ONE BODY FOUND OF LOST CHILDREN

Who Perished Fighting the Fire In A New York Skyscraper.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—(Special)—Only one body of the firemen lost in Saturday morning's big fire has been recovered. The loss is about $6,000,000. Although accounted fireproof this great building burned at most like tinder. The fire in the upper stories gained great headway unchecked, as it was far beyond reach of even the fire department's water towers. The fire department has been dreading a fire in a skyscraper and although the Parker building was only thirteen stories in height the fate of one of the modern buildings of twice that height is easily imagined. Even when augmented by the force of largest engines in department it was not sufficient to raise the water to a point anywhere near the top of the building.

VICTORIA DIVISION NO. 4, S. O. T.

Charlotte, Dec. 30, 1907. Dear Madam. At the last regular meeting of Victoria Division No. 4, Sons of Temperance, we were asked to convey to you and your family the sincere sympathy of the order in the loss of your lamented husband. It having pleased Almighty God in the order of His Providence to remove from our midst our well beloved Brother John P. Tanton, P. G., P. W. we take this opportunity of conveying to you and your family our heart felt sympathy in this time of your bereavement and also to assure you of the very high esteem in which he was held by all the members of our order—the order he loved so well. We mourn today the loss of a true Son of Temperance who was at all times ready and willing to perform his part in the great work to which he for so many years was so devotedly attached. His public addresses were of such a character as to secure the warmest appreciation of all who had the pleasure of listening to his eloquent words. While we are now called upon to mourn his departure we mourn not as one who has no hope but we are comforted with the thought that our loss is his eternal gain. We pray that he who has promised to be a father to the fatherless and a husband to the widow may sustain you and yours in this hour of bereavement and as one unbroken family you may at last meet and all meet in that happy home where sorrow is never known and where Love and Harmony reign forever. We beg to remain dear madam, Yours respectfully, Mrs. A. McNair, W. P. John L. Godkin, A. McNair, Geo S Dorman, Committee.

THE RIDE OF PAUL REVERE

This Celebrated Picture Leads the New Program—At Fairyland Tonight.

All who are interested in thrilling events of history will be glad to learn that Fairyland is presenting tonight that celebrated film entitled "The Ride of Paul Revere." It deals as our readers are familiar with one of the great episodes of the Revolutionary War. It runs a whole reel and it has won the highest praise wherever presented on the mainland. To horsemen it will especially appeal, for what picture can be more attractive than a thoroughbred in full career. Other pictures also of exceptional merit will be shown and their names will appear in the evening papers. Arrangements are being made to secure a special set of films, but at the time of writing this the subjects had not been known. It is safe to announce however, that they will be at least in line with the magnificent pictorial programs that Fairyland has been giving of late. The new illustrated song "When I Have You" will be sung by Mr. Maddison, the star baritone. Tomorrow night, Hanson, the magician will open an engagement. He brings with him a big line of properties and will present a magnificent performance. His fame has preceded him and a number of our people who have seen him in Boston pronounce his work nothing short of marvellous. On the mainland he has been playing to crowded houses. He is a prince of entertainers and Fairyland is fortunate in securing him.

LITTLE BODIES MET SAD DEATHS

LONGBOAT AGAIN IS IN TRAINING

TORONTO, January 11.—Today marks the beginning of Tom Longboat's training for the Olympic games, and he will be kept hard at work until he sails for London, which will be some time in March. T. C. Flanagan, president of the I. C. A. A., states that it is his intention to take Longboat to Greece and let him run over the Marathon road before the games in England, in order to demonstrate to the world that Longboat is the greatest runner in existence. He is confident that the Indian will not only eclipse all marks set by his contemporaries, but will show that he is superior to any long distance runner the world has ever known.

A Number of Children injured In a Panic At An English Theatre.

BURNSLEY, England, Jan. 12.—(Special)—Sixteen children were trampled to death and forty others injured, many of whom cannot live in a panic arising from a mad rush for theatre seats this afternoon. Scene was terrible and cries of injured and moans of dying caused fearful excitement. The police found the stairway packed with little bodies many crushed out of recognition. The pitiful scene was enhanced by the presence of hundreds of parents searching for the missing children.

DON'T HUNT GAS WITH A MATCH

ST. CATHERINES, Ont., Jan. 10.—Joseph Reardon, of Fort Erie, will not look for a leak in his natural gas pipes with a lighted match again in a hurry. The leak was in the kitchen somewhere, and Mr. Reardon lit a match in order to find it. He had just found the leak, when the gas, which had been escaping, suddenly exploded, and with such force that Mr. Reardon was thrown up against the ceiling. He was considerably bruised and burned and the whole inside of the room was wrecked. He thinks he had a marvellous escape from death.

HALF THAW JURY IS NOW IN BOX

Venire Exhausted and the Night Session Was Dispensed With—Counsel Work Hard—Challenges Not Exhausted.

New York, Jan. 11.—With half of the jury that will try Harry K. Thaw, on charge of murdering White, secured, the trial resumed with 100 extra talesmen summoned. Out of this number and another 100 ordered to report to-morrow morning, an attempt will be made to secure the other six jurors necessary for the trial. There are plenty of peremptory challenges on both side and it is even possible that some of the men who have been sworn in as a jury may be excused before the actual hearing of the evidence begins. The venire having been exhausted there was no session last night. District Attorney Jerome and Mr. Littleton, Thaw's chief counsel, are doing all consistent with their duty to carry out Justice Lowing's wish to hurry the trial, and their examinations are being continued rapidly. The defence has so far used eleven of its thirty peremptory challenges, and the prosecution, which has the same number has used but eight. That many more will be used seems probable. When court opened there were three men in the box in addition to the six sworn jurors who had been passed for the case, but are still subject to peremptory challenges.

HOBBIES TOLD IN "WHO'S WHO"

Interesting Bits of Self-Relation are Brought to Light.

$600,000 IS LEFT TO CHARITY

PARIS, January 10.—The will of Baroness Adolphe de Rothschild, who died November 18 last, donates over $1,600,000 to charity. Four hundred thousand dollars are given specifically for the relief of Israelites, and the remainder of the fortune of the baroness is allotted in sums $10,000 to $200,000 to general charitable institutions, but particularly for the maintenance of a house of refuge for orphaning, prospective mothers and working girls. It is reported that $200,000 will be given for an establishment to distribute pure milk to poor mothers.

KING DISPENSES WITH CEREMONY

STOCKHOLM, January 9.—King Gustave has made known his intention of abolishing the pompous ceremonies with which the Swedish parliament in the past has been opened. His majesty says these observances are a relic of medievalism and inappropriate to a modern and progressive nation. This step, together with the abolition of the coronation ceremonies recently ordered by the king, is hailed with great appreciation throughout Sweden as initiated a new and democratic era.

MISS BRADDON'S PLEASURES

Miss Braddon's recreations are gardening, music and literature. The latter is a rather vague and vast, not to say tantalizing term. Lucius Malet, or Mrs. Harrison, evidently he lives with the old philosophers that high spirits are best cultivated by rapid motion in open air, for she pins her faith to travelling, especially by the sea, and to driving. Verily, "Who's Who" for 1908, apart from its practical value, adds a pleasant little chapter to the curiosities of literature.

BRITISH TROOPS FOR HALIFAX

HALIFAX, N. S., Jan. 10.—The troops at this garrison are to be replaced by a regiment from England in April. That this is a fact is generally accepted in military circles in Halifax. The Canadian government will pay all expenses, as at present but the men will come from the British Islands, the war department sending out a complete corps. Canada finds it too difficult to enlist men and they cost more than troops from England. Last week the head-quarters staff received orders that all enlistments for the various corps must cease, and that no more recruits will be accepted for the Halifax garrison. The military contractors have been notified that contracts for supplying the troops will be entered into for three months, carrying them on to the end of March. Another fact that seems to lend color to the report that England will resume the garrisoning of the bases in the east and west is that soldiers wishing to take their discharge before the terms of their enlistments expire will be allowed to do this without buying themselves out as formerly, thus showing a disposition to cut down the force now here.

INSPECTOR OF FOREST RESERVES

OTTAWA, Jan. 10.—The staff of the forestry branch of the Interior Department has been greatly strengthened by the appointment to the position of inspector of forest reserves of A. Knechtel, late forest-er employed by New York Forest Fish and Game Commission. It is hoped to greatly extend the work on the forest reserves in the first of a future, and this is the first of a number of appointments to be made to the staff as men trained for forestry work become available.

Count Okuma Misrepresented

TOKIO, Japan, January 10.—A remarkable publication has arisen as a result of the publication in London of a mistranslation of the speech delivered by Count Okuma at Kobe. Little attention was paid to this address at the time of its delivery because Count Okuma in previous speeches on this same subject has made his views well known. It is quite evident that words were put into his mouth which he did not use, and he promptly repudiated the published version. This was in substance that he had urged India to rise against Great Britain. Now Count Okuma and the foreign office are being bombarded with cablegrams of inquiry from Paris, Berlin, St. Petersburg and London, asking the count to publicly repudiate or confirm his remarks, and in reply Count Okuma said today: "In my Kobe speech I did not use the words that were put into my mouth. It is apparent that a mistranslation of the remarks has just reached England. My views on the subject of trade with India as well as my friendliness to Great Britain are too well known to make it necessary for me publicly to repudiate the absurd construction which has been placed upon the remarks I made at Kobe. I have never entertained a thought which could be stretched into such a meaning. India offers us a fine field for trade, and I urged my people openly and consistently to enter that field in fair competition with friendly Great Britain, that is all."

WONDERLAND'S ATTRACTIONS

The splendid reception accorded the versatile and clever artists Burkhardt and Flint at Wonderland, have determined the management in securing their services for another week. The program which opens the week tonight, contains a special attraction in the beautiful illustrated ballad which Miss Burkhardt will sing, entitled "One little soldier man." In connection with this song, mention must be made of the fact that the pictures were posed for by local people, and taken by James Boyer. The slides are very beautiful—the

FRENCH INVENT A NEW AIRSHIP

Scheme Declared To Ensure Perfect Stability—Trials So Far Appear To Have Fulfilled Claims Made By The Inventors.

PARIS, Jan. 10.—There is being exhibited at the Galerie des Machines a new airship invented by Baron Edmond de Mores and the Dutch engineer, M. Klytman. The inventors believe that one of the points which had hitherto made it difficult to obtain perfect stability in an airship was the fact that the propellers were attached to the frames at considerable distance below the centre of gravity, and, at all events, some fifteen or twenty yards below the centre of the balloon. When at rest the airship thus possessed a certain equilibrium, but the moment the propellers were started, stability was almost displaced, and airships became difficult to handle in an ordinary calm, a difficulty which was increased by any sudden variation in the wind or current of air. The idea of the inventors, therefore, was to fix the propellers in the centre of the balloon in such a way as to bear always on the centre of greatest resistance, and the airship which they are now exhibiting was intended to demonstrate the practicability. The balloon, which is about the size of the ill-starred Patrie, carries a rigid frame in the centre, and is divided into two parts, fore and aft, of about equal size. The propeller is attached to the frame in the centre of the balloon, and revolves like a circle of larger diameter than that of the balloon. The motor, of course, is in a separate frame below the balloon, and the power is transmitted to the propeller shaft by means of a belt. The new airship has been inflated, and the trials, so far as they could be carried out in the Galerie des Machines have appeared to justify the claims of the inventors. All that now remains is to give it a fair trial in the open air. In the technical details the designers have been assisted by the well known aeronaut, M. Paul Leprince.
