Romance, Comedy, Fine Football In "Hold 'Em Navy" At The Capitol

A romantic triangle with Lew Ayres, Mary Carlisle and John Howard as the three sides; all kinds of horseplay and humor around the Naval Academy at Annapolis; and some of the best football sequences to be made for a motion picture are all found in "Hold 'Em Navy," the new Paramount film which opens today at the Capitol Theatre.

The fun is heightened by the presence of Benny Baker, Archie Twitchell and Tully Marshall, and the football is executed by the University of California team.

The story has to do with the rivalry of John Howard and Lew Ayres; as both of them want the same post on the football team, and the same girl—Mary Carlisle. When Lew comes to Annapolis as a plebe, he incurs the enmity of Upperclassman Howard by falling in love with Mary, who has been Howard's girl.

In Ayres second year he is competing with Howard for the post of first string quarterback, which Howard wins. The night before the Army game finds Howard out too late. By playing drunk Ayres creates a diversion which allows Howard to get in unseen. Ayres is barred from the game, but Navy wins. When Howard tells the school of Ayres' trick, Ayres becomes the most popular man in the Academy, and also with Miss Carlisle.

TRINITY UNITED CHURCH

In spite of the inclement weather very large congregations attended the Sunday services of Trinity United Church. The addresses at both services were delivered by Rev. Hugh Millar, who was assisted by Rev. L. M. Murray. In the morning the minister, speaking from 1 Corinthians 13:13, pointed out that our understanding, appreciation, service, and sacrifice for others and for the Church should measure up to the love of God, as revealed in Jesus Christ, as nearly as we are able to make it do so.

In the evening Rev. Mr. Millar spoke from Acts 20:35, "It is more blessed to give than to receive". He said, in the course of his very fine address that the great test of our Christianity is our stewardship of the goods God has given us, whether we hoard them or spend them selfishly upon ourself or whether we share them with others in a spirit of joy and pleasure in service.

In the morning the choir sang an anthem "The Lord is Gracious" —F. E. Ward—Mrs. T. Roy Cudmore taking the solo. In the evening the selection was from the Hymnary, "Peacefully Round Us The Shadows are Falling."

'P. J.' Observes 18th Anniversary With Big Ten - day Sale

P. J. MacDonald, well known Charlottetown grocer who just now is celebrating the 18th anniversary of the opening of his store here by a mammoth ten day sale, expressed on Saturday his thanks to "my faithful customers who have dealt with me for the past eighteen years." "P. J." as he is familiarly known hoped, "the next eighteen years will be as healthy and prosperous for us both."

When P. J. purchased the property on the corner of Kent and Prince Streets from the late John Drake in the fall of 1920 Prince Street was not asphalted. In the city there were only three or four large grocery stores. Now, with competition increased by at least fifty per cent P. J.'s business has grown from one where a staff of only two was needed to one which employs a staff of eight regularly and 12 on Saturday's and during the present sale which opened on Wednesday last. To hold a business and increase it you "have to attend to it at all times, give good service and best prices". This P. J. has endeavoured to do and, coupled with a friendly atmosphere in his store in which his own cheery greeting has at all times been a most pleasant part, has resulted in an ever expanding volume of trade.

The anniversary sale continues all this week, closing on Saturday night.

Charlottetown harbor buoys will be taken up on her return trip. On completion of her tour of Prince Edward Island ports the Brant will sail for Halifax.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

At the morning service the Rev. H. L. Denton B. D. took as his sermon theme "Bearing the Cross." There is a Cross at the heart of Christianity "And I if I be lifted up shall draw all men unto me." The Cross is the drawing power, the first impulse is through sacrifice "for God so loved the world that He gave."

We have a Cross to bear in life, deny, take up the Cross, follow me," said Jesus What are we doing with our Cross? Let our acquiescence in the programme of Jesus be with a deep going sincerity. Questioned about the weight of his Cross, Anton Lang, the Christus of Ober-Ammergau said "I could not portray the Christ truly unless I bore a cross like his." Let us never regard a little duty, a trifling difficulty a minor sacrifice as "my cross" What will the cross do for us? It may bow our shoulders but it will lift our heads. In the turbulence on the surface of life it will bring peace to our souls. Set the cross before us and we shall see the Christ.

The morning anthem was "O Saviour of the World." The Communion of the Lord's Supper was observed at this service.

At the evening service the minister delivered another of the interesting series on "Some Saints and Some Sinners," taking on this occasion "The Unknown Saint." The evening anthem was "O-Radiant Morn."

Our humanity were a poor thing but for the divinity that stirs within us.

Suffering accepted and vanquished develops a serenity which is the most exquisite fruit of life.

Death Of Rev. Henry Pierce On Saturday

The death occurred in Charlottetown Saturday morning, after a three weeks illness, at the home of his son, Dr. H. H. Pierce, of Rev. Henry Pierce, aged 76 retired United Church clergyman.

The late Mr. Pierce was born at Highfield, P. E. I., and was 42 years in the ministry before he retired about four years ago, his last charge being Kinross and Uigg.

He was educated at Mount Allison Academy and Mount Allison University, taking both his arts course and theology and receiving his B. A. degree from the latter institution.

He held a number of charges in the New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island circuit, viz. at Cornwall, Pownall, Hunter River, Georgetown, Kinross and Uigg in this province, and at Hillsboro, Portland Street Church, Saint John, Centreville and Long Beach in New Brunswick.

Mr. Pierce was ordained to the Methodist ministry and became a member of the United Church at the time of the union.

As a devoted paster and able preacher, he laboured zealously and earnestly in the various fields to which he had been called, and his ministry has been singularly blessed.

The many friends which this faithful servant of Christ made during his long career in the ministry will learn with sorrow that he has passed away.

Of him it will be truly said "Well done, thou good and faithful servant. Enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

His wife predeceased him fourteen years ago at Cornwall. An only child, Dr. Pierce of Charlottetown, and one sister, Mrs. George Turner of North Winsloe, survive, and to these the sympathy of our people will go forth in their hour of bereavement.

Keep your back as straight as you can.

Help thyself and God will help thee.

George M. Wrong Hails Trade Pacts

HALIFAX, Dec. 4—(CP) George M. Wrong, emertus professor of history at University of Toronto, in an interview here today hailed the New Canada-United States and Anglo-American trade treaties as indicating a general tendency to break down international trade barriers. With Mrs. Wrong he returned in the Duchess of York from Liverpool.

Prof. Wrong, who spent the last five months travelling in Europe, thought one aspect of the trade agreements which should not be overlooked was that they indicated a willingness of the United States to accept goods instead of gold from debtor countries.

Interested in Canadian unity, he said the provinces must hold together. Interior Canada could not afford to let the seaboard get away.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of William H. Waddell, Cape Traverse, who passed away Dec. 5, 1937.

There is one who misses you sadly
And finds the time long since you went,
There is one who thinks of you daily
And tries to be brave and content.
But our hearts just ache with sadness—
Our eyes shed many a tear,
God alone knows how we miss you
At the dawn of another year.

Sadly missed by his wife and family. L-18.
