

Church Activities

KELLY'S CROSS C. W. L.

The regular monthly meeting of St. Joseph's subdivision of C. W. L. Kelly's Cross took place Feb. 18th...

KINGSTON W. M. S.

The monthly meeting of the Kingston United Church Auxiliary of the W. M. S. was held at the home of Mrs. Egan Younker on Tuesday evening Feb. 17th...

PRINCETOWN RD. W. M. S.

Princetown Rd. W.M.S. held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Russel Proud on Tuesday evening Feb. 17th...

CAVENDISH W. M. S.

The monthly meeting of the Cavendish W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. Alfred Moore on Thursday afternoon January 15th...

Throat Distress May Mean DANGER

When the chest is sore and your cough hangs on, you naturally become worried. One sufferer who was troubled over her condition, writes: "My back pained. I coughed a lot..."

NERVILINE A FAST RELIEF

IF THEY ARE NOT SAVED OUR WORLD IS LOST

What hope is there for those millions of little ones in ruined lands today who are starving, ragged, ignorant—if not dying?

And what hope is there for the future of our world if they are not helped?

All the opportunities offered OUR children will mean nothing if those others grow up with sickly bodies and embittered minds—for the future of our children is bound up with theirs. They MUST be helped. When we help them, we help our own. The Canadian Appeal for Children offers all Canadians the opportunity to share in meeting their desperate needs.

YOUR HELP IS NEEDED—NOW. Your donation will be received at any BANK. Since you may not be canvassed, don't let failure to act be on your conscience—turn your sympathy and good wishes into a tangible contribution—go to your bank NOW and GIVE.

GIVE TO

Canadian

APPEAL FOR CHILDREN

Appeal now being jointly conducted by United Nations Appeal for Children, and Canadian Council for Reconstruction through UNESCO

Campaign Provincial Chairman The HON. THANE A. CAMPBELL. Campaign Headquarters, Brace Block, Charlottetown, Telephone 744

Mum advertisement with image of a woman and product tin. Text: BE NICE TO BE NEAR. 1. Safe for cherm. Mum gives sure protection against underarm odor all day or evening...

TINY WAISTLINE CARNEGIE MODE

NEW YORK — Hattie Carnegie continues to emphasize the tiny waistline and the natural, rounded contours. Hemlines seem to be at about the same levels at this house, longer than last fall and varied according to the type of costume and the time of day or evening...

Crisp Pique on Suits

The costumes are always shown complete with the right hat, shoes and jewelry, and her new semi-precious tone jewelry sets the color key for many of them. Colored midriffs in dark dresses match the jewelry, or pearl jewelry accents crisp pique collars and cuffs on suits or dresses. The off-shoulder line for cocktails and dinner is used as a frame for triple-strand necklaces of colored stones and jewelry or for chokers with a big medallion of colored stones.

SHINES LIKE CRYSTAL

There is an easy way to clean saffes or bottles with small necks. Peel and cut a raw potato into small pieces, put them into the bottle with some warm water, and shake vigorously up and down. Soon the glass will shine like crystal; then empty out the potato and rinse with cold water.

Spotlighted

FOR FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Men's Signet Rings—hand-some and massive in design.

Ladies' Birthstone Rings—brilliant stones, uniquely mounted.

Enchanting Costume Jewelry—to enhance your spring wardrobe.

WELLNER'S Jewelers Since 1866

Mrs. Moore opened the meeting and the officers for the coming year were installed. Mrs. George MacCoubrey conducting the Installation Service. The officers are: President, Mrs. Gough. Vice-President, Mrs. Moore. Secretary, Mrs. Green. Treasurer, Mrs. Olaf Stevenson and assistant treasurer, Mrs. Ira MacCoubrey. Associate Members Secretary, Mrs. W. A. Graham. Christian Stewardship Secretary, Mrs. L. M. Toombs. Literature and Press Secretary, Mrs. Edward Lowther. Missionary Monthly Secretary, Mrs. W. A. Simpson. Community Friendship Secretary, Mrs. Ernest MacNeill. Supply Secretary, Mrs. Alvah MacNeill. Temperance Secretary, Mrs. Ira MacCoubrey. Organist, Mrs. Lorne MacNeill.

The president gave a short address and verses one and two of Hymn 571 "Standing At The Portal of The Coming Year" were sung. Scripture reading was found in Joshua, first nine verses, followed by prayer by Mrs. Moore and singing last two verses of Hymn 571 brought the worship service to a close. Minutes of the last meeting were read. Roll call was answered by fifteen members and associate members. The next meeting is to be held at the Mansie for World Day of Prayer. All the women in the district were cordially invited to attend. It was decided to send for copies of the World Day of Prayer Program. Community Friendship Secretary's report was, seven calls made and fourteen cards and letters sent. A reading on temperance was given by the Temperance Secretary. A letter was read from the Supply Secretary asking for clothing for needy people in Europe and Asia. Each member was asked to bring some articles of clothing to the next meeting, and a box will be packed for this relief work. The meeting closed by repeating the Lord's Prayer in unison.

CRAPAUD W. M. S.

The regular February meeting of the W.M.S. of Crapaud was held on Thursday afternoon at the United Church Parsonage, Tryon, at the kind invitation of Mrs. Woodside. The meeting was opened with Hymn 187, with the President, Mrs. John Simmons in charge. Due to the absence of the regular secretary, Mrs. Ralph Myers acted in her place. Scripture readings were given by Mrs. Joseph Trovade, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Ralph Myers and Mrs. Frank MacDonald. Prayers were given by Mrs. J.D. MacFarlane and Miss Anna Nicholson, followed by Hymn 243. Collection amounted to $2.66.

Discussion on quilting followed. Mrs. Percy Dawson to order materials and the members to help with same. Mrs. J. D. MacFarlane will have the study book at the next meeting which will be held at the home of Mrs. John Leard. The meeting was closed by singing Hymn 188. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. MacDonald.

IT WAS CAMOUFLAGE The Indians did not wear war paint for the purpose of terrifying their foes, but as camouflage to make them less conspicuous.

BEAU

By Mrs. Harry Pugh Smith

"Beau is unjust and stubborn and—unreasonable." "Most men are," said Madam Scott, "but you're not happy without him."

"No," admitted Carolyn. "Did you ever hear anything about gaining the whole world and losing your own soul, Carolyn?" asked Madam Scott sternly.

"Of course." "There is a price on everything. You can't have a virtue upstanding husband and at the same time lead him around by the nose."

"You wouldn't have let any man tyrannize over you," said Carolyn, pointing her lips. "I'd probably have fought him to a standstill, but I'd never have run out on the job," said Madam Scott, her black eyes flashing.

Suddenly Carolyn wanted terribly to see Beau. She was sure he would be pleased, as pleased as she was. After all Beau's strongest instinct was paternal. He had fathered his whole family. "Everything's going to be all right," she told herself.

home. She meant to call up Beau the minute she got to the house and ask him to come for her. She would tell him frankly she had acted like a little fool, but she never would again. There was to be no trying to save her face. She had been petty and selfish and jealous. From then on Carolyn was determined to be big and generous if it killed her. No more begrudging Beau's attentions to his family. No more bickering about things which were too trifling to matter. "I'm going home with Beau. Tonight! As soon as he can get here," sang Carolyn's heart as she hurried across the street.

She never saw the big truck which swerved to avoid a car pulling out from the curb. She heard someone shout at her, a horn squawked in her ear. She hesitated, confused and a little dizzy, and then she stepped forward hastily. There was a terrific squeal of brakes, something seared her side like a red-hot iron, and Carolyn went down.

She roused slightly when they were putting her into the ambulance. It hurt dreadfully and she moaned and tried to open her eyes. Then pain washed over her like a black sea shot through with lightnings.

"Beau!" whispered Carolyn and lapsed into unconsciousness. After a while she knew she was in bed in a hospital. A nurse was working over her. Carolyn lifted her heavy eyelids but the effort to hold them open was too great. It hurt even to speak.

"Beau," whispered Carolyn. "We've sent for him, dear," murmured her mother in a tremulous voice. "Beau!" whispered Carolyn. "He's on his way, Carolyn," said her father. "He should be here by seven."

The nurse spoke in low tones. She said the patient would be better alone with her. Carolyn heard her mother weeping as she left the room. "You mustn't break down, Julia!" pleaded George Webster. "I'm sure she'll be all right."

"No, no." "Yes," said Beau, cradling her hand against his cheek. (To Be Continued)

TURNIPS CLIMB SOCIAL SCALE

The turnip is just another lowly vegetable that has climbed the social ladder. But while it now graces the canape tray, home economists of the consumer section, Dominion department of agriculture say that turnip's most popular place still remains alongside the meat course at dinner.

Over-cooking may often be the cause of strongly-flavoured turnips. Just as with other vegetables, turnips should be cooked from 25 to 30 minutes in a small amount of water in a covered kettle until just tender-crisp.

If shaved thinly, or coarsely grated with little boiling water added, turnips will cook to perfection in seven minutes.

Baked turnips: slice raw turnips and place in layers in a glass ed casserole. Sprinkle each layer with salt, pepper and a little nutmeg. Add milk to half fill the dish. Top with crumbs and dot with fat, for use crumbs and grated ed vegetables.

cheese. Bake in a moderately hot oven—375 degrees Fahrenheit—until tender in boiling, salted water. Serve filled with mixed cream fat, for use crumbs and grated ed vegetables.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

(Continued from Page 2)

argument about sending out wedding invitations. I say that a wedding invitation only contains the names of the bride's parents, and my girl says it definitely contains the names of the groom's parents. I maintain that the proper etiquette in the matter is for the invitation to have only the bride's parents' names and just the name of the groom.

In sending invitations to relatives and friends who live at a distance and whom you know can't come to the wedding, should we send invitations or just announcements? JAMES ANSWER: The bride's parents are the hosts at the wedding. The pay for the invitations, and they are issued in their name and only the name of the bridegroom. The groom's parents' names are not included in the invitation. The groom's family receive invitations, just as the other guests do.

Invitations or announcements of the wedding are equally proper when sent to guests at a distance.

PUREX Facial Soft TISSUE advertisement. Includes image of a woman's face, a box of tissue, and a tin of tissue. Text: NOW... Facial Soft TISSUE. The New PUREX Facial-Soft TISSUE. So refined, so silky-soft. It pampers your skin! Yet this popular-priced luxury tissue is super-tough, super-absorbent. 2 for 23c.

Constipated? TRY All-Vegetable Laxative

NE, a mild, all-vegetable laxative, is an easy way to help sick stomachs, headache, weary feeling caused by constipation. NR's have thorough, pleasing action. They're all vegetable. NR Juniors (1/4 strength) for extra-mild action. Regular NR's for average use. Chocolate coated or plain.

TAKE TO-NIGHT 10¢ TOMORROW ALRIGHT 25¢