DR. GORDON AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH

Former Pastor Preaches Eloquent Sermons Before Good-Sized Congregations

Preaching yesterday morning and evening in the Baptist Church, in the edifice which was built during his pastorate some thirty years ago, Rev. J. A. Gordon, D. D., of Montreal, took as the subject of both his sermons, which were delivered to large congregations, "The Flawless Rule of Life."

Taking his text from 1st. Corinthians, 10:31, "Whether therefore ye eat, or drink, or whatsoever you do, do all to the glory of God," the preacher in the course of his morning sermon said that the world was a great theatrical stage, on which each individual was playing his given role and for which there was no possible chance for rehearsal. It was of great value to Christians as actors to be supplied with a perfect pattern and a flawless rule for their guidance. Jesus Christ was the pattern and the text the flawless rule.

Dividing his discourse into a number of sections, Dr. Gordon took as his first head the question:

What Is the Flawless Rule of Life?

And answered it with this brief statement from the text, "Do all to the glory of God." "Can you repeat the whole law while standing on one foot?" was the question, said the preacher, that had been put to the great teacher Gamaliel, by one of the quibbling critics of his day. The whole law of life and living, however, containing only seven words of single syllables, "Do all to the glory of God," could be repeated in a single breath.

Jesus Christ condensed the whole contents of the Old and New Testaments, including all its systematic and practical theology, when all the redundancy of translation is removed, into twenty two words, twenty of which are single syllables: "Thou shall love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, mind, and strength, and thy neighbor as thyself." Upon these two rules, said the speaker, hung all the laws and the prophets.

Christ also compressed all that was in Christianity into two words, "Follow Me." The preacher of Ecclesiastes summed the whole duty of man into fourteen words, "Fear God and keep the Commandments, for this is the whole duty of man." So Paul condensed the whole rule of life and living into these seven simple words, "Do all to the Glory of God."

The rule is simple in application, said the preacher. It is not over the voluminous character of the Divine Law or the profundity of Divine doctrine, that men stumble, fail, and fall, but over its brevity and the simplicity of the faith that it requires. The story of Naaman was used to illustrate this point.

Known a few years ago as "that man O'Connor," who has announced his intention of being a candidate in the coming election for Wright, Que. His platform will be the putting into force against the United States and other protectionist countries of their own tariff, schedule for schedule, except in cases where it will be to Canada's benefit to vary the rule.

Margot Gives Way to Urge of Fashions

LONDON, Aug. 9—The accession of Laborite women to the House of Commons has compelled Lady Astor, the female parliamentary pioneer, to make an important concession. First, Dorothy Jewson appeared in the House in a green jumper, brown shawl and other colored garments. Then along came Ellen Wilkinson with a flowered bonnet. The lure proved too much for the severely dressed Lady Astor, who has been the chief exponent of austerity in parliamentary attire. Lady Astor still clings to her stern, black dress, but around the brim of her modest hat there now creeps a dainty garland of posies.

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 9.—"There is every indication that a Dominion election will be held this fall," Dr. F. S. Tolmie, Federal Conservative organizer and member of Victoria told a crowd of 6,000 at the annual Conservative picnic here.

"Everywhere the news is heard, from Nova Scotia to British Columbia."

Dr. Tolmie said the government has so amended the law that an election could be called in 45 days instead of two months, as in the past. He warned Conservatives to be ready for a sudden appeal to the country.

WORK IN NOVA SCOTIA MINES MAY NOT COMMENCE TODAY

Misunderstanding Between Besco And U. M. W. Concerning Hiring of Men Said To Be Main Trouble—1300 Men Signed On Payroll Saturday.

(Canadian Press)

SYDNEY, N. S., Aug. 9. —Work may not be resumed in the coal mines of the province tomorrow as had been planned, a misunderstanding having arisen between the British Empire Steel Corporation and the United Mine Workers concerning the hiring on of the men. The miners at number twelve colliery, New Waterford represented to the district executive that some men had been refused their former places, while others had been signed on who applied after them. District President John W. MacLeod said that unless this difficulty were cleared up the miners would not go back to work tomorrow. A meeting was to have been held this afternoon to settle the difference, but with Vice President J. E. McLurg of the Corporation absent in Baddeck and others failing to turn up it did not start until this evening. Thirteen hundred men had been signed on yesterday before the misunderstanding arose.

CHURCHES OF CHRIST CLOSE MOST SUCCESSFUL CONVENTION

One of the most profitable and inspiring conventions of the Churches of Christ of Prince Edward Island, closed last night at Cross Roads, Lot 48. The convention opened Friday evening with devotional exercises led by Rev. W. R. McWalker, who is the energetic pastor at East Point. Rev. R. W. Lindsay of Cross Roads gave an address of welcome in an unusually happy strain which captivated the hearts of all present. Rev. C. E. Armstrong, of Montague, responded in his usual apt manner and the response was much appreciated by all present.

The address of the evening was delivered by Rev. John H. Wells, who is popularly known as "The Diamond Jubilee Evangelist" of the Churches of Christ in Canada. Mr. Wells possesses all the elements of an attractive speaker and his heart to heart addresses at this convention proved him to be a young man who is capable of filling a large place in the ministry of this growing Christian body.

Saturday morning's devotional service was opened by Mr. R. H. McNeill, who is considered one of the most active lay Sunday School workers in the Province of Nova Scotia. He is also considered one of the most outstanding figures in lay evangelism in that province. Mr. McNeill's timely address was followed by an address by the President of the Convention, Rev. C. E. Armstrong, whose skilful leadership was a marked feature of all the meetings.

At this session Mr. Ruben Butchart, of Toronto, the editor of the Canadian Disciple, gave a most practical address to the delegates of the convention. Mr. Butchart is a writer of no mean order and his incisive exposition of the needs of the hour was forceful and convincing.

Saturday afternoon was devoted to the work of the Women's Missionary Society. The women certainly knew how to bring out the people, for that session was the largest up to that time. The reports on Missions were the most encouraging for some time. Evangelist Wells added to the interest of this meeting by his usual practical and tactful address.

The great feature of Saturday evening's meeting was an address by Rev. Grant K. Lewis, who is without doubt one of the most outstanding figures in connection with the entire brotherhood of Disciples on the continent. He understands the history of the movement from A to Z and has the happy faculty of saying big things in plain and simple language. Mr. Lewis is an American with headquarters in Missouri and has his hand upon the entire machinery that links up over 9,000 churches and a million and a half of communicants with property holdings to the value of over $27,000,000, making a combination of one of the greatest religious forces on this Continent. Mr. Lewis made a profound impression on all who heard him and the wish expressed on all sides is that he may shortly visit the Island again.

Great regrets were expressed that the Rev. R. E. Stevenson, a native born son of the Island, and one of the most powerful preachers of this communion in the United States was not able to be present to fill his appointment owing to bad roads.

Sunday afternoon's devotional service was led by Mr. W. H. Stevenson of Charlottetown, who is one of the ablest lay members of the P. E. Island convention. Following this address Rev. Grant K. Lewis gave the last of his powerful addresses.

The last meeting of the convention was held Sunday night when the Rev. Neil Herman, who has been supplying the Central Christian church in Charlottetown for the last few Sundays, was the speaker. His subject was "Soul Winning, the Supreme Business of the Church of Christ." Mr. Herman's sermons during his short stay in Charlottetown, had prepared the congregation for his eloquent and inspiring address on this occasion and he was listened to with rapt attention throughout his soul stirring discourse.

This was followed by the usual Mizpah Service which was a noted feature of the gathering.

Too much cannot be said regarding the splendid music furnished at all the meetings by the Cross Roads choir and the choir of the Central Christian Church led by Professor Tanton. The solo, duet and quartette numbers were of an exceptionally high order and greatly appreciated. Mention should be made of that wonderful soul stirring soloist, Mr. Keenie, a young American, who is lined up in the evangelistic work with Rev. John H. Wells. Seldom has the Island heard an evangelistic singer of such rare power and sympathetic effect.

Mr. Robert M. Hopkins, who is also one of the strongest lay members of the convention, and whose timely words added much to the interest of the gathering, was one of the leaders of the devotional exercises of the convention.

Both N. B. Leaders Predict Victory

SAINT JOHN, N. B., Aug. 9.—In public statements given out Saturday night, both Premier P. J. Veniot and Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, rival leaders in Monday's balloting to decide the complexion of New Brunswick's next legislative assembly, predicted victory.

Premier Veniot said: "After a tour of the province in which I spoke in every county except one I can assure my friends that the government will be sustained. I count on 29 seats out of the 48."

And Dr. Baxter declared: "It looks to me from all indications that popular sentiment is in our favor and that we shall win by a large majority."

SAINT JOHN, N. B., Aug. 9—Today is provincial election day in New Brunswick, when the electorate will be called upon to choose the personnel of the next Legislative Assembly, the decision reached will also determine the fate of the Government headed by Hon. P. J. Veniot and settle the question as to whether Grand Falls is to be developed immediately as a publicly owned and operated hydro enterprise as advocated by the Government or be subjected to further investigation as to its practicability as laid down by Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, leader of the Opposition. Last night Dr. Baxter claimed that the Opposition would at least carry 32 seats out of the total of 48 in the House. Previously Premier Veniot had stated that he regarded 29 seats as safe for the Government.

(Canadian Press.)

QUEBEC, Aug 9—The Canadian Pacific liner Montrose, outward bound from Montreal and Quebec with about 350 passengers and a general cargo of grain and hay as well as mails, for Liverpool returned to port here today after striking an unknown obstacle during a dense fog on Friday. The fog was encountered between Craine Island and Cape Salmon, about sixty miles down the river and Capt. Landry ordered the anchors cast out. This was done and the ship in coming to, fouled her aft end on the obstruction according to the Captain. It was later found that the vessel's rudder had been damaged and that the oil tank was leaking. The wrecking steamer Lord Strathcona was dispatched from here to help the Montrose, but the latter returned to Quebec under her own steam. The passengers and cargo of the Montrose will be transferred to other steamers. No panic was experienced among the passengers.

Splendid Broadcasting From Ch'town Sunday

Yesterday station 10 A. S. again broadcast the two services of the United Church, and also the dinner hour musical programme of the Victoria Hotel. At the morning service the soloist was Mr. T. W. Bentley whose singing was greatly enjoyed by all.

A unique feature of the day was the reception by Radio, of the dinner programme from the Victoria Hotel, in the dining room of the sister Hotel, the Queen. The guests of the Queen Hotel enjoyed the Orchestra very much and were greatly pleased with the novelty of the event.

The receiver was loaned through the kindness of Major Keith Rogers, President of The Island Radio Co.

10 A. S. has made a decided improvement in the matter of volume through the use of a new amplifier and it is expected will be heard in more distant points in the future. Letters of appreciation are regularly received from Nova Scotia points. The Wave length is quite low 232 metres.

Enthusiasm Grows In Buenos Aires

(Special to the Guardian)

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 9.—As Monday, August 17th, approaches, this being the day on which the Prince of Wales is due to arrive here, the enthusiasm grows. Elaborate preparations have been made for the Prince's reception, which include illuminations that promise to surpass even the past remarkable records of the city.

With traditional Argentine hospitality no effort is being spared to do honor to the royal guest. There will be banquets, balls, polo games and matches, racing and a grand military review among other events. The date of the Palermo Cattle Show has been advanced to coincide with the Prince's visit, which promises to be the most brilliant social success apart from the political and eventually the material benefit which will accrue to Britain.

No further cabinet changes are expected till after his visit, hence some newspapers chaffingly credit the Prince with unwittingly influencing Argentine politics.

WILL NOT DO THE NUT ACT SAYS SCOTT

"I'm As Sane as You Are," His Greeting to Newspapermen — Free Soon He Thinks.

CHICAGO, Aug 9—Russell Scott who last night escaped the gallows when a jury decided he had become insane since his conviction for murder, yesterday informed newspapermen that he is "as sane as you are."

"They want me to do the nut act," he said, "but I won't do it." The former Canadian financier who was convicted of the murder of a Chicago drug clerk in a holdup and who five times neared death on the gallows, will be taken to the Chester Asylum for the Insane tomorrow morning.

He was to have gone today but the state's attorney objected to the form of commitment insisting that the commitment should specify that if Scott becomes sane, he be returned to the sheriff of Cook County to pay for his crime on the gallows.

Judge Joseph B. David, who presided at the sanity hearing concluded yesterday, agreed to the change which will be made in open court tomorrow morning.

Scott today was taken back to his familiar quarters in the death cell where three times he started to spend what he believed were his last hours. His occupancy of the death cell today, however, was merely for the purpose of receiving relatives and reporters.

"I suppose I'm going to the Chester," Scott said, "But I'm no more insane than anyone of you. The fight is just beginning. It will not be long before my absolute innocence is proved. The wonderful work of my wife and parents will be justified in a short while and I will be free."

Scott's alleged delusions of persecution on which the defence based the plea that he is insane, were apparent in his next remarks.

"It is the Canadian interest that have been persecuting me" he continued. "They are insisting on the persecution of an innocent man. I wish that I could have taken the stand in the last few days. I would have told the hundreds of people in the court-room some of the facts in this case."

Dispute Settled
