IN MEMORIAM In fond and loving memory of our dear mother. MRS. BEN CHAMPION Kennington, P. E. I. who died November 12th, 1945.

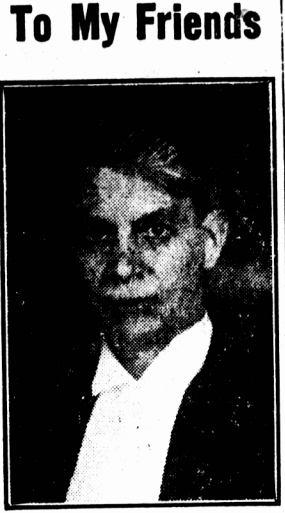

Her thoughts were all so full of us She never could forget. And so we think that where she is, She must be watching yet. As Angels keep their watch up there They know we're all let her know. We love and miss her so. 'Tis sweet to remember a mother so dear. So absent from us, yet ever so near. Unseen by the world, she stands by our side And whispers dear children, death cannot divide. Lovingly Remembered by Her Two Small Sons, Lewis and Gary.

HON. AUBIN-E. ARSENAULT

As one of the founders of the St. Thomas Aquinas Society for the education of Acadian boys and girls I appeal to all who are interested in education to give us a helping hand. The Acadian parishes gave very generously in the St. Dunstan's campaign; they will no doubt do likewise in the present one; it is their very own and they must not fail in doing their utmost to ensure its success.

We are not personally contacting our non-Acadian brothers, but many of them have expressed a desire to contribute to this very laudible undertaking. To those who do so we shall be most grateful and they will earn our heartfelt thanks. Let each and all give their "fair share" and the campaign will be a success. Faithfully yours, A. E. ARSENAULT, Honorary President, St. Thomas Aquinas Society.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS - (Continued from Page 2) strong and enthused with patriotism enlisted for all sorts of jobs during the war and, to their surprise, found out that they had talents they did not know they possessed and that they could command fantastic salaries.

They had been happy and contented in their small homes, out now that the war is over they are not willing to go back to their old routine. They find housework a chore for which they have no taste. They are bored for lack of excitement. And they do not want to give up their pay envelopes and just be wives and mothers again. And that is why there are so many divorcees and so many delinquent children. For domesticity is a full-time job.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have been married for nine months and am going to have a baby. My husband is 24 years old and has been married three times. He flirts with every girl he sees and comes home after midnight with lipstick all over his shirt and lips. He never gives me a penny and fusses if I even buy a bar of candy.

UNHAPPY WIFE What do you suggest that I do? ANSWER: It is too late to make any suggestion that will be of any help to you just now. But after the baby is born and when your heel of a husband deserts you and the child, as he is sure to do, do try to use some common sense in planning your future life. Surely a man who has the wife-swapping habit offers an awful warning that should make any girl stop, look and listen before she marries him.

COLDS DO MATTER

There is no such thing as "Just a little cold" because the cold itself is a symptom of lowered vitality. To stave off colds, or to deal with them once they have started, keep warm and dry, get plenty of rest and take FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE.

For nearly 90 years careful parents have been giving Father John's Medicine to their children, and have been taking it themselves. This is a wonderful proof of the value of this famous medicine.

SECOND CHANCE (Continued from Page 2) waited only until he reached home to write a letter to Cassie Devine in New York. He was aware that Gay had wired her and had received an answer denying any knowledge of Lisbeth's whereabouts. Still Cassie had been his friend and, presumably, her confidante. So Jon, wrote, with desperation driving his pen, to inquire whether, in Cassie's estimation, Lisbeth had been sufficiently in love with Reid to marry him and leave Chicago with him.

No answer to that letter had arrived as yet. And Jon could only wait. All these things marched in a gray procession through his mind as he sat in the Benedict library while Miles paced up and down and up and down before him.

Jon said at last, rather lamely "I wouldn't worry so. Lisbeth's all right; she can take care of herself. Girls have changed their minds about marriage before this."

CASSY WROTE JON THE TRUE STATUS OF TERRY Miles' mouth twisted "Sure; I know. If she had come to me and told me straight out she'd made a mistake, that the whole thing was no go, it wouldn't have surprised me a lot. I've known all along she didn't care the way I did. Sometimes I've felt she must have loved someone a great deal once and had the whole thing smash in her face. . . . But I was satisfied. I think she knew that. His straight brow knit over his now, of course. But I still don't get this running away. It isn't like her. There's something back of it."

Jon was appalled at the shrewdness of his friend's deductions. Lisbeth had loved someone and the whole thing had smashed in her face. That was what she had written, directly from the heart, head over a man like Terry. But he only said, shrugging, "At least she'll get in touch with her mother before long. Maybe we'll know then."

Three days later Jon came home from the office to discover a letter with a New York postmark awaiting him. Cassie had written, directly from the heart, head over a man like Terry. But he only said, shrugging, "At least she'll get in touch with her mother before long. Maybe we'll know then."

BLACKHEADS Blackheads go quickly by a simple method that dissolves them. Get two ounces of peroxide powder from your druggist, apply with a hot wet cloth gently over the blackheads - and you will wonder where they have gone.
