This is a very interesting relic and no doubt will be kept in the Cole family as a heir-loom for many generations. Another interesting souvenir was a piece of shell that had accompanied its work's death, a fragment transformed into an inkwell suggestive of the blessed days of peace when the pen will be mightier than the shell.

IMPORTANT PROPERTY CHANGE.—The Guardian is advised of the sale by Franklin Mill and his son Claude of their neat, trim farm properties at Clermont, Lot 18, to John L. Mill and Jabez Mill, for a large sum, who are to be congratulated on the purchase. The former owners, by perseverance and care, made great improvements, and found in the end that it was a paying investment. They have purchased from Peter McNeil, Robertson, the "Marshfield Farm," known as one of the best properties in this Province, and if they will continue to farm it along improved methods it will produce abundantly, as the soil is of excellent quality and the manuring advantages unlimited. Mr. Robertson has removed to his other farm in East Royalty, and a marked improvement is looked for there when he centres his energies and applies his practical experience.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. JAMES MCGAUGHEY. A deep gloom was cast over the vicinity of Bonshaw, on Nov. 8th when the angel of death once again visited the house and claimed as its victim the head of the home widow of the late Mr. James McGaughey in the 72nd year of her age. Always does death leave behind sorrowing hearts, but in this case it is heart-breaking as only six months had passed since her husband had passed away from that dreaded disease, pneumonia. She had a slight cold for a couple of weeks previous to her death, which did not alarm her family, until Nov. 2nd, when after retiring to bed at an early hour she complained of not feeling so well as usual, her physician, Dr. Murchison, was at once called in, and pronounced her incurable as she was suffering from a severe case of pneumonia. Although advanced in years her family and neighbors had good hopes of her recovery, until about 2.30 a. m. on the above date she told her daughters to raise her up and in less than five minutes she had expired. Dec. 1st was a daughter of the late Mr. Geo. Easter, born in Charlottetown and when but a child moved with her parents to North Wiltshire where she resided until her marriage. Though her sickness she was attended by her pastor Rev. Father Curran who administered to her the last rites of the Catholic Church. She was a true member of the Sacred Heart also the purgatorial Society. On Nov. 10th her remains were followed by a large number of carriages to Kelly's Cross to pay their tribute of respect to the memory of a departed friend and to express sympathy to the bereaved family, requiem high mass was sung by the Parish Priest and afterwards laid to rest in the adjoining cemetery, beside the remains of her husband. She leaves to mourn the following daughters and sons Mrs. Jas. McGrath, North Carleton Mrs. Chas. Conden, Appin Road, Miss Emily, Edith and Charles at home. Mrs. George MacDonald, Mrs. Angus Ross, Havenhill, Mass. William Valdez Alaska, Alexander in Regina Sask. also two brothers John, in Minnesota. Charles, North Wiltshire and one sister Mrs. Archibald Easter. O'Leary. The pall bearers were Stephen Toole, Chas. Toole, Lawrence McGaughey, John Bolgar, Wm. McQuaid, and Patk Condon.

In St. Joseph's quiet grave yard, Where the trees their branches wave Lies our dear old aged mother In her cold and silent grave. Friends may think we'll soon forge her And our sorrowing hearts will be But little do they know the anguish That is in our hearts concealed. Rest in Peace. (Other papers please copy.) 1244.

Scottish Typographical Circular. COME THROUGH. By Berton raley.

If you toy with cards, buy a brand new deck And send the old one through To the bunch in France so they'll have a chance To shuffle the pastboards, too; For the deck that was planned by a poor mad king For a spur to his muddled brain, May serve, in the stench of a ratty trench, To keep a soldier sane. If you like your smoke when your nerves are frayed, Or your job and your time go slow, If you get from a cigarette, Or an old pipe's ruddy glow; Then think of the boys in a muddy ditch And save your dimes and your jits sometimes, To buy 'em a bunch of smokes. And you who shudder at Nicotine Consider our boys who dwell In the very brunt of the battle front In the dirt and the noise and smell; Do you think a smoke as the long hours drag Could ever be called a sin? Why it's just pure joy to a soldier boy—Come on, old top, kick in!

PARCELS FOR PRISONERS OF WAR. Germany or Austria-Hungary containing foodstuffs, on and after January 1st, 1918, can only be accepted for onward transmission by the Postal Service if they bear a "coupon" issued by the Prisoners of War Department, Canadian Red Cross Society, London, England. Under the new arrangement the amount of foodstuffs which may be sent to an officer prisoner of war during four weeks must not exceed one hundred pounds. Of this total the Prisoners of War Department of the Canadian Red Cross will send to each interned Canadian officer including those attached to other than Canadian units not less than six ten-pound parcels each four weeks. The remaining forty pounds of foodstuffs per four weeks may be sent personally by relatives in Canada but each parcel must bear a coupon which can be obtained on application from the Prisoners of War Department, Canadian Red Cross Society, London, England. The right to send food parcels to an officer prisoner of war rests with the next of kin, but may be transferred by the latter or by the prisoner of war himself to any person who is advisable that application should be made to the Prisoners of War Department, Canadian Red Cross Society, London, England, for the necessary coupons for parcels packed personally at the earliest possible moment. These coupons are to be issued for amounts under ten pounds. If, therefore, it is desired to despatch a parcel weighing less than ten pounds an ordinary coupon must be used and the parcel counts as one of the four permissible in four weeks. Articles may not be sent to any Society for enclosure in any parcel despatched under the Red Cross label. The importance of guarding against any misuse of the label cannot be too strongly emphasized. Such action which would not only harm the prisoners to whom the parcel was addressed but would react on other prisoners, and might endanger the whole system of despatching the food supplies to officers and men who have fallen into the hands of the enemy. Parcels for officers interned in Bulgaria and Turkey come under the new scheme. Owing, however, to the difficulties of postal communication, it is not advisable to send many parcels to officers in Turkish camps. Supplies can be purchased in Asia Minor and it is better to remit money to the prisoners rather than send many parcels. This new scheme relates only to parcels containing foodstuffs for officers or prisoners of war interned in any country, and does not affect in any way the present regulations governing the transmission of parcels to prisoners of war other than officers, which regulations remain unchanged. The needs of officer prisoners of war holding commissions in the Imperial Army are looked after by the Central Prisoners of War Committee, 4 Curios Place, London, S.W., England. This Committee will supply the necessary coupons to the next of kin of these officers for parcels addressed to them which are packed personally.
