EYE STRAIN

We use this adjective advisedly. Sufferers from Eye-strain may have perfect vision and therefore do not suspect the presence of any eye defect.

The motive power of the entire human organism is Nerve Energy.

Normal eyes, it is computed utilize about 20% of this Nerve Energy, but when Eye-strain is present, a much larger proportion is required. Hence defective eyes, through their consumption of an excessive amount of Nerve Energy, may seriously affect the functioning of other organs of the body, and produce ill health.

A full mail for Great Britain will be forwarded by the Malta from Montreal also on Wednesday, the 4th. A full mail for Ireland and Scotland will go forward by the Steamer Metagama from Montreal on Thursday, the 5th and another full mail for Great Britain by the Montrose from Montreal on Friday, the 6th and a full mail will also be forwarded from Montreal by the Steamers Doric and Ascania on Saturday, the 7th November.

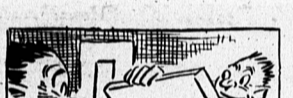

A WARNING.—Mr. Robert Jenkins writes: "There is a fine shell being played on the market at the present time but too powerful for the ordinary make of gun. Two supposedly good fire arms have been destroyed within the past few weeks at Mt. Albion by its use. In one case the sportsman escaped injury but the other young man was not fortunate as he had his hand injured and suffered from shock. I would advise gunners to be very careful in using this ammunition in any but the best made guns."

CANINE DISTEMPER.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—A new step on the road to health for dogs was made to-day at the Ellis Prince Speyer Hospital for Animals. Veterinary medicine is keeping pace with all the modern innovations being used in combating human ills.

A quartz lamp for giving ultra-violet ray treatment in cases of canine distemper was installed to-day. Only one other animal hospital in America offers his treatment, the Angel Memorial Hospital in Boston and another in Kansas.

In giving the treatment to canine patients are equipped with blue goggles to protect their eyes from the strong light. They are placed on a platform to take the treatment. The ultra-violet rays, acting like strong sunshine tend to stimulate the body functions and to restore elements that the patients has lost through disease.

The dogs seem to enjoy basking in the warmth of the strong rays. One a huge police dog suffering from paralysis seemed to enjoy the treatment just as much as he would a bone.

Dr. J. W. Patton, the specialist in charge of the distemper ward said he hoped to reduce the mortality rate through this treatment. At the Speyer Hospital the mortality rate is about 50 per cent. This is considerably lower than the rate in general practice it is said.

The hospital authorities soon hope to have a laboratory where the causes of distemper can be studied. So far no veterinary has been able to discover the causes of distemper. This disease is the great enemy of dogs. The ravages of distemper have caused many breeders to close their kennels. Once the epidemic starts it is doubtful if it can be efficiently checked.

BRINGING UP FATHER

DR. H. A. FRICKER Of Toronto, elected president of the Canadian College of Organists at their annual meeting in the Ontario capital.

BRILLIANT STUDENT IS SUICIDE VICTIM.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 31.—Suicide, the police agreed caused the death of Edwin T. Gardner, 28-years-old brilliant student, found last night by his father hanging from a rafter in the attic of his home, attired in feminine garb and wearing a wig.

Although his wrists and ankles were tied with twine, the father, Robert S. Gardner, and investigators theorized that the young man, who had been an ambitious worker in the chemical department of a packing plant had contrived the setting to give the death the appearance of murder.

The mother who was alone in the house with her son at the time of the hanging, was not questioned. She has been ill for 10 years.

USED TO IT.

"Don't you find it difficult to write on a moving car?" inquired a trolley passenger as the conductor was jotting down some notes after a slight accident.

"Oh, you get used to it sir" replied the conductor. "Why, when I write a letter at home now I have to get my little girl to jiggle the table."

PREPARATION OF SOIL FOR HOTBEDS.

(Experimental Farms Note.) Soil for hotbed work requires proper preparation to give best results. Too little attention is paid to its preparation by the majority of growers, and this may be attributed much of the difficulty encountered in the production of healthy plants. It costs very little more to prepare the soil properly, than to follow the questionable method of using the same soil over again or obtaining soil without regard to its condition.

A clean piece of sod should be selected, preferably on sandy loam soil. Cut and pile the sods carefully with alternate layers of straw. The cutting and piling should be done either in the autumn or during the month of June, at any rate the pile should be left standing over the summer, when the whole pile or the part required may be cut down and piled in a convenient place for hotbed work the following spring. This method of preparation will provide a soil with ample fibre, which is very essential, and which contains sufficient plant food for ordinary work. If the soil is not considered rich enough for special work, more manure may be added or commercial fertilizer used to supplement the manure already present in the soil.

While the foregoing method is the most satisfactory, if this procedure has not been followed, it is often possible to obtain sandy loam soil from the surface of a field that has just produced a hoe crop in a three or four year rotation. This soil should be obtained in the fall, and piled in a convenient place if not rich enough in plant food, commercial fertilizer may be added to suit the special requirements. As a rule, however, this is not necessary, because in a well planned rotation manure is used quite liberally which should render the soil in fairly good condition for the purpose.

When it is not convenient to obtain a sandy loam soil, and heavier soil has to be used, clean sand may be added until the proper consistency of soil has been obtained. Under normal condition it is always possible to water, but attention must be given to drainage or it will be difficult to keep conditions right for plant growth. Those who have not been preparing their hotbed soil in advance, should make a start now, as it is a step towards greater future profits.
