QUESTION OF TITLES DEBATED IN HOUSE

Cahan Resolution for Appointment of Committee to Consider the Matter, is Favored.

(From Our Own Correspondent)
OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 13.—The question of the revival of titles in Canada was again debated in the House of Commons today, among the speakers being Hon. R. B. Bennett, Henri Bourassa and T. L. Church of Toronto. Mr. Church was on his feet when the house adjourned and the discussion will be continued tomorrow.

Both party leaders are reluctant, evidently for political reasons, to disclose their attitude toward the proposal to bring back titles. Yesterday Mr. MacKenzie King supported the resolution of C. H. Cahan, K. C., for the appointment of a committee to consider the matter, giving as his reason for so doing the fact that while the petition of the house in 1919 deterred His Majesty from granting titles and decorations to

Opposed To Independence

(Canadian Press)
DELHI, India, Feb. 13.—(Canadian Press Cable via Reuters) Ruling princes of 40 India states in one of the most important gatherings of its kind ever held, today expressed unwavering loyalty to the British crown and deprecated the attitude of native leaders of British India who apparently were advocating complete independence. They passed a resolution setting forth that any negotiations between themselves and British India must proceed on a basis of loyalty to the British connection.

Canadian, foreign orders and decorations were accepted and worn. He thought there should be uniformity one way or another, but he refrained from saying definitely whether or not he favored the restoration of British titles.

Today Mr. Bennett was almost equally evasive. He was opposed to the question of the restoration of British titles being referred to a committee for decision, but at the same time he favored the resolution for the purpose of considering the anomaly of Canadians being allowed to receive and wear foreign decorations but not British decorations.

Mr. Bourassa, alleged that when the British government wanted to promulgate a policy in Canada they sometimes saw to it that Canadian politicians had titles. He further alleged that senatorships and other favors were given in return for donations to campaign funds, referring particularly to the regime of Sir. Wilfred Laurier. The prime minister intervened to demand that Mr. Bourassa should withdraw his statement or explain it, and the member for Labelle said he did not mean to suggest that the liberal chieftain had himself trafficked in senatorships. Mr. Bourassa ridiculed titles at considerable length, but afterwards said he favored the Cahan resolution.

Mr. Church condemned the revival of the titles question. He was entirely opposed to the revival or aristocratic tendencies.

The house refused to adopt a resolution by Dr. Gershaw of Medicine Hat providing that the day to be observed as thanksgiving day should be armistice day and that armistice day should always be November 11.

First reading was given the bill of S. W. Jacobs of Montreal providing that the return tickets of a railway company between points in Canada should be acceptable on any other railway running between the same points. The bill of the same member providing that members of the House of Commons should not be required to be rejected when taken into the government was similarly dealt with, as was also a bill by H. W. Stewart, Leeds, transferring from the government power to authorize the export of electric power.

The following resolution by J. E. Letellier, Compton, was adopted: That in the opinion of this house, the question of granting family allowances should be studied, taking into consideration the respective jurisdiction of both federal and provincial parliaments in the matter, and that the said question should be referred to the committee on industrial and international relations, with instructions to enquire into and take report.

(Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, Feb. 13.—Thanksgiving day and Armistice Day will continue to be celebrated in Canada as two distinct features of national life, the one in acknowledgement for the bounties of providence and the other in homage to the memory of Canada's sons and daughters who gave their lives in the great war.

This was affirmed today when the House of Commons rejected a resolution introduced by P. L. (Labor, Progressive, Medicine) the purpose of which was to combine both Thanksgiving and Armistice days into one holiday, on Nov. 11 annually.

A number of speakers took part in the debate of which two, Major J. T. Thorson (Liberal, Winnipeg, North Centre) and Col. G. R. Geary (Conservative, Toronto South) were former members of the Canadian Expeditionary force. Both of these speakers opposed the suggestion. Thanksgiving day was usually associated with football games and other forms of athletic activity, declared Colonel Geary, and he for one would regret if this element were ever permitted to encroach upon the sacred sentiments with which Armistice Day was enshrouded.

British Troops Are Attacked By Tribesmen

The killing of Gwek is expected to end most of the troubles in the Neuer country. He had been the instigator of numerous disorders and his activities necessitated the dispatch of troops last winter to disperse his followers.

Celebrating Silver Jubilee

OTTAWA, Feb. 13.—Twenty five years ago today a young man elected to parliament by the people of Kamouraski who was to become one of Canada's leading statesmen. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, B. A., L. L. B., K. C., who is celebrating his silver jubilee as a member of the House of Commons, knew very little of the English language when he came to Ottawa as a young man of 27. Today he is not excelled as an orator in either of the two official languages.

His popularity is indicated by the hundreds of messages which have come from his old friends in Kamouraski, who first sent him to parliament. From all parts of the dominion and from across the seas, for he has represented his native country at such important gatherings as the League of Nations and the Imperial Conference.

The minister of justice is confined to his house for a few days following an accident but he expects to be in his seat next Monday.

THE SMALLER SCHOOLS ARE REPRESENTED

In the Oratorical Contests — It is Now Up to the Larger Ones to Get Into the Swim.

We are pleased to welcome to the ranks of the contestants in the Oratorical Contest two more pupils — Edna Boswell and Robertena Boswell, both of Dunstaffnage School. It is worthy of note that this school, which is by no means a large one, now has three contestants entered. And, indeed in this contest, as well as in that of 1928 the smaller schools have been well and most creditably represented. Edison Smith, last year's Oratorical Champion for Prince Edward Island, came, it will be remembered, from Powna, a one teacher school.

It is now up to the larger schools to get represented.

Fill in the entry form which you will find in this issue and mail it today.

The list now stands as follows:

Churchill Paints Alarming Pictures

LONDON, Feb. 13.—An alarming picture of the possibilities which may result from the next general election was drawn by Right Hon. Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer in a speech tonight.

"On some night in May or June," Mr. Churchill said, "we shall go to bed a strong and tranquil nation recovering slowly but surely our prosperity after the setback of the great war. The next morning we may wake up to find that the control of Great Britain and the conduct of its world-wide affairs has been handed over for four or five years to the men, who two years ago, were managing the general strike and trying to shatter the economic life of the whole land its ancient parliamentary constitution.

"That to me is a very serious and anxious position."

Edison Celebrated 82nd Birthday

FORT MYERS, Fla., February 13.—Thomas Alva Edison, the inventor of electric light, has celebrated his 82nd birthday, and according to the custom, patiently answered a variety of questions put to him by newspapermen. Among the queries and answers were:

Q: "Is it true that you have found a plant which promises to solve the rubber production problem in the United States, and do you hope to develop it this winter?"

A: "I have found over twelve hundred plants to produce rubber. About forty of them will be cultivated on a large scale."

Q: "Do you believe that intelligent reading and home study can take the place of high tension college education?"

A: "If the boy has ambition he doesn't need to go to college."

Q: "Please give briefly your formula for a happy life?"

A: "I am not acquainted with anyone who is happy."

The white-haired inventor spent the day in company with president-elect of the United States, Herbert Hoover; Henry Ford, the manufacturer; and Harvey Firestone, all friends who wished him well.

King Passed A Good Night

BOGNOR, Sussex, Eng., Feb. 13.—Sunshine and warmer temperature greeted King George when he awoke this morning after having passed a good night. It turned colder later in the day, however, and snow began to fall. It is understood that His Majesty has made such progress that he is now able to read occasionally. He is on an ordinary diet and takes plenty of nourishment. The chief concern among his entourage seems to be the weather. Local inhabitants express the opinion that sunny conditions will set in at almost any time now and afford the change the King needs so much.

REV. DR. GUNN ADDRESSES PRESBYTERY

Moderator of the United Church of Canada is Present at Prince Edward Island Presbytery Meeting.

At the Evening Session of the Prince Edward Island Presbytery of the United Church, which was held in the Hartz Memorial Hall, Rev. Dr. W. T. Gunn, Moderator of the United Church of Canada, delivered a splendid address on the work of the Church. The address, which was open to the public and was largely attended was preceded by a short service of praise and prayer.

Dr. Gunn is on a speaking tour which will continue until February 24th, and in the course of which he will visit all sections of the Maritime Provinces.

The distinguished clergyman is the third moderator of the church since the union of the Presbyterian, Methodist and Congregational bodies took place some years ago. He is a native of Ontario, educated at McGill University and the Congregational College at Montreal, and held pastorates both in Ontario and Quebec on a number of occasions. From 1908 to 1925 he was secretary of the Canada Congregational Missionary society, and upon the church union being consummated he became editor of the United Church Record and Missionary Review and secretary of the General Council's committee on Literature and Education. He was elected moderator of the United Church at the meeting of the General Council in Winnipeg last September.

Rev. Dr. Gunn, in the course of his address expressed the love and devotion he felt for the United Church. As a boy his first memory of church life was in the Methodist Church. His grandfather—a presbyterian elder—had had some trouble with the minister and was going to the Methodist Church at the time. But he afterwards returned to the presbyterian fold and Dr. Gunn's next memory was of leaving the shorter catechism. The speaker then annotated his text—one chosen from the psalms—"The Lord hath done great things for us, whereof we are glad."

"The first thing to be glad of was that this United Church was built on clean foundations. The speaker had been a member of the law and legislature committee and there had never had anything but the greatest possible desire to those who had not seen their way to enter the United Church, no matter to which of the three churches they belonged.

In the draft of the act of incorporation the committee inserted a clause rendering it possible for any one of the congregations of any church which did not wish to come in might vote itself out by a bare majority. Dr. Gunn then went into the work of this Law and Legislature committee in some detail. The commission adjudicated to those who did not come in, property to the value of some three and a quarter million dollars.

Knew Many Secrets

(Special to the Guardian)
PARIS, Feb. 13.—Professor G. Camerlynk, who knew as many international secrets as the greatest living statesman, died today at the age of sixty. He was the official interpreter of English for the French government and the League of Nations and had participated in every international conference since the great war, including the peace conference, where he sometimes acted for President Wilson. The French premiers and foreign ministers relied upon him for his discretion. He was often asked to write his memoirs, but always refused with the remark, "I know too much." He began his career as a teacher of French in an English girl's school.

Our Glorious Heritage

Another great joy was that we had entered into the inheritance of the log roll of saints and martyrs of the three Uniting Churches. It was proposed to have a delegation of 1500 members from the Mother Churches in the old land here in Canada to celebrate in June 10th, the 4th anniversary of the United Church.

Another joy we had was that the United Church was a member of the World Families of the Presbyterian, Methodist, and Congregational Churches throughout the world. There was never anything quite like it before, and the speaker believed it prophetic of that great day when Our Lord's Prayer will be fulfilled, "but they may be one." There is too, the richness of the fellowship of the splendid men and women of these three families to which we belong.

And then, there is the joy of our fellowship with the other members of our own family. The General Council at Winnipeg showed both this
