MOLYNEUX TRIAL

The tap wasn't turned right and the milk went over the floor. Papa did not say anything. When this was going on I went to bed. The baby came up stairs. We all went to bed. Elsie slept in one room with baby, mamma, Arthur and I in another and Papa in another. After I got to bed I went to sleep and the screaming downstairs woke Buster (Arthur) and I up. Mamma had not put the baby to bed at this time. I only heard one pretty loud scream. After I woke up I heard nothing more. After a while we went downstairs and Buster and I looked in the pantry and saw Mamma there. Afterwards Henry came. I looked out my room window upstairs before I came down and saw Papa going out the gate. When I came down it was darker than when I went to bed. I could see in the kitchen but not right plain. I could see mother in the pantry. There was no light. The blind was down. I was afraid to go right down after I heard the scream. Stayed up about ten minutes and then decided to come down. There was no tramping that we could hear. Looked out the window after I woke up and saw Papa going out the main gate. The gate is a good piece from the house. He was on horseback and not going very fast. Grandfather was seen speaking to me about seeing father going out the gate. He did not tell me to say anything. As talking to Dr. Barnes. Told him nearly the same story. Told Dr. Barnes "I am sure it was after Buster and I saw Papa leaving the house." It was before Buster and I saw Mamma in the pantry that I saw Papa going away from the house. I stayed upstairs a good while. As soon as I heard the scream I looked out the window. My bedroom is on the side of the house next the stairs. Blinds were not pulled down when I went to bed. I told Grandpa about this the night I went over. Mamma and Papa didn't have much of a talk over the spilt milk. Don't think I told Dr. Barnes Papa struck Mamma over this matter. As a matter of fact Papa didn't hit Mamma. The death on Saturday of Henry Mutch, Southport, which occurred at his home there, has occasioned no little regret in the community in which the deceased lived. Mr. Mutch had been ill for the past two or three years with bronchitis; a disease which eventually caused his death. He was a highly respected and practical farmer of Southport and was active up to a couple of years ago. Besides a widow, nee Miss Moore, daughter of the late George Moore, city, he leaves to mourn the following sons and daughters:—Perley, at home; Bertram, Harry, Frederick, Elizabeth, Vancouver; William, Pt. Arthur; Florence, city; Lillian, at home; and Mrs. Charles Stewart, Keppoch. The funeral takes place today, the funeral of which appears elsewhere. The Guardian tenders its respectful sympathy to the family and friends of the deceased.

Grandpa told me to say I looked out the upstairs window and saw Papa leaving. I told Dr. Barnes Papa and Mamma quarrelled most every day. That is true. Told Dr. Barnes that row they had that night was the worst they ever had. That is true. The others weren't half so bad as this one. Papa was evening hard. I forget what he said. I was upstairs. He was swearing when Mamma and he had the row. He didn't say he would do anything. My room door is always open. It was partly open on this occasion. The door leading into the kitchen was open too. Cannot tell what Papa said. The door was open. I heard Papa say "Elsie, Elsie, look out the window next the mantel piece. Didn't see Papa that time. The goods are on that side. There is a window overlooking the gate in the kitchen. That is not the window I saw Papa from. I woke Elsie after I went down and looked in the pantry. Didn't see Papa. Told her or anyone that I saw Papa. Told her Mamma was in the pantry. Didn't tell Buster I saw Papa. He wouldn't believe me. He doesn't believe a word I say. Don't know whether Buster heard the row. The time I heard the swearing wasn't the time I heard the screaming. After I went to bed I heard the screaming and before I went to sleep I heard the swearing. I have been talking to anybody else besides Grandpa, Dr. Brehaut, Mr. Campbell, and

THE EVEN MUSEE OF NEW YORK IS THE HOME OF WAX FIGURES.
From the time of Mme. Tussaud's famous wax works in London down to Barnum's equally famous wax figure in New York no well regulated city has been without its wax works. New York has its Anatomical Museum that are equally a wonder and a terror to men of irreligious lives. Boston and Philadelphia have the same. In Barnum's collections but the Eden Musee is really a fine exhibition of artistic wax figures. In Barnum's old museum the wax faces were always like the players in the theatre above, they changed their costumes to represent the characters that they played, but their countenances were always the same. They had probably the idea that the merit of the man was all in the beauty of his attire and not in the expression of his face. There are many people today that think the same thing. At the Eden Musee the beauty of the face is as correct a portrait of the person represented as the clothes. Of course a catalogue is a good thing to look at as it attracts a good deal from your pleasure.

Barnes about this matter. Before this case came on was in Georgetown with Grandpa to see Papa. Saw him in jail. Elsie was not there. Didn't talk to Papa. He talked to Grandfather. Forget what he said. I was there all the time. There was nothing said about my being a witness. Didn't tell Dr. Barnes grandfather told me what to say. Nobody told me to say anything. Remember talking to Mrs. Barnes and Brehaut and Mr. Campbell on May 25th. Remember saying Mamma put me to bed twenty-five minutes before Campbell came. I saw "P-i-g" on the card father got and then I knew he was after the pig. It was when I went up to wake Elsie that I saw father going away. I didn't go up to wake Elsie till Buster and I saw Mamma in the pantry. I looked again and saw somebody away off on horseback by Bruce's. I know it was dark when Papa passed McPerson's. It was when I went up to wake Elsie I saw Papa going out the gate. He was up handy. John Bruce's then. Told Barnes, Campbell and Brehaut that mother did not move after I saw her. Saw Papa only twice that night. Saw him going out the gate once and then again when I went to wake Elsie. He was down by Bruce's. Heard one long scream. When I heard prisoner sixteen or seventeen years. Remember the 4th day of May. Saw prisoner, passing my place on horseback that evening, about dark. Knew the prisoner by his talk to the horse. Did not see him again that night. The next night I saw the prisoner at his own house and the prisoner said we (McPerson's) lit a lamp as he was going up from the Milltown road to our house. He passed the house within ten or twelve feet. The horse was walking. The prisoner showed me a card that he got asking him to go after a pig. He said if he had stayed home this would not have happened. He said that she committed the crime while he was away, and that she was putting the children to bed when he left. Prisoner said if he came home as usual he would get up in the morning as usual, tend to the fire and then he would go to the pantry after a kettle of water, and that would be the first thing that would meet him. He said that little bell was the cause of all the trouble, and Molyneux, Sr., showed me the bell. It was said Mrs Molyneux expected to find the bell at old man Molyneux's. I never heard any quarrelling as between the prisoner and his wife.

Cross examined by Mr. Stewart. To Mr Johnston-Never saw my mother alive after hearing screaming. Before the screaming she came up and put Elsie in bed. Didn't see Papa go out the gate until after the screaming. It wasn't the time that Mamma was upstairs fixing the clothes on Elsie that I saw Papa going out of the gate.

Bonds for those who have a few hundred dollars to invest. The time was not so long ago, when bonds of $1,000 of denominations were alone issued, then $500 bonds were added. In recent years the requirements of small investors have received the attention they deserve and many issues of bonds include $100 denominations. This is particularly true of Nova Scotia issues.
