Good?

Well, I should say . . .

ORINOCO is a revelation in pipe tobacco. It is one of the finest of the Tuckett brands. Fifty years of experience and skill have combined to produce in ORINOCO, a tobacco of perfect blend. It really is a "bully" good smoke. Try it in a college man's bull dog, in your "old reliable," or the long church warden, and it's cool, sweet, and fragrant.

Orinoco

burns freely and evenly. Tastes good and will not bite the tongue. Fine, old-fashioned, sun-cured, Virginia leaf—pure and unadulterated—is what ORINOCO is made of. It's simply great. Try it. Stake 10c o nthe Tuckett reputation and the Tuckett experience and get a package to-day.

In Tins and in Packages.

Public Notice

As measles seem to be getting prevalent in the schools of Charlottetown owing to the neglect of some citizens, public notice is called to the Regulations of the Board of Health, especially to Rules 1 and 6.

Rule 1 states that any householder in whose house occurs a case of measles shall immediately notify the Board of Health, through its Health Officer or secretary, of the same.

Rule 6 states that no member of any household where measles exists shall be permitted to mingle with children in schools, churches, or other public places.

There is a penalty of $40.00 for failure to obey the rules.

The Board of Health requests all citizens to comply with the regulations at once, and assist in stamping out the disease.

WEALTHY MAN WILLED MUCH TO CHARITIES.

NEW YORK, December 14.—Recognizing no lines of color creed or race, George L. Fox, a prominent Brooklyn lawyer, who died recently, left a will distributing $455,000 among many charitable institutions. Faithful servents were rewarded with $70,000 and friends were substantially remembered. The will, which was filed today, disposed of $1,500,000. Mr. Fox was unmarried and had no near relatives.

Several Brooklyn institutions, including the German hospital, the Roman Catholic Orphan asylum and the Hebrew orphan asylum, received $25,000 bequests. The Brooklyn Howard colored orphan asylum received $25,000 and the Brooklyn home for the aged, colored, $10,000. Mary Kane, an old employee, gets $20,000. After giving many thousands to friends and relatives the will leaves $3,000 to James Jackson, hostler at the Shelter House, Prospect Park, "because he was kind and attentive to my brother, Henry A. Fox."

Recipe for 16 Ounces of Cough Syrup

No Better Remedy at any Price.
Fully Guaranteed.

Make a plain syrup by mixing two cups of granulated sugar and one cup of warm water and stir for two minutes. Put 2½ ounces of pure Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a 16 oz. bottle, and fill it up with the Sugar Syrup. This gives you a family supply of the best cough syrup at a saving of $2. It never spoils. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

The effectiveness of this simple remedy is surprising. It seems to take hold instantly, and will usually stop the most obstinate cough in 24 hours. It tones up the jaded appetite and is just laxative enough to be helpful in a cough, and has a pleasing taste. Also excellent for bronchial trouble, throat tickle, sore lungs and asthma, and an unequalled remedy for whooping cough.

This recipe for making cough remedy with Pinex and Sugar Syrup (or strained honey) is a prime favorite in thousands of homes in the United States and Canada. The plan has been imitated, though never successfully. If you try it, use only genuine Pinex, which is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, and is rich in guiaicol and all the natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will not work in this recipe.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

AEROPLANE WILL CARRY DISPATCHES.

NEW YORK, Dec. 13—Before sailing for home on the White Star liner Baltic, Lord Fisher, admiral of the fleet in the British navy, received reporters in his suite on the promenade deck and talked about his observations since his arrival here a week ago. As the reporters entered the cabin in single file the admiral smiled and said: "Are there any more of you? This is worse than the battle of Trafalgar."

Asked in an off-hand way what he had seen that had pleased him most he replied that it was impossible for him to classify his movements as they had been so rapid.

"But you were in Philadelphia," some one remarked, "and this is considered a slow city."

"I don't know what New Yorkers call it, but I found Philadelphia fast enough for me. My friends there entertained me so royally day and night that I did not even get time to think. There is one word that sums up this country, and that is 'hustle' What has impressed me most during ny six days' whirlwind visit to America is the Pennsylvania station. The proportion and symmetry of the station is so perfect that one fails to grasp the size of the structure. I was looking at a portion of the central roof, which did not look higher than 200 feet, but when I questioned the official, who escorted us through the station he said that it was higher than St. Peter's at Rome.

DAN McGANN FAMOUS BALL PLAYER A SUICIDE.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 14.—Dan McGann, former Captain and first baseman of the N.Y. Nationals committed suicide yesterday.

McGann was found in his room in an hotel yesterday afternoon with bullet in hole over his heart and a revolver in his hand. He had been dead some hours.

No one had seen him since last midnight, when he was about the hotel, apparently in the best of health and humor. A maid, entering his room, to clean it, found the body.

Dan McGann was for several years one of the most popular men that ever played on the N. Y. team After jumping from the St. Louis National League Club to Baltimore in 1902 he came to this city when Jno. J. McGraw took up the management of the Giants. For four years he played first base, and helped the club materially in winning the championship in 1904, and also in 1905. When the Giants fell back in 1906 and 1907, McGraw traded McGann to the Boston Club. McGann remained with the Doves until 1909 when he was sold to the Milwaukee Club of the American Association.

MRS. SCHENCK'S TRIAL.

WHEELING, W. Va., Dec. 13—A month's further delay in the trial of Mrs. Laura F. Schenck, who is under indictment on a charge of administering poison to her husband, the millionaire packer, was applied for before Judge Jordan today. Attorney Boyce and O'Brien presented affidavits showing that the defence must secure evidence from witnesses out of the State and they ask that Jan. 19th instead of Dec. 19th, be set as the date for starting the trial. Judge Jordan announced that he would hear argument this afternoon.

SHE ASKS LICENSE TO WED FOUR YEARS

PITTSBURG, Pa., Dec. 11.—In the belief that trial marriages were permitted in this country, Mrs. Anna Doodanitz, an Austrian, today asked for a license to be married to Juzo Smokanisch for four years. Through an interpreter the marriage licens. clerk learned that the woman had heard much about trial marriages and had read comments upon them and thought the idea a good one.

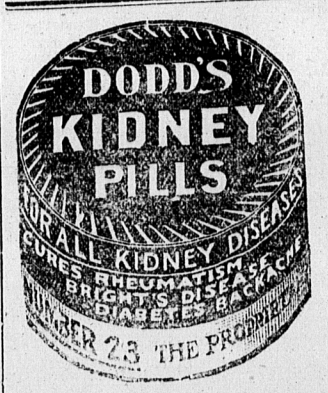
"I would like to be married until death," she explained, "but I tried that way once and it did not turn out very well, so I think this time I had better be married for just about four years; and then if my husband turns out all right I can marry him again.

"This is a great country. Over in Austria they would not let you wed for just a few years. I was married to Vassilli Doodanitz there eleven years and after only three years he ran away and married another woman."

Her volubility cost her the license. When told that trial marriages were not permitted she expressed willingness to take Smokanisch as a husband for life, but the interpreter told the clerk the woman already was married. She and Smokanisch have hired an attorney, Frank Bickerski, an old football player, to get a divorce for Mrs. Doodanitz. Mrs. Doodanitz is thirty-three years old and rather pretty.

"MY BELIEF."

"I am rather tired of seeing all the flowers at weddings and funerals. Maybe a few flowers put into the hand when it was warm, instead of when icy cold, might have kept the hand warm a little longer. Anyway, it would have made the heart that has ceased to beat a little lighter. I expect to pass through this world but once. Any good thing that I can do, or any kindness that I can show to any fellow-being let me do it now. Let me not defer it or neglect it, for I shall not pass this way again."



STOUT WOMEN DECRY STYLE.

BOSTON, Dec. 11.—It is rather interesting to note the animation with which some women attack the present styles. It is invariably the woman of flesh who is the most emphatic in disapproval. Not a good word is to be said by her for frocks or millinery of this season.

Hats are imprudently absurd, skirts immodestly cut, jackets trivial, and even the efforts of great dressmakers dubbed futile and unconvincing, as she tells it. It is a season, according to the women whose hips refuse to remove themselves, of grotesque absurdities. The hysterical note is struck! So why argue?

Whether we argue or not, certain things must be acknowledged. The present fashions in some directions have reached such perfection that to condemn them is ridiculous, to ignore them impossible. So let us forget the fact that our too comfortable contours refuse brazenly to confine themselves within the slim limits of the present silhouette, and see if we cannot judge of the fashions of the day with an unbiased eye, if not with entirely untrammelled hips.

In spite of criticism and caricature, they may almost be called epoch making. Line and drapery have clothed themselves in such artistic grace; color and fabric have attained such perfection of combination and weave that they take their places with famous fashions of other days.

They are in a great measure revivals, yet revivals so skilfully adapted to our needs and environment that they are accepted with enthusiasm by the intelligent few. The lover of color and line rejoices in their excellence, the beauty-loving eye revels in their softly woven and luxurious fabrics.

The great dressmakers have gathered from the Greeks and Romans, from Egyptians and Orientals, from the Alexandrian and First Empire periods fashions, fabrics and colors which, when combined and crystalized place the styles of this season uniquely apart.

AUTO RIDE, CANDY AND FLOWERS FOR ELOPERS.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Dec. 11—The time is not far distant when the magic phrase "Shall we elope?" will be replaced by a new phrase of tender import, "Let's go to Fairfield."

And if she blushes and sighs and presses his hand then there'll be work for John E. Boyle, J.P., proprietor of the Centre Drug Store, Fairfield, who has just come out with an enchancing offer to prospective brides and grooms, following his election as Justice of the Peace. Here is what he will do:

Meet bride and bridegroom at railway station with automobile, convey them to town hall and help them procure a marriage license.

Convey them back to his store where a floral bower and pretty little altar will be found awaiting them in a snug corner, marry them free of charge, present to the bride a pound of chocolates and kiss the bride (optional). But Mr. Boyle is young and handsome.

Give bride and bridegroom a merry wedding trip in his automobile about the environments of Fairfield.

All these things came into Mr. Boyle's mind soon after his election. He feels that Connecticut's marriage laws are the best in the world for elopers and wishes to bring the fame of Gretna Green to his town.

APPENDICITIS PARTY THE LATEST FAD.

PITTSBURG, Dec. 11—News of an appendicitis party, the latest Pittsburg fad, has just leaked out, and to Miss Edith Flynn, daughter of Wm. Flynn, multi-millionaire, belongs the credit of having started the fad.

Miss Flynn is recovering after a severe illness, following an operation for appendicitis. For a time her condition was alarming, but she is recovering.

Friends rejoicing over the recovery of Miss Flynn told the story of a reception previous to entering the hospital. She had for some time been importuned by her physicians to undergo an operation for appendicitis, and, as she was not feeling badly, the rich man's daughter in jest sent for her friends to attend a party at her father's house. The party was a great success, most of the highest social set in which Miss Flynn moved attending, while those who could not come sent regrets. With the reception over, Miss Flynn, the elder sister, and relatives went to the hospital the same night, and some days later she underwent the operation.
