—A very quiet but pretty wedding took place at the Methodist Parsonage, Summerside, Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock when Cephas Grigg of West Devon was united in marriage to Mrs. Jerry Long of Boston, Mass. The ceremony was performed by Rev Jas. Strothard. The bride was prettily attired in a tailored suit of handsome navy blue broadcloth, with hat to match. After the wedding ceremony the happy couple drove to the home of Mrs. J. H. Burrs, cousin of the groom, where they were hospitably entertained for an hour after which they drove to the station where they boarded the train for West Devon. They will reside in that community, wher Mr. Gregg is one of the most prosperous farmers. J

—DIED SATURDAY.—The death occurred on Saturday afternoon about 5 o'clock at the home of her son, J. P. Irving, Cape Traverse, of Mrs Mary Irving, widow of the late Capt. Arthur Irving, Cape Traverse, aged 86. Deceased was dearly beloved by her family and a wide circle of relatives and friends and her death is deeply felt as her influence was such that her place in the home can never be filled. Of a family of eight children the following mourn the loss of a devoted mother:—W. H. P. Irving and J. P. Irving, Cape Traverse, Mrs Vernal Woodcock, Summerside; Mrs Ephram Bell, Cape Traverse, and Mrs Jane Coughlan, Crapaud, beside seventeen grandchildren and eight great grand children, to all of whom is extended deepest sympathy. The funeral takes place this afternoon at two o'clock, interment being in the Church of Scotland Cemetery.

—IRISHTOWN.—The germs of the so called "fox fever" so prevalent in this otherwise healthful island have eventually promoted the atmosphere, in this vicinity, inoculoting to an alarming degree money of the shrewd speculators and "stand pat" capitalists. The melody by no means confines those gentlemen to their respective homes, but obviously the reverse. During the past few weeks a joint stock company has been capitalized and already two pairs of those precarious fur bearing animals have been purchased. This initial stock, it is understood, is but a nucleus for a prospective fox farm which in the near future is expected to rival that bearing the name of the famous fox-king Charles Dalton. In view of the fact that the exact location of the ranch has not been definitely fixed; it might be opportune to suggest to those immediately concerned, that in selecting a permanent abode for their foxes, they should leave considerable margin for the residental expansion of the town. So that in the future when Irishtown shall have taken its place among the cities of the province, those having the privilege of dwelling in the syburban regions may not be rudely awakened from their peaceful slumbers by the shrill cries of the imprisoned foxes. That the newly formed company may in time become the foremost in the province, "which means the world" and that the annual remuneration to each of its members may be excessively large, is undoubtedly the sincere wish of their numerous friends.
