CHARLOTTETOWN and QUEEN'S COUNTY

It pays to buy in this Province.

Rev. Alex. Gordon, son of Prince of Wales, Kingston, Ont., will preach in St. James' Church tomorrow night.

In the City market yesterday the only change in prices was that of eggs, which were higher yesterday.

and seven and one quarter to eight cents a lb.

Yesterday the Murray Harbor train was twenty minutes late, the Souris train, one hour and twenty minutes, and the English train, forty-five minutes late. The western and Cape Traverse trains were both on time.

In the list of officers of Alpha Rebekah Lodge, I. O. O. F., recently published, the following officers were omitted: Recording Secretary—Miss A. White; Financial Secretary—Miss Ada Harris; Treasurer—Miss Margaret Gillis.

Last evening Union Prayer meetings were held in Central Christian and Greek Churches. Revs. Z. L. Pash and E. J. Armitage addressed the meetings. The subject of the address was "The growing desire for the Union of the Churches."

The large assembly of people at both churches gave good evidence of the interest taken in the prayer meetings.

The MacKinnon Drug Co. desire to thank all their patrons in town and country for their very generous patronage during 1910. They hope to merit a continuance by strict attention to business and by furnishing the very best in the drug line.

CLOSING COTTON LETTER.

(From F. B. McCurdy & Co's Private Wire.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—The cotton market showed little change today.

Early prices were little higher than last night's close, owing to the bullish Lancashire trade accounts, the influence of further reductions in estimates of the East Indian crop and the outlook for bullish week-end figures, but there was no broadening of outside demand, the scattering local short interest soon secured cover and during the afternoon prices broke to a net loss of ten to 11 points under liquidation by tired buyers and selling by Memphis and New Orleans. It was said around the Street that nearly every commission house in Memphis except one or two had been sellers during the day and while it was also said that the official figures of the National Ginners association would be published this month, an impression was created that expectations of a bullish consensus report next Tuesday accounted for the Southern offerings. At least there appeared to be nothing else in the situation to inspire selling. Southern spot markets unchanged to a cent higher, the into-sight figure runs below early estimates and while this was partially accounted for by a reduction of 10,000 bales in estimated weekly southern mill takings spinners takings for the week ran about 4,000 bales above the into-sight making a decrease in the world's visible supply of American cotton for the first time this season. It seems that the South has sold so freely since the beginning of season as to render bullish efforts above the trade beginning to wonder whether supplies may not after all prove sufficient in view of unfavorable trade conditions here and the talk of liberalizing, tired long are liquidating. The market is not taking this cotton badly under the circumstances nor do southern spots appear to be yielding.

Andrew McNair, City, has been appointed Deputy Grand Worthy Pat church of the Sons of Temperance in this Province. His commission came to hand a few days ago. He succeeds the late J. J. Chappelle, who filled that position for five years previous to his death.

Subscribers should see that they receive the complete edition of this morning's issue. It contains four ten pages of local and foreign reading matter, the regular weekly sermon, Shakespearean sermon and Sunday lesson, besides a Y. M. C. A. article, which will be of general interest.

At the Police Court in this city yesterday the prohibitions cases were heard. Joseph Carr's and Frederick Ross's cases were adjourned until Friday next, and that against Peter Gillis was also adjourned for a week for judgment. In the latter case J. J. Johnson, attorney for the defendant, retained P. Gillis, the defendant's brother, was serving sentence now for his offence.

CLOSING STOCK LETTER.

(From F. B. McCurdy & Co's Private Wire.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Transaction fell off in volume today but the market held strong and stocks as a rule closed with a slight net gain on the day. Leading issues like Heading, Union Pacific, Lehigh Valley, Amalgamated Copper and Smelters were strong throughout the day, all of them making new high records on this move. Steel was somewhat of a laggard, remaining strong but holding all day close to the closing price of last night. Commission houses were anxious to complain of lack of business and sentiment in the street while more optimistic that late, it still very much avoided.

Call money loaned and renewed at 4 1/2 per cent dropping down in the last trading below 3 per cent.

Halfroad earnings counting to hand were mixed, the St. Paul making an extremely unfavorable showing for November while that of the Great Northern was as favorable as the St. Paul had been the reverse. The close was strong at about the best of the day with Amalgamated Copper showing the greatest gain of any of the active issues 2 1/2 per cent.

Total sales 290,000.

Great Northern end Dec. gross increase $78,955; six months gross decrease $525, 928.

RANDOLPH.

GRAIN LETTER.

(From F. B. McCurdy & Co's Private Wire.)

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—Wheat opened at about last night's close, but eased off since the opening. Trade has been small selling being chiefly by commission houses thought that of the Great Northern and the world's shipments are expected to be smaller. Weather in the winter wheat belt continues dry but temperatures are milder.

Corn has ruled easier with country selling more liberal. Liverpool market showed a sharp advance, supposed on continued favorable news from Argentine.

Oats—Receipts somewhat lighter but the market easier on some liquidation by local longs, influenced by provisions in other grains.

Provisions—Started easier with the decline in hogs at the yards but lateness of fair scattered demand.

Yesterday a party crossed the Hillsboro river from Prince St. wharf. He had to make a wide detour north to clear the floating ice broken by the Earl Grey and the ferry steamer to Rocky Point.

The Guardian had a pleasant interview yesterday with Archibald T. Day, Perbeck, Alberta, who was among those arriving on the Earl Grey yesterday and registered at the Victoria. Mr. Day is a son of Athol and Mrs. Day, Mt. Hope, and left yesterday afternoon on a three-month's visit to his old home. His life is now in Mt. Hope, rearing old acquaintances, having preceded Mr. Day by some five years ago.

Mr. Day left home last year out west. Here he worked for two years at the brick making business and then took up a homestead in Perbeck, then practically without any settlers. This settlement is 75 miles north and east of Calgary. He erected good frame buildings on his homestead, going 45 miles for his lumber, and started in mixed farming. Mr. Day found this profitable and says the soil and climate is especially adapted for this purpose, wheat, barley and fax and all crops flourish. His first wheat crop yielded 34 bushels to the acre. When Mr. Day located in Perbeck railways were far distant; now three lines pass within a few miles of the place and land values have jumped so that the number of acres he now owns is 13 miles from Perbeck and will be sold in value. This year Mr. Day and two other young men are to establish a $25,000 brick plant in Rocky Valley, where a splendid quantity of brick clay is available, and will supply an ever growing and increasing demand in this line. There are 13 miles from Perbeck to the edge of the big central railway town of Alberta. A $37,000 hospital is to be erected there this year. Mr. Day gives any kind of information about the west and says it is the place for all young men not afraid of work who have ambition. The demand for men for railway work is never supplied and good wages are realized. He will be glad at any time to impart information requested of the west.

ALLEY-GLENVILLE.

Frank Wrasley played the wedding march for the entrance of the bride, which was led by Miss Dora Ross and Russell Hamilton, the white duck sailor suits, who carried a pair of white satin ribbons to the path of the bride party. The bride, Miss Jessie O'Connell, sister of the bride, who looked very charming in pale pink blossoming gown and hat, carried a beautiful green silk, with clusters of pink satin ribbon roses. The frock was made in white, slightly hobble style, caught in with a band of shirred cotton. She carried a large bouquet of pale pink roses and white lily-of-the-valley.

The bride entered next, leaning on the arm of her father. Her lovely fringe and dress, and carried a large bouquet of crimson roses.

P. G. Close was best man. After the wedding supper Mr. and Mrs. Alley left on the midnight train for a short wedding trip, intending to return to Calgary for New Year's Day.

Mrs. Alley travelled in a modiste frock of cinnamon brown cloth, with yoke of black and gold, and a handsome muskrat coat, with large muff to match. With this she wore a smart toque of cinnamon brown velvet, finished with large brown wings. Shoes and gloves corresponded with the color scheme of a very effective costume. Provincial friends will join with The Guardian in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Alley many, many years of a happy wedded life.

Prize Winners In Beer & Week's Word Contest

With a view to making their firm name still more well known throughout the Province, Beer & Weeks advertised some months ago, a Word Contest, announcing that they would give three prizes aggregating in value $100.00. This was no money making proposition, as no entrance fee was charged and the competition was open to all who were customers of the firm or not. The competition proved an unqualified success. Thousands of persons from every corner of the Island took part, and some of the prize reports show that the number of words written were arranged and numbered and checked by the contest committee. Some have been so successful that they have won more than one prize. The contest was held on Nov. 29th papers were placed in the hands of a competent committee who found the task of awarding prizes, the more exact the committee reports some very nice carefully written words were arranged and numbered and checked by the contest committee. Some have been so successful that they have won more than one prize. The contest was held on Nov. 29th papers were placed in the hands of a competent committee who found the task of awarding prizes, the more exact the committee reports some very nice carefully written words were arranged and numbered and checked by the contest committee. 74, 3rd Prize, Bedroom Suite—Competitor No. 31, Miss Mabel Steeves, Summerside.

1st Prize, Dining Suite—Competitor No. 2765, Leigh Warren, North Rustico, who wins first prize, had 81 words correct, and in every respect his paper was superior to any other sent in. Mr. Warren, who is 18 years of age, is a son of Mr. Archibald Warren, and, as he works on the farm, no doubt this is the beginning of his being a successful islander at home.

Mrs. L. H. Douglas of Morell, winner of second prize, had a very good paper with 78 words correct. Mrs. Douglas is the wife of the station agent at Morell, and was formerly Miss McDonald of Georgetown, where she was at one time teacher in the Georgetown School.

Miss Mabel Steeves of Summerside, the third prize winner, had a carefully prepared paper with 74 words correct. Miss Mabel, who is only eleven years of age, deserves special mention for having so successfully competed in such a large field.

And so the three Counties, Queen's, King's and Prince have each won a prize in one of the largest contested educational races ever held in Prince Edward Island.

Mr. Warren has named Rev. H. H. Bell, New Glasgow.

Mrs. Douglas has named Rev. R. P. Murray, Mt. Stewart.

Miss Steeves has named Miss Ethel Tanton, her teacher. All the above will receive suitable gifts.

1st Prize, Taylor Suite—Competitor No. 2765, Leigh Warren, North Rustico.
