An exhibit which came in for more than an ordinary share of favorable comment at the recent Provincial Exhibition was that of James D. Offer, being a water supply apparatus. For rural and suburban residence this is a splendid arrangement combining a saving of time and labor to those who most need to economize in both. The system is a boiler containing any amount of water desired, a pump is attached and by means of pumping the boiler full of water, then pumping an air pressure and that gives the water the force which circulates it necessary for the operation of this through the building. All that is system is to pump the boiler full of water at any period desired and the air does the rest. The system is now in use extensively in the rural districts in other provinces and is deserving of much patronage here. By the use of this apparatus most of the modern conveniences now enjoyed only in the city may be universal throughout the country districts, and that at moderate cost. Mr Offer had a system in operation at the Building on Exhibition grounds and this was sold on the opening day. Mr Offer represents the well-known and reliable Woodpecker engine.

Among the exhibits of special interest to farmers and dairymen at the recent Provincial Exhibition was that of the DeLaval Cream Separator. W. E. Callbeck, Tryon, demonstrated to the many visitors the special advantage of this machine over the many other makes. The DeLaval is a substantial separator, an extremely well made piece of machinery and very simple in its operation. It is made in several sizes and can be had in hand or steam driver models. A special feature of this make of separator is the Alpha-Disc system of cones in the bowl, and the Split-Wing feeding shaft. Since 1893 the DeLaval has been winning medals and awards wherever exhibited in competition, among the latter being the Highest Awards, Chicago, 1893; Buffalo, 1901; St. Louis, 1904. The DeLaval Works are located at Poughkeepsie, New York, with branch factories in Chicago, Ill. and Montreal. Testimonials written to this firm, recommending their machine, are now so great in numbers that it is impracticable to publish any of them in a small booklet such as was distributed to interested parties at the grounds but can be had in any number on request to the agent here or on writing to the Head or a Branch office. Mr Callbeck distributed to callers at his booth handsome and useful souvenirs of the exhibition and the separator which he represents, in the form of broom-holders for the housewife and matchsafes for the smoker. He also gave out nicely gotten up booklets describing his separator.

New York dictates the millinery designs we are showing

WITH THE IDEA that the very best there is is just about good enough for our customers—we sent our head designer on a special trip to the great centre of modern millinery ideas—New York.

The designs shown—the shapes used—and many of the trimming materials—come from the best millinery people in New York.

This may, partially account for the enormous business that the millinery department is doing these days. Just so that we can have time to give proper attention to your order, we would appreciate having it to-day or to-morrow—if you want it before the end of the week.

Just in passing—the exclusive, tasteful, individual work turned out from our workrooms costs no more than the ordinary sorts of millinery.

Mattress Making

I have the only power machine in the Province or picking and dusting old hair, wool, flock and other mattresses. Any kind made over equal to new moderate cost.
