Edgar Shaw yesterday morning, and was bound over to keep the peace for six months and pay costs of court. It appears from the evidence of several witnesses examined, that when the landlord attempted to eject the tenant, the latter attempted to strike him with an axe. The tenant was given thirty days to vacate the house.

MARRIED IN STATES—A quiet, but pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Panton, Cambridge, Mass., on Christmas Eve, Dec. 24th, when Miss Ina M. Mr. Burns, on the following night, had the misfortune of falling and having two other young ladies fall over her, one of whose skates made a deep cut in one of her limbs, necessitating several stitches. SHORTLY BEFORE ten o'clock on Monday morning the large residence, of Mr. Henry Crozier at Wilmot Valley caught fire through the explosion of a gasoline engine in the washroom and in a short time the house was reduced to ashes. Mr. Crozier was away from home at the time driving the school children of the district into Summerside as is his custom. His wife alone in the house was doing the family washing in an out kitchen attached to the main part of the house, with the aid of a gasoline engine. Mr. Crozier, it is supposed, attempted to fill the tank while the engine was running and it exploded burning her very badly about the face, arms and hands. The house was quickly in flames. Neighbors rushed to the spot and took Mrs. Crozier to Mrs. Robert Waugh's house near by. It was with difficulty that any of the furniture was saved as the flames spread so quickly but after strenuous efforts a few things were taken from the burning building. Only the out buildings and Mrs. Waugh's house were saved, and this was due to the efforts of the neighbors, who piled snow upon them and also to the fact that the day was calm with no wind. Mr. Crozier's residence, which was one of the finest in the district, was only partly covered by insurance. A pile of wood in the out kitchen was still burning at noon although the house itself was entirely burned out with nothing but the chimneys standing. Mrs. Crozier was taken to the Prince County Hospital, where she is resting as comfortably as can be expected. Much sympathy is expressed for Mr. and Mrs. Crozier in their loss. S.

She had resided in Boston and vicinity since her marriage but visited her Island home frequently, her last visit being two years ago. Her husband predeceased her two years. The older residents of Summerside will have kind recollections of Mrs. Strong in her girlhood. TRAFFIC DIFFICULT—The heavy fall of snow yesterday morning, and the ensuing heavy rain left the streets in even worse condition than they were during the past week. Cars had to proceed slowly through long water-filled sloughs, cut down in most places to the asphalt. Crossing or turning at the intersections constituted a problem in navigation for the most skilled drivers. Pedestrians found travel equally as unpleasant, as there was a constant danger of stepping into hidden pools of water, or being splashed at intersections by passing cars.

LAST TRIP FOR SEASON—The S. S. Hillsboro made two return trips, probably the last for the season, over its usual route to Rocky Point yesterday. The passages were accomplished with considerable difficulty, as the harbor is frozen over completely, except at the point where the three tides meet. Last year the ferry made its last trip on December 13, and on her winter previous on January 21. Smelt fishermen are reported to have ventured out to the middle of the river on the ice in the vicinity of Hillsboro Bridge. A few more nights of hard frost should suffice to make travel by ice safe in most places.

Many friends will regret to hear of the death Wednesday of Mrs. Emily Ann Boyer Miller, wife of the late William Miller of Marshfield.

Although the deceased had been in failing health for some years her death came more suddenly than was expected. She bore her long years of semi-invalidism with Christian patience and sweetness. Her passing was quiet and undisturbed as she had wished it to be.

The late Mrs. Miller who was the daughter of Robert and Mary Crawford Boyer, was born at Bunbury, September the 15th, 1842. She was the last surviving member of a large and well known family, her brothers and sisters all having predeceased her by some years.

Until her marriage she resided in Bunbury. Her married life was spent in Marshfield, and her later years with her son, Arthur W. Miller in Charlottetown. Besides her son, Arthur W., she leaves to mourn one daughter, Mrs. John MacFarlane, Marshfield and a son, James, of Calgary.

In town and country her passing will remind many that there are few left of her fine old generation.

On January the second the members and friends of the Kingston Baptist Church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Holmes, to express in a tangible way their appreciation of Mrs. Holmes for her services during the past as organist and choir director.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. Stephen Ackland who in a short speech expressed the purpose of the meeting. Deacon Burgess Newson then presented Mrs. Holmes with a valuable present. Rev. W. R. MacWalker also made a very complimentary speech expressing his gratitude to Mrs. Holmes. In a few well chosen words Mrs. Holmes thanked all for their gift and kind words and assured them she was always willing to use her talents in this work.

The ladies then served lunch in their own special style, after which the remainder of the evening was pleasantly spent in games, music and social conversation.

That potato prices will not so very high this winter, due to a well-supplied market and to the low prices of all other commodities, is the opinion of Mr. J. W. Boulter, Secretary of the Prince Edward Island Potato Growers' Association, who returned recently from a business trip to the United States. The potato market, however, remains steady. During his trip, which was partly a Christmas holiday, Mr. Boulter visited points as far south as Baltimore.

The potato market is steady locally, the Association reports. The demand is fair, and considerable quantities are being shipped. Loading is not as brisk as it was during the recent period of fine weather. For Green Mountain seed, 60 cents a bushel is offered, and for Green Mountain table stock, 50 cents. There is poor demand for Irish Cobblers at present. Turnips continue to move briskly at 25 cents a bushel.

On December 24th last there passed away from her earthly to her Heavenly home Mrs. Philip Colwill of Elm Avenue, Charlottetown, and the angels of Peace and good will must have given her a great welcome into the Realm of glory as they were about setting out to "wing their way o'er all the earth," for during all her years she loved and sought to promote peace and good will in the earth and so to serve her Saviour Lord in her home, church and community.

Her parents the late William and Anne Dinns of Margate brought her up to love the Lord and all things beautiful and good. She was from early youth a member of the Methodist fraternity and gave liberally of her time and talents in faithful church work. As the years passed her character melted in remarkable patience and cheerfulness. Pain and weakness could not drive away her smile and she peacefully fell asleep in Jesus.

As a young woman she became the bride of the late Philip Colwill and lived in Charlottetown with him a happy and useful life. She has left a family of three to mourn their loss. Rebbins E. proprietor of Johnson and Johnson, druggists, Emma, the only daughter, at home, and Frank E. in Boston, and also one brother, Ernoch of Marshfield.

The funeral service conducted by Rev. C. N. Brown of Trinity Church was held privately in the home, Mr. T. W. Bentley her nephew singing a favorite hymn of hers "The Old Rugged Cross."

The pall-bearers were as follows: Messrs G. D. Wright, William Gay, W. B. Robertson, G. H. Holbrook J. Brehaut and James Smith. The interment was in the People's Cemetery, Charlottetown.

The Guardian offers sincere sympathy to those left thus to mourn.

It was as a racing man and lover of horsecraft that Dr. Church was best known in the Maritime Provinces. He came to the Island nearly twenty years ago in connection with horse racing, but did not permanently reside here until 1916. He lived for some time in Ontario, before the Canadian National Fox Hunt in his home he was a kind and affectionate husband and father, spending his leisure hours with his family, who will miss him sorely. Besides his widow and two small children, Miss June Louise and Master Wiley Granderson, there are left to mourn his parents and two brothers and sisters, namely: W. H. Church, Michigan; Harry Church, Waterford, Ont.; Mrs. F. R. Hannon, Los Angeles, and Mrs. D. C. McKay, of Melrose, Mass., to whom the Guardian extends sincere sympathy.
