

PUBLIC MEETING MARKET HALL

Citizens of the Western Capital Hold their Memorial Services

ADDRESSES ARE DELIVERED BY CITIZENS.

A General Holiday and the Band Parades With Draped Instruments—Resolution Passed and Ordered to be Sent To the Royal Family.

Summerside showed a true spirit of loyalty and devotion to our late Queen Victoria on Saturday afternoon by turning out in large numbers to a mass meeting of citizens held in Market Hall in commemoration of her Majesty's death.

Business of the town was practically suspended during the day and at the hour of assembly the hall was filled so that many could not gain admittance.

The platform on which sat a large number of ladies and gentlemen, was suitably draped, and above it hung a portrait of the Queen.

The Summerside Cornet Band with instruments draped and drums muffled marched from their room to the hall and at the door played the solemn air of the Dead March in Saul. Richard Hunt as chairman made a few appropriate remarks, and announced the program. Nearer My God to Thee, was sung by the gathering all standing, accompanied by the music of the band. After that Rev. F. W. Harlow read a portion of the scriptures from 90th Psalms and also the chap. of Revelations.

Rev. W. H. Smith next led in prayer, which was followed by an address by Judge McLeod who paid high tribute to the deceased.

The hymn, Asleep Jesus, was then sung to the air of St. George Street, with band accompaniment.

Charles Murphy excellent address referred in eulogiums to the greatest Monarch the world has ever seen. He touched upon the many great changes brought about during Her long and glorious reign which concludes a wonderful growth of the Empire, also to the general love for the Queen and the regret at her death; concluded with remarks in hopeful terms for the new King. A solo "On The Resurrection Morn" by Miss Edna Sinclair, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. W. B. Mills, was sweetly and pathetically rendered.

Mr. J. H. Bell dwelt upon the chief features of growth and prosperity during the Queen's reign. While Canada in primeval state was little known in 1837, it was today the best known of the colonies, under the beneficent administration of our late Sovereign the feeling of loyalty and attachment to The Empire has been largely brought about.

Principal Campbell in referring to the Queen's excellent qualities showed that by her sympathies with her people her love for her subjects and her influence with the statesmen she contributed largely to the many important changes for the betterment of the Empire and the world.

Hon. R. C. McLeod in a concise well worded address referred to her reign as being ever one to alleviate the suffering and promote the welfare of her people, and to her life as a pure and righteous one. The love entertained for her by her subjects was acquired to a large extent through the liberties enjoyed under her illustrious reign. None has done so much to elevate the standard of women not only in England but throughout the whole world. The Queen's life is to us a moral and practical lesson. She was carefully trained in her early days which was the most important part of her life and which fitted her for the high office she held. In reviewing her life we find much to prophesy; she yields up her crown to one who has said, he will follow in Her footsteps, and we may be assured that King Edward VII will act wisely and justly as our Sovereign. Mr. McLeod moved that a resolution expressive of the deep sympathy of the people of Summerside and the surrounding country be sent to the members of the Royal Family in their bereavement. This was passed unanimously. The singing of God save the King, accompanied by the band brought the meeting to a close.

THE ELECTION TRIAL.

Angus McDonald's. He was not a member of any organization in the district. He never attended a committee meeting. Mr. McKinnon did not canvas him. He did not get a letter from him.

To Dr. Pugsley—There are several doors in the Patriot building. He could not say what side of the hall the messenger came from. He did not receive an order for liquor in Mr. McKinnon's office.

Dr. Pugsley asked for an adjournment of the trial until the session of Parliament at Ottawa was over. He said he was informed that over 300 witnesses were to be examined and that it would be impossible to finish the case on both sides within four or five weeks. He claimed that the interests of the public and of the constituency for which Mr. McKinnon was returned as a representative demanded his attendance in Parliament and called the attention of the Court to the necessity at the same time, that existed for Mr. McKinnon to be present in Court in order to support the charges preferred against Mr. Martin in the petition filed by him, and to defend the personal and other charges against himself.

Dr. Pugsley further contended that the issue between the parties was not the mere avoidance of the election. If that were the only issue it might be said that McKinnon's presence at the trial is not absolutely necessary, but as Mr. Martin claimed the seat, and as it was in consequence open to them to put in incriminatory charges as they had done, he asked for the adjournment in the interests of justice and to give Mr. McKinnon an opportunity to attend Parliament and after the session to be in his place in Court to support the incriminatory charges and to defend himself against the charges preferred.

The counsel for the Petitioner retired for a few minutes for consultation.

The counsel for Respondent also retired and after a few minutes deliberation both counsel returned and Dr. Pugsley stated that after grave consideration he and his associate counsel had come to the conclusion that there were one or two corrupt practices by agents committed without the knowledge of the Respondent.

Mr. Stewart had informed him that he was prepared to withdraw all personal charges and also his client's claim to the seat. Mr. Stewart stated that he desired on behalf of the petitioner to withdraw the claim made by him for the seat and he also withdrew the personal charges. He also stated that with regret to the incriminatory acts of which there were a great number of particulars it was possible in an election of this kind covering a great area and the hands of a large number of persons that some trifling charge might be brought home to Mr. Martin of which he was personally unaware. He further stated that after undergoing a great deal of expense in keeping witnesses in court to void the election and often a great deal of labor they would probably be in the same position as to-day. In view of these circumstances and the admission made by Respondent's counsel Dr. Pugsley, he was satisfied to agree with what he had said and that the seat should be declared vacant and void.

Upon suggestion of Dr. Pugsley it was agreed that each party should pay his own costs.

After the remarks by counsel, and after declaring the seat vacant, each party paying his own costs, Mr. Justice Hodgson said:—

"But our duty is not yet done. We have to make a report to the proper authorities. After hearing the evidence that has been given, I feel bound to declare that never before has there been brought to my notice such shameful corruption and debauchery in connection with an election contest. It will be our duty to report some of those—perhaps not the least shameful of them—who seem to have deluged the country with liquor, bringing opprobrium and disgrace upon this province, with the earnest expectation that the laws of the land may be evoked against them. I do sincerely trust that in bringing these degrading proceedings to the attention of the authorities, our action will meet with more success than did the report which I made to the Speaker of the Legislative Assembly of this province some years ago when no steps whatever were taken to punish the men who had acted much in the same manner, although perhaps not to so great an extent, as some of those who have been examined here. Therefore in making our report the Judges intend that the names of those men who in shame and infamy stand head and shoulders above many of those who have openly violated the law shall be made known to the proper authority, and we earnestly trust that they may not be allowed to remain unnoticed."

Mr. Justice Fitzgerald also said: "I do not want to say anything that it is unnecessary for a Judge to state, and it is perhaps wiser in most cases for those on the Bench to confine themselves to giving judgments, but I think there are times when it is proper for a Judge seeing before him the electorate of an electoral division on an occasion like this to make some remarks. I agree with what has been said by my learned colleague. I do not think there has ever been in Prince Edward Island such a revelation in the way of deluging a country, with intoxicating liquor. I am ashamed as a life long resident to find that an electorate during a campaign could be wholly debauched by liquor. We have learned from the evidence that liquor was produced in wholesale quantities at nearly every poll, and as the witness expressed it men were lying drunk about the place. Will the time ever come when election contests in this province will be raised above this bestial level? I for one would like every man within the sound of my voice to know that when my hand lights it will light heavily upon those who bring such disgrace upon the country, and if I am asked to disqualify, I shall not hesitate to do it in view of what I have heard to-day."

LARDEAU MINING SHARES.

Rob Roy .15
Old Gold .25
Comstock .10
Primrose .15

This is a splendid list of good safe shares. I know each property and the people who farm the companies well. The properties are first-class, and the people are some of the best in the community. The Rob Roy people have a deal on which involves some hundreds of thousands of dollars, and all shareholders will benefit. Shares in the company will not be withdrawn till the deal is consummated. So here is time yet, to buy.

Old Gold and Primrose have struck ore. One paper says Old Gold can ship "vast quantities," and Primrose "can ship from the grass roots"

Comstock is on a marvellous 5 foot ledge carrying Gold, Silver, Copper and Lead. I have had assays running over $100 to the ton from this ledge. This is one of the best of the new companies.

There is no risk about this sort of Mining Investment. I have thoroughly investigated these properties and they are in my opinion, absolutely safe. If you want a good paying investment, get into this list. Write me.
