

Scientifically Designed for Long Mileage

There are scientific reasons for every angle, rib and groove of the Firestone Balloon Tread. Safety notches and non-skid studs mileage ribs for long wear; grooves and channels for uniform flexing, insuring true low-pressure riding comfort.

To provide extra strength and endurance to withstand the terrific flexing of this tread Firestone dips the cords of the carcass in a rubber solution, insulating every fibre which reduces internal friction and gives thousands of extra miles.

PORT HILL

On Sunday morning, June 24, Rev. H. R. Coleman administered the Sacrament of Baptism to ten children in St. James Church. Rev. Mr. Coleman took for his subject, that morning the beautiful baptismal service of the Episcopal Church. His clear and impressive exposition of that service, could be grasped by the large congregation. The Church was tastefully decorated with honeysuckle for the occasion.

On June 27, the Grand Lodge of Prince Edward Island, held their annual communication in the Masonic Lodge in Port Hill. There was an exceptionally large gathering. The day was beautifully fine. The rain of previous day having laid the dust added much to the pleasure of the trip. Dinner was served by the ladies of St. James Church to the Masons and their friends. In the afternoon there was a large picnic gathering and the young people had a most enjoyable field day. The proceeds were over six hundred dollars ($600.00).

They have been making a motor trip of Prince Edward Island. They left Tuesday morning on their return home.

Ups and Downs In Tryon And Vicinity

One of the most thrilling movies of the season "The Third Degree," starring Dolores Costello, was shown in Crapaud Hall on Wednesday evening of last week. Here's hoping the show is as good this week!

Mrs. Fred Leard, Harry McPhee and Thomas Cobb motored to Port Hill on Wednesday last week, enjoying the trip very much.

Master Kenneth Dawson, of Augustine Cove, is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Bell, of Tryon.

Mr. and Mrs. Reg. Thomas of Albany, were visitors to Crapaud on Wednesday evening, June 27.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lord and two little daughters, of Annapolis Valley, are now visiting relatives in Tryon and vicinity, where everyone is delighted to welcome them back.

Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Dawson, of Augustine Cove, were visitors to Crapaud on Wednesday evening, June 27.

Mr. Samuel Gillis, of Rose Valley, recently made a flying trip to Tryon.

Work on the new residence of Mr. Hedley Calbeck, of North Tryon, was begun some time ago, and it is expected that it will be rushed to an early completion.

The numerous friends of Miss Ruth Mullins, assembled at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Steford Mullins, of West Tryon, to offer her their very best wishes and "showers" with gifts. The Misses Marion Howatt and Kathryn Dohson opened the gifts and read the accompanying verses. The fine array of costly gifts received testified to the high esteem in which "Ruthie," as she was commonly called, was held by her friends. The remainder of the evening was pleasantly passed with various amusements and after a dainty lunch was served the company dispersed for their respective homes after wishing the popular bride-to-be a long and happily wedded life.

Miss Amy J. Howatt, who has been principal of Darnley school for the past two years, is now passing her summer holidays very pleasantly at her home in West Tryon.

Mrs. D. McDonald, of Rose Valley has returned home after spending a week the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Walter H. Bell of Tryon.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Thomas and little daughter returned home Sunday evening after spending a fortnight with relatives at Northam and vicinity.

Miss Isabel McPadyen spent last week-end at her home in Riverdale, returning to her duties on Monday evening.

The many friends of Miss Marion Waddell, of North Tryon, regret to learn of her illness, but will be glad to know she is recovering slowly.

"Summer time is picnic time, too, you may bet! The Orphanage Picnic was held on Thursday, June 28, with a fair attendance. Due to inclement weather the tables were set inside, but a little thing like that could not mar the beautiful display of cooking, which everyone enjoyed to the fullest extent.

Mrs. Dr. Bell, of Cape Traverse, left on Monday morning, July 2nd, for Montreal, where she sails on July 6th in company with her two sisters, the Misses Jean and Ivy Bannister, on the "Montcalm" for Lancashire, England, where they will re-visit the scenes of their younger days. The best wishes of Mrs. Bell's many friends go with her for a pleasant voyage and a safe return.

Those who love the water have been making the most of the last few warm days, donning their swimming togs and enjoying themselves in the water, and why not, when Tryon has such excellent beaches for swimming?

The host of friends of Mrs. Dunbar are very glad to know she is "home" in the Charlottetown Hospital, where she was rushed after her unfortunate accident of Sunday evening. Her complete recovery is anxiously looked forward to.

EASTERN AGENT — Mr. J. W. Murdoch is Guardian Agent in Montague and will be pleased to receive news items, advertising, news and renewal subscriptions.

VISITS OLD HOME — James Donovan, veteran fisherman, of Bayfield, returned from a month's visit to the scene of his childhood at Ingouish, Cape Breton. It is 61 years since he left the old home at Ingouish, and when he visited the place he didn't recognize more than a half dozen people, and these were his brothers and sisters, the youngest of which is 78 years. The Donovans certainly have fame for longevity. James himself is 81 years, smart and young as many twenty years younger, and he says his brothers and sisters are still smart and lively as himself, though some of them are older. James Donovan left the old place at Ingouish when twenty years of age, sixty-one years ago, and shipped in a square-rig for Liverpool. He followed the sea or sea life up to the present year, having fished lobsters for Matthew & McLean at Ball Creek last year.

Besides brothers and sisters in Cape Breton there are numerous nephews and nieces. His nephews at North Sydney made quite a banquet and reception for him, the report of which was published in the Sydney papers. He had a most enjoyable time for though the many didn't remember him, for he them, in the sixty-one years absence, they soon knew one another.

A sad gloom was cast over Lower Bedeque and vicinity on the morning of the 22nd, when they learned that John, the youngest and dearly beloved son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Montgomery had met his death under tragic circumstances. The deceased was a quiet and unassuming young man of sterling qualities and although only nineteen, showed by his meritorious work as a student in P. W. C., that a very ordinary career laid before him. He entered P. W. C. some time ago, taught school for a time at Searleton, then went back to college and graduated with honours at the close of this last session. There are left to mourn besides his grief-stricken parents, the following sisters and brothers: Mary, William, Archie at home, and Sylvia in training at Prince County Hospital, Summerside, who will always cherish the memory of John the pet of the family, who was so dearly beloved in their own family circle. The funeral was held at his late residence, Thursday, the 28th, inst., where the eulogy and love in which he was held was made manifest by the very large cortege of people present. The service was conducted by Rev. D. K. Ross his pastor, assisted by Rev. A. J. Reynolds. A very impressive Hymn was sung by Messrs. Bowness and Carruthers. The other Hymns sung were, Lord is my Shepherd, Rock of Ages, Nearer my God to Thee. The pall bearers were his neighboring chums viz, Messrs. Hector Leard, Ross Wright, Clayton McLeure, Donald MacFarlane, Harold Holland and Walter Bowness, who bore the casket laden with beautiful flowers to his last resting place in the Presbyterian Cemetery, North Bedeque.

Miss Mae Enman, teacher at Chelton School, has returned to her home in Enmore for her vacation. Her pupils and friends are pleased to learn that Miss Enman has decided to come back again with them for another year.

Mr. William MacFarlane, Lower Bedeque, spent Sunday in Chelton.

Mrs. Alder Wright and son Wilbur, North Carleton, motored to the city on Tuesday.

Miss Annie Enman, teacher at Sherbrooke School, attended the examination at Chelton School on Thursday evening, June the 28th.

Miss Mabel McCordie, Middleton, is spending a few days in Chelton, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Dan McCordie.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Newsom and children, Augustus Cove, were the guests of the former's sister, Mrs. Chauncey Pearson, Chelton.

Mr. Joseph Noonan, Albany, was a visitor to Summerside on Tuesday.

Mrs. Charles Crossman and her mother, Mrs. Margaret Rose, Cape Frevre, were visitors to the city on Tuesday.

D. A. R. Train Wreck Holds Up Traffic

(Canadian Press) DIGBY, N. S., July 3. — Traffic on the main line of the Dominion Atlantic Railway was tied up today by a freight wreck at North Range ten miles west of here when an engine and six cars tumbled in wild confusion over the right of way. There were no casualties. The engine was "dead" caused by the extraordinary heat of the past two days was believed to be the cause. Passengers for the Boston boat at Yarmouth were transferred to motor cars here and connections made satisfactorily. A clip mounted on a ring to be clipped over a finger has been invented to hold a lead pencil without touching or interfering with the use of the hands for other purposes than writing.

Mt. Stewart Notes

Seed potatoes and foxes will surely have to be a good price this Fall to replace the amount spent at the numerous concerts, teas, and plays held, and reports have it there are more to follow.

A number took horses and carts Monday, the 25th, and hauled clay, etc., to the Presbyterian church grounds, which are low. The intention was to grade it off, thus making a large improvement.

Mrs. George Clark paid a visit to Stanhope, Tuesday, renewing old acquaintances.

Mr. Daniel Clark, who has been employed at carpenter work in Somerville, Mass., the past year, returned to his home here Tuesday.

The annual public school examinations were held Thursday afternoon in the school and were well attended, which gives the teachers the satisfaction of knowing an interest is being taken in the progress of the school, and the scholars acquitted themselves very creditably in the various branches of their studies.

Miss Emmeline Coffin, R.N., New York, who intends spending her vacation at her home here, arrived by train Thursday night and was met in Charlottetown by her cousin, Mr. Frank Jardine.

On Thursday evening, June 28th, we had the pleasure of hearing Zion Choir, under the direction of Prof. Thompson. The members of the choir also staged a two-act play which was thoroughly enjoyed by all. The program which preceded the play was composed of solos, choruses, quartettes, recitations and monologues, and all heartily applauded each number on the program. Mr. John Anderson presided. After the program a dainty lunch was served.

Miss Bessie Affleck, Malden, Mass., came home Friday to spend her vacation.

When you hear of some one bragging or boasting about laying steel rails, you can tell them to come up here and learn how, for Mr. Colin White, of Murray Harbor, in charge of twenty-seven men, has laid four miles of track in nine days, besides taking up the old rails as they go along. Mr. White keeps the right men in the right place, and steadily goes along.

Among those purchasing cars last week were: Mr. John W. Jay, Pictou, a Studebaker, and Mr. H. W. McKay, a Chrysler.

Mr. Ed. Jay is spending a few days in Borden, the guest of his brother, Mr. Arthur Jay.

The wet weather will make it bad for the haymakers. I suppose it's early to start growing yet, but we must talk about something.

Bedeque And Vicinity

On Tuesday, June 26th, a meeting of the Directors of the Provincial Swine Growers Association, in conjunction with representatives of the Dominion and Provincial Department of Agriculture, was held in Charlottetown to arrange details in connection with the 1928 Swine Show and Fair.

It was decided to hold this Sale in the Agricultural Hall, Charlottetown, on October 23rd, and comprehensive plans were laid down in order that this fixture may be even more successful than that held in the Province last year. A survey of the breeding stock in the hands of the growers at the present time would tend to the belief that the boars and sows to be placed on exhibition this year will be of a quality and class that has never been equalled at any event of this kind ever held in Eastern Canada.

The sentiment prevalent generally throughout the field is strongly in favour of the production of a hog that matures early and that satisfies, when placed on the market in a finished condition, the very highest demands of the trade. The growers are anxious to secure breeding stock of this type in order to provide for themselves the highest possible profits from this branch of the live stock industry. The Show and Sale is designed to bring the producers of high class boars and sows and the growers who are anxious to secure this material together at this function. Last year's show was more or less of an experiment but a great deal of praise was given those who were responsible for its establishment by those who were interested in breeding material. The producer was able to dispose of his surplus to good advantage and the purchaser was enabled to satisfy his requirements at his own price without the necessity of going to needless expense in travelling here and there to make his selections possible to very often find at the end that he has to be satisfied with the acceptance of an inferior animal at an unsatisfactory price level.

Prospective purchasers and all interested breeders in the province should not forget the time of this exhibition and make their arrangements so as to be present on the above mentioned date in order to make their selections from the best that the Island swine industry can produce.

ELMIRA AND VICINITY

The semi annual examination of Elmira school was held on Friday evening, June 29, with a large number of ratepayers and visitors in attendance. The pupils were examined in the different subjects by their teacher, Miss Ethel Brown, assisted by Mrs. Joseph Campbell (a former teacher), Mr. Russell St. John, teacher, East Point, and Mr. P. E. Holland, and by their prompt and accurate answers reflected much credit on their teacher. At the close of the examination a very enjoyable program was well rendered by the pupils. Complimentary speeches were then made by Mrs. Joseph Campbell and Messrs. John J. Campbell, E. A. Pierce, P. E. Holland, Russell St. John, and others, after which Miss Mary Harris read an address to the teacher, while Miss Anne Holland, on behalf of the pupils, presented her with a beautiful Waterman's pen and pencil set. She also received many other gifts from the pupils. Miss Brown, although taken by surprise, made a fitting reply, thanking her pupils for their kind words of appreciation and their lovely gifts. The singing of the National Anthem then brought a very enjoyable evening to a close. The following is the address:

Dear Teacher,—The pleasant duty has been assigned me by my schoolmates of presenting you with this token as an evidence of our lasting esteem, friendship and love. We could not consent to part with you without leaving some memorial of deep and abiding gratitude for your unceasing efforts to benefit us. Your offer you is a poor symbol of our feelings, but we know you will receive it kindly as a simple indication of the attachment which each one of us cherishes for you in our hearts. You have made our lessons so pleasant that it would be ungrateful to call them tasks. We know that we have often tried your patience, but you have dealt gently with us, in our waywardness, teaching us by example as well as by precept. The advantages of kindness and self-control. But we hope that when school re-opens next year you will be with us again for another year, so we will not bid you adieu. I have been requested by my school mates not to address you formally, but as a beloved and respected friend. In that light, dear teacher, we all re-gift you. Please accept this little gift as a remembrance from your pupils. May you always be as happy as you have endeavored to make your pupils, and may we be always as faithful to our duties to others as you have been to your duties to us. With our very best wishes for a pleasant vacation. Signed,—

Elmira Pupils

BRAMPTON, July 5. —More than 4,000 persons gathered here today to take part in the impressive and solemn ceremonies attendant upon the unveiling of Brampton's war memorial to 58 young men of the town who made the supreme sacrifice in France and now rest in Flanders Fields, and to eight others who have died since returning from overseas. His Excellency, Viscount Willingdon, Governor-General, unveiled the memorial, which is of light grey Canadian granite, the symbols expressive of service, sacrifice and victory. Raised above the passing throng, it holds aloft these symbols and names which recall to the mind the glorious achievements in Canada's history.

Situated at the Southern entrance to Brampton's business section and in close proximity to the beautiful town park, it occupies a prominent position, a place where a rack intended for use in closets at some future time will stand the spring lifts it out of the way of municipal building and offices of other garments.
