S'SIDE AND PRINCE CO.

A heavy thunder storm visited Summerside yesterday, between 6 and 8 a. m. accompanied by a downpour of rain.

MR. FRANK MCKENZIE, son of the Champion Tailor John McKenzie, now of Campbellton, Ont., is at present at home on his holidays.

MR. J. D. RANKIN, formerly of Casempec, Lot 4, now Supt. of Dry Dock Companies at Perth Amboy, N. J., is spending a few weeks on the Island.

WORK on Sinclair & Stewart's new brick store, is proceeding at a lively rate. Just now metal pillars supporting the second flat are being placed in position.

THE GUARDIAN representative was in form on good authority that the number of passengers coming to the Island this season surpasses the record of any former year.

AMONG the large number of passengers by the Northumberland last evening were the Hon. J. H. Bell, M. P. P., Alex. Martin, M. P., returning from their legislative duties at Ottawa.

THE S. S. City of Ghent arrived here from Montreal yesterday bringing a small quantity of freight and taking away 100 bags of oats and potatoes, together with 100 cases of lobsters. Value $14,000. Shipped by B. T. Holman.

YESTERDAY morning Mr. and Mrs. D. H. McDonald, of North Bedeque, left by the Northumberland for a trip to Boston and probably New York. They will remain for some time at Manchester, Mass., where some of their daughters are attending a Young Ladies' College.

In 1844 the literary world was electrified by two poems "The Song of the Shirt" and "The Bridge of Sighs," written by Thomas Hood. The pathos and melancholy pervading these gems by the most playful and humorous of the great English poets, is no doubt due to the fact that they were written while the author was on his deathbed. Since that time, no revolutionary effort has been put forth to bring either shirts or sighs into prominence, until very recently, when James C. Wright of Summerside, made a revolutionary purchase of shirts which he is now selling at prices never before known to the trade. A call at his store will convince you that his shirts are cheaper than you have ever bought shirts for, and that they are the right sighs. 13 21 w

SEARLETON NOTES.—The recent wet weather has somewhat improved prospects of the hay crop. Some of the new meadows look well, while old ones are destined to fall short of the average crop. Grain and root crops promise well, but are backward owing to the coolness of the weather. Our school is closed at present, the teacher A. M. Doyle, is enjoying his well earned vacation at his home in Tryon.—Aurora Division installed the following officers on Saturday evening the 7th inst.: Harvey J. Wright, W. P.; Bell McQuarrie, W. A.; Hermes Myers, R. S.; A. S. Wright, F. S.; Mrs. Wright, Chap.; Geo. McLean, Treas.; Vinnie Hayes, Con; Ra th Caruthers, A. Con; Joy Hayes, I. F.; Percy Smith, P. W. P.; Amy McLean, Organist. With the above efficient staff of officers we hope to see our order advance by leaps and bounds. The C. M. A. hold their weekly meeting in the Hall at North Carleton, and are at present initiating members almost every night of meeting. The officers for the half year commencing with June are: E. Gardiner, Pres.; V. P., P. J. Wright Speaker, H. Myers, Secy-Treas., A. M. Doyle; Director, S. Affleck; Sentinel, W. Myers; M. C., T. Lowther; Translator, Hermes Myers; Librarian, Wesley Myers. The many friends of Mrs. (Dr.) Atkinson of Hartford, Conn. are pleased to see her back for a visit to her old home. She and her little son are at present the guests of Mrs. A. S. Wright. She was accompanied by her mother Mrs. J. N. Wright, and sister Ada of Brooklyn, New York, who are spending a month at their old home. Mr. Marshal Wright, which she left some fourteen years ago. Dr. Atkinson comes on in September, when his family will return with him. Liberals in their expenditure on roads and bridges, have brought improved machinery and yet our roads are growing beautifully worse each year. Can it be that one reason may be found in the fact that the qualification of certain officers consist only in the fact that they are supporters of the party. Some are very desirous to see the experiment tried of abolishing the system of Supervisors. Well, we would at least have the satisfaction of saving to the country a considerable sum, and matters cannot be much worse. Gentlemen in charge of public funds should insist on contracts being carried as per specification and should give the job their personal supervision.

Try one can of Oak Brand Condensed Milk and you will decide that it is better and cheaper than a cow. Ask your grocer for it. 30 ct.
