Ch'Town Royalty And Vicinity

The many friends of Mr. J. Ramsay Auld, West Covehead, are glad to have him with them again following an extremely serious illness in the Prince Edward Island Hospital.

Mrs. Kenneth McMillan, Covehead Road, has returned after spending the summer at Savage Harbour. Mr. McMillan continues ill.

On Wednesday the 15th, friends and relatives, from Cornwall and York, held a real surprise party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hughes, West Covehead. Mr. and Mrs. Hughes had the misfortune to lose their home—a spacious building of many years standing—by fire in the early part of the summer, and have just moved into their new house. They were completely taken by surprise, not having been told until noon, that they might expect company. When all had arrived an address to Mr. and Mrs. Hughes and family was read by Miss Kitson of Cornwall.

In Memoriam

MR. JOHN HENRY KING The death occurred in the P. E. Island Hospital yesterday morning of John Henry King who has been associated for a number of years with his brother, Mr. H. H. King in the tinmith business here. He was 51 years of age.

Mr. King had been in fairly good health up till September 15th when he was taken ill and was removed a few days later to the hospital, where he passed away at three o'clock yesterday morning.

Mr. King had a nice lunch with his family at the tinmith business on K Street early in September, after his brother Herbert, who was also a veteran of the Great War, enlisted again this time with the P. E. Island Highlanders along with his son Maxwell.

The late Mr. King enlisted in the 10th Battalion, C.I.B. on August 4, 1914, and was a member of the 10th Battalion, 3rd brigade, 1st Canadian Division. He has resided in Charlottetown since demobilization, with the exception of a few years spent in the Canadian West.

Mr. King was an ardent angler and one of his chief delights was to whip the lakes and streams of the province for trout.

He leaves to mourn his mother Mrs. Mary King of Highland Ave., City, and the following brothers and sisters: Arthur G. of Charlottetown; Albert E. of Boston; Sgt. Herbert H., with the P. E. I. Highlanders at Sydney; James in Newfoundland, and one sister, Mrs. Nelson Robertson of Charlottetown. Another sister, Mrs. Joshua Rogers of St. John's Newfoundland passed away in August of this year.

The remains are resting at the Cuthill Funeral Home from where the funeral will be held at three o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Interment will be in the People's Cemetery.

Blind Musician Bids Farewell—Mr. Fred Carter, the "Happy Wanderer" is once again saying "au revoir" to the place where he has lived for so long. He appreciates the generosity of the people of Charlottetown, who have treated him well and respected his blindness. He met a few who asked him advice on floriculture, he being a horticulturist of no mean ability. Having been apprenticed in the Royal Garden at Kew, London, he has been engaged in the profession for thirty five years. He was in charge of a large war garden at Barrie, Ontario, during the World War, proving that the blind can be good enough to enable him to join the army. He has lectured on horticulture and is always glad to demonstrate or explain anything

He has lectured on horticulture and is always glad to demonstrate or explain anything

Blind Musician Bids Farewell—Mr. Fred Carter, the "Happy Wanderer" is once again saying "au revoir" to the place where he has lived for so long. He appreciates the generosity of the people of Charlottetown, who have treated him well and respected his blindness. He met a few who asked him advice on floriculture, he being a horticulturist of no mean ability. Having been apprenticed in the Royal Garden at Kew, London, he has been engaged in the profession for thirty five years. He was in charge of a large war garden at Barrie, Ontario, during the World War, proving that the blind can be good enough to enable him to join the army. He has lectured on horticulture and is always glad to demonstrate or explain anything
