

Photo-Gravures

The touch of refinement that a good picture gives to a room is beyond value. These Photo-gravures will supply it at a comparatively small cost. They beautifully set your lights and splendid choice of subjects show in every detail the master artist. The price is low for such pictures..... $2.50

The size complete is 2 1/2 x 3 1/2 inches.

You can choose from a variety of subjects, ones you will not see duplicated in common prints.

"Reflections. A Reverie. Sweet Melody. Harmony, Etc."

As a Christmas suggestion none could be better. Remember that to buy soon is to get first choice.

CHINAMEN TRY TO ENTER THE UNITED STATES

QUEENSBURG, N. Y., Nov. 9.—Six Chinamen were captured in the woods near here today while attempting to smuggle themselves into this country from Canada.

Government officials found Chinamen suffering from exposure in the storm which raged while they were crossing the St. Lawrence River last night. The Chinamen had their queues cut off and wore American clothes.

They were taken to jail to await hearing. Several more Chinamen are reported on the Canadian border awaiting an opportunity to cross the river.

THE ARBITRARY SOCIAL RULES IN LONDON CAFES

Turn Peers of the Realm Out if Not in Evening dress.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—Sumptuary laws, as rigid as those at King Edward's court, are enforced at the fashionable restaurants of London. At the Savoy the other night an earl and countess were refused admission to the principal dining room because they were not in evening dress.

This incident raised much discussion as to whether diners should be allowed to dress as they please, and the Savoy management held a ballot among their fashionable patrons, who were asked for their opinion on this important question.

Among ninety replies, only one was against the evening dress rule, and the management has therefore decided to enforce the rule as rigidly as ever. Even princes will now be debarred from dining at the Savoy unless they wear the regulation evening dress.

The one voter against compulsory evening dress wrote: "It is certainly a stupid rule which would prevent a man in this democratic country from dressing as he pleased. People are more important than rules of fashion. It is just such conventional ideas which keep up England's reputation of being a country enslaved to form."

But convention in matters of dress is one of the bedrock principles of British society, and will probably last as long as society itself.

It's Easy To Slip Up in buying clothes. Unless you are a textile expert you can't tell much from a casual inspection of clothing, and you're practically at the mercy of the man with whom you trade.

Probably the principal reason why the sales of my clothing are increasing so heavily is because people have learned that their confidence in it is merited by the service it gives.

An Autumn Forecast

The only basis on which to predict the future is the record of the past. In the light of that performance, and bearing in mind the reputation of the parties concerned, it is safe to forecast that all who buy their fall suits and overcoats from us have no perfect satisfaction and also are up to the top notch in style. Our goods are up-to-date and prices right.
