OWING to the very bad state of the roads both for walking and driving the audience which greeted Rev. Mr. Thomas, at North Wiltshire, on Monday evening was not nearly so large as it would otherwise have been. Those who came in spite of the bad travelling were, however, well repaid for any inconvenience to which they might have been put, for it was indeed a literary treat that the reverend gentleman had prepared for his hearers. Though so much had already been written and spoken about "Our Late Beloved Queen" that it seemed impossible that enough, which was not already stated, could be found to make up a lecture, still very little of what the lecturer told us had ever before been heard or seen by any in the audience. It is not possible, in an item like this to give any adequate idea of the force and eloquence of the lecture, so it will not be attempted. It must be heard to be appreciated. And certainly that Englishman is not to be envied who could listen without a thrill to the burning patriotism, the intense earnestness and the deep filial love displayed by the lecturer as he depicted scenes from the life of that beloved lady who was and is the mother of us all, whose body is departed but whose spirit is still with us. The writer has had the privilege of listening to several very eminent lectures but never has he heard any discourse which seemed to come more from the heart of the speaker, and all who, in the future may have the opportunity are urged not to deny themselves the great pleasure and profit to be derived from hearing such a lecture given by such an out and out Englishman.

SUFFOLK.—The fine crisp weather of the past few weeks has enabled the farmers of this vicinity to stock their premises with a plentiful supply of firewood while a number of the more energetic are making great preparations for a good winter work hauling marsh and mussel mud. The farmers here are beginning to realize the fact that there is money to be made in the milk business and are embracing the opportunity afforded them. Miss Mary McLeod who has been on an extended visit to Cambridge, Mass. is expected home in a few days, after having spent the past few weeks in Picton, the guest of Rev. W. T. D. Moss.—Though we cannot give you an account of any concerts here such as those you and others publish from other parts of the Island at this season yet we have lots of talent here going to waste.—The ice here is in a poor condition for bloods with their trotters. The two latter classes are comparatively numerous here—larger than formerly and larger than some other parts of the Island. If judging by observation and press reports. Matrimony which had almost died out in this part of the country has suddenly sprung into life and will soon be a thing of great importance.—Mr. E. Godfrey is preparing to add a wing to his already spacious dwelling.—We are pleased to see Mr. A. Harper out again after his recent severe illness. Mr. J. Dover who has been confined to his house for several weeks is able to resume his usual duties.—Com.

A GOOD DEAL OF NONSENSE

About "Blood Purifiers" and "Tonics."

Every drop of blood, every bone, nerve and tissue in the body can be renewed in but one way, and that is, from wholesome food properly digested. There is no other way and the idea that a medicine in itself can purify the blood or supply new tissues and strong nerves is ridiculous and on a par with the fol-de-rol that dyspepsia or indigestion is a germ disease or that other fallacy, that a weak stomach which refuses to digest food can be made to do so, by irritating and inflaming the bowels by pills and cathartics. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets cure indigestion, sour stomach, gas and bloating after meals, because they furnish the digestive principles which weak stomachs lack, and unless the deficiency of pepsin and diastase is supplied it is useless to attempt to cure stomach trouble by the use of "tonics" pills and cathartics which have absolutely no digestive power, and their only effect is to give a temporary stimulation.

One grain of the active principle in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest 3000 grains of meat, eggs and similar foods and experiments have shown that they will do this in a glass bottle at proper temperature, but of course are much more effective in the stomach.

There is probably no remedy so universally used as Stuart's Tablets because it is not only the sick and ailing, but well people who use them at every meal to insure perfect digestion and assimilation of the food.

People who enjoy fair health take Stuart's Tablets as regularly as they take their meals, because they want to keep well, prevention is always better than cure and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do both; they prevent indigestion and they remove it where it exists. The regular use of one or two of them after meals will demonstrate their merit and efficiency better than any other argument.

A MIGHTY COLD SPELL.

BERLIN, February 23.—In some parts of the country the weather is the coldest known for twenty-five years. At Cologne a young lady was frozen to death in the street and a coachman fell from his carriage, with both legs frozed. Near Remagen a bicyclist was found dead.
