Clan MacLeod Set For Invasion Of Cape Breton In Search Of Hockey Title

It used to be "the Campbells are comin'" but today it's the MacLeods and they are wielding hockey sticks, not claymores.

When Victoria Unions hop over the boards at Glace Bay Tuesday to tangle with the Consuls in search of the Maritime intermediate hockey title, the sight is bound to be a pleasing one to the Cape Breton fans—for the Union squad is packed with Scotsmen, seven of them, and the Scotsmen are all MacLeods.

Out of two MacLeod families in the tiny Prince County village, five brothers of one and two brothers of the other etched out places for themselves on the hockey team. The two families claim they are not related. William, George, Lewis, Jim and Dan eat at the same table while Donald and Lester live a piece down the road.

Here's how the Unions line up:

Stanley Lord is the capable goalie and William MacLeod, a veteran, is the spare. Will, who is 34, has played countless games with Victoria squads. Although he can still kick them out with the best of them he is content to act as spare and leave the job to agile Stanley Lord, a mere youngster of 23.

Defence Lines

The first defence line is composed of George and Lewis MacLeod. The two brothers, aged 28 and 23 and weighing 160 and 150, are well able to weather rough going in a bruising game. George is not fast on the blade but he is a rugged checker and a tricky stick handler. Lewis, who boasts a hard shot, is dynamite to incoming forwards.

The second defence line is made up of young Jim MacLeod, still in his 'teens, and Ralph Miller, a fast man on the ice, packing 170 pounds. Jim is not especially speedy but like his brother George can hand out the bruising body checks and knows how to use his stick.

Forward Lines

Dan, who centres the first firing line, is the squad star. A natural playmaker, he has been featured in the scoring clounm all year. He's 25 and weighs in at 160.

His left-winger is John Knox. John has 170 pounds behind his accurate shot. He's been playing with Dan for years and makes the best use of the passes fed to him.

The right lane is occupied by Lester MacLeod, 160 pounds. A tireless skater, Lester is an effective back-checker and refuses to let the opposing forwards out of the range of his poke-check.

Donald, who is Lester's older brother, pivots the second string. He is a veteran, approaching the 30-year mark, but still is able to play a 60-minute game, if necessary. He feeds his passes to Harold Betts at left wing and Lee Taylor who patrols the right section of the rink.

If a spare is needed up front, the bill is usually filled by defenceman Lewis of the hard shot.

Had Held Title

The Unions, present holders of the New Brunswick-Prince Edward Island intermediate title, won the Maritime championship two years ago when they defeated St. Andrews, N. B. outfit.

Defending their honors last year, the Unions were knocked out in the semi-finals by the Sussex, N. B., team, which went on to lift the title.

This year the situation was reversed. Playing the Sussex squad in the semi-finals, Unions eliminated them after a hard-fought series to dethrone the New Brunswick team, and now stand ready for Glace Bay.

Although Charlottetown does not enter legitimately into the intermediate picture, the Island capital does in this way. One can almost hear the fans here hoping for a spell of warm weather. The reason? If the ice is lost in the Victoria rink because of high temperature, Charlottetown is the logical locale for the game as the rink here is the only one in the province with a plant for making artificial ice.

Royals Ready For Maritime Final Series

Charlottetown Royals, kings of the New Brunswick-Prince Edward Island junior hockey leagues, rested during the weekend in preparation for their final series for the Maritime championship.

Tuesday they will journey to Halifax where they will meet the Dartmouth Rough Riders, Nova Scotia champions, in the opening game of a two-game total-goal home and home series for the tri-province title. The second game is scheduled for Charlottetown Thursday.

Coach Walter Lawlor reported his charges had come through the series with Saint John Pontiacs with no serious effects although several of the players were nursing slight hurts. Bucko Trainor suffered a gash on his cheek which required four stitches and "Chink" Roach was bed-ridden yesterday with a slight cold.

The team will be at full strength for the all-important Halifax series.

Many supporters of the local team felt that in hurdling the powerful New Brunswick juniors the prospects for annexing a Maritime title were the brightest in five years. The last time the juniors ruled the ice hockey lanes in the Maritimes was in 1933-34 when Lou Campbell's Abegweits advanced to the Eastern Canadian finals against St. Michael's College.

The locals, however, are not over-confident and are not by any means underestimating their unpredictable opponents. The strength of the Riders is an unknown quantity in these parts, but some criterion of their ability can be gathered from their one-sided victories over Amherst and Sydney juniors. The series promises to be a tough one and the results from the opening game will be awaited with keen interest—if not suspense—by the legion of followers of the juniors in this province.

The Royals will hold a light workout this evening at the Forum prior to boarding the train Tuesday morning for the Garrison City.

Good Racing Program Held On Harbor Ice

One of the largest, if not the largest, crowds of the season witnessed the ice races off Cut Street Saturday afternoon. The racing, while not as spectacular as the previous Saturday, was good and furnished an excellent afternoon's enjoyment. Autos filled with people, skaters, ice boats, yes and even aeroplanes, were on the harbor and the scene was most picturesque and well worthy of being photographed.

The Class A Pace was won as usual by Harry Murphy's good pacer Rosebud. There was only one other starter—Convincer, owned by Mont Hyde, Clyde River. Convincer could not measure strides with the champion, yet he put up a game race, particularly after coming a long distance to Charlottetown.

Class B Pace was another win for Willard Kelly's Leland, closely pressed by Major Cope in the first and third heats. Major Cope copped the second heat with Lou Patch a close second, Leland making a break losing ground and going back to third place.

Class C Pace was a nice one for Rose Worthy, promising pacer owned by Wilfred Praught, Cherry Valley, and driven by Willard Kelly. She won the first and third heats but only finished fifth in the second heat, which was won by June Set, owned by W. Livingstone, Clyde River. Clyde River was also represented by Darkey in this race, while Bessie Kalmuck, owned by C. Birt, Mount Stewart, made the long trek and battled so well that her summary was 2, 4, 2. This race was perhaps the most interesting of the afternoon in that in a couple of cases four horses were bunched and it was difficult to separate the winners.

Class A Trot was another race won by Virginia Kalmuck, owned by George MacDonald, Mermaid, who has shown consistent class at every meeting. There was never any doubt, her nose, her neck and a good part of her body being in front every trip, although Happy K. put up a great race in the second and third heats and Jude Volo trotted an excellent first heat, the fastest she has gone this season.

The Match Race for $25.00 a side between Plucky Scott and Bud Cope did not come off as Plucky Scott took ill on Friday evening and it was considered not wise to race her. If the ice continues good and she recovers the race will be held next Saturday.

The officials of the Victoria Driving Club were very gratified to have so many horses from Clyde River take part in the afternoon's sport. Without them the program could not have been possible. Also C. Birt, Mount Stewart, George MacDonld, Mermaid and Wilfred Praught, Cherry Valley, who were present at considerable effort.

Leafs Score 5-1 Victory Over Wings

TORONTO, March 12—(CP)—Stepping into third place in the National Hockey League standings, Toronto Maple Leafs defeated Detroit Red Wings 5-1 Saturday before 10,941 paying fans who saw goalie Turk Broda's remarkable record against the Wings broken finally.

Until Saturday, Detroit hadn't scored a goal in Toronto all season. Ten minutes from the close of the Wings' last scheduled appearance here, Carl Liscombe backhanded a high shot through a cluster of players and the puck was deflected into the Toronto net behind Broda.

Over the rest of the way the Leafs' goaltender was the cool master of the Red Wing forwards, and the rest of the Leafs bore down almost all night on Tiny Thompson in the Detroit goal. Victory lifted the home team a point ahead of New York Americans in the standings and prevented the Red Wings from regaining fifth place.

Gordon Drillon scored twice, for the winners, aided both times by Syl Apps, who added a goal of his own. The other scores came from Doc Romnes and Harvey Jackson, playing with Gus Marker on a line that gave its best Toronto performance of the season.

The night was observed as "Charlie Conacher night', in honor of the big right-wingman Toronto sold to Detroit last fall. And Conacher, in one of his top displays since the sale, provided many of the game's highlights. He blasted three terrific shots in old-time form and engaged in a brief but furious fight with Bingo Kampman in the second period, both drawing major penalties.

SUMMARY

First Period

Scoring: None.
Penalties: Horner, Young.

Second Period

1. Toronto, Drillon (Apps) 14:49.
2. Toronto, Romnes (Hamilton, Jackson) 16:31.

Penalties: Horner, Jones, Conacher (major), Kampman (major).

Third Period

3. Toronto, Drillon (Apps, Davidson) 7:57.
4. Detroit, Liscombe (Barry, Wares) 9:28.
5. Toronto, Apps (Davidson) 13:30.
6. Toronto, Jackson (Romnes, Marker) 17:51.

Penalties: Motter, Hamilton.

Chicago's Playoff Chances Dealt Blow By Amerks; Red Wings Beat Canucks

CHICAGO, March 12—New York Americans regained third place in the National Hockey League standings tonight and at the same time handed Chicago's playoff chances a severe blow when they came from behind to defeat the Hawks 3-2.

The Hawks, languishing in the cellar, must climb to sixth place in the remaining three games to qualify for the playoffs. The Chicago team, Stanley Cup winners last year, to qualify for this year's playoffs must win all its remaining games—assuming the sixth place Montreal Canadiens lose their two games.

SUMMARY

First Period

1. Chicago, Northcott (Thoms, March) 10:59.

Penalties: None.

Second Period

2. Americans, Sorrell (Field, Jackson) 15:44.
3. Chicago, Northcott (Thoms, March) 17:08.

5. Americans, Goldsworthy (Sorrell, Smith) 15:26.

Penalties: None.

DETROIT ADVANCES

DETROIT, March 12—Detroit Red Wings tonight scored two goals in the first period, allowed the opposition one in the same frame, and then protected their slim lead for the balance of the game to earn a 2-1 National Hockey League victory from Montreal Canadiens.

By the victory the Wings moved from sixth place in the standings to fifth place, virtually clinching a Stanley Cup playoff spot. The Habitants dropped from fifth to sixth.

Marty Barry, veteran centre, ended a scoring slump to tally the first Detroit goal and was in on the second, made by Syd Howe. Eddie Wares and Herbie Lewis got assists on Barry's opening tally while Barry and Charley Conacher engineered the double play that preceded Howe's counter.

Montreal got its only goal 48 seconds after the second Detroit goal so all the scoring in the contest was confined to less than a minute, Toe Blake made the score, Johnny Gagnon getting an assist.

SUMMARY

First Period

1. Detroit, Barry (Wares, Lewis) 13:27.
2. Detroit, Howe (Barry, Conacher) 13:37.
3. Montreal, Blake (Gagnon) 14:25.

Bruins Trim Rangers 4-2 At New York

(By The Canadian Press)

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, March 12—Boston's mighty Bruins defeated New York Rangers 4-2 tonight in a preview of the National Hockey League playoffs that bring the leading Bruins and second place Rangers together in the first round.

A crowd of 14,000 saw the last meeting of the regular season between the clubs. They will meet in the first playoff game here March 21.

Both teams played hockey of championship calibre and the issue was in the balance throughout the game. Porky Dumart put the Bruins in the lead after 11-2 minutes of play. Cecil Dillon tied it up late in the first period.

The Bruins regained their lead on Roy Conacher's goal in the second frame and held it until Clint Smith tied the count again for the Rangers early in the final period.

Charlie Sands tallied the Bruins' third goal and 17 seconds from the end of the game when Manager Lester Patrick had removed goalie Davie Kerr in favor of a sixth forward, Dit Clapper golfed the puck up the ice from just in front of his own goal and it rolled into the Ranger net before the Blue Shirts could catch it.

The summary:

First Period

1—Boston, Dumart (Schmidt) — — — — — 1:31
2—Rangers, Dillon (L. Patrick, Pratt) — — — 14:11
Penalty: Sands.

Second Period

3—Boston, Conacher (Cowley, Clapper) — — — 7:12
Penalties: None.

Third Period

Millers now meet Saskatoon Quakers for the provincial title in a best-of-five series opening Tuesday in Saskatoon.

Cantabs Are Favorites In Race Classic

PUTNEY-ON-THAMES, England, March 11— (CP Cable)— Rowing enthusiasts tonight installed the Cambridge crew 5 to 4 favorite for the 91st renewal of the classic struggle with Oxford University on the Thames, even though Oxford has won the two last races.

The crews have just arrived at the tideway for practices that will continue at an intensive rate until the race is rowed April 1 over the 4 1-4-mile course between Putney and Martlake. Cambridge has won the race 47 times against 42 wins by the dark blues. The race of 1877 ended in a dead heat.

Oxford suffered an early setback when a hand injury kept R. Bourne, the dark blue stroke, out of the boat for a week. He was replaced by J. R. Bingham but is expected to resume his place Saturday.

Hart Massey, son of Vincent Massey, Canadian high commissioner in London, who will cox the Oxford boat, made a trip over the course today with Bossie Phelps, the king's bargemaster, who is unrivalled in his knowledge of the intricacies of the river. Phelps coached the young Canadian on the tricks of the tide and the power of the river.

Despite Bourne's absence from the varsity boat, Oxford impressed tideway critics by their uniformity. The dark blues looked more advanced in training than at this time last year.

This afternoon the dark blues rowed the mile and 822 yards from Chiswick Steps to Barnes Bridge in three minutes, 40 seconds, beating the previous best of four minutes flat by the Oxford crew of 1909.

Cambridge had their first workout in the afternoon. They covered about six miles and got in 35 strokes for a minute spurt.

Rangers Seek Game With New Glasgow

The management of the Charlottetown Senior Rangers Hockey Club were in communication during the week end with New Glasgow Monarchs seeking a game here tomorrow night. Definite word was expected sometime today.

The New Glasgow team led the Nova Scotia Hockey League, but were ousted by Truro Bearcats in the playoffs. Heath Carmody, formerly of Charlottetown, played with the Monarchs this year until he was forced to the sidelines with serious injuries.

The game, providing it can be arranged, should prove interesting and show how the Island Champions compare with mainland squads other than star-studded aggregations like the Saint John Beavers.

A practice for the Rangers will be held today at the Forum at noon hour 12 to one o'clock.

Hold Benefit For Carmody

NEW GLASGOW, N. S., March 12—A New Glasgow senior hockey team scored an 8-7 win over a Truro squad in a benefit game Saturday for Heath Carmody of Charlottetown and Ed Merwin. Carmody and Merwin suffered injuries earlier in the season.
