

Lucullus—the Epicure planted the first cherry tree in Europe. He considered the fruit the most delicious of all. Lucullus is gone, but many of us share his taste today.

will make you realize all that a cherry has to offer. The pure smooth chocolate is a delicacy in itself; the wonderful Maraschino liquor lends a zest all its own; and then—the large, luscious cherry bursting with the fullness of its juice and flavor.

ISLANDER HAD GRAND SEND OFF FROM VANCOUVER

(The following clipping is from "The Canadian Police Bulletin" for December.)

The resignation of Chief of Police William McRae of Vancouver, B. C., after eighteen years of splendid service for that city was made the subject of a wonderful outpouring of commendation from many local organizations and all the newspapers. He has returned to Prince Edward Island, his native province, and has taken up farming at Flat River, Queen's County, in that beautiful eastern part of Canada. It is the earnest hope of every one who knows the former Chief that the ill health which was the cause of his retirement will soon be cured by the sea breeze and back to the land life he is leading now.

SECOND CANADIAN TO BE ELECTED OXFORD FELLOW

Percy Ellwood Corbett, Rhodes Scholar from the Province of Quebec has been elected a Fellow of All Souls College, Oxford. He is the second Canadian to be honored. Mr. Corbett was granted his A. B. first class honors in jurisprudence by Oxford last spring. Later he was appointed translator and interpreter with the International Financial Conference in Brussels and is now permanently attached to the League of Nations.

Commissioners on behalf of the citizens of Vancouver. Every public body and many fraternal and social organizations were represented in the gathering, at which Mayor Gale presented to the Chief a check for $2,250, the salary for one half year. Earlier in the day the members of the force presented Chief McRae with a beautiful handbag containing $200 in gold, for Mrs. McRae.

Chief McRae entered the Vancouver Police Department in December, 1902, and by dint of his efficiency and excellent all round qualities steadily rose in rank until his appointment as Chief in 1916.

There is said to be some prospect of the British Legislature approving at the next session of a measure providing for police pension funds and that the plan will be adopted in Vancouver. The Police Union asked the Commissioners to hear Mr. McRae in mind if that idea was adopted and if not inconsistent with the regulations to make him one of the pensioners. There is one active reminder of William McRae in Vancouver yet and that is new police patrol boat which was recently launched and which was named after him.

On October 28th last Inspector James Anderson of the Vancouver Detective Department, was appointed to be Chief of the force. He is a man of good record and is expected to be a worthy successor to Chief McRae.

The hot kitchen gave Ma a nervous headache

Coffin of Attila Found in Hungary

VIENNA, Dec. 23.—A large coffin, believed to hold part of the body of Attila, the Hun, has been found in the bed of the River Aranka, near Nagy-Szent-Miklos, in Hungary. According to the legend Attila's remains were laid in three coffins and sunk in the river about the year 453. Archaeologists are supported in their belief that they have found one of these coffins by the fact that important gold articles have been excavated near the same town.

Naval Officers Enjoy Shore Leave

HALFAX, Dec. 22.—The cruiser Aurora was tied up at the dockyard wharf here last night and most of the Canadian officers, untrammelled by their cocked hats and the gold lace of officialdom's welcome to the Canadian navy this morning were ashore visiting their relatives or friends. A good many of the men are also renewing old acquaintanceships in Halifax. Lights showed where two trim little destroyers, Patriot and Patricia, late of Britannia's navy rode comfortably at anchor in their new home harbor.

FOUR NEW NATIONS FOR LEAGUE—Canada's delegates took a prominent part in the assembly of the League of Nations at which four new nations, Bulgaria, Costa Rica, Finland and Luxembourg, were admitted to membership.
