Le May.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. J. L. Saunders, Kensington, P. E. I., Mrs. A. R. Kahle, Mitchell, Ont., Mrs. Wilfred Kelly, Summerside, P. E. I., Mrs. Emmett McDonald, Charlottetown and Mr. Orville Kahle of Mitchell, Ont.

Conference Of Christian Students At Wooster, Ohio

A six day planning conference on the world mission of the Church has recently concluded at Wooster, Ohio. In attendance were student delegations exceeding five hundred and representing twenty two countries exclusive of the United States and Canada. The latter was represented by a delegation of forty three of whom five were from Maritime universities, namely, Joan Archibald and Margaret Farquhar of Dalhousie, Eileen Wallace of the University of New Brunswick, Harold Mitton of Acadia, and Earl Leard of Mount Allison.

The participating agencies at the conference were the Student Christian Movement (Canada), Student Volunteer Movement, National Intercollegiate Christian Council, and Commission on University Work of the Council of Church Boards of Education.

Among outstanding leaders present were Phillips P. Elliot, chairman of the conference; John R. Mott, president, International Missionary Council; Robert Mackie, general secretary, World's Student Christian Federation; Hugh MacMillan, Missionary Secretary S. C. M. of Canada; Dr. Ruth Seabury, secretary of education, American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions; Tracy Strong, general secretary, World's Alliance of Young Men's Christian Association; Winburn Thomas, general secretary, Student Volunteer Movement; Henry P Van Dusen, Union Theological Seminary; and Karl Downs, president, Samuel Houston College, Texas, and foremost negro leader of the day.

On of the striking features of the conference was the perfect fellowship experienced among representatives of the twenty four countries most of which are belligerents in the present struggle. Remarkable to relate, Chinese, Japanese, German, English, American, French negro and white students lived, ate, and worshipped in perfect harmony — and that while the peoples they represented were engaged in bloody combat. Conferences like this, pointed out Dr. John R. Mott, promote world wide thinking and action.

Christian Reconstruction

That "Christian Reconstruction begins whereever we are" was the theme heard throughout the conference as this gigantic problem was dealt with in seminars, panel discussions and addresses. Dr. Karl Downs, president of Samuel Houston College, sounded the keynote of the discussion when he stated: "World reconstruction is not a bewildering appendix to college life which a student suddenly faces when he graduates. We are unable to deal with prejudices of the world until we have dealt with the prejudices of our own campus. We cannot change others if we have a weak compromising faith in ourselves." It was felt that underlying all reconstruction activities must be a recognition that there is no patching up a way of life that has become a way of death.

Dr. John MacKay, president of Princeton Theological Seminary, declared that "we must press for permanent international collaboration that will extend to the world's economic as well as political life. Most important of all, let us remember that if there is to be a world order of justice and peace, democracy must be extended in the life of the individual nations represented here. Let each of us work to eliminate race discrimination, insure intellectual and religious liberty, and enlarge economic opportunity in his own country. Let us pledge our hearts and lives this day to the cause of all free mankind."

For purposes of study the conference met in three successive seminars. The first discussed the problems, work, and opportunity of the church in nine major world areas exclusive of North America. The second discussed "pioneer areas in North America" including minority racial groups, migrants, sharecroppers, and refugees. Recognizing that lay occupations can be as truly Christian vocations as are those of the missionary or minister, and that reconstruction is a task in all communities for all those committed to service, the third seminar dealt with "Vocation in Christian Reconstruction."

Other highlights of the conference were the panel discussion by foreign students led by Henry P. Van Dusen of Union Theological Seminary, and the closing dedication service at which the entire delegation dedicated themselves to the fulfilment of the ideals and objectives of the conference.

Says Socialist Plan Would Ruin Canada

MONTREAL, Jan. 13—(CP)—Morris W. Wilson, dealing with post-war schemes in his presidential address to shareholders of the Royal Bank at their annual meeting today, asserted that "implementation of the socialists plan would ruin this generation and set Canada back centuries."

He stated that when the post-war time comes "we shall be able to look forward with pride upon our notable industrial contribution to winning the mightiest war of all times, a contribution shared in by workmen and enterprisers alike which has surprised our Allies, our enemies and even ourselves."

Mr. Wilson added: "Despite this fact we are being told by all the publicity methods revolutionary partisans can devise that in order to win the peace we must change our entire economic system and launch out into new and untried paths. It is well that every Canadian should understand clearly the implications of the policies being advocated by these revolutionary doctrinaires.

I use the word advisedly because it is noteworthy that those who would abolish private enterprise and the right of a man to choose his own means of earning a living for himself and his family are not in the main experienced in administration of practical affairs."

Mr. Wilson listed the General objectives to be sought after war by business as follows: 1. Seek the best means of turning Canada's abundant resources into use for the benefit of the country. 2. Plan to eliminate mass unemployment and remove the fear caused by feeling of insecurity; 3. Bring together the interests of business, agriculture and labor; 4. Preserve the country's front against inflation, while affording protection from stagnation and depression.

He continued: "I do not see any reason why the post-war period should be approached in any defeatist attitude. Surely the quality and magnitude of our contribution to the war effort should encourage us to feel that we shall be able to cope with problems of the post-war period in a worthy manner."

Discussing the proposals for a post-war exchange stabilization fund to operate on a world-wide basis, Mr. Wilson expressed the view that no such scheme has any chance of success in the decade succeeding the conflict unless it includes a plan whereby the more fortunate nations make substantial contributions to the relief, rehabilitation and reconstruction of Europe and Asia.
