Clark Gable — Spencer Tracy— Claudette Colbert — Hedy Lamarr In "Boom Town" At Prince Edward

Presenting one of the greatest all-star casts in the history of motion pictures, and utilizing this billion-dollar talent in a story that is built for fast action and thrills, "Boom Town" opened yesterday at the Prince Edward Theatre for an engagement of four days as one of the most thrilling and spectacular productions to come out of Hollywood in some time.

With Clark Gable, Spencer Tracy, Claudette Colbert and Hedy Lamarr in stellar roles, "Boom Town" surpasses in star names even that former "greatest of thrill pictures," the air epic "Test Pilot" which had Gable, Tracy, Myrna Loy and Lionel Barrymore at the head of the cast.

The supporting cast of the picture is as distinguished as its stars, including such well-known names as Frank Morgan, Lionel Atwill, Chill Wills, Marion Martin and Minna Gombell, with lesser roles played by Joe Yule, Horace Murphy, Roy Gordon, Richard Lane, Casey Johnson, Baby Quintanilla of "Forty Little Mothers" fame, George Lessey, Sara Haden, Frank Orth, Frank McGlynn, Sr., and Curt Bois.

Thrill-Packed Action

These players join hands in presenting a thrill-packed human-interest story which shows Gable and Tracy in a total of five fights, one of which is a terrific battle between themselves, the frantic fight to blast out a roaring oil well fire, gushers tearing upward with mighty roars, a spouting water geyser, Gable on a bucking mule, a dive into a sea of mud by Gable and Tracy to escape the bullets of two gun fighters, a fight between two dance hall girls, a dramatic hold-up of a load of oil equipment, in addition to comedy by Morgan, Wills and Miss Gombell and even the songs of the men who spud in for oil.

Through a heart-tugging story of two men who are friends through all the heartaches and victories of oilmen runs a cavalcade of the oil business, with a brief history of its intense thrills. In the picture, Gable and Tracy form a partnership which exists even after Gable marries Miss Colbert, Tracy's sweetheart. It breaks dramatically and is reunited just as dynamically when Tracy evolved a startling plan to break up Gable's affair with lovely Hedy Lamarr and send him back to Miss Colbert.

Flynn Sees Victory No Party Triumph

NEW YORK, Nov. 6—(Wednesday)—(AP)—Edward J. Flynn, Democratic National Chairman, asserted shortly after midnight today he "assumed" President Roosevelt had been re-elected and added: "What was won was more than a political victory.

"Nor can I ever claim it was a vitcory for the party," he continued in a statement issued at Democratic National Headquarters where he received returns.

"It was the decision by the vast majority of our citizens, with no distinction of groups or elements or individuals, to continue in the course pursued for eight years under the leadership of our chief executive who so far steered the ship of state through the storms and reefs that beset the whole world at this time.

"With the election passes whatever bitterness there has been in this campaign. Franklin Roosevelt will be the President of the whole country and I am sure that those who supported Wendell Willkie now will join the President in efforts to keep our nation out of war and to carry on the program of economic progress that has brought us so far on the road to

Heavy Italian Assault Beaten Off By Greeks

DJEVDJELIJA, Yugoslavia, on the Greek Frontier, Nov. 4.—(AP) — A heavy Italian assault in the Epirus district of Northern Greece, in an attempt to regain ground lost in a recent Greek counter-attack has been beaten off completely, Greek sources on the Yugoslav frontier said tonight.

These advices said the Italians failed to recapture any position the Greeks had wrested from the Fascist invaders.

Two Italian planes were reported shot down in the Epirus sector and a third was downed south of Djevdjelija.

A Greek newspaper received here announced the arrival of three groups of British Royal Air Force officers with planes at Greek bases.

Travellers arriving here today from Salonika, Greece's principal Aegean sea port, which was bombed Thursday, Friday and Saturday, estimated 700 tons of bombs were dropped in the three-day raids there.

They said the raids caused extensive property damage and many casualties, and that the greater part of Salonika's inhabitants took refuge in nearby villages after the raids.

One traveller said banks and a number of shops still were open when he left, but the food situation was becoming serious. He said street car service was restricted, and that no one was allowed on the streets at night.

No British planes or warships were in Salonika when he left today, he claimed.

About 700 Albanians who took refuge in Yugoslavia when the fighting began have been interned. They are mostly men of military age.

Weather Is Big Factor In R.A.F. Raids

LONDON, Nov. 5—(CP)—Weather plays a big part in a bombing expedition to Berlin, according to a Royal Air Force bomber pilot whose account of a recent expedition was quoted tonight by the British Broadcasting Corporation.

"On my last trip to Berlin the snow was so powdery that it got into the aircraft and covered me and my instrument board," the pilot said. "It covered my windshield and neither I nor the navigator could see anything."

"Then I felt my controls beginning to freeze up and I could hardly move them. The danger was that they might freeze up completely and then we'd all have to bail out in Germany."

The pilot then told of putting the plane into a shallow dive to find warmer temperatures. At 2,000 feet the temperature was still two degrees bleow zero and it was 35 minutes before the danger from ice on the controls had passed.

"The noise of—our engine must have sent a good many Berliners into air raid shelters," the pilot laughed, "because by that time we were right over the city."

TRIBUTE PAID LATE BELOVED CLERIC

LAHAVE, Nov. 3—Funeral services for Rev. John Livingstone Lund, pastor of the United Church at LaHave, were held in his former church at Sunny Brae, N. B. Wednesday. Rev. Mr. Lund passed away while en route to Bridgewater to preach a sermon at the United Church. He had been pastor of the United Church at LaHave for the last four years. Attended by former members of his congregation at Sunny Brae, the funeral services and many floral tributes reflected the high esteem in which he was held Rev. Lund was born at Cookville, N. B., son of the late James Lund and Julia Somers.

Rev. Gordon Stevens, present pastor of the church, conducted the services at the Humphrey Memorial Church and the graveside. He was assisted at the church by Rev. Dr. J. A. Ramsay, St. John's United Church, who in his address extolled the character of the deceased. Rev. Robert Smart, pastor of Central United read the Scripture and Rev. George Somers, P. E. I., led in prayer.

A service was also held in the United Church at LaHave Monday, conducted by Rev. F. H. Littlejohns, assisted by Rev. Dr. Harry Strothard, Rev. J. F. Rowley and Rev. W. K. Pace.

The services at Sunny Brae were attended by many from distant points. Pall-bearers were two sons-in-law, Ottie T. Kay, and J. Gerald Best, a nephew, Carmen Dixon, and Kenneth Wortman, both of the R. C. A. F.; Fred W. Powell, and E. J. Lloyd.

Besides his widow, he is survived by two daughters, Pearl, Mrs. Ottie Kay, of McKee's Mills N. B.; and Luella, Mrs. Gerald Best, of Tryon, P. E. I.; three sisters, Mrs. Fred Babcock, Sackville; Mrs. G. A. Dixon, Liverpool, and Mrs. B. T. Earle, Granston, R. I.; two brothers, Frank F., Prince Albert, Sask.; Fred F., of Cookville, N. B. A grandson, John David Best, of Tryon, also survives. One daughter, Geneva Rosalie, R. N., former technician at the Laurentian Sanatorium, died three years ago.

Are You a Sufferer From Rheumatic Pains?

These pains come from an inflammation in the muscles and are generally caused by a deposit of poison in the blood called uric acid which produces the irritating and painful effect that causes many days and nights heavy with pain.

During the past 60 years Canadian people have found that by purifying the blood stream, Burdock Blood Bitters aids them to enjoy freer body movement with less rheumatic pain, as B. B. B. helps to tone up the system and clear up the uric acid in the blood, and probably help fortify the system against future attacks.

Poultry Processing Prevention of Loss

In the preparation of dressed poultry for market, much loss is sustained, both from the standpoint of quality and from labour cost, where proper equipment is not available or where the processing room or equipment is badly arranged. To help poultrymen prevent this loss, the Marketing Service, Dominion Department of Agriculture, has issued a series of illustrations showing the equipment and arrangement considered practical in operating large or small rooms for poultry killing and plucking, and for grading and packing. Much more elaborate equipment for killing rooms might be employed, but the illustrations of the equipment and its arrangement represent what is considered the minimum necessary for efficiency in operation. Highest quality of the birds will thus be preserved and labour costs reduced to the lowest.

The illustrations which are issued in folder form speak for themselves, but a note is made with regard to the use of water for cooling. When cooling rooms are located some distance away from the killing room—and for this reason birds are not placed in the cooler immediately after killing—it is pointed out that it is advisable to place the birds in ice-cold water immediately after they are killed and plucked. The ice-cold water should be changed often and kept clean. The birds should not be left in the water for more than two hours and then they should be hung up in the cooler in the usual manner. Emphasis is placed on the fact that all poultry should be placed in proper cooling temperature immediately after killing and plucking. The folder-bulletin containing the illustrations of the processing rooms may be obtained by writing to the Publicity and Extension Division, Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

PET ANIMALS IN ENGLAND

One of the minor tragedies of the incessant air raids on Britain which must engender a good deal of sympathy, says an exchange, is the lot of pet animals and of livestock on the farms. Pets are killed or maimed and, what may be a worse fate, they are so scared that they run away into the open and may become homeless wanderers. In the cities there are animal rescue squads who tend the injured and try to restore lost pets by means of their license tags. On the farms the livestock are turned loose in the fields, in case a barn might be bombed, and as the Germans drop bombs indiscriminately, a great many animals have been killed or maimed.

To cope with the situation, 6 000 veterinary units have been formed, covering every square mile of the country, the "vets" give first aid services free. They shoot the animals that are past fixing up. Many horses and cattle die of shock.

REPORTED KILLED

Flying Officer Edmond K. Leveille of Winnipeg, serving with the Royal Air Force, has been reported killed in action, according to a cable received by his father. His last letter home revealed that Leveille was stationed in Egypt, presumably serving against the Italians.

Wrong Addresses Delay Overseas Mail

London Nov. 5 —In a huge British Government building in suburban London 16 Canadians in khaki attached to the postal operations section of Canadian Postal Corps headquarters puzzle over stacks of mail misaddressed to Canada's overseas forces.

Every day of the week these men sort volumes of parcels, letters and newspapers and work with the military records office crosschecking names, units and regimental numbers in an effort to establish where the mail should go.

Sometimes it takes weeks or even months to get a confused address straightened out but the postal office eventually gets more than 90 per cent of the insufficiently address mail cleared up.

Records of the intended recipient of some letters just can't be found. For instance one letter which could not be delivered merely had the soldier's picture on an envelope addressed "Somewhere in England."

Another was addressed in a scrawling hand. Finally it was deciphered to mean "Barton S. Major." This was traced to the battery sergeant major of a field regiment of the Royal Canadian Artillery and sent to him. One letter was shuttled around 19 units before delivery and many of them have to be sent to a dozen units before they catch up with the right party. The situation is made difficult by soldiers transferring without notifying the post orderly of his unit.

A cablegram reached England merely addressed "Bombadier such-and-such." Thanks to the efforts of the postal unit it was delivered to the party intended—a Brigadier on Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton's staff.

Only about two per cent of all mail sent to Canadian troops is misaddressed but there is plenty of work for the 16 troubleshooters. Most people writing from home address their letters, parcels and newspapers correctly—name, rank regimental number, unit, C.A.S.F. Base Post Office Canada.

The chief problem is that details concerning the unit are not given in many cases and the mail finally winds up in the "headache bureau."

With cables it aids in delivery if they are addressed in the same manner as mail. When the address "Canrecords London" only is used it necessitates the records office here looking up the soldier's unit and possibly other necessary details. In such cases delay is unavoidable.

The volume of misaddressed mail in September was typical. There were 73 bags, including 6,000 items sent back from the 1st division post office; 63 bags with 6,500 items from the corps post office and 78 bags with 6,000 items from post offices serving the 2nd division and holding units.

Forty per cent of this mail was cleaned up and most of the remainder will be readdressed and delivered as quickly as the "mail detectives" can unravel each little mystery.

Maritime Bid Strong Set-Up For Allan Cup

HOCKEY MOGULS OF THE EAST PLANNING HEAVY ATTACK FOR AMATEUR ICE HONORS OF THE 1940-41 SEASON.

SYDNEY, N.S., Nov. 6—(CP)—The Maritimes are making their strongest challenge for the Allan Cup this season since the palmy days of 1935, when Halifax Wolverines brought the senior Canadian amateur championship to the Atlantic coast for the third straight year.

The Maritime scouts and business managers have roamed far to line up the talent for the three-team Cape Breton League. Not since the famous Moncton Hawks ruled the seniors for two seasons prior to the Halifax triumph has the east gathered such a collection.

It might be better at this moment to say that the team managers hope they have collected the talent. There are a few clouds on the horizon, such as the inevitable arguments with other clubs about who signed whom, and the possibility that the lure of a professional contract may prove stronger than the call to action in the east.

Some Good Players

Mindful of that and the fact championships have a habit of following the McCreedy-Kowcinak combination, the Millionaires coaxed them into their fold this year.

Sydney has lost Tony Graboski, who led the league in scoring last year, to Montreal Canadiens. Glace Bay Miners signed up Bull Juzda, Winnipeg star, only to discover he had decided to go instead with New York Rangers. The Miners were thrown for another loss when the Westmount Canadiens were given rights to Les Ramsay, a player sought by Glace Bay.

Unless Sydney loses McCreedy and Kowcinak, however, these losses will be accepted as the fortunes of war and the teams will be more or less satisfied to start the 66-game schedule with those already at hand. If Sydney loses the duo, it will hurt—decidedly.

Of last year's team, Sydney kept goalie Bill Dickie, Remi Van Daele, Ray Powell, Jack Fritz, Jack Atchinson and Bud McEachern along with Coach Bill Gill. Besides Snowdon, McCreedy and Kowcinak, they have signed or claim Steve Latoski, last year with Ottawa, Bill McGregor, Winnipeg; Ray Mullins, Valleyfield; and Bill Hanon, last season with North Sydney. They probably have others as well but no team as yet has shown its hand fully.

Veterans and Others

Glace Bay Miners scrapped all but Hal McBride, Boots Baird, Matt Kelly and Irving McGillbbon and picked up Jimmy Foster—on two Allan Cup winers with Moncton Hawks—as goalie. Irving Mackie, Quebec; Jim Dewey, Sudbury; George Newbolt, Sudbury; Moe White, Verdun; Alex Archer, Winnipeg; and Vic Hanneberry, South Porcupine, Ont., in addition to playing coach Jo-Jo Graboski, said to be even better than his brother Tony.

North Sydney kept only goalie Bill (Legs) Fraser, Norman McKay, Ab McKinnon and Frankie Clifton and signed up Walter Schere, Kitchener, Ont.; Maurice Merchant, Geraldton, Ont.; Bill Sneider, Nelson, B.C.; Howard Mason, Guelph, Ont.; Glenn Sutherland, Brandon, Man., and Tic Williams, last year with Sydney, and Jimmy Russell, former Glace Bay Miner. Mickey Roach, one-time N.H.L. player, was retained as coach.

NEW WHITE HOPE HAS HIGH HOPES

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 6 —(CP)— Billy Conn's Irish eyes are smiling and it isn't all because he's courting the world's heavyweight championship.

He's also courting a girl—he won't disclose her identity because her father "would kill me." He wants to get married but—"I've got to make a lot of money first. I've got to lick Joe Louis."

That's a pretty big order for a 23-year-old but behind that goal is the fact that poor boy Billy "came up from the alley" to light heavyweight king and fortune in four short years. "I got only $2.50 for my first fight," recalls pugilism's "white hope." "I didn't have nothing—didn't have a suit of clothes. I had to bum rides downtown. My manager Johnny Ray took me off the street corner and made me a champ.

"Fighting made a high class gentleman out of me. See this house—$110 per month the big automobile downstairs. Look at those $5 ties, $20 hats, $30 shoes, this $75 sport coat. I take care of all the family the whole joint. There's Mother, Dad, two sisters and two brothers Jackie, who's quit fighting, and truck-driver Frankie are joining the Navy. If Uncle Sam sends for me I'll be ready.

"But I've got a lot of big things to do. I've gotta lick Joe Louis. I could whip him right now—any day. I'm the next heavyweight champ. I can't miss. And I'm not bragging either."

GABARDINE FOR FALL

Among fabrics popular with young men, gabardine is hailed by style writers as the material which will enjoy increasing favor this fall. In fact, it is classed by some as a staple, along with grey flannel and similar fabrics. "However, reports Apparel Arts, "a fresh note in gabardine was sounded this spring as students at alert Yale and Princeton, with characteristic individualism, turned to iridescent red, black natural gabardine."

It is reported that this gabardine has long been popular in hot weather countries because the red underside wards off the sun's rays effectively. The outer side has a greenish appearance.

It is likely that this new type of gabardine will increase the popularity of the gabardine fabric family, the same as chalk and pencil stripes have done in the plain color flannel category.
