Work on a vast series of new hospital and instruction buildings will be begun soon on the site of the old American League baseball park on Washington Heights. Gifts for the realization of this dream of the two institutions for a medical centre that will surpass Vienna, Berlin or any other centre in Europe came from various sources and bequests. The donor of the site is anonymous but authentic report is that it was given by a member of the Harkness family which amassed millions in Standard Oil and it is reported also that the family made the $1,000,000 gift which is also listed in the official announcement as being anonymous.

The bequest of the $5,000,000 from Joseph R. DeLamar has been announced previously and hints also have been made that $1,000,000 each would be given by the Carnegie Corporation, the general education board and the Rockefeller Foundation.

Co-operating, the two institutions will try to assemble on its faculty and hospital staff the foremost physician and surgeons of the world, and negotiations already are in progress with some of the ablest medical men of this country. It is predicted that the head of this new institution will be Dr. William Walker Palmer of Baltimore, who has chosen a post at this new institution in preference to the proffer of a piece at Johns Hopkins as professor of medicine in the medical school, and physician-in-chief of the hospitals in Baltimore.

They announce that in the event of a favorable answer they will start immediately the construction of a new building. It is understood that this petition is being signed with the approval of the authorities and it is practically decided that the new building will be erected on St. Poye Road, where the Jesuit Fathers have several properties.
