CONCERNING COALITIONS.

The close division of parties in Ontario, threatening a deadlock in political affairs has led the Toronto Globe to hint that it may be necessary to form a coalition administration. The Patriot, following or quoting the Montreal Herald takes ground against coalitions generally, and quite naturally prefers straight party rule. What could be more natural for a party organ, with its party in power at Ottawa and in four or five Provinces, than to defend the party system? Much can be said for the party system no doubt, and something also against it. Something has been said against coalition, but much can also be said in their favor at times.

If we go back to the years immediately preceeding Confederation in old Canada we shall see that the party system had at last brought about a deadlock in which neither neither the one party nor the other could carry on Her Majesty' Government. It was then that the leaders of both parties, Sir John Macdonald and Hon George Brown came together and formed the memorable coalition which brought about Confederation. That action lifted Canadian politics out of the evil and narrow rut in which it had been running so long and made of disjointed and contending Provinces a great Dominion, a nation whose growing strength and importance now challenges the admiration of the Empire and the world. The coalition in that case effected what was not possible for either the Conservative or Liberal parties to have brought about.

Be it observed that the course of events in Old Canada was followed by similar action in New Brunswick and Nove Scotia. Both those Provinces had long had the party system in vogue. The leading statesmen in both had come to recognize that the time had come for a new departure in the direction of a union of the Maritime Provinces at least, if not of the whole of British North America. They also realized that no one party could bring about so desirable a result. Therefore the leading statesmen of both parties joined hands, Tilley and Fisher with Gray and Wilmot in New Brunswick, Tupper and others with Archibald and others in Nova Scotia, and so these Provinces became committed to the principles of union.

All Canadians have come to recognize the federation of the Provinces as the greatest and most beneficial event in the history of British America within a century past. All intelligent men must admit that it could not have been effected except by the united efforts of leading men of both parties. Does not this demonstrate a great and historic weakness of the party system? Does it not also in the strongest way demonstrate the advantage of the non partisan coalition at times when great things are to be accomplished, when issues vital to the national welfare are at stake? Or to put it another way, what has the party system accomplished within the past thirty-five years in Canada to weigh against the great achievements of one great coalition?

But the great coalition which carried confederation into effect also completed the work. True, George Brown withdrew, but McDougall and Howland, his Liberal colleagues from Ontario remained as did Tilley and Mitchell, and Joseph Howe came in from the east. It was still a coalition when the Northwest was acquired by purchase in 1869, when the Province of Manitoba was created in 1870, when British Columbia was brought in in 1871 and Prince Edward Island in 1873. Thus the Dominion was extended from the Atlantic to the Pacific, the Intercolonial was contracted far and the great transcontinental railway projected before we had such a thing as party government in federated Canada.

In the article above referred to in the Patriot the continuation of the coalition in New Brunswick is somewhat discredited, but evidently without knowledge of the facts. The principle of the coalition has been continued in New Brunswick since confederation, while other Provinces have fallen back upon the party system. Successive leaders of the composite party in New Brunswick—Wetmore, King, Fraser, Haninfton, Blair, Mitchell, Emmerson and Tweedie—will not suffer by comparison with the leaders of any other Province in their time. They have had colleagues as able and as honest as any men in the public life of the country. British Columbia has not had party Government in the ordinary sense of the word since it joined the Dominion. The first Government of Ontario after confederation was a coalition led by Sandfield MacDonald. The so-called Liberal Government which succeeded it in 1871 and was led by Blake, contained Hon. R. W. Scott who had entered public life as a Conservative. Space will not permit further illustration of the subject but enough has been set down to show that the country has been greatly benefited from time to time by the leaders of opposing parties uniting their forces.

INVITED TO HALIFAX.

TRIED TO SWIM THE CHANNEL.

Dover, England, Sept. 14.—Frank Holmes, of Birmingham, started from Dover at half-past six o'clock this morning in an attempt to swim the English Channel. After being in the water two hours he abandoned his attempt.

SHORTENING THE TERM.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 14.—At the Methodist Conference a long discussion took place on Saturday on the report of the committee that the term of the General Superintendent be made four instead of eight years as at present. Rev. Dr. Carman's eight year term has just expired, but it is thought he will be re-elected. Question of the length of the term will be decided tomorrow.

NEWFOUNDLAND'S DESTINY.

TORONTO, Sept. 14.—The Telegram's London cable says; The Daily Chronicle today, commenting on Premium Bond's projected reciprocity treaty with the United States, says: We are in doubt whether he is right, and believe union with Canada is Newfoundland's ultimate destiny. Bond's experiment will be watched with equal interest and alarm.

The duel in the dark was a favorite with duelists. Two men were locked in a dark room and crawled stealthily from corner to corner, until some false step made one of them the target for bullet or blade.

Life is a duel in the dark with disease. One false step, one mistake, and the attack comes swift and sudden. The mistake which commonly opens the way for an attack by disease is neglect of the symptoms of stomach trouble. When eating is followed by undue fullness, belchings, sour or bitter risings, etc., disease is attacking the stomach.

The best way to frustrate such an attack is to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, and makes the body strong and healthy.

"I was suffering very much with my head and stomach," writes Mrs. W. C. Gill, of Weldon, Shelby Co., Ala., "head was so dizzy when I would raise up in bed would fall right back; could eat but very little, in fact scarcely anything, there seemed to be a heavy weight in my stomach so I could not rest; I had to belch very often and would vomit up nearly everything I ate. I was in a bad condition. I took four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and five of his 'Favorite Prescription' and am now well and hearty. I feel like a new woman and give Dr. Pierce's medicines credit for it all. I had taken medicine from physicians without any benefit as I could see."

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the paper covered book, or 50 stamps for the cloth-bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

J. K. ROSS, ESQ.
Provincial Manager
North American Life Assurance Co.,
Charlottetown,—

Dear Sir,—I have pleasure in acknowledging cheque for $1498 handed me this day by your agent here, Mr. R.H. Montgomery, being proceeds of my twenty-year Endowment policy in your company.

This result is highly satisfactory, giving me an investment of four per cent compound interest on the full premiums paid in, besides carrying the risk of $1000 on my life during the twenty years. The other options are equally favorable, viz.; a paid-up insurance for $2555, or a life annuity $114.30 To young men seeking a safe and profitable investment I would recommend an Endowment Policy in this well-managed Canadian company.

Respectfully yours,
JOHN D. GOSS
