THE WAGON SHOW

A stirring romance of the circus with the screen's greatest cowboy star! Bringing to you new riding tricks and a sweet circus romance laid in the gorgeous West!

"HAWK OF THE HILLS" "RACING MAD" Comedy

Ken Maynard Heads Capitol Bill With His Finest Film

WESTERN STAR SCORES INSTANT HIT IN "THE WAGON SHOW" — NOVEL WESTERN STORY WITH CIRCUS BACKGROUND.

"The Wagon Show" Ken Maynard's latest feature produced by Charles R. Rogers for First National which opened yesterday at the Capitol Theatre, presents a novel type western story. It is a combination of two subjects cleverly blended to make one of the fastest and most thrilling pictures this popular western star has appeared in to date.

The story deals with a small ring circus traveling through Montana during the early days of the west. The circus itself is natural and contains all the trappings and stunts that go with a feature of this type. The western locale offers a background that is both picturesque and unique. The combination offers Maynard ample opportunity to display his daring and skillful horsemanship.

Tarzan, the wonder horse, comes in for his share of the glory when he enacts a typical hero's stunt quelling a riot by the simple use of a little strategy. If this horse doesn't think for himself he certainly has a clever gag man.

"The Wagon Show" is really an authentic story of the circus. Maynard, who was the featured stunt and trick rider with several of the big tent shows of the country, knows the circus and its people and he has injected that note of authority into the picture itself.

The balance of the cast includes Marion Douglas, who has the leading feminine role, Maurice Costello, Paul Weigell, and George Lavis.

For entertainment, plus that which combines a highly dramatic plot with more thrills and daredevil stunts than the ordinary packed into it, you'll enjoy "The Wagon Show."

The eighth chapter of "Hawk of the Hills" and "Racing Mad" a rip-roaring comedy give the finishing touches to an exceptionally fine week end bill.

the subject from the same standpoint at the same time, preserving our own individuality.

WHAT TO READ.

What should we read? Advice in reading used to be a great deal more prolific in the past than it is today. Why? Because the selection of reading is largely a matter of personal preference, and it is advisable to follow our own inclinations. Perhaps we should stop here; yet there is so much we ought not to read that further thought seems not inadvisable.

There is an ancient proverb: "Beware of the man of one book." The man of one book, if it is wisely chosen, and he knows it, is dangerous in argument. "Read Homer once and you can read more," has also been written. Too thought we gather is this: The real secret is to know well what we read, so that in case of need, we can put it to use. Lord Balfour.

L. O. C. Bowling

Last night on the L. O. C. Alley another good game was rolled when the Spuds met and defeated the Ramblers by a margin of 190 pins.

The game was exciting from start to finish and some splendid scores were made by both teams, the Ramblers rolled hard but luck was against them, while the Spuds rolled their usual good game, and came out the winners.

In last night's game W. Burke had high single score of 281 also high total of 718 pins.

Following are the scores:

Ramblers:
W. McDonald	195	192	147
W. Burke	199	228	281
C. McDonald	180	132	127
P. Pruty	160	163	192
W. McDonald	122	149	168
Total	2635
Spuds:
E. Robin	169	149	238
G. McMahon	157	201	185
C. Dillon	227	159	209
H. Gregory	122	182	168
Rev. P. McMahon	212	163	277
Total	825

Next game takes place Monday night at 8 o'clock sharp when the Stars roll the Ramblers and a great game is expected.

LETTER OF CONDOLENCE

To Mrs. Peter A. Burke,
Dear Friend—We the members of the Alma Women's Institute, wish to express our heartfelt sympathy to you in the loss you have recently been called upon to bear in the sudden death of your dearly beloved father. Words cannot express our sincere sympathy for you in your sorrow.

CHARLOTTETOWN SQUAD COPS INTERMEDIATE SERIES, 4 TO 3

Second Game At Moncton Ends 1-All, But One Goal Lead Made In Opener Tells; Winners Now In Finals.

MONCTON, March 15.—Charlotte town Victorias, last year's Maritime intermediate title-holders, and the Lounsbury Millionaires gave hockey fans the greatest fighting finish of any hockey game that has been seen here this year, when for two periods they battled toe to toe and in the final frame let loose a scintillatingly impossible thrust that netted each team a marker. When the time's bell ended the contest the teams were deadlocked, 1 all, but the Islanders, by virtue of their 3 to 2 victory in Charlottetown on Monday, topped the series, 4 to 3.

getting accustomed to the heavy ice and threw enough rubber into Harry Morgan, the ex-Abbie goalie, to keep the world in rubber bands for a year. But Stonewall, as he was called when he intercepted flying rubber for the Abbies, was there. He stopped 47 shots in 60 minutes, while the best the Vics could paste at Wilson was 10.

Too Much Morgan

The Islanders seemed content to lay back in the first two frames. With all due respect, however, to the bull-dog spirit of the Millionaires, who buzzed around the net and while cage like bees, they could not puncture Morgan.

In the last count the Lounsbury team rush five men into the bombing party with the result that when Buntain secured a loose rubber at the blue line, he had no one to beat ahead of him but Wilson. He drove a shot at "Kaiser" but Wilson made a great save, smothering the shot by falling, only to lift the rubber into the cage over his prostrate form.

The millionaires did dent the draperies twice but both plays were called back because of offside. Fighting desperately, the local boys swarmed the Island citadel and for a mixup Bob White butted the water into the mesh for the tying goal. This score put the Millionaires in the light once more, but try as they might, Morgan could not be beaten.

WINSLOE NOTES — Our energetic butcher and produce and cattle buyer, Mr. Fred P. Turner, is now doing a rushing business in the potato line. He reports a great church. The banquet was under the shortage of cars which we hope the railroad authorities will remedy as speedily as possible so that the farmers will not be hindered in the moving away of their surplus stock of potatoes.—Our schools at North and South Winsloe are progressing very favorably under the skilful management of the teachers. The Misses Enman and Rodd respectively. Mr. Edward Byrneston recently sold a splendid pair of fat cattle—the real beef type—to Mr. F. P. Turner.—Mr. Earl Carter was a recent visitor to Wheatley River. He reports excellent roads especially for this time of the year and with the exception of a few snowbanks quite passable for cars.—The trustees of the South School intend holding a basket social and concert in aid of the new school in the hall in the near future.

WELFARE LEAGUE — The members of the Community Welfare League of Vernon met at the home of Mrs. Wilfred Furness, March 7th, for the purpose of affiliating with the Women's Institute. This League has been in operation for the past five years, during which time a great deal has been done towards improving conditions in the district particularly the School and Hall, where they have spent upwards of seven hundred dollars. Owing to illness the Supervisor was unable to be present. The President of the League, Mrs. Jas. McCormick, addressed the meeting and after conducting the business of the League, the election of officers took place as follows:—President—Mrs. Jas. McCormick; Vice President—Mrs. A. Sullivan; Secretary—Mrs. Miss Gladys Taylor; Directors—Mrs. W. A. Jenkins, Mrs. W. Furness and Mrs. D. Fraser; Auditors—Miss A. Redmond and Mrs. J. Sullivan. Much credit is due the President, Mrs. Jas. McCormick through whose untiring efforts the Welfare League prospered and we feel sure that, under her direction the Women's Institute will also prove a success. Mr. L. W. Shaw, Supervisor of City Schools has kindly consented to give a talk along educational lines on Tuesday evening, March 20th, in Vernon Hall. As Mr. Shaw's ability as a speaker is well known, further comment is unnecessary. There will also be a short program.

FAREWELL BANQUET TO DR. J. J. SIDNEY.—The Yarmouth Telegraph says: On Monday evening of last week about seventy-five men of Port Maitland gathered in the vestry of the United Baptist Church for the purpose of a farewell to Dr. Sidney, who had just concluded a series of special meetings in the potato line. He reports a great church. The banquet was under the

Easter Monday Play

Promising Production Which Should be Greatly Enjoyed

The St. Charles Auxiliary of the Charlottetown Hospital have secured the services of Miss Barbara McNeil, the wonderful elocutionist and vocalist, to direct their annual Easter Monday dramatic performance. Miss McNeil has secured a real play, a comedy drama, with splendid dramatic situations and a wholesome amount of fun and is busily training the caste who comprise the best of Charlottetown's dramatic talent with some new additions who will create a most favorable impression on the patrons in their premier dramatic appearance. Miss McNeil is taking the leading role which assures, in itself, a wonderful rendition of a heart gripping role where love and vengeance clash, but to whom in the end comes happiness in her hearts desire.

HOPE CHEST FOR SOME ONE

There is displayed in the window of Holman's Ltd., a wonderful solid walnut chest lined with red carpet four feet long, 27 inches wide and deep supported on legs making it table high, and a charming addition to the furnishing of any home as well as being a splendid and necessary utility. This is the Hope Chest, which is being lotteried for the Charlottetown Hospital and what does this Hope Chest contain? The ladies of the St. Charles Auxiliary and their friends have lived with each other in donating beautiful and useful gifts of household necessities in the line of table linens, bed linens, embroidered pieces of a bewildering beauty and diversity, silken lingerie and feminine accessories, to gladden the hearts of the most beauty-seeking and bed puffed, silken and embroidered counterpanes, wool blankets, boudoir cushions, marvelous pieced quilt and even a lovely hooked mat of all Island wool and design for milady to step on by her dresser. A consolation prize of $100.00 in gold is to be given to the second lucky party. Tickets are being sold for this wonderful gift at the most reasonable prices. No ticket costs more than twenty-five cents and range downward to one cent. Think of it, over two hundred dollars value in furnishings, exclusive of the Chest which is valued at another half hundred, to go to some lucky individual anywhere from 1 cent to 25 cents. The ladies of the Auxiliary are selling the tickets which may also be obtained at Holman's Ltd., Charlottetown, and at J. P. McCloskey's, Pure Food Store, Queen Street, also at the City Hospital.

HERE'S HOPING YOU GET THE HOPE CHEST

Interested. Unusual. It is not so hard of this. Perhaps early rising prompts the question—"What of reading for mere pleasure?" Joy or delight in reading ought to be more than a mere luxury. It should be a means, an end to further one's knowledge. It may be said that no one reads perfectly who does not enjoy reading. Efforts to gather knowledge must be uniformly joyous—so there would be no loss of pleasure in reading any proper lines.

Now, there is much in the art of reading that we must necessarily gather for ourselves. If the thought has been created that there is more to reading than a book and a comfortable chair, we have, perhaps, not gathered here in vain. Much has been left unexplored. Much, too, is not general. We must look to ourselves. In closing and in tribute to books, we have this thought from James Freeman Clarke: "When I consider what some books have done for the world, and what they are doing, how they keep up our hope, awake our courage and faith, soothe our pain, give an ideal life to those whose hours are cold and hard, bind together distant ages and foreign lands, create new worlds of beauty, bring down truth from heaven, I give eternal blessings for this gift, and thank God for books."
