DE GAULLE AT WORK FORMING FRENCH LEGION

Status of French Fleet Remains Uncertain. Colonies to Keep on Fighting.

LONDON, June 27—(CP)—Gen. Charles De Gaulle, French military leader who has repudiated the Petain Government for its armistice with the Rome-Berlin Axis, worked at high speed today to organize the French Legion he hopes will carry on the Republic's war at Britain's side.

He is gathering around him remnants of the French Flanders army which crossed to England through Dunkerque.

At the same time he is setting up a centre for armament and research and a non-political French National Committee to coordinate French policy.

French political leaders already in London who are expected to support De Gaulle include three former premiers, Edouard Herriot, Leon Blum and Joseph Paul-Boncour.

Prime Minister Churchill last Sunday extended recognition to the provisional French National Committee which is expected to supervise the activity of the French "die-hards."

Gen. De Gaulle announced today that he had received definite information that Gen. Charles Castroux, Governor of French Indo-China, would fight any invasion of that French possession. Bordeaux reports have said Gen. Catroux had been recalled.

Gen. De Gaulle said also that Gen. Auguste Nogues, the French Commander-in-Chief in northern Africa is taking "all necessary steps for organizing resistance."

Casablanca in French Morocco and Algiers in North Africa have been reported as concentration points for the units of the French fleet reported yesterday to have sailed from the Gibraltar area. But it was not indicated definitely whether these units plan to continue to fight at the side of the Royal Navy.

The French Mediterranean battle squadron was reported still lying off Alexandria today. Dispatches said that the fleet observed the full mourning for France's defeat decreed by Bordeaux, but ended the mourning period today.

The Tri-Color of the Republic floated again at full mast today from all the units.

A Reuters News Agency dispatch from Jibuti, port terminus of the Addis Ababa railway line from Ethiopia, in French Somaliland said French authorities there "intend to fight on."

The dispatch came from Aden, across the Gulf of Aden, opposite Jibuti. The Government at Bordeaux agreed in the armistice to surrender port rights in Jibuti to the Italians.

B. W. Browne Named Deputy Chief Of Staff

OTTAWA, June 27.—(CP)—Brig. B. W. Browne has been appointed Deputy Chief of the General Staff, National Defence Department Headquarters here, Acting Defence Minister Power announced tonight.

Appointment of Brig. G. G. Anglin as District Officer commanding Military District No. 7 at Saint John was announced at the same time.

Appointment of a deputy chief of staff will add to the strength of national defence headquarters where the main burden of the organization and equipment of Canada's expanding military forces falls. Brig. Browne will serve as deputy to Major-General T. V. Anderson, chief of the general staff.

The new deputy chief was recently officer commanding Military District No. 10, Winnipeg and prior to that served as assistant adjutant and quartermaster general in Military District No. 4, Montreal, and No. 1, London.

Brig. Browne was first commissioned in the militia in 1901. He went overseas with the 16th Battalion in the last war and held various administrative staff appointments. He was mentioned in despatches three times and awarded the military cross and the distinguished service order.

After the war he entered the permanent force and has been with it ever since.

KISS YOUR TIRED FEELING GOODBYE!

Pepless Many Suffer Low Blood Count—And Don't Know It.

The baffling thing about low blood count is that you can weigh about as much as you ever did — even look healthy and strong, yet you can feel as if you had lead in your feet, dopey, tired and pepless.

Low blood count means you haven't got enough red blood corpuscles. It is their vital job to carry life-giving oxygen from your lungs throughout your body. And just as it takes oxygen to explode gasoline in your car and make the power to turn the wheels, so you must have plenty of oxygen to explode the energy in your body and give you going power.

Get Dr. Williams Pink Pills today. They are world-famous for the help they give in increasing the number and strength of red corpuscles. Then with your blood count up, you'll feel like bounding up the stairs as if you were floating on air. Ask your druggist for Dr. Williams Pink Pills today.

First hour of this afternoon's sitting was largely taken up by important government announcements.

Refugee Problem Aired

Fresh information on the refugee problem came from Prime Minister King and from Hon. T. A. Crerar, Minister of Mines and Resources, who indicated the first batch of children from England—about 3,000—would reach Canada the middle of July.

Finance Minister Ralston, whose transfer to the portfolio of National Defence was expected immediately after he delivered the budget remained in his seat throughout Mr. Harris' address.

It was reported officially Col. Ralston may stay at his present post until his budget has been adopted.

Canadians were ready to accept a federal tax on gasoline, Mr. Harris declared, and even at one cent-a-gallon the revenue would be $15,000,000. He believed a two-cents-a-gallon tax would have been readily accepted.

Liquor should be taxed at least 50 cents a quart and as much more as the traffic would bear, he declared. The revenue from this would be $1,000,000.

Vegetable Oils

On the question of vegetable oils, which Mr. Harris has raised in the House on many occasions, he spoke at considerable length, citing the tariff board recommendation that imported vegetable oils should be taxed.

By failing to act on that recommendation the treasury was losing about $5,000,000, he said.

As indicative of the government's attitude toward imported vegetable oils as compared with domestic animal fats, Mr. Harris quoted an order for meats placed by the munitions and supply department for delivery to the Royal Canadian Air Force station at Rockcliffe in suburban Ottawa.

The order included 627 pounds of shortening and specified this "must be manufactured from pure vegetable oils—lard not acceptable."

Mr. Harris argued that the fixed, official rate of exchange on Canadian and United States funds, as regulated by the Foreign Exchange Control Board, which has been stable at 10 and 11 per cent, buying and selling, since September, should find a "more normal" level.

The rate would be much higher than that fixed and would have the effect of bringing a higher return to the United States, and of curtailing imports from that country.

Mr. Harris expressed confidence the budget's unprecedented estimate of more than $600,000,000 tax revenues in one year would be achieved.

He urged the creation of import and export boards to ensure there was no unnecessary outflow of Canadian dollars to non-empire countries. Canadians should buy British goods in every way to assist the United Kingdom.

Every Canadian dollar spent on British imports was a dollar for Britain to spend on armaments made in Canada, he said.

As to the two per cent national defence tax imposed in the budget he suggested the industry of Canada absorb it where the wage of the employee is below the cost of living as determined by the Labor Department.

Widow Of Sir Conan Doyle Died Yesterday

LONDON, June 27 —(CP) —Lady Conan Doyle, widow of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, the creator of Sherlock Holmes, died today.

Both Sir Arthur and Lady Conar Doyle were firm believers in spiritualism.

Sir Arthur contended not only that the dead remained in communication with the earth, but also that in some cases spirits were able to materialize themselves.

Lady Doyle had claimed to be in frequent communication with the spirit of Sir Arthur since his death July 7, 1930.

She married Sir Arthur in 1907 as his second wife. She leaves two sons and one daughter.

Lady Conan Doyle died of internal trouble, said the matron of a clinic in which she died and which is within a stone's throw of Baker Street, the London street that Sherlock Holmes made famous.

For months she had lain ill in the bedroom of their country home at Windlesham in the heart of Sussex, overlooking the beautiful garden in which the remains of her husband lie in a sanctum designed by her.

The sanctum is decorated with a sword representing Sir Arthur's fight for the weak and oppressed, a torch for his work for spiritualism, a rising sun for the light yet to come to the world through knowledge, and a book for his literary work.

Lady Conan Doyle while lying ill said she derived comfort from the fact that her husband was watching over her.

S'side Red Cross Workers Hear Activity Outlined

Miss Catherine MacLean, of the Red Cross headquarters of P. E. I. and N. B., addressed a meeting of Red Cross workers in Summerside last night and gave a very comprehensive outline of the work the Society is doing both in Canada and overseas.

Mayor Campbell presided and introduced the speaker.

Miss MacLean praised the work that Prince County is doing but showed by the various reports from overseas that greater effort is needed. She mentioned particularly the help the Red Cross is giving to prisoners of war and personal service to wounded soldiers. The great need for hospital supplies and refugee clothing was stressed. Miss MacLean referred to the splendid response for the appeal for blankets and ambulances.

A pleasing feature of the evening was the presentation of 23 St. John Ambulance certificates to a class of Summerside ladies who took the first aid course last winter, under the instruction of Dr. J. A. MacPhee, who in a short speech congratulated the class on having passed their examinations and stressed the importance of first aid both in war time and in times of peace.

Mr. B. W. Robinson, M.L.A., in moving a vote of thanks to Miss MacLean also spoke of the importance of first aid and suggested that the young men follow the example of the ladies and take a similar course in stretcher bearing and ambulance work.

BRITISH TOLD

Indian government now is bringing into production various private arms firms.

Vast orders have been placed in the United States.

Mr. Morrison said that the orders have been increased not only because of immediate necessitites but as an insurance against the future.

In Canada, the Supply Minister said, "the new department of munitions and supply is taking over the work formerly done by the purchasing commission in that country under Col. Greenly."

"In the new circumstances," he added, "the dominion government prefer to undertake that work."

Eighty- thousand machine tools annually are being made available from all sources, Mr. Morrison said. Machine tools worth $13,350,000 ordered by Britain on behalf of France from the United States and Canada will be diverted to the United Kingdom.

Not Forgetting Long View

"We have concentrated quite properly on immediate production, but we are not going to forget the long view," Mr. Morrison said.

"We all hope that this period of the last few weeks will in due course change, and we must think of long-term policies and of offensive as well as defensive policies."

Mr. Morrison disclosed that the output of 'cruiser" and infantry tanks for June was 115 per cent greater than in April. Increases in the output of guns ranged from 50 per cent on two items to 228 per cent on another, while small arms increases ranged from 49 per cent to 186 and ammunition from 35 to 420 per cent.

While he admitted these figures were encouraging Mr. Morrison said that "the last thing I wish is for the House and country to believe that things are satisfactory."

"They are not," he said. "They could not be satisfactory in the circumstances, but I can only say they are becoming nearer and nearer to satisfaction."

The House of Commons later held a secret session to consider Mr. Morrison's report.

In the home defence, neutral military observers declared that Britain's effort to put together a trained force of 1,000,000 men to meet possible invasion was going forward satisfactorily.

This is the plan:—

A first-line defensive force of 500,000, well-trained and well equipped, including empire units.

A citizen -army of 500,000 for the second line.

A final reserve of local defence volunteer riflemen, organized mainly to combat parachute troops.

"WIN THE WAR" PROGRAMS

HALIFAX, June 27 —(CP) — "Win the war" programs in at least 65 Nova Scotia theatres should raise nearly $20,000 for Canada's war effort, it was estimated today after a meeting of allied exhibitors of the province. Admission fees will be at least 50 cents, for which they will receive two war savings certificates.

In line with other Canadian theatres, the Nova Scotia exhibitors have selected Monday, June 15, as their date.

Reviews War

terday, Mr. Campbell discussed the matter with Henry Ford personally.

"Mr. Ford realizes fully that all the industrial resources of a nation at war automatically become available in the defence of the country in which they are located. In his statement to the press last night Mr. Ford said that Ford companies in the British Empire are serving their people as they should do," Mr. Campbell said.

Mr. Campbell explained that the Canadian Ford plant is particularly well fitted for the production of the mechanical motorized transport used so extensively by modern armies.

"Even before war was declared on request of the Canadian government, we laid the ground work for military production. Since the beginning of the war nothing has been left undone to produce as quickly as possible equipment specified by the government.

Military Production

"More than 50 per cent of the production in our Windsor plant consists of vehicles for military use. This volume is rapidly increasing. We are supplying the British Empire with a total of approximately 35,000 of these units. Of this total nearly 10,000 are for the Canadian government and 25,000 are for use by other empire countries such as South Africa, Australia and India," Mr. Campbell said.

He also revealed that the Canadian plant is being rapidly tooled for the production of universal machine gun carriers. These will be supplied to the Canadan government at the rate of 50 a week when production gets into full swing within the next few months.

"We have a number of men with special training and qualifications useful to the government in war work. These men are working with the Department of National Defence in Ottawa and in England," Mr. Campbell said.

Mr. Campbell listed the various types of equipment now being manufactured in the Canadian Ford plan. Military vehicles include: light two wheel drive trucks, known as 8 cwt, which are used for carrying light stores, personnel, or wireless sets; 15 cwt units, used as anti tank gun tractors, water tank carriers and to transport heavier loads, personnel, etc., 30 cwt four wheel drive, used as load carriers; three ton units for heavy loads, for workshops, for wrecking equipment, etc., four wheel drive gun tractors used to haul artillery, ambulances, as well as regular passenger cars and station wagon specially fitted and painted for army purposes.

"Ford engineers in the Windsor plant have contributed substantially to the design of these army type vehicles. We have equipped our plant with the additional tools and dies necessary for the production of these vehicles and we have installed much special machinery. We have more than 7,000 men at work in our plant," Mr. Campbell said.

"War orders take priority over all other production in our plant," said Mr. Campbell. As an indication of the dispatch with which war orders are handled by the Canadian Ford Company, Mr. Campbell said that on May 1 a cable was received from an overseas empire country inquiring how long it would take to ship them 8,000 trucks for military use. The immediate reply was a start would be made in three weeks. The company undertook to build and start shipping those trucks at the rate of 100 a day, the first 100 units to be delivered within three weeks and another 100 each day thereafter.

Hospitals Name Committee To Study Rates

BRIDGEWATER, N. S., June 27 —(CP) — A committee to confer with the workmen's compensation board on rates charged and the period of hospitalization allowed was named at the annual meeting of the Hospital Association of Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island. It was contended in discussion that it should be the privilege of hospitals to set their own rates.

Rev. Mother Ignatius, Glace Bay, presided at the opening session. Hon. G. E. Romky said he believed financial problems of local hospitals could be solved with the goodwill and the support of the public.

Rev. J. R. MacDonald, Antigonish, urged the 60 delegates to uphold and strengthen the principles of democracy under which they live. Hospital trustees, he said, represent the public and they should administer their trust to the best of their ability.

A leader in the day's discussions was Dr. G. H. Agnew, Toronto, secretary of the Canadian Hospital Council.

British, Italian Envoys Change Ship At Lisbon

LISBON, June 27—(AP)—Homebound Italian and British diplomats and newspaper correspondents and their families swapped ships here today.

The Italians left the British liner Monarch of Bermuda which had brought them from Britain after Italy's declaration of war against the Allies, and boarded the Conte Rosso for the journey into Italian home waters. The British party said farewell to the Conte Rosso and the Italian flag under which they had been travelling and climbed aboard the Monarch of Bermuda.

Conservatives Say Appeasement Talk From Fifth Column

Stand Solidly Behind Efforts To Lead Britain To Victory.

LONDON, June 28. — (Friday)—(CP) — The powerful Conservative party today formally branded appeasement talk as "obviously inspired from fifth column sources," and "emphatically reaffirmed its whole-hearted resolve" to support the Churchill government "in their determination to win the war."

The statement was issued upon the authority of Neville Chamberlain member of the five-man war cabinet, leader of the Conservative party, and Mr. Churchill's predecessor in office.

The statement followed by one day a statement in authoritative London circles that Britain expected a German-inspired drive aimed at trying to persuade neutrals that Britain could not achieve victory.

The statement said that suggestions the Conservative party "is not united and that a powerful section headed by Mr. Neville Chamberlain is prepared to come to terms with Hitler" were "obviously inspired from fifth column sources."

It said such rumors have lately gained currency in the United States.

Parliament and the nation are united in their will to complete the task to which they have set their mind, the statement said.

The statement follows:

"Rumors have lately gained currency in the United States of America that differences of opinion exist within the cabinet and notably within the Conservative party. It has been suggested that the Conservative party is not united and that a powerful section headed by Mr Neville Chamberlain is prepared to come to terms with Hitler."

"These rumors, obviously inspired from fifth column sources, have today been categorically denied on the authority of Mr. Neville Chamberlain, Lord President of the Council.

"The Conservative party has emphatically re-affirmed its wholehearted resolve under its leader, Mr. Chamberlain, to stand behind the Prime Minister and the government in their determination to win the war.

"There has never been a time when parliament and the nation were more united in their will to complete the task to which they have set their hand."

U.S. May Seize Foreign Vessels

WASHINGTON, June 27—(AP)—President Roosevelt, in a step interpreted as laying the groundwork for possible detention of French ships, today authorized seizure of foreign vessels in American waters if necessary to protect United States interests, or the safety of the ships themselves.

The President acted under the Espionage Act of 1917 to grant this power to the Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, along with other broad powers of control over both domestic and foreign vessels. Both the coast guard and the customs office are units of the treasury department.

The White House said in a statement that Mr. Roosevelt's action was supplementary to his proclamation of a limited national emergency last September. It described the powers granted to Secretary Morgenthau in this manner:—

"The powers which are made available for exercise by today's proclamation include the promulgation of regulations subject to the President's approval, governing the anchorage and movement of vessels, and, with the consent of the President, taking possession and control of any vessels if necessary to secure them from damage or injury, or to prevent damage or injury to United States harbors or waters, or to secure observance of the rights and obligations of the United States."

A high official, who would not be quoted by name, told reporters that the order could be interpreted as clearing the way for possible detention not only of French ships in American waters but also of vessels of other German-dominated countries of Europe.

French ships now in United States ports include the huge luxury liner, Normandie, at New York; the San Francisco and Leopold L. D. at New York; the Vannes and Wisconsin at Los Angeles; the tanker Merope, at Chester, Pa.; the Winnipeg at Miami, and the tanker Scheherzade at Corpus Christi, Tex.

The power to seize foreign vessels also was granted to the Governor of the Panama Canal under the same restrictions placed on Secretary Morgenthau.

The fact that the ships may be seized "to secure observance of the rights and obligations of the United States" attracted particular interest.

It was recalled that Stephen T. Early, presidential secretary, told reporters last Monday that the White House had received hundreds of communications suggesting seizure of French western hemisphere possessions, or French merchant vessels, as payment on the French war debt.

France owes the United States $4,200,000,000 on the First Great War debt. There was no official comment on whether the powers granted to Morgenthau might be construed to authorize seizure of the French ships as war debt payments.

LAND GRAB

A few months ago Hungarian statesmen were declaring their determination to stop a Soviet Russian advance into the Balkans. The Carpathians were declared the barricade against Communism, and Italian aid was envisaged in holding it.

Today, with the Soviet already in the Carpathian passes on Hungary's northern frontier by reason of the disappearance of Poland and Czecho-Slovakia, the Red army moved closer to that same curving barrier on the east.

Chose Opportune Moment

Stalin chose an opportune moment to move in the Balkans and extend a pan-Slavic sway that has been an ambition of Russians from the days of the Tsars.

Germany is too busy in the west apparently to pay heed; Italy has joined her in the war and may not be in the mood to help Hungary carry out any proposed rush to the Carpathian barricade in Rumania.

Claim Disinterest

Both in Berlin and Rome "disinterest" in the Rumanian situation was expressed, but informed opinion in the Balkans was that only because of the emergency in the west could Germany accept a situation which will leave Russia controlling Danube ports and otherwise dominating German economic interest in the Black Sea region.

In Belgrade, the Yugoslav cabinet met upon receipt of the Rumanian news. When Italy entered the war Yugoslav leaders announced they expected Russian help if Italy attempted an invasion of their soil.

The German radio, in a report from Belgrade, said there was no question of Yugoslavia observing her entente obligations with Rumania. These provided for assistance only in case of aggression by another Balkan power, not in the case of Soviet Russia, the radio pointed out.

Bulgaria was believed to be still dependent upon her long-standing "little brother" relationship with Russia for support of her claims to Rumanian territory.

Should Russia's action give the big push to revision which has remained latent in this region for more than two decades, Hungary is expected first to present her claims in diplomatic fashion, seeking to win them bloodlessly as did Russia.

Family Retainers Believe Missing Master Is Alive

DUBLIN, June 27—(AP)—The foxes around Gormanston Castle haven't howled on the castle grounds—and so the family retainers in that old seat of Lord Gormanston, Premier Viscount of Ireland, don't believe their master is dead.

The servants have been told that the master, a 25-year-old infantry captain is missing in France. But they insist he is alive.

They tell of the legend that when a master of Gormanston is about to die, all the foxes from the surrounding countryside gather in the castle grounds and set up a mournful cry until death releases him from his earthly ties.

Lord Gormanston has one son, seven months old.

Preliminary Plans Laid To Handle Refugees

OTTAWA, June 27—(CP)—Preliminary plans for reception in Canada of thousands of children seeking a refuge from war provide for placing of about half of them in Ontario and Quebec homes, it was said tonight at a conference of provincial authorities with Resources Minister Crerar.

The rest of the children will be distributed throughout Canada on a pro rata population basis, it was added.

Mr. Crerar, whose department has charge of Canadian plans for the child migration, told a sympathetic House of Commons the first batch of 2,000 children from the war-threatened British Isles would arrive in the Dominion about the middle of July.

Other groups of 750 would continue to arrive until July 25.

Provincial Governments will be responsible for the placement and welfare of the young visitors after their transportation across the Atlantic and to their new temporary homes by the Governments of the United Kingdom and the Dominion.

The conference will continue tomorrow. All provinces except Quebec were represented today.

The meeting will consider plans for greatly expanding operations for taking care of a larger child migration than was at first anticipated. Mr. Crerar told the House that in his opinion the movement "might well reach large dimensions."

HARD COAL, COKE PRICE UP

HAMILTON, Ont., June 27 —(CP) — An increase in the price of hard coal and coke was announced today by Hamilton fuel dealers. Hard coal rates have gone up $1 a ton and coke 50 cents a ton.

The dealers explained they were passing on to the public extra charges the retailers have been required to pay. There have been increases at the mines but the exchange rate created by the war was given as the chief reason for the advance.
