W. C. T. U. Notes

GIVE THANKS!

For sweet hopes born, and for sorrows dead
For true songs sung and for fond words said;
For the ready cup, or the daily bread;

For the race that the faithful feet have run;
For the bitter strife, for the battle won;
For brave deeds planned and for brave deeds done;

For the truth that liveth forevermore;
For mercy's graciously open door;
For the light that shines from the other shore.

Give thanks, give thanks! Lo! the Spirit saith,
Let everything that hath voice or breath
Give thanks for life—for life and death.

—Carlotta Perry.

METHODS OF WORK
By Mrs. L. L. Reddick

Why do we have so many departments of work? Why do we not concentrate on the one great idea of temperance?

While the purpose of our organizaton is to teach the value of total abstinence and to unite our prayers and strength to defeat the forces of the liquor traffic we must remember that there are many contributing factors and ways of approach in this definite task.

The W. C. T. U. in Ontario has 18 departments of work; each with a splendid, efficient superintendent, as their reports at Conventon show.

1. The Evangelistic Department deepens the spiritual life and strengthens our belief in prayer, giving courage for great undertakings.

2. The Anti-Narcotic Department is an important part of our educational effort to help to fortify against the use of narcotic drugs, which is such a destructive menace in the world today.

3. The Canadianization and Citizenship Departments seek to impress upon the women the responsibility of the franchise and to enlist our naturalized New Canadians in the spirit and purpose of good citizenship.

4. Why Fairs and Exhibitions? There is no finer opportunity for the display of posters and other educational temperance exhibits from girls and boys, than a country and other fairs. There, too, a Rest Room where temperance literature may be found, a place where refreshments or meals may be provided, gives local unions a real opening to extend their work, gain new members and increase their funds.

5. The Flower Mission may be a real blessing in every day living and should radiate blessing.

6-7. The Little White Ribboners and the Loyal Temperance Legions train the children in sobriety.

8. Medal Contests bring out the talent for elocution, with the teaching of temperance in every reading.

9. Moral Education, Mother's Meetings, Health and Heredity—rich in opportunities of teaching for the home.

10. Non-Alcoholic Fruit Drinks is to combat the social intoxicating glass by indicating delightful fruit drinks with no alcoholic content.

11. Peace and Arbitration is our training ground for opponents of war.

12. The Press aims at keeping before the reading public temperance ideals and efforts.

13. The Publicity and Social Meetings aim to increase our numbers and to gain honorary members.

14. Sabbath Observance and Law Enforcement watches against infringement of our law.

15. Scientific Temperance in Day Schools and our Temperance in Sunday Schools have been reaching thousands of Canadian youth with temperance teaching.

15. Our Soldier's and Sailor's Departments enable us to share with others in ministering cheer to those who have served us at a sacrifice.

17. The Work of the Traveller's Aid is far reaching, meeting hundreds in need of friendly advice and help.

18. World and Canadian Missions means the opening up of new fields in distant lands for temperance teaching, and assistance to our Indian reserves here in Canada.

P. S. FIELDING,
Clerk of the Executive Council.

PUBLICITY PROVES CURB TO DRUNKEN DRIVING IN CITY

"The more publicity the better; it's the best way to make citizens realize that laws are made to be observed, not disregarded."

So remarked Magistrate R. B. Graham, Thursday afternoon, as he stepped into a car in the police garage at central headquarters.

He was referring to drunken motorists who, since September, 1935, have to go to jail for seven days instead of paying the old customary minimum fine of $50 plus costs.

This amendment to the Criminal Code making a jail sentence compulsory, together with the publicity given to all drunken motorists who are convicted, has resulted in a marked decrease in the number of intoxicated drivers, both Magistrate Graham and Cheief of Police George Smith state.

"They don't like their names in the paper," said the chief, and Magistrate Graham agreed.

And Magistrate Graham knows exactly what he is talking about for it was only [illegible] he was forced to send a personal friend to Headingley [illegible] while under the influence of alcohol. He also ordered that his license be suspended for six months and the car he was driving would have been impounded for three months had it been his own.

Proving that the com[illegible] term, instead of the old $50 fine, together with pu[illegible] work, Chief of Police Smith Thursday issued figures showing a reduction in the number of drunken drivers to appear before the court this year, as compared with the corresponding period of 1935.

Up to October 28th of the present year, only 35 auto drivers had been convicted and jailed for driving their cars while intoxicated, while another five were similarly dealt with for having care of a motor vehicle while drunk. Last year, up to the corresponding date, drunken drivers totalled 56, and those convicted of being in charge of an auto while drunk, were nine.

But even 35 drunken drivers are too many in the opinion of Chief Smith, who Thursday issued a warning to all citizens to leave their cars at home when they set out to attend the mid-week cocktail party or the week-end spree.

It's impossible to "fix" a drunken driving charge at Rupert Avenue polce headquarters, no matter who the accused may be. Doctors, merchants, railwaymen and bank employees have all been convicted during the past year, and all have been sent to prison. And all had their names in the newspaper, too, which, in some instances, was a more bitter pill to swallow than going to jail.

"Leave your car at home when party-bound. Then you won't get into trouble." That's the warning of Chief Police George Smith.

"Does God care for the world? Surely here is the answer. Christ cared enough to come and share the world's toil, to explore the world's experience and to die at the world's ungrateful hands."

Morning Stock Letter

(Received over Pitfield and Co's Private Wire)

NEW YORK, Jan. 22—The London market opened firm today. International issues also opened firm but later reacted. President Sloan of General Motors and other executives left Washington yesterday after a statement by John L. Lewis appealing through Secretary Perkins to the president to assist workers in every legal way. General Motors executives arrived in New York this morning. John L. Lewis in a previous conference yesterday said that after the General Motors strike had been settled that the Ford Motor Company and the Chrysler Corporation would be expected to do a little collective bargaining and warned the steel industry that its time was coming soon. In additon to the unsatisfactory labor news this morning flood conditions in some sections of the country are quite bad. U. S. Pipe and Foundry declared yesterday four quarterly dividends of 75 cents. The Wall Street Journal estimates that National Steel may show better than $8 for 1936 as against $5.16 in 1935. U. S. Steel is scheduled to publish its fourth quarterly statement next Tuesday.
