SUCCESS OF CAPTAIN R.F. SCOTT

Is Ultimately Anticipated By Experts in Polar Exploration

(Canadian Press.) LONDON, Apr. 2—Though the last word from the British Antarctic Expedition under command of Capt. Robert F. Scott left the explorers still 150 miles from the South Pole on Jan. 3, polar experts here are strongly of the opinion that Capt. Scott will achieve the great object for which set out. The fact that the message brought from New Zealand by the Terra Nova declared that he was remaining in the Antarctic for another winter to complete his work is taken as an indication that the party is in good health, abundantly supplied and in a position to continue their march to the pole. Capt. Scott was still advancing on the date of the last message and those familiar with Antarctic exploration express the opinion that he would probably reach the pole before the end of January. Among those favoring this view is Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, the noted Norwegian explorer.

BRITISH TO MAKE A BIG BID FOR MOTOR BOAT TROPHY.

NEW YORK, March 28—The British are to make most determined efforts this year to win back the British international motor boat trophy and it is certain that three of the fastest boats ever built will be sent here to race against the American and possibly the French boats. The French have until May 1 in which to send their challenge, but it is expected that the official notification will be received before that time. The second challenge of the British came from the Sussex Motor Boat Club, which has headquarters at Brighton. The Duke of Westminster is commodore of that club. He has twice tried to win the trophy with the Pioneer. That boat was very fine and planned beautifully, but was unfortunate. There has been some talk that the Duke will send the same boat over again, if it is fast enough to be chosen as one of the trio. Instead of having one motor of 340 horse-power, the Pioneer will have two of that power, which will drive twin screws. Under ordinary conditions doubling the power will increase the speed 25 per cent. The Pioneer in her races here made about fifty miles an hour. If the experiment works out properly her speed should be nearly fifty miles.

Malta, so the police say, has confessed to making the coins at his home, 82 Leyden street, East Boston. The secret service men say they have watched Malta and his wife for several days, and allege they have seen both pass the coins. The counterfeiters were very poor.

Dozens of families and a few merchants moved to other points this week, fearing a repetition of the slide of nine years ago, when ninety-two persons were buried thirty-two feet under mud and rock. The Federal Government has notified the district is unsafe, but the latter is slow to act, not wishing to force the abandonment of three million dollars' worth of mining machinery, buildings etc.

Archbishop Bruchesi Makes Strong Plea for Unity in Canada

(Canadian Press.) MONTREAL, Apr. 2—That French Canadians are absolutely loyal to great Britain and to the British throne is the declaration of Archbishop Bruchesi made in a statement issued today. He called for a halt in the racial difficulties now besetting the Provinces and laid emphasis on the saying that "a house divided against itself cannot stand." He made a strong plea for Canadian unity. "We can never become one race," declares the Archbishop, "but we can be a united Dominion."

For if a religious line is to prevent us from being one in religious sentiment, we cannot be precluded from uniting in everything that tends to the material advancement of our common country. "Do not believe that there are a dozen men in what we call old Canada, and include the members of every Orange Lodge in Ontario and every non Catholic minister East of the Great Lakes, who have any doubt whatever as to the perfect loyalty of the French Canadian people to the British crown and to the person of our King."

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 30—While President Taft slept the artist painted. This is the story Theodore Molkenboer is telling at the expense of the President.

Molkenboer came to Washington by engagement to paint the President's portrait. The hour set for work was immediately after luncheon, one day early in the week. The President sat down in a big armchair in the library of the White House, and the artist began his work. Glancing up, after a time, he saw his subject was sound asleep.

For two hours Molkenboer worked, and President Taft slept on. Finding that the Chief Executive would sleep, Molkenboer concluded he would head and get the best results possible.

The work shows a splendid likeness of the President awake, with smiles wreathing his countenance. The artist refused to say whether the President smiled in his sleep.
