CHRISTMAS DAY ENJOYED AT S'SIDE

Christmas Day was celebrated in the customary manner in Summerside. Happy children gave a cheery Christmas greeting as they gathered round the Christmas tree in the early morning to see what Santa Claus had left for them and older folks joined in the happy merriment. Church bells pealed out their Christmas invitation, and the churches were filled with joyous congregations.

Many had the privilege of "listening in" to the exchange of greetings between the different colonies of the British Empire and the Christmas message of His Majesty King George to his people throughout the Empire.

At 12 30 Mayor E. W. Manson sent greetings over the radio to the citizens of Summerside.

On Christmas afternoon the Pal Christmas tree was held in St. Paul's Hall, and the event proved a most enjoyable one. His Worship Mayor Manson presided and made an appropriate address. Fruits and candy were distributed by Miss Helen Manson and Miss Valerie Arnett. Mr. Allison Moore made a genial and benevolent Santa Claus. Ice cream, donated by the Perfection Dairy, was an additional treat which was greatly enjoyed. The Boy Scouts and generous citizens who participated are to be congratulated on the unqualified success of their efforts on this occasion.

Last evening the Village Choir held an enjoyable Christmas tree at Dominion Square. Rev. Mr. Jeans presided, the Christmas carols, sung by the choir, being announced by Mr. Lowell Hancock. The distribution of Christmas baskets made the occasion a practical demonstration of the true Christmas spirit.

Many Made Happy On Christmas Day In Institutions

Organizations Aid In Carrying Out The Christmas Spirit.

The usual Christmas trees and presentations to hospitals, orphanages and other institutions were conducted yesterday by the Gyro Club, Free Dispensary and other organizations.

In the morning representatives from the Prince Edward Preceptory No. 36 K. T. and the Gyro Club visited the Protestant Orphanage at Mt. Herbert and distributed gifts of clothing, toys, candy and ice cream.

Santa Claus was ably supplied in the person of Mr. Jack Hearn. The ice cream was generously donated by the Central Creameries and the candy was supplied by Mr. Cooper, manager of the Prince Edward Theatre.

The Provincial Sanatorium was beautifully decorated for the Christmas season, a Christmas tree was held and the part of Santa Claus capably taken by Mr. Jack Johnston. Mr. Johnston also appeared as Santa Claus at the Infirmary where a Christmas tree and other Christmas festivities were much enjoyed.

Many gifts were exchanged at the Sanatorium and Dr. Creelman was the recipient of several pleasant Christmas remembrances from the staff and from the patients.

Christmas trees in the child ren's ward of the Prince Edward Island and Charlottetown Hospitals were sponsored by Florists Telegraph Delivery Association, through Mr. James Tait local chairman. Decorations and gifts for these were supplied by the Wohelo Club and other organizations. The hospitals were suitably decorated and a Christmas dinner was enjoyed by all to take part. Christmas broadcasts, including the greeting from His Majesty, the King were enjoyed by the patients.

Due to the fact that Christmas fell on Monday this year the annual distribution of gifts by the Free Dispensary was held on Saturday afternoon. Some 200 children were made happy by gifts from the Dispensary tree. These were distributed by Rotarian J. M. Murley, Santa Claus' assistant. He was assisted by Mrs. R. L. Cotton, Mrs. W. W. Clark, Mrs. C. G. Duffy, Mrs. E. T. Higgs, Mrs. G. Dewar, Miss Margaret Mullins, Miss Adele Hughes and Miss Amy Earle.

On Saturday evening the Rover Scouts worked like Trojans, distributing the Santa Pal presents together with fruit and candy to every home on the long list which appeared in The Guardian's Santa Pal appeal columns. They completed their task at midnight, much to their own satisfaction as well as to the pleasure which the kiddies subsequently derived from Santa's visitation.

MUNICH, Germany—Chancellor Adolf Hitler turned unexpected Santa Claus today. En route to his mountain home at Obersalsburg where he stays over the holidays he picked up two hitch-hikers and gave them a 20-mile ride in his automobile.

Removing his two overcoats—one his conspicuous white trench coat—he presented to each hiker a garment, together with five marks.

LOS ANGELES.—Santa Claus came out of the sky and brought happiness to a widowed mother and her nine children living in a humble home on the Escalante Desert of southern Utah.

For the last three years, the 16 pilots of the Los Angeles-Salt Lake division of the western air express, have been playing Santa Claus to Mrs. Al's Bonner and her children. The woman is keeper of a remote Government emergency landing field.

Pilots Sherwood and Clarence Robey took $100 worth of food, clothing and toys in their plane and dropped the presents in front of the lonely Bonner home as they circled close to the ground.

BOSTON—Santa Claus came today to 70 lonely lighthouses and coast guard stations strung along the New England coast from Boston to Monhegan Island—off the coast of North eastern Maine.

This particular Santa's other name is Captain "Bill" Wincapaw, widely-known New England aviator. He, and four others, flew in a big seaplane hundreds of miles through frigid winds, to bring supplies for the existence of those who spend their lives safe-guarding others.

At each station was dropped a package containing newspapers, magazines, and a pound of fresh coffee.

Growth of Steel Trade In U.S.

HALIFAX, Dec. 25 — (C. P.) — More than sixty years ago two Nova Scotians found steel could be substituted for many ship's fittings where wood had been used. Today the manufacture of steel is one of Nova Scotia's greatest industries. How one circumstance grew out of the other is related by Minister of Mines Michael Dwyer, who began himself as a worker in a steel plant in his home town.

Graeme Fraser and Forrest McKay were men of vision. Back in the last century their forge at Trenton, N. S., was doing a fair business, but they thought it should be doing more. So they cast about for ideas and finally suggested to a few shipowners where they might use steel instead of wood.

Their ideas were not popular at first, but they soon spread, and many contacts came the way of the steelworkers. By 1872 they were able to establish the Nova Scotia Forge Company. Then, eight years later, they organized the Nova Scotia Steel Company and built a 15 ton furnace and a small rolling mill. Soon the two companies were merged.

Soon came the problem of getting cheaper ore than that brought from England. They found ore finally at Sunnybrae, N.S., but the deposits petered out before long. Defying the opinion of the experts, the steel men then went to Newfoundland for their ore.

It contained too much phosphorous, the geologists said, but Fraser and McKay went right ahead and built a limestone blast furnace that turned out a fine grade of iron. That was in 1896. A year later Fraser sold out part of his Newfoundland holdings for $1,000,000 and went to North Sydney to establish the Nova Scotia Steel Company.

It has discontinued operations, but Cape Breton now has the Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation's huge plant at Sydney. More than 2,000 men are on the payroll there, and hundreds more are employed in steel operations in other parts of Nova Scotia.

Modus Vivendi Boon to N.S.

YARMOUTH, N. S., Dec. 25—(C. P.)—Extension of the expiration date of the modus vivendi for American fishing vessels calling at Canada's Atlantic ports has met with general approval along the Nova Scotian coast. Business men of the ports declared its results have been beneficial both to the fishermen and to the ports they enter.

Under the agreement, which has been extended to July 1 next, bait, provisions and equipment are sold to incoming ships upon payment by the shipowner of a nominal license fee. Permission to buy their supplies in Canada does away with the necessity of the fishermen returning all the way from the banks to their home ports.

"It will mean much to this port" President Charles Dyke of the Yarmouth Board of Trade declared in discussing the extension. Commendation was expressed also by Seymour Baker of the firm of L. E. Baker and Company.

The value of agricultural and vegetable products (exclusive of animals and animal products) exported from Canada for the year ended last October was $196,181,881

SERVICES IN CHURCHES AT S'SIDE

Special Christmas services were held in the Summerside Churches on Sunday and Christmas Day and were very largely attended.

St. Paul's Church

In St. Paul's Church Midnight Mass was celebrated with all the impressive ritual of the Roman Catholic Church. Rev. Father Poirier of St. Dunstan's University was the celebrant. St. Dominic Mass was effectively rendered by the male choir, the solo parts being taken by Messrs. Guy Houghton, J. P. McInnis, Leon LeBlanc and Earl Campbell.

At the commencement of the service that well known carol "Holy Night," was very beautifully rendered by the choir. The church was filled to capacity, the whole parish receiving Holy Communion.

Rev. G. J. MacLellan, D. D., gave a beautiful Christmas message to his congregation.

The altar was brilliantly lighted with candles. To the right of the altar is the crib of the Holy Child representing the Nativity of Our Lord in its lowly setting in the stable at Bethlehem. At nine o'clock on Christmas morning the children's Mass was celebrated by Rev. G. J. MacLellan, D.D., P.P., the children's choir singing very sweetly Christmas carols during the service and the responses to the Mass.

St. Mary's Church

St. Mary's Church was filled on Christmas morning for the Choral Communion Service at nine o'clock, which was celebrated by the pastor, Ven. Archdeacon C. de W. White, D.D., with all the impressive ceremony of the Church of England. The church was very tastefully decorated with evergreens and holly.

The service opened with the Christmas hymn, "O Come, All Ye Faithful." Semper's beautiful setting of the Holy Communion service was sung by the choir, with Miss Dorothy Wyatt taking the solo parts.

Ven. Archdeacon White gave a joyful message to his congregation with a beautiful description of that first Christmas morn.

A very large congregation partook of Holy Communion.

Presbyterian Church

Special Christmas music by the Junior Choir was a feature of the morning service at the Presbyterian Church on Sunday.

Dressed all in white their sweet young voices at the opening of the service sang "Hark the Herald Angels Sing." During the service they rendered very beautifully "Away in the Manger." The pastor, Rev. Mr. Jeans, addressed the children from St. Matthew, chapter 2, verses 1 to 11, explaining the visit of the wise men. The anthem by the choir was "That First Christmas Morn."

Messrs. Forbes, Mountain, Hancock and Schurman also sang in quartette.

In the evening special Christmas music was rendered by the regular choir. Special anthems were "Sing Oh Ye Heavens," "Behold I Bring You Tidings of Great Joy." Messrs. Earl Schurman, Wm. Forbes and Graham Rogers also rendered very acceptably "We Three Kings of the Orient Are." Mrs. Ralph Muttart was the organist for the day. The children's music was under the direction of Miss Edna Baker and Miss Georgie Huestis.

Christian Church

The music in the Central Christian Church on Sunday was appropriate for the Christmas season.

Following the Communion Service Rev. Mr. Watterworth gave an eloquent address from St. Luke, chapter 2, verse 7. There was no room for Him in the inn. The anthem in the morning was "The birth of our Saviour."

A tableau, "The Birth of Christ," was presented at the evening service.

There were six different scenes Mary and the Angel; Joseph and the Angel; the Shepherds; Mary and the Babe; Visit of the Shepherds and the Visit of the Wise Men. Scripture readings bearing on the different scenes were given. This was preceded by a devotional period and sermon preached from thetext in Revelations, chapter 1, verse 5. A solo, "The Heavenly Strangers," was beautfully rendered by Miss Amanda Cannon.

United Baptist Church

Sermons and music appropriate for Christmas were given in the United Baptist Church on Sunday. In the morning the service opened with a drama by the C.G.I.T., Christmas Problems and Christmas Carols. Mrs. Jack McLeod sang very acceptably "There's a Song in the Air."

During the offering the male choir sang in chorus, "The Heralds of Love."

Rev. Mr. Wilson's sermon was from St. Matthews, chapter 2, verse 11.

In the evening Christmas carols were beautifully rendered by a full choir. Mrs. Jack McLeod sang the solo parts with responses by the choir. A duet, "As With Gladness," was sung by Mrs. McLeod and Miss Irene Johnson; "Bethlehem," by the choir and an anthem, "Blessed be the Lord," with Mrs. Colin Stewart taking the solo parts, were beautifully rendered.

United Church

In Trinity United Church on Sunday evening a Christmas Cantata was given by the choir entitled "Chimes of the Holy Night."

Largely Attended Church Services

Inspiring Services Of Praise And Thanksgiving In Celebration Of The Christmas Festival.

TRINITY UNITED CHURCH

Sunday being Christmas Eve everything in connection with our service was arranged to impress once again the joy and happiness connected with the Christian conception of the day. The church was appropriately decorated and the ceremony of Baptism took place at the morning service when the young child of Dr. and Mrs. Allen was received into the fellowship of the Christian church and commended to the care and love of its members.

Rev. Dr. Ramsay delivered the morning sermon from the text John 1-14, "And the word was made flesh and dwelt among us and we behold his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father full of grace and truth." The Word is God seeking to make Himself known to the world. The word became flesh and tabernacled among us. God has been seeking to express Himself to make Himself known in many ways. A full choir sang as an anthem "O Come to my Heart Lord Jesus" and Miss Margaret Sterns sang in her usual charming manner the solo "In the bleak Mid-Winter."

The evening service was largely choral and was delightfully executed. In addition to the Christmas hymns in which the congregation heartily joined there were two most pleasing anthems "Sing, O Heavens" with Miss Sterns as soloist and "Sleeping, the Christ Child Lay" with Miss Berna M. Huestis taking the solo parts, then Miss Alice Coffin sang very sweetly the solo "The Christ Child."

Miss Thelma Teed the talented violinist gave a violin solo and also added greatly to the pleasure of the music in her several accompaniments.

Rev. C. N. Brown read as his scripture lesson the first twelve verses of the second chapter of St. Matthew's gospel and set forth in beautiful and simple words the story of the Star of Bethlehem, the wise men, the shepherds, and the idol of the manger, the birth of Jesus Christ emphasizing the truth that God comes to men in the ordinary things of life.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

On Sunday, Dec. 24th, and on Christmas Day special services were held in St. Paul's Church. The services of Sunday were as follows:

At 8.30 there was a celebration of the Holy Communion.

At 11 o'clock the regular morning service was held. "A Saviour for all People" was the subject of an inspiring sermon given by the rector, Rev. H. D. Raymond, M.A. He pointed out that in the coming of the Messiah there was a fourfold purpose. The Messiah was to reign over the house of Jacob forever. The Jews, the descendants of the house of Jacob, are the fulfillment of God's great purpose for the world for through them came His great blessing the gift of Jesus Christ.

The Messiah came to be a light to lighten the Gentiles.

Simeon glimpsed this great truth in his day and generation and we today can thank God as we see the fulfillment of this prophecy.

The Messiah came to heal grievous divisions.

The Christmas message is one for healing breaches and Christmas a time for forgetting things that should be forgotten.

The Messiah came to guide our feet into the way of peace. He came to breathe the spirit of His peace over all the world.

At this service the choir sang the anthem, "Sing O Heavens." Berthold Tours and Mr. Charles Earle sang Gounod's "Nazareth."

At 4 o'clock there was an evening service of Christmas music.

On Christmas morning there was a celebration of the Holy Communion. At 10.50 the following Christmas service was held:

Processional hymn, "O Come All Ye Faithful."
Carol, "When Christ was born of Mary Free."
Silence.
The King's Message.
God Save the King.
The Communion Service.
Kyrie Eleison—Berthold Tours.
Gloria Tibi—F. G. Plummer.
Hymn, "It Came upon the Midnight Clear."
Carol, "Holy Night."
Sermon, "The Word Made Flesh."
Offering.
Anthem, "Sing O Heavens," Berthold Tours.
Doxology, Old Hundredth.
Gloria in Excelsis Deo, Fallis.
Two-fold Amen, Greek Liturgy.
Recessional Hymn, "While Shepherds Watched."

HOLY REDEEMER CHURCH

Midnight Mass was celebrated at the Holy Redeemer Church yesterday morning. From 11.30 till 12 o'clock on Sunday night the mixed choir, which was augmented by an orchestra, and under the direction of Rev. Father O'Hara, C.SS.R., rendered Christmas carols. At 12 o'clock Solemn High Mass began, being celebrated by Rev. Father Fleming, C.SS.R., with Rev. Father Johnson as Deacon and Rev. Father Enright, C.SS.R., as Sub-Deacon. Rev. Father Fleming preached an inspiring sermon, appropriate to the occasion.

Christmas day, Masses were celebrated at 7.30, 9.00 and 10.30. At 4 o'clock in the afternoon, Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament was celebrated.

The church was beautifully decorated with spruce, the main altar presenting a magnificent spectacle. The crib, which depicted that first Christmas morn in a stable at Bethlehem was very skilfully arranged.

ST. DUNSTAN'S BASILICA

His Excellency Bishop O'Sullivan celebrated Pontifical Mass. He was assisted by Rev. Dr. Murphy, High Priest; Rev. Dr. Gillis and Rev. Fr. Sullivan, Deacons of Honour; Rev. Fr. McKenzie, Deacon of Mass; Rev. Fr. McGuigan, Sub-Deacon of Mass; Rev. Fr. Dougan, Master of Ceremonies. The sermon was preached by His Excellency Bishop O'Sullivan.

For a half hour preceding the service Christmas carols were sung by the Corpus Christi Choir.

Masses were celebrated from 6.30 to 10 o'clock yesterday morning.

His Excellency Bishop O'Sullivan held Masses for the children at 8.00 and 8.30.

In the afternoon vespers were sung and Benediction given.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

At the morning service yesterday, the Rev. A. C. Vincent, D.D., preached a special Christmas sermon on "God's Gift." Taking as his text the words of St. John, chapter 3, verse 16, "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son," the speaker said, in part, All minds turn today to the babe of Bethlehem, God's greatest gift. Not God's first gift was he, God gave to his first children a world all their own. To His people he gave a land all their own. Neither gift was used wisely or well. Then, from the great heart of the Almighty Father came the gift of a person, Son, Redeemer, Saviour and Lord. And so, through all history the most precious gifts to every nation, and to every period of time have not been gold and silver, lands or material wealth, but great personalities. Not on great wealth is a great nation built, but on great people. Not stones and mortar build a Church but persons, given to God, inspired by God, devoted to God.

Following the sermon of the morning, Dr. Vincent announced the dedication of two stained glass windows, placed in the Church in memory of the late Donald Nicholson and of Dr. J. A. and Mrs. Gordon. Presentation of the windows to the Church was made by Dr. Vincent on behalf of the Nicholson and Gordon families, and the formal acceptance of the windows, on behalf of the Church was made by Mr. H. L. Bethune, Chairman of the Board of Trustees. Following the prayer of dedication, Mr. V. L. Dingwell sang very expressively "One Sweetly Solemn Thought." The congregational hymn "For all the saints who from their labours rest" followed by the benediction brought the service to a close.

The evening sermon by Dr. Vincent was a thoughtful and eloquent presentation of "The Eternal Christ." Included in the music of the day were Maunder's "Sing O Heavens," Vande Waters "Night of Nights," Coleridge-Taylor's "Break forth into Joy," Turner's "God from on high hath heard." "O Little Town of Bethlehem" was sung by Mr. Dingwell as a baritone solo. Mr. Quigley took the tenor solo in "Break Forth Into Joy." Mrs. G. Elliott Full, organist and choir director was in charge of the impressively worshipful music of the day.

ZION PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

At the evening service at Zion Presbyterian Church an appropriate Christmas sermon was preached by Rev. G. Carlyle Webster who took as his text Romans 12:8.

The speaker showed that Christmas time was a time of doing deeds of mercy; that whatever our hands find to do should be done for the glory of God and in the interests of our fellow men. And whether it be in the visitation of the sick and the afflicted or whether it be in the literal sense of the word mercy in the forgiveness and pardon of men, or whether it be in the sharing of gifts at the Christmas season, all these should be done in cheerfulness and gladness of heart. The apostle is calling upon men to do exactly what God has done for them.

Music for the evening included a chorus "Come and Worship," from the Cantata, The Christmas King, by the choir; a mixed quartette, "There Is Room In My Heart For Thee" and an anthem, "Christians Awake, Salute the Happy Morn."

The text of the morning sermon was taken from Luke 2:15, "Let us now go even unto Bethlehem and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us."

The morning music included a chorus, "Glorious Morn" from Cantata "The Christmas King." A beautiful tenor solo, "See Amid the Winter's Snow," was sung by Mr. Harry Craswell.

CENTRAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH

The services at the Central Christian Church Sunday were well attended. Special music for the morning included an anthem, "For God so Lived the World," Miss Nan MacKay taking the solo part. The theme of the pastor's sermon was "The Significance of Christ's Birth," the text being Isaiah 8: 6-7. It was stated by the pastor that the five names applied to the coming Messiah by the Prophet Isaiah were prophetic of the five-fold nature of Christ's work. These names stand at the five points of the star of Bethlehem: "Wonderful, Counsellor, The Mighty God, The Everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace."

At the Sunday School hour the usual program was followed out, two additional features, however, being included: An object lesson, illustrated by two pictures, Christ and St. Nicholas the aim of which was to impress upon the mind of the child the importance of making Jesus Christ central in their Christmas celebration. In connection with this story a chalk talk was given on the theme of the Sunday School lesson which represented the fallen Kingdom of David as having fallen and from the stump of the tree a new kingdom has sprung up which is spiritual and eternal. White gifts were also received at this hour.

The theme of the evening service was entitled "Christmas in Song," and included the singing of carols by the Choir, the C.G.I.T. group, the Four Square Boys, and the Sunbeam Juniors. The solo parts were taken by Miss Nan MacKay, Miss Nita MacNeill, Mrs. Milton Stewart, Master Clifford Campbell, Messrs. C. L. MacKay, Milton Stewart, W. L. Outhouse. The program concluded with a tableau, the theme of which was "Holy Night, Silent Night," this hymn being sung by a mixed quartette while a spot light played its changing colors upon the characters of the Manger Scene. This program was arranged and directed by Mrs. Outhouse and Mrs. V. L. Dingwell, the organist. Master Eric MacGregor read the scripture from Luke 2:8-20. W. L. Outhouse had charge of the service and gave a brief history of carols and carol singing. This program, with minor changes, will be repeated next Sunday evening at seven o'clock.

ST. JAMES CHURCH

The Sunday services in celebration of the Christmas Festival at St. James Church were largely attended. At the morning service the pastor, Rev. R. Morehead Legate, D.D., preached eloquently from the text, 2 Timothy, 1, 10: "But is now made manifest by the appearing of our Saviour Jesus Christ, who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortality to light through the gospel."

Mr. and Mrs. Reymond were never heard to better effect than in the duet "Cantique de Noel," and again in the anthem, "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear," Mrs. Reymond's high soprano in the obligato part, and Mr. Reymond's bass in the solo parts, being received with great appreciation. The stirring anthem, "The First Christmas Morn" (Newton) was well rendered by the choir. Every seat in the choir was filled, and the various parts were exceptionally well balanced.

The Processional and Recessional hymns, both morning and evening, were very impresive as rendered by the full choir.

In the evening the service was entirely choral, and consisted of solos, carols and anthems. The boys' and girls' choir delighted the congregation in several fine carols, their sweet voices and clear enunciation being heard distinctly throughout the large church. The soloists included Miss J. Alchorn, Mrs. H. S. Henderson, Miss Lena McLure, and Miss Marjorie Wood, sopranos, Mr. Arthur Bruce, tenor, and Mr. Charles MacKenzie, baritone, and each was heard with fine effect. It was an unexpected pleasure to hear Mr. Bruce, who came over from Moncton, N.B., to spend Christmas at his old home.

The choir deserves special commendation for the rendering of the different anthems appropriate to the season. As usual with the productions by St. James' choir, the work was well prepared, the music being sung with perfect facility and with evident enjoyment and appreciation. The service was highly creditable to the choir leader, Mrs. J. A. Lawson, the organist, Mrs. Keith Rogers, and all who participated.

THE SALVATION ARMY

The Christmas message was the theme of all the services Sunday. Presented in song and story the audiences were taken in fancy to the manger of Bethlehem there to worship the infant Christ.

'Tis not on bended knee alone we honor,
'Tis not alone in worship we adore,
But in a life of consecrated service
Thy followers we would be for ever more.

In that glad spirit we worship as we bend before His infant cradle, and daily renew our covenant of service to His Kingship.

ST. PETER'S CATHEDRAL

The last service of the penitential season of Advent took place in St. Peter's Cathedral on Sunday at 11 o'clock with a choral celebration of the Holy Eucharist. Rev. Canon Malone preached from the words of Saint Thomas, "My Lord and my God."

During the afternoon the Christmas spruce decorations which had previously been prepared were placed in position, the purple altar hangings for advent gave way to the beautiful hangings for the great festival, and the first evensong of Christmas was sung at 5 o'clock, during which a number of Christmas carols were sung by choir and congregation.

For the 11.45 p.m. choral celebration of the Holy Eucharist the church was filled and a very large number of those present made their Christmas communion. This service was broadcast.

At 8 a.m. Christmas morning there was a good attendance for the Holy Communion, while at 11 o'clock another large congregation was present for the choral celebration of the Holy Eucharist. Rev. Canon Malone preached a splendid Christmas message from the text "The young child with Mary his mother," from 11th verse of 2nd chapter of Saint Matthew.

Special parts were taken by Mrs Harry Allen, Miss Bessie Smallman, Mrs. Frank Daley, Mr. L. B. Crue, Mr. Albert Huestis and Mr. Roland Phillipson.

A short sermon on the birth of Christ was given by Rev. Mr. Campbell.

On Christmas morning there was special Christmas music in Trinity United Church which was broadcast.
