Gay—Schurman Wedding

A very pretty wedding took place on Monday, Sept. 4th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Horatio Schurman, Summerside, when their eldest daughter, Edna May, became the bride of F-Sgt. Howard Gay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gay.

To the strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. Winsloe Morrison, the bride entered the room on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. She looked charming in her floor length wedding gown of white satin, her long veil being held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of Happy Day roses, babys breath and maiden hair fern. The bridesmaid was Miss Millie Rayner who was dressed in blue satin and carried a nosegay of Sweetheart roses. The groom was supported by Mr. Robert Schurman, a cousin of the bride. The bride's mother wore a navy sheer dress with corsage of Better Time roses. The groom's mother was dressed in navy with a corsage of American Beauty roses. During the signing of the register Mrs. Morrison played "O Promise Me."

The ceremony was performed by Rev. William Bilson, pastor of Summerside Central Christian Church of which the bride was a very valuable member.

The house was prettily decorated with gorgeous flowers supplied by the Bo Kay Gardens. After congratulations had been extended to the young couple a delicious buffet lunch was served to the many guests. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Jack Schurman, Mrs. Ben Schurman and Mrs. Herbert Schurman, all aunts of the bride. Mrs. Frank Green, cousin of the bride, poured. The two tier wedding cake which was decorated with a miniature bride and groom was cut by the bride.

Later the bride and groom left on their honeymoon, by motor, on a tour of the Maritime Provinces. For going away the bride wore a two-piece suit of powder blue with matching accessories with a corsage of Dream roses.

Previous to her marriage a shower was held in her honor by members of the Christian Church when many beautiful gifts were received by the bride.—S.

Ch'town Library Great Asset To Reading Public

When, in 1933, the Prince Edward Island Government came to an agreement with the Carnegie Libraries, there was introduced in the Province a system of free libraries which has not its equal in any other Province of Canada.

It is true there are two sections of British Columbia, the Okanagan and the Fraser valleys, that have the same system that is enjoyed here but only in Prince Edward Island can it be said that all the people, urban and rural, have free access to any standard work on any subject and to the world's best literature.

The reading public of Charlottetown is especially fortunate. Naturally, in this the Island's largest centre of population, there are many more books to choose from in the public library than in those of the smaller centres. Of course, in cases where the matter of time is of slight importance, the rural reader is not greatly handicapped compared to the city dweller, for there is no book in the city public library which cannot be in the rural reader's hands in a few days if he will take the trouble to order it from his rural librarian. But there is no denying that the studious city reader has, by reason of the larger number of books at his disposal, an immediate advantage over the rural reader.

Books and Reading Tables

The Charlottetown Library is a splendid building especially designed and built in 1929 to serve the needs of the reading public. On the ground floor it contains plenty of space for several reading tables which are used daily (except Sundays) by scores of interested readers and its shelves contain thousands of books of fiction and non-fiction. Practically every subject of interest to thinking man is represented on the shelves. There are books of reference on every subject of public or academic interest: encyclopedias, Whitaker's Almanac, Canadian Almanac, Canada Year Book, Heaton's Commercial Handbook, Canadian Parliamentary Guide, Canadian Trade Index, English and Canadian Who's Who, and dictionaries of all the more important languages.

In the basement, secure under lock and key, are thousands of irreplacable Island newspapers, many of them going back to 1841. Here are files of the now extinct Colonial Herald, the Island Argus, the Watchman, Palladium, Monitor, the Islander, and the Examiner. Also old copies of the Patriot, the Royal Gazette and the Guardian. Some of those old files make very interesting reading.

The staff consists of three capable, intelligent, and courteous women: Miss Jean Gill, Miss Margaret Jenkins, and Miss Agnes McQuaid. They are always willing to go to considerable trouble to satisfy the particular taste of the individual reader by helping in the selection of his reading or by directing him to the particular shelf where the desired book or books may be. There is no doubt that much of the popularity of the library is owing to their patient and courteous dealings with the patrons.

Help to School Children

Miss Gill is of the opinion that many parents commit a serious error in discouraging their children in the use of the library once the school term opens. In her opinion the supplementary reading of subject matter analogous to the school or college texts could not but have a broadening influence on the student's mind. Miss Gill believes that if there is any time more than another in which the school-child should make use of the library facilities it is during the school term.

out resistance. They did the same at the Marne.

It may be that no stand will be made.

The war, so far as bitter fighting is concerned, may be over in Western Europe. The atmosphere in France is electric and this possibility is discussed everywhere.

Amazing Days

Nothing will be a surprise after the amazing days that have followed the crossing of the Seine.

The Allied troops have almost been joyriding across Northern France. It must seem unbelievable to the men of the last war with their bitter memories of Amiens and Verdun.

The bag of prisoners runs to thousands.

The Canadian advance now is going on with, if anything, greater speed than before.

The Canadians are in the heart of the flying bomb country. Wrecked sites are everywhere. Those which the R. A. F. did not wreck the Germans blew up.

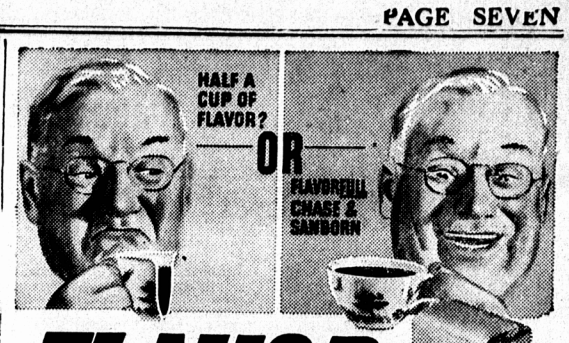
Miss Jerry McKinnon, Montreal left by plane Monday morning after visiting her aunt, Mrs. A. D. Borden, 2 Brighton Road for the past two months.

Mr. and Mrs. George Walton and son Francis of Moncton visited Mrs. Walton's sister, Mrs. Charles McDonald, Hanover Street, Summerside over the week-end—S.

Miss Vivian Abbott, City left Monday morning for a two weeks visit to Boston and New Bedford, Mass. She was accompanied by her cousin Mrs. Clayton Worthington and son Paul who have been summering at Stanhope Beach, the guests of Mrs. Russell Abbott.

Cpl. Everett Gavin, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Charlie Gavin, arrived in the city yesterday. Mrs. Gavin, on the advice of her doctor has entered the P. E. I. hospital for treatment and her many friends in town and country wish her a complete recovery.

Mrs. Cecil Wightman and son Arnold left last week for their home in Sydney, N. S., followed by many regrets. Mr. Wightman spent the month of August with his family in Montague and during the summer the many friends of this popular family spent many happy hours with them at their beautiful new summer home, situated on the banks of the Montague river.



FLAVOR

For The Knockout Blow

Great quantities of shells pour from Canada's munitions factories each week; shells that are needed badly by the fighting men of the United Nations. In the picture above, shells are checked in one manufacturing plant before being sent on to a shell-filling plant in another city. As the Allied forces gather for the final knockout blow to Germany, more shells are needed and vast numbers of workers are required to produce them. Thousands of men and women are being recruited by Employment and Selective Service officers for shell filling and shell manufacturing plants across Canada.

City Schools Open

The City schools opened yesterday with an enrollment greater on the whole than last year. Queen Square School has 579 pupils compared to 560 last year. Prince Street 510 to 568 last year. Rochford Square 512 to 491. Figures for West Kent will be available today and will show a considerable increase over those of last year, it is stated. All schools have their full complement of teachers.
