His funeral, which was largely attended, took place from the United Church on Thursday afternoon. He was laid to rest in Peoples' Cemetery.

An airplane circled over the village Thursday afternoon and made a landing on the river ice presumably in quest of passengers, but few if any of the villagers took advantage of the opportunity to soar in the air this time, most of them having done so on a previous visit of the plane.

A valuable dog belonging to Mr. E. Palfrey, Bank Manager here, was shot and killed by some unknown person last Sunday and one owned by Mr. Bruce McCormack met a similar fate a few days previous.

Mr. Steele has been connected with the Metropolitan Stores for over three years, coming here a year ago from St. John. Mr. Steele left this morning for Fredericton to take over his new duties.

WAR VETERANS' PENSIONS—The Provincial Command of the Canadian Legion B. E. S. L. has received word to the effect that some newspaper reports as to the decisions of the Pension Appeal Court had been incorrect. For instance on the 26th of February it was reported that out of sixty decisions given by the Court only two had been favorable to the returned men applying. As a matter of fact up to that date sixty decisions had been rendered. Of these sixty thirteen were favorable to the applicants. Five were referred back to the Tribunal for rehearing. In six cases leave was granted to re-open before the Board of Pensions Commissioners, and the remaining decisions were unfavorable. In regard to the War Veterans Allowance Act, it appears that the words "permanently unemployable" have been misunderstood. These words mean that before a returned man can get this allowance he must show evidence that his unemployability is permanent. The allowance is not provided for a temporary condition as might arise because of incapacity from injury or disease or cases where after treatment the applicant has reasonable expectation of resuming work. In short to get the allowance a man must be permanently unemployable or over sixty years of age. (Summerside papers please copy.)

2nd. Granites 6 Mt. Herbert 5

The second Highfield Granites, strengthened by W. Rodd and S. Hurry of the first team, defeated the Pretty Boys at the Forum Saturday night by a 6-5 score.

Both teams worked hard and displayed a good brand of hockey. For the second Granites, W. Rodd and S. Hurry were the best, while the remainder of the team worked well showing good combination, clean defence work and accurate shooting on the net.

Both goalies turned in excellent exhibitions of stopping rubber. R. Driscoll was a tower of strength on the Pretty Boys defence and he was ably assisted by Jenkins and Pippy. The forwards played a neat passing game with accurate shooting and nice work, around the opponents net.

The scoring for the Granites was done by W. Rodd who netted three. S. Hurry who got two and C. Hurry.

Dick McQuarrie opened the scoring for the Pretty Boys, Elmer Clow got the next, Fred Jenkins the next two, and shortly before the bell Clow and Pippy went down together in fast combination and Pippy easily beat Moore on Clow's rebound.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

The Rev. A. C. Vincent spoke at the morning service, to a large congregation, on "The call of the shallow and the call of the deep." The text was from Psalm 42, 7 "Deep calleth unto deep." There is something in the heart of all mankind that responds to the roar of the mighty sea and within us all there is a response to ripple at the beach, of the shallower waters, to the babbling of the cheerful little brook.

Deep places do not offer all the calls that are worth hearing, there is music and message in the calls of the simple, shallow waters too, and the being is incomplete who cannot receive some message from both.

In life, in literature, in music and art, the call of the shallow and the call of the deep are illustrated, there are times and needs that are met in the call of the shallower, the murmur of the waters near the shore are pleasant and peaceful, but we make no great voyage, sail for no far and wonderful port unless we hear the call of the mighty, eternal deep. Let us, recognising the pleasant places, the easy things, the shallow waters, launch our lives on the deeps of God, for our soul " thirsteth for God, for the living God."

The evening sermon, "Naaman the Syrian," was a powerful and eloquent evangelistic appeal deeply impressing the large audience in attendance. The ordinance of Baptism was administered at the close of the morning service.

The music of the day included Mendelssohn's "For the Lord is Mindful of His own," Edith Lang's "I hear Thy voice," Mrs. H. S. Henderson taking the solo; Foster's "O for a closer walk with God," Mrs. Vincent taking the solo. Miss Spencer's organ prelude, from 6.45 to 7 o'clock, a much appreciated feature of the evening service, included selections from Elgar, Gullmant and Dubois.

The flowers for the day were presented in memory of the late Mrs. Toole.

UNITY UNITED CHURCH

At the morning service a week ago the girls work as represented by the C. G. I. T. was the prominent feature and yesterday morning boys Sunday was observed by members of the Tuxis Boys and the Trail Rangers attending and occupying the front seats between the centre aisles.

Church Services

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

There are 40 boys enrolled in both groups. Rev. Mr. Brown was in charge of the service and seated with him at the Altar were the following: Homer Nicholson presiding, Blois LePage who led in prayer, Gordon Morris who read the Scripture Lesson, Matt. 5-33 to 37, Roy Vessey who also led in prayer and Reginald Smith, Vernon MacQuarrie, Ellwood MacPherson, each of whom gave addresses. Trail Ranger representative Gordon Garnhum. Mr. Smith in his address gave an outline of the Tuxis movement, the aim being to make Christ the centre of their lives, he explained what the word Tuxis stands for, the first and last letter signify Training for service, the centre letter represents the Cross Christ in the centre "U" and "I" on either side and no one between us and Christ. Mr. MacQuarrie dealt with the three "C's" programme. Clean, speech, clean sport and clean living. Mr. MacPherson gave a splendid address on the Imperial virtue of Hope. It was the general opinion that the boys did admirably. The hymns were in keeping with the service, "Stand up for Jesus," "Fight the good fight" and "Jesus, Master whom I serve." At the offertory the choir rendered with splendid spirit "Jerusalem my glorious home."

The Sunday School kept up its splendid record with an attendance of 510.

In the evening Rev. Mr. Brown preached from Mark 8-22. "He opens the eyes of the blind." He dealt with the Great Physician, the second touch, full vision, the miracle of Christian grace. There is a work for each of us to do and we need to have our eyes open to see it. Another lesson to be learned from the second touch is that the way of life is the way of the Cross.

The music consisted of an anthem by the choir and a solo by Mr. Harvey MacPherson, "I heard the voice of Jesus say." Both services were broadcast by CHCK. It was announced that special services are to be held commencing Monday evening the 23rd and continuing up to Easter.

IN MEMORIAM

MR. JOHN GILLIS

The funeral of the late John Gillis, whose remains arrived home from Seattle, Washington, on Dec. 19th, took place on January 7th, from his father's home, Glen Valley. There was a short service held at the house followed by a public service in the Presbyterian Church, Hartsville. The pastor, Rev. R. Hensley Stavert, officiated at both services. Mr. Norman MacDonald had charge of the remains that were in an Urn. Interment was in the Hartsville Cemetery. Mr. Gillis was the son of Mr. Angus Gillis and the late Mrs. Gillis, Glen Valley, P. E. I. He leaves to mourn, his aged father, Mr. Angus Gillis, referred to above, and one sister Katherine, at home, to whom the sympathy of their many friends is extended. Mr. Gillis was a resident of Seattle, Washington, for a good many years. When in health, he followed bridge and ship carpentry. Meeting with an accident by a fall from a ship during the war, he was to a large extent incapacitated for labor and was unable to follow his trade. My personal acquaintance with Mr. Gillis extended back some six years. He was a fine Christian gentleman, a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Seattle and a regular attendant when in health at its services, a regular attendant at the mid-week prayer meeting, he was well liked and had a host of friends in the city and in the church. His disappearance and death was a distinct shock to his many friends in the city. His good Scotch ancestry and training kept him faithful in the midst of his trials and suffering. He was a faithful Christian and brother in Christ, and we feel that God has taken him to those mansions, which Christ prepared for those that love Him.—Rev. Dr. Edwin S. Secrest, Seattle, Washington. MACHINES TO RING BELLS

VATICAN CITY, March 15.—The works department of the Papal State is examining the feasibility of substituting electric power for manual in ringing the bells of St. Peter's. The matter is not easy, because a certain art and skill are required in ringing the bells, there being different manners for ringing the various ones in order to obtain the proper effects.
