POULTRY PRODUCERS' MEETING—An Egg Grading Demonstration was held at Cambridge Hall, October 17th, sponsored by the E. I. Cooperative Egg and Poultry Association and assisted by Mr. F. Darnell of the Dominion Department of Agriculture. The meeting was exceptionally well attended and great interest shown. After a short talk by Mr. Darnell, actual grading of eggs belonging to producers took place by two representatives from the Egg and Poultry Association during which time the lecturer demonstrated by breaking out the various kinds of eggs on saucers to show what is meant by different terms used in grading. A similar demonstration was held at East Point to a well attended meeting on the same date with Mr. J. F. Arsenault of the Dominion Department of Agriculture and Mr. McDonald of the P. E. I. Cooperative Egg and Poultry Association. Mr. Arsenault also gave an interesting short talk on "White House" and "hanging" after which a Grading Demonstration was held with the breaking out of different grades took place.

INTEREST IN MISSION CONTINUES—Yesterday was the third day of the Women's Mission at St. Dunstan's Basilica. The morning masses were largely attended and a very large number of women and children received Holy Communion. The sermon in the morning was preached by the Rev. Father Hubert, C. P. He took as his text the words: "He who puts his hand to the plow and turns back is not worthy of the Kingdom of Heaven." In the course of an inspiring sermon he insisted on the great and growing evil of indifference and lukewarmness in the service of God by those who profess to be faithful to the teachings of Christ and the commandments of His Church and makes the person fall back to attacks on modern world. Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was given by the Rev. Dr. McMahon.

Tribute to Chamberlain
Mr. Kennedy said he had had the idea he might have been asked about Prime Minister Chamberlain. "I had the privilege of seeing a great deal of your Prime Minister during the long days and nights of the crisis. I am sure no one, not even those who disagree in principle with his policies, can fail to appreciate Mr. Chamberlain's courageous devotion to the welfare of his country and to peace."

"He was forced to make one of the gravest decisions of our time. It is not for me to comment on the wisdom of his course—history will show whether or not he made the right decision—but I must say that his all but superhuman efforts in behalf of peace should command the respect of all."

Then, before proposing a toast to the Royal and merchant navies, he said: "It might appear incongruous, at first glance, for a representative of one great naval power to toast the fleet of another. It is, in my opinion, a perfectly logical procedure."

Naval Accord
"Great Britain and the United States, after more than a century of rivalry, seem to have reached an understanding with regard to naval matters."

"Neither navy has assumed any obligation to assist the other in time of trouble. On the other hand, we can rid our minds of the thought that we shall ever again be enemies."

"I do not think that I am revealing any technical secrets when I say that, in the upbuilding of the American navy, we have ignored the possibility that our vessels might have to meet the vessels of Great Britain."

"This is not an alliance in the sense of the word, not even a negative alliance. It is just common sense."

Football Fatalities May Be Cut Down By Proper Handling Of Injured Players

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Staff Editor
NEW YORK, Oct. 19 (AP)—Lives can be saved on football fields by letting injured players lie untouched until a physician can look them over.
This suggestion was made today to the American College of Surgeons by its retiring president, Dr. Frederic A. Bessley of Waukegan, Ill.
"Never lift an injured player or his head," the brief states, "until he has told you whether he can move his legs or fingers."
"If he cannot move his legs, his back, his back is broken."
"If he cannot move his fingers, his neck is broken."
But at this stage, it was explained, the injuries are not necessarily fatal. Recovery depends largely on the "first move." A physician knows how to have such an injured person picked up and carried away without giving the broken vertebrae a chance of cut or damage to the spinal cord.
"Contrary to this," said Dr. Bessley, "it is common practice to roll him over, allow him to stand or even walk, or what is ever worse, remove him from the field by having a few students carry him, causing great spinal angulation."
"The same applies to skull fractures which at the time may cause only temporary mental confusion."
"It is a disgrace for an educational institution to subject students to careless and unscientific methods and not fully protect him in this great sport."

Work Of German Spy Ring Disclosed As Government's Key Witness Gives Evidence

(By Roger Greene, Associated Press Staff Writer)
NEW YORK, Oct. 19—Bungled machinations of German spies in the United States were described in Federal Court today by Guenther Gustav Rummich, 32, American army deserter who testified that Nazi agents once plotted to force President Roosevelt's signature on bogus White House stationery.
Moodyly reciting his role as a 40-a-week spy, Rummich said the ring's headquarters in Hamburg, Germany, pressed him for information about the U. S. navy aircraft carriers, Enterprise and Yorktown.
The order, he said, came from Karl Schlueter, the ring's "contact" man.
"I told him the ships were being constructed in either of the two Atlantic navy yards," Rummich testified. "He said the German navy was planning to build airplane carriers and that the plans of the United States vessels would be of great help."

Salary Was Proposed At $10,000 A Year

(C.P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
OTTAWA, Oct. 19—The proposed salary of Major James E. Hahn as president of the John Inglis Company of Toronto is $10,000 a year, it was disclosed at the Bren gun inquiry today. Application for approval of this salary was made by the company to the Department of National Defence under the terms of a contract to manufacture 7,000 Bren light machine guns.
Major General L. R. LaPleche, Deputy Minister of National Defence, was asked to stand all day and was cross-examined by Lieut.-Col. George Drew, author of the article in Maclean's Magazine which criticized the contract and led to the inquiry.
The contract provides for manufacture of the guns in the Inglis plant on a cost plus 10 per cent basis, the government paying the cost of machinery and equipment required and principal items entering into the cost, including salaries of executive officers and wages. Payment of preliminary engineering and other expenses prior to the signing of the contract on March 1, 1938, up to a maximum of $20,000 is also provided for. All such payments are subject to approval of the amounts by the department.

Leonard Marler Starts Action Against Father

TORONTO, Oct. 19 (CP)—A writ asking $300,000 damages was issued today in Ontario supreme court by Leonard Marler against his father, Sir Herbert Marler, Canadian minister to Washington, and Dr. George H. Stevenson, superintendent of the Ontario Hospital at London, Ont.
The writ was issued on Marler's behalf by John R. Green, attorney. Young Marler's statement of claim alleges that his father and Dr. Stevenson wilfully and by collusion caused him to be detained in the London Hospital from Feb. 17 until Sept. 20, 1938. He alleges he was deprived of his liberty during that period and was obliged to labor with work gangs in the hospital.
The statement of claim also alleges that his intended marriage was hindered although it was authorized by the issuer of marriage licenses at London on Feb. 18, 1938. Damages are also sought because, it is alleged, he was forced to remain with some 1,700 mental patients in the hospital and for maltreatment of the plaintiff while a patient in said hospital and unjust punishments by the defendant, Stevenson.

Sessions Of M.R.E.C. Are Resumed

SACKVILLE, N. B., Oct. 19 (CP)—The 19th convention of the Maritime Religious Education Council resumed today with morning worship followed by reports from the general board and the treasurer. During the afternoon a forum on "building worship programs" was carried out under the supervision of Miss Muriel Laurin. Following a worship period in the afternoon the Assembly heard Miss Constance Young, principal of the Mount Allison school for girls, speak on "religious education in the modern world."
After Miss Young's address the delegates carried on discussions and demonstrations in connection with specialization of children's girls', boys' and young people's work.
This evening the delegates sat down to the annual banquet table and later heard an address by Rev. T. B. MacDormand, of Amherst. They met in the United Church auditorium where Dr. St. DeWolfe, spoke on "the church in the crisis." Dr. DeWolfe was followed by Rev. J. A. Forbes, who took for his subject, "a magnificent obsession."

probably will be refugees who fled to Czechoslovakia from Germany and Austria.
The same sources said the problem of settling some refugees in the Dominions still was under consideration by the governments concerned, but that the problem of finding work for them was proving a major obstacle.
William H. Jordan, New Zealand's High Commissioner in London, said his government would consider individual applications for admission, but he made it plain New Zealand was not promising employment to refugees.

Seeking To Check Coal Import Into Dominion
(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)
HALIFAX, Oct. 19—Tariff amendments or regulations that would check importation of foreign coal into Canada were asked today in a brief described as "to the Government of Canada and the Government of Nova Scotia" and submitted to the latter by a Thorburn, N. S., citizens' meeting. (Thorburn, a Pictou County village, is the site of the Vale colliery of Acadia Coal Company, due to be closed within a fortnight.)
About 160 miners are employed at the mine and approximately 1,200 persons depend on the mine's operation.
A second recommendation in the brief was that Acadia "should be asked and, if necessary, directed, by the Government of Nova Scotia to undertake immediately the opening of the McBean mine at Thorburn" and asked the Government aid Acadia financially in the undertaking.
A third asked operations at the Vale colliery should be continued until the McBean seam had been opened and was ready for production. (The seam which underlies Pictou County coal fields being worked at present, is estimated to contain 5,500,000 tons of coal.)

Japanese Call

observers believed only an exceptional turn of events could block the better equipped Japanese.
New troops from neighboring Kwangsi Province continued to arrive by junk and sampan at Canton and were rushed immediately to the Chinese front to the east.
The Kwangtung and Canton defense area was made up of hundreds of thousands of southern Chinese, mostly unseasoned and ill-equipped.
Chinese military authorities insisted the major defence of Canton had not started.
Japanese bombing and machine-gunning planes continued "softening" the Chinese resistance, although several squadrons of Chinese pursuit planes had reached Kwangtung Province, and, a Chinese news agency said, engaged Japanese aircraft in several air battles.
A report from Macao, west of Hong Kong across the river mouth, said 50 Japanese planes took to the air at one time from Sandau Island and nearby airfields carried while other squadrons operated from carriers based in Bias Bay, just northeast of Hong Kong.
From Hong Kong, Eugene Chen, former Chinese Foreign Minister, telegraphed General Chiang Kai-Shek at Hankow to appeal for strong assistance against the Japanese invasion. (There were reliable reports last week that Chiang had adopted such a course.)
