TOWN COUNCIL. The regular meeting of the Summerside Town Council was held on Monday night. A communication from the School Trustees gave notice that $6,500 would be required this year for school purposes, an increase over last year. The rate of assessment was fixed the same as last year. It was decided to construct a storm sewer on Easton Street. There was considerable discussion as to whether a concrete or an asphalt street should be laid on Water Street. On being put to a vote Councillors McNally, Arnett and Schurman voted for a concrete street and Councillors Johnston and Phillips against. On motion the Purchasing Committee was authorized to purchase the necessary material for the new street. Mr. J. E. Wright was appointed Inspector of Chinchilla Rabbits. An amendment was passed modifying the Dog Act somewhat. Mr. Wm. Matheson, Chief of the Fire Dept. and Fireman McLeod made a strong plea for a better fire alarm system. The matter was promised consideration by the council Council adjourned until Tuesday night.

Mountainous Golf Course Beckons Alberta Players

BANFF, Alberta, Can. May 11.—Many cities have municipal golf links but nestled among the great peaks of the Rocky mountains in the valley of the Bow river, almost a mile above sea level, is a national golf course, maintained by the Canadian government for the use of all who visit this dominion play ground. The course is on the vertical side of bare rock, rises hundreds of feet along one side of the course while great granite crags stretch in a tumbled mass as far as the eye can perceive on the other horizon towards the plains of Calgary.

As the limp gurgle of waters dies away with the progress of the golfer away from the river, he seems to become like a pigmy as he nears the base of the mountain. At one hole he shoots apparently into the very side of a crag, only to find that the mountain is still far away. Some of the greens, all of which have good turf, are different from anything known to golf architecture elsewhere. There are conical mounds five or six feet high and grassed but difficult to gauge in putting. These unusual hummocks which make the cup blind to the golfer whose approach lands outside these miniature mountains, are said to have been built by misinterpretation of the architect's plans. While there are two holes on the course 500 yards long and three well over 400 yards, there are seven of 200 yards or less. There are a number of conventional bunkers, but most of the hazards are natural. After a round of golf, the player may take a plunge in naturally hot sulphur water.

J. Gaudet manager of the Capital Bowling Alleys. The highest individual score on Monday night of 115 pins was made by Mr. James Arsenault.

In Memoriam

MISS EWINA MACPHERSON.

A recent dispatch from Boston to Mr. and Mrs. Norman J. McPherson of Brooklyn, Lot 61, P.E. Island conveys the sad tidings of the death of their niece, Miss Ewina MacPherson, a graduate nurse of 138 Newbury St., Boston, and formerly of Glen William P.E.I. Although her condition of health for the past few months was not so robust as her many friends would have desired, yet her death was not anticipated and her passing was with almost startling suddenness was a severe shock to her step-mother, brothers and sisters and other numerous relations and friends by whom she was so greatly beloved.

The deceased was the second daughter of the late Angus J. and Mrs. MacPherson of Glen William, Lot 63, P.E.I. and at a tender age was left motherless to face the great realities which inevitably accompany the approaching years of maturity. That her brief life was remarkably successful may be gleaned from the appended extract from an obituary notice in Boston paper her accomplishments being a distinct credit to herself and a source of gratification to interested relatives and friends.

At the time of her mother's death she was left just a little girl—one of a family of five daughters and one son, the youngest being only three weeks old. Of these there are left but four sisters, the son, Donald D. having made the supreme sacrifice in England during the war, at the early age of 20 years. The sisters are as follows: Mrs. Dr. Albert G. Bivert of Springfield Mass., Miss Sally McPherson, surgical nurse for Dr. Goddard, Miss Christine and Miss Annie occupying lucrative clerical positions in Boston. Besides these there are left to mourn her step-mother, Mrs. Angus J. MacPherson and three half-brothers, Robert B. of Boston, G.M. and J.A. of Glen William and a large circle of relatives and friends who will sincerely sympathize with those who have been so sorely bereaved.
