NEW BANK QUARTERS. The offices of the Bank of Nova Scotia, Kensington have been completed and are now occupied by the competent staff. The change has been most acceptable, as the limited space in which the staff had been compelled to transact business was assuredly inadequate, but they were forced to utilize it since the fire of last summer. But the fire did not effect the volume of business transacted since the institution and the staff know well how to meet their rational demands of a progressive public. The appointments are modern, and all the needs of the patronizing public can be speedily and agreeably supplied and when this far reaching institution wants to display any feature that may not be universally spread, the officials forthwith have recourse to the columns of The Guardian. Y

ELMSDALE. A very enthusiastic meeting was held at the home of Mrs. A. L. Rennie, Elmsdale, on March 31st for the purpose of organizing a Women's Institute. TREE-TOP STORIES

CRICKET-MUSIC

A CRICKET played his fiddle in the tall grass. The tiny notes sounded so lively as Marjorie walked by. "I'll stop and dance a while," she said.

She took tiny steps on her tiptoes, and whirled around and around, while the cricket went on playing. The wind came and danced with Marjorie, and played with her hair. The Thistle-fairies came, too.

"That was fun!" cried Marjorie when the fiddler stopped. "Thank you, Mr. Cricket. Your playing is very fine, indeed."

"Now I suppose he is playing grandly," she thought as she walked away.
