News from the 14th Ch'town Coy.

On Monday the 14th, the 14th Charlottetown (S.A.) Coy. held their closing meeting for the summer months. A real outdoor Guide meeting started at 6.30 p.m., a secret trail was laid by Capt. B. Carr accompanied by half the Company, the other half followed in ten minutes, catching up with the first party behind Sunset Lodge on School Street (or was it behind the garage Joyce)? A happy time was spent on the lawn by Sunset Lodge singing Guide songs, after a Guide closing all liked to Men's Tea Room for a treat of soft drinks and cookies (were they Girl Guide cookies Beverly?) Plans are underway for an occasional hike through the country (Guides how about Rocky Point) for some real outdoor guiding during these enjoyable summer months.

The Field Secretary visited Central Realty on Friday, June 25th, to test Brownies Janet Wood, Sylvia MacKinnon, Helen Stewart, Patricia Nicholson, and Edna Ross, for their Golden Hand Badge. They were smart and clean in their appearance and knowledge of the work was absolutely first class, as of course it should be for the First Class 'Brownie' Badge. Helen Stewart had an excellent knitting specimen and others also showed good work. The semaphore test was passed by all, almost with ease, and as this is usually the most difficult part of the test they are to be highly congratulated for such a fine showing. Patricia Nicholson and Edna Ross showed special aptitude for semaphore-keep it up girls. At the conclusion of all the tests, Golden Hand Badges were presented to five very proud Brownies. The Brown Owl, Mrs. Fred Osborne, is a splendid Leader and the training given the Pack is obvious. How about some Guides in Central Royalty??
