ISLANDER FOR MONTREAL POST.—The attached clipping is from the Manitoba Free Press. It relates the happy recollection of his stay on the island. Unfortunately, I know of nothing that would be pleasanter than to take another look at Prince Edward Island some time, balmy summer day. I am sure you will keep up with many people there, for there are some wonderful folks there, and Mrs. Pierce and I plan some day to come back.

St. James Hall was filled to the doors last night with an audience that had anticipated an all high class musical and entertainment and they were not disappointed. The names of the performers, all well known in music and histrionic circles were an attraction which few lovers of music cared to miss and the whole programme was fully up to the most sanguine expectations. The programme consisted of two piano solos by Mr. Watkins, two vocal solos in French by Mr. Raoul Raymond, a duet by Mrs. Lawson and Mrs. MacKinnon, two vocal solos by Mr. Dingwell, a quartette by Mrs. Lawson, Mrs. MacKinnon, Mr. Dingwell and Mr. Bruce, a reading by Miss Smith and an original poem by D. Edgar Shaw, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Lawson, and the National Anthem. Needless to say every number was a gem. Mr. Raymond who on this occasion appeared for the first time before a Charlottetown audience, sang in a flexible voice of great range and richness. He was accompanied by Mrs. Raymond also a talented pianist. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond will be warmly welcomed to Charlottetown and the circles to which they will be a valuable acquisition.
