INSIDIOUS EYE STRAIN

We use this adjective advisedly. Sufferers from Eye Strain may have perfect vision and therefore do not suspect the presence of any eye defect. The motive power of the entire human organism is Nerve Energy. Normal eyes, it is computed utilize about 20% of this Nerve Energy, but when Eye Strain is present, a much larger proportion is required. Hence defective eyes, through their consumption of an excessive amount of Nerve Energy, may seriously affect the functioning of other organs of the body, and produce ill health. HAVE YOUR EYES EXAMINED G. F. Hutcheson Optometrist.

LOOK IN A MIRROR!

Are there any lines between your eyes? If so, ask yourself the question, "Why?" Many people have a constant scowl caused solely by eye strain. This is often so disfiguring that it doesn't matter how attractive the person otherwise appears—the scowl spoils it all. In most cases scowls can be smoothed out by relieving the eye strain. If you have any symptoms of eye strain you should let us examine your eyes once. Don't wait until ugly lines appear between the eyes. E. E. PARKMAN Optometrist Montague.

Charlottetown Man Cured of Pneumonia

We can give any enquirer the names of many island people who have been cured of pneumonia, diphtheria and other various ailments by means of the treatment of a Charlottetown man whose name will be given for the asking. "I am satisfied that by means of Minard's Liniment I was cured of pneumonia and could get nothing to relieve me, the Farador was applied according to directions. Each time it was applied it reduced the temperature and caused great perspiration and I awoke up the fever. A few days I was quite well with no bad after effects. I often wonder why more people do not take the Farador for such ills. Even though they may not think it can help they should give it a chance and then they would know what a God-send it is. The Farador may be rented on easy terms. Poor people in Charlottetown may obtain the use of one free of charge. W. E. ENMAN, Farador Representative, 138 Hillsborough St. Phone 787-11.

Bulldog (Jos. Wedge) 3 3 Aubrey Anna, sired by Col. Aubrey, is a well bred working filly, and has only been working in hoppers a very few times. Starlight had the misfortune of giving himself a nasty cut, and had to be drawn. Annie S. handled her race with grace, and she is a real good little pacer. The officials were: Starter—Wm. A. McArthur, Judges—Russell Rogers, Coleman, G. G. Marchbanks, Montrose, David Coughlin, Campbellton.

MUSICAL DISCOVERY CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 18—A musical score in which dots are used to indicate the notes and no attempt made to set the time, there being no distinct bar lines, has been unearthed by a senior at Harvard University. The score is thought to date back to the year 1550, and was discovered on the vellum cover of an original edition of Elizabethan plays. The music is for a choral group in connection with the Easter Mass in the Catholic Church.

Major Green in his remarks said that the Canadian Fisheries could be organized on the Atlantic Coast to produce quantities of fish that would not only feed Britain but the untapped resources of the Canadian Fishing Banks would find fish foods to look after the world's consumption for years to come.

At the Luncheon of Canadian fresh fish brought from the steamer "Montclare" was given today at the Savoy Hotel, London, by Major Hugh A. Green, who is organizing a large Company of British and Canadian interests to bring fresh fish packed in ice to Britain, France and Italy.

The Chairman, Mr. Larkin, High Commissioner, proposed the health of Major Green and said he was sure Canadian Fisheries were now going to come into their own. He held the assembled company that the fishing banks of Nova Scotia could supply enormous quantities of fish which are in great demand in Britain. "It has been well said," he added "that the man who made two blades of grass grow where one had heretofore grown was a great blessing to his country. No less so was the Company organized by Major Green, to make it possible for the public of Great Britain to share in the enormous food supplies of the North Atlantic." He said the announcement was founded on sound economic principles and the sincerely hoped that Major Green's Company would reap the rich reward they deserved.

Flu Raging In Cape Breton Towns (Canadian Press) HALIFAX, N. S., Mar. 18.—"I am devoting all my energies, and bringing all the pressure I can to bear on the reopening of the mines" led up in consequence of the deadlock reached twelve days ago by the British Empire Steel Corporation and its employees over the question of the 1925 wage scale. So declared Premier Le. Armstrong last night, following his announcement in reply to the offer made by the men to protect the collieries. District President John W. McLeod of the United Mine Workers of America was being invited to come to Halifax for the purpose of discussing the details with the Minister of Mines Hon. William Chisholm and his deputy T. J. Brown, at Sydney last night it was stated that in the event of the Premier, the Minister of Mines or his deputy being unable to proceed to Halifax tonight, McLeod would leave for Halifax tonight.

In the House yesterday afternoon Premier Armstrong stated that he had no information to give out regarding the report of Hon. A. C. MacMillan, Minister of Highways, who returned yesterday morning from Cape Breton where he investigated first hand the conditions of want existing throughout the colliery districts. Mr. J. L. Hetherington, President of the Nova Scotia branch of the Canadian Red Cross stated today that a flu epidemic was raging in the town of Cape Breton, where a flu epidemic was raging were not equipped to cope with the situation but the Red Cross would gladly co-operate on the request of the medical men in the district. He added that Dr. Smith Walker, Commissioner of the Red Cross for Nova Scotia was proceeding to Cape Breton in order to investigate conditions.

Resulting from the increasing use in the United Kingdom of Alfalfa Meal for poultry and other purposes, and the embargo which prohibits importation from California, a shortage of supplies is being experienced.

Bizarre Trousers Rage In Britain

LONDON, Mar. 21.—More men in England is revolting against his clothes. At last he is fighting to throw off the reproach of the everlasting blue and gray suits. London tailors, with forty-years of experience, declare that never have they had to handle such creations as are now coming on the market, and that not for 125 years have men had such a chance to array themselves so beautifully.

A year or two ago the revolt started with the young "bloodes" who came out in colored evening dresses. One sneered from convention at society killed the idea, but now a feather itself is giving its blessing to morning clothes of the most wonderful color. There is nothing loud and garish about it. The whole idea is to throw a delicate haze over the familiar shades of brown or blue or grey.

But even with the ratification of the designers, a gathering of well-dressed men will present as brightly and charming hues as women themselves. An invisible pattern is the secret of how it is done. Reddish brown material has purple lines woven through it. Slate blue cloth has a greenish motif. Fawn and blue are subtly intertwined. Generally the tints combine into one subdued hue, which is only to be described as "sweet."

But extravagances will creep in. A feather effect in mauve produces strange blobs of charm. Heath lines drawn inconspicuously across it, and some blends of color run so much to perpendicular lines as to look almost like a college blazer. However, these are demanded only by young men and are not the worst of their indiscretions. It is the exuberance of their tastes against which cartoonists and wits have protested in vain. The fun began at Oxford and was taken up at Cambridge. Now the influence of the older universities is corrupting the scientific and business colleges.

Even select circles of bank clerks and junior actors have caught the fever. Undergraduates and their copyists yearn to fore their trousers upon public attention. First they had yards beyond belief, until they had yards of unnecessary material flapping about their shins. Now they are
