

BOWLING
HOCKEY
WRESTLING

THE WORLD OF THE SPORTS

BOXING
BASKETBALL
OTHER SPORT

UPSETS AGAIN FEATURING RACING PROGRAM

Seeded Players All In Running As Play Nears Finals In All Events

With the brand of tennis improving as play in all events nears the finals, favorites in the Eastern Canadian tennis championships continued their steady advance yesterday with no upsets occurring, the seeded players all displaying too much steadiness and accuracy for their opponents.

Result of the semi-final draw in the men's singles sees Laird Watt facing the brilliant game of Don McDiarmid while Ellis Tarshis plays Gordon Robinson, the latter the player who recently took a set from Frankie Parker in the Canadian tennis championships.

With the weather continuing on its good behaviour all five events will be brought down to the finals today and while some of the tennis so far has been brilliant nevertheless the best tennis of the week will likely take place during the semi-finals and final matches in all divisions.

Play in the men's doubles was brought down to the semi-final stage and also finds all four teams competing representing upper Canadian cities, with Laird Watt and Gordon MacNeill, Montreal, meeting their fellow townsmen, N. T. Laiss and Ellis Tarshis, while in the other match Stuart Vevey and Gordon MacNeill, Montreal, met the pair of J. H. Breen and J. H. Breen, Ch'town, Ontario.

Vevey and Raper just squeezed into the semi-finals after defeating Charlie Peters and Kenny Farmer, Montreal, in a thrilling five set encounter which treated the spectators to some great tennis.

Play in the mixed doubles was also brought down to the semi-final stage and also finds all four teams competing representing upper Canadian cities, with Laird Watt and Gordon MacNeill, Montreal, meeting their fellow townsmen, N. T. Laiss and Ellis Tarshis, while in the other match Stuart Vevey and Gordon MacNeill, Montreal, met the pair of J. H. Breen and J. H. Breen, Ch'town, Ontario.

Play in the women's singles was also brought down to the semi-final stage and also finds all four teams competing representing upper Canadian cities, with Laird Watt and Gordon MacNeill, Montreal, meeting their fellow townsmen, N. T. Laiss and Ellis Tarshis, while in the other match Stuart Vevey and Gordon MacNeill, Montreal, met the pair of J. H. Breen and J. H. Breen, Ch'town, Ontario.

Play in the women's doubles was also brought down to the semi-final stage and also finds all four teams competing representing upper Canadian cities, with Laird Watt and Gordon MacNeill, Montreal, meeting their fellow townsmen, N. T. Laiss and Ellis Tarshis, while in the other match Stuart Vevey and Gordon MacNeill, Montreal, met the pair of J. H. Breen and J. H. Breen, Ch'town, Ontario.

Play in the mixed doubles was also brought down to the semi-final stage and also finds all four teams competing representing upper Canadian cities, with Laird Watt and Gordon MacNeill, Montreal, meeting their fellow townsmen, N. T. Laiss and Ellis Tarshis, while in the other match Stuart Vevey and Gordon MacNeill, Montreal, met the pair of J. H. Breen and J. H. Breen, Ch'town, Ontario.

Play in the women's singles was also brought down to the semi-final stage and also finds all four teams competing representing upper Canadian cities, with Laird Watt and Gordon MacNeill, Montreal, meeting their fellow townsmen, N. T. Laiss and Ellis Tarshis, while in the other match Stuart Vevey and Gordon MacNeill, Montreal, met the pair of J. H. Breen and J. H. Breen, Ch'town, Ontario.

Play in the women's doubles was also brought down to the semi-final stage and also finds all four teams competing representing upper Canadian cities, with Laird Watt and Gordon MacNeill, Montreal, meeting their fellow townsmen, N. T. Laiss and Ellis Tarshis, while in the other match Stuart Vevey and Gordon MacNeill, Montreal, met the pair of J. H. Breen and J. H. Breen, Ch'town, Ontario.

Play in the mixed doubles was also brought down to the semi-final stage and also finds all four teams competing representing upper Canadian cities, with Laird Watt and Gordon MacNeill, Montreal, meeting their fellow townsmen, N. T. Laiss and Ellis Tarshis, while in the other match Stuart Vevey and Gordon MacNeill, Montreal, met the pair of J. H. Breen and J. H. Breen, Ch'town, Ontario.

Play in the women's singles was also brought down to the semi-final stage and also finds all four teams competing representing upper Canadian cities, with Laird Watt and Gordon MacNeill, Montreal, meeting their fellow townsmen, N. T. Laiss and Ellis Tarshis, while in the other match Stuart Vevey and Gordon MacNeill, Montreal, met the pair of J. H. Breen and J. H. Breen, Ch'town, Ontario.

Play in the women's doubles was also brought down to the semi-final stage and also finds all four teams competing representing upper Canadian cities, with Laird Watt and Gordon MacNeill, Montreal, meeting their fellow townsmen, N. T. Laiss and Ellis Tarshis, while in the other match Stuart Vevey and Gordon MacNeill, Montreal, met the pair of J. H. Breen and J. H. Breen, Ch'town, Ontario.

Play in the mixed doubles was also brought down to the semi-final stage and also finds all four teams competing representing upper Canadian cities, with Laird Watt and Gordon MacNeill, Montreal, meeting their fellow townsmen, N. T. Laiss and Ellis Tarshis, while in the other match Stuart Vevey and Gordon MacNeill, Montreal, met the pair of J. H. Breen and J. H. Breen, Ch'town, Ontario.

Play in the women's singles was also brought down to the semi-final stage and also finds all four teams competing representing upper Canadian cities, with Laird Watt and Gordon MacNeill, Montreal, meeting their fellow townsmen, N. T. Laiss and Ellis Tarshis, while in the other match Stuart Vevey and Gordon MacNeill, Montreal, met the pair of J. H. Breen and J. H. Breen, Ch'town, Ontario.

Schedule Of Tennis Play For Today

9:30 A.M.—Men's singles—quarter-finals: 1. Key Farms and Mrs. Keating and J. Dugal. Court No. 3—G. Keating and J. Dugal.

Court No. 4—Mrs. McFarlane and J. Wright. Court No. 5—I. Matheson and Mrs. Woodbury.

Court No. 6—Mrs. Jones and E. Lord. 10 A.M.—Men's singles—semi-finals: Court No. 1—Watt vs McDiarmid. Court No. 2—Tarshis vs G. Robinson.

11 A.M.—Mixed doubles: 1. Key Farms and Mrs. McFarlane vs. C. Peters and E. Taylor. 2. E. Woodworth and Mrs. Roper vs. G. MacNeill and P. Pullman. 2 P.M.—Ladies singles—semi-finals: Winner of Court 6 morning match vs. winner of Court 5 ditto.

Winner of Court 4 morning match vs. winner of Court 3 ditto. Mixed doubles—quarter-finals: McDiarmid and Mrs. Jones vs. Piers and Miss Doyle.

Robinson and Miss Bourke vs. Sanderson and Mrs. Woodbury. Tarshis and Miss Dugal vs. winner of 11 o'clock No. 1 match. Watt and Miss Fraser vs. winner of 11 o'clock No. 2 match. 4 P.M.—Mixed doubles—semi-finals: Note—The New Brunswick open provincial final match in the ladies' singles event has been assigned by the N.B. tournament committee to be played here.

This match is between Miss Isabel MacNeill and Mrs. Woodbury vs. Marion H. O'Brien of Amherst. Miss Matheson is quarter-finalist here with Mrs. Woodbury in the match slated for this morning. Miss O'Brien finishes here today with Miss Marion Little of Halifax. If it is possible this New Brunswick ladies' final match will be played this afternoon; otherwise it will be played on Saturday. This match was rained out in Moncton last week.

Veterans' Draw In Tennis Matches 1. A. Cliff Wiswell, Halifax, bye. 2. B. McLeod, Moncton. 3. Ken Richards, Charlottetown. 4. M. McKinnon, Charlottetown. 5. Grey F. Arsenault, Ch'town. 6. D. E. Keating, Moncton, bye. N.B.—Matches will be played to suit players' convenience under rules approved by G. F. Hutchings, veteran's tournament committee.

Junior 10:30 A.M.—Men's singles semi-final. 11:30—Mixed doubles: A. Saunders and H. Tidmarsh vs. B. Thomas and H. Little. 1:30—Mixed doubles: F. Mountain and J. Woodbury vs. E. Grey and F. Arsenault. 2:00 P.M.—Men's doubles semi-final. 3:30—Mixed doubles semi-final. 4:30—Ladies' singles final. M. O'Brien vs. M. Little.

Oliver And Kunes Lead In Canadian Open Mississauga Country Club, Toronto, Aug. 18—Two of the tournament's deepest-hued grid horses, better Ed Oliver of Wilmington, Del., and Gene Kunes of Chicago, a former champion, led a smashing attack on pay in the first 18-hole round of the Canadian open golf championships today.

With the game's big money winners also taking advantage of fine weather to blast Mississauga's par-72, Oliver and Kunes, who were two strokes under par, led a field of more than 150 that swarmed over the par-72 layout from early morning until dusk. The pair, who were in front at the end of the first round, were still in front at the end of the second round, when they were two strokes ahead of the rest of the field.

Both A. Well, manager of the club, and Ed Mead, who pilots Armstrong, first man in ring history to wear three crowns at one time, agreed to do an encore for Mike Jacobs as soon as the latter recovers from the cutting up Ambers gave him. Dr. Alexander Schiff, who took more than 10 stitches in Armstrong's lip, said Mead will be ready for the lip to mend properly. Armstrong will need an additional month to get into condition.

Henry has one of the worst cut lips I have seen in 30 years of treating fighters' wounds, Dr. Schiff told Mead. NEW YORK, Aug. 18—(AP)—A repetition of the 15-round thriller Henry Armstrong and Lou Amburgey in Madison Square Garden, New York today, but they're going to have to wait some time to see it.

Both A. Well, manager of the club, and Ed Mead, who pilots Armstrong, first man in ring history to wear three crowns at one time, agreed to do an encore for Mike Jacobs as soon as the latter recovers from the cutting up Ambers gave him. Dr. Alexander Schiff, who took more than 10 stitches in Armstrong's lip, said Mead will be ready for the lip to mend properly. Armstrong will need an additional month to get into condition.

Henry has one of the worst cut lips I have seen in 30 years of treating fighters' wounds, Dr. Schiff told Mead. NEW YORK, Aug. 18—(AP)—A repetition of the 15-round thriller Henry Armstrong and Lou Amburgey in Madison Square Garden, New York today, but they're going to have to wait some time to see it.

Both A. Well, manager of the club, and Ed Mead, who pilots Armstrong, first man in ring history to wear three crowns at one time, agreed to do an encore for Mike Jacobs as soon as the latter recovers from the cutting up Ambers gave him. Dr. Alexander Schiff, who took more than 10 stitches in Armstrong's lip, said Mead will be ready for the lip to mend properly. Armstrong will need an additional month to get into condition.

Interest High In Hardy-Leslie 10-round Bout At Sporting Club Tonight

Bert Hardy of Bridgewater, Nova Scotia, promising young heavyweight fighter and managed by a former lightweight and heavyweight amateur champion of the Maritimes in the person of Dr. Jim McLeod, arrived in the city last evening all set for his ten round bout with George Leslie at the Sporting Club tonight for the Maritime heavyweight championship of the Maritimes.

Weighting 199 lbs. and 6 ft. 1 inch in height Hardy is in perfect physical condition for the scrapper. Possessing a body just as well developed as Leslie's the young Nova Scotian appears to have heavy hitting power in his magnificent shoulders and according to the word of this genial manager if he can tag Leslie solidly the fight will be over in short order.

Both fighter and manager hesitated to predict any outcome to the scrap but Dr. McLeod let it be known that his charge will be in control and that he thinks they are fighting every minute and conditions of the ten hard rounds if necessary.

This same McLeod is enthused over the showing his charge has made in his brief career. A smart, hard-headed fighter, Hardy has the ability to go places in the ring game and although he has been taking him along carefully and slowly so far, he thinks the time is ripe now for Hardy to make his bid for heavyweight recognition.

Hardy neither drinks nor smokes, is always in condition and on top of all this is determined to win places in the game. He should and will give the Souris boy a mighty stiff test tonight.

Leslie is once again the same confident scrapper he always is on the eve of his fight. No matter who he is to face George always is thinking of winning and the majority of times this confidence has carried him through to victory when the odds appeared to be set against him. Tonight he will meet or less enter the ring at even odds and it is a safe bet that if it is the cards for him to be beaten it won't be before he has given all he has in what should be a bristling match.

The remainder of the card once again promises to live up to the action-filled ones that have preceded it. Boys in the semi-finals and preliminaries are all evenly matched in height and ability. Boxing ability hasn't been stressed so much but rather the boys have been paired off for their scrapping proclivities so that the fans won't have a moment in store for them and local fans certainly do go for the slugging, milling type of battle. The show will start at 8:30 sharp and fans are asked to get their ringside tickets early and avoid the rush.

There were fairly large fields in all the classes and considerable difficulty was experienced by Start-er Webber in getting them away on anything like even terms. Most of the starts were satisfactory, however, few which did not meet with the approval of the fans, particularly the third heat of the 222 Pace in which Direct L. was given the word which of the same class Rosebud got away to a disastrous start.

Upsets took place in the 219 Trot and Pace when the favorite Sully 210, who had been heavily backed for first, he looked as though he would come through in the first heat, but in the last few strides Duddy Patch nosed him out.

In the second heat he seemed a bit lame and lost ground rapidly, finishing fifth, and he was drawn in the third heat. The slowest of the 219 Trot and Pace is difficult to describe, but as the writer saw it was as follows: First Heat. They got away on the tenth score to a stragglingly start with Sully in the lead. Direct L. and Martindell came up on the outside to go into second place, Guy Ann back quite a bit. They raced all strung out to the half, with Wanda Volo on the outside. Duddy Patch made a try to break the back stretch the second time around. It was a beautiful race around the three-quarter pole with the horses well bunched. Turning into the stretch Duddy Patch came very fast on the outside, passing Martindell and beating Sully out in a sensational finish. Killarney, who had gone a long mile but paced the last end fast, finished third, being out by Martindell. Frank Hanover fifth, Guy Ann going down in the accident described above, and Wanda Volo sixth.

Second Heat. Duddy Patch and Guy Ann paced like a team to the half in 1:03 1/2, with Wanda Volo tucked in behind. When they struck the three-quarter pole Volo pulled up and entering the stretch was on even terms with Duddy Patch, racing the last eighth so closely matched that a blink would cover them. Martindell and Killarney had a great race for third and fourth money. Sully, who was not pacing right due to an injury, fifth. Frank Hanover sixth.

Third Heat. With Sully and Guy Ann drawn the field was narrowed down to five and they got away on the third score with Wanda Volo back about three lengths. Duddy Patch in the lead, Frank Hanover second, Martindell tucked in third, Killarney fourth. They continued in Indian file until everyone started for the drive. Frank Hanover made a great bid to get to the flying Duddy, but could not get nearer than Frank's neck. Martindell went to the front and stayed there, although Guy Britton gave her a great argument in the stretch, finishing almost neck and neck with the Sweeney mare. Marvin Brooke third, Peter Onward fourth, Guy Toddlor fifth.

Fourth Heat. They got away on the first score with Klondyke Grattan having a good lead. Hi-Sox second and Jerry Bars on the outside in third position, the others bunched. At the three-quarter pole Jerry Bars started to close in on Klondyke and they rounded up in a gallant rush down the home stretch to beat out the fast pacing Hi-Sox and Miss Victoria. Starrett Volo paced well but could not get through the gang, and the same thing happened to Direct L. who finished sixth.

In the second heat they got away on the first score with Klondyke Grattan having a good lead. Hi-Sox second and Jerry Bars on the outside in third position, the others bunched. At the three-quarter pole Jerry Bars started to close in on Klondyke and they rounded up in a gallant rush down the home stretch to beat out the fast pacing Hi-Sox and Miss Victoria. Starrett Volo paced well but could not get through the gang, and the same thing happened to Direct L. who finished sixth.

Free For All. The first heat Marjorie M. the favorite, got away in last position, quite a bit back. Marvin Brooke taking the lead, Guy Britton second and Guy Toddlor on the outside. They raced to the half in 1:04 1/2. At the three-quarter pole Marjorie M. started to mow them down and finishing fast through the home stretch almost got to Guy Britton, who was out of the neck. It was a great finish, Marvin Brooke was a close third, with Peter Onward finishing at his wheel. Guy Toddlor fifth. The time, 2:05 1/2, was within one-half second of the fastest mile paced during the meet.

Second Heat. It took six scores before they were sent away. This time Marjorie M. got away well and tucked in behind Guy Britton who was in the lead, Marvin Brooke third, Peter Onward fourth and Guy Toddlor on the outside. At the half, Marjorie M. went to the front and stayed there, although Guy Britton gave her a great argument in the stretch, finishing almost neck and neck with the Sweeney mare. Marvin Brooke third, Peter Onward fourth, Guy Toddlor fifth.

Direct L. And Sully, Both Heavily Backed, Fail To Win Single Heat On Day's Card

12-year-old Marjorie M. Popular Sydney Mare, Gives Crowd Big Thrill By Capturing Free-for-all After Losing First Heat To Guy Britton.

The third day's racing at the Provincial Fair was featured by a chapter of accidents which caused delays in several heats. They were not serious, however, mostly broken harness, a lost shoe, a broken sulky; but one in the first heat of the 219 Trot and Pace was a close call when Guy Ann went down, throwing owner George Calbeck on his feet.

Wanda Volo just missed colliding with her by inches. A crowd was quickly gathered and helping hands unharnessed the mare and she was taken away apparently uninjured. Driver Calbeck was on his feet very quickly after the accident and although quite a bit shaken up, resumed driving in the next heat.

The accident was caused by the mare being held in very tightly behind Sully, and that could not be avoided because other horses were boxing her in. When she got into the clear a sudden lunge took her feet from under her with the above result.

There were fairly large fields in all the classes and considerable difficulty was experienced by Starter Webber in getting them away on anything like even terms. Most of the starts were satisfactory, however, few which did not meet with the approval of the fans, particularly the third heat of the 222 Pace in which Direct L. was given the word which of the same class Rosebud got away to a disastrous start.

Upsets took place in the 219 Trot and Pace when the favorite Sully 210, who had been heavily backed for first, he looked as though he would come through in the first heat, but in the last few strides Duddy Patch nosed him out.

In the second heat he seemed a bit lame and lost ground rapidly, finishing fifth, and he was drawn in the third heat. The slowest of the 219 Trot and Pace is difficult to describe, but as the writer saw it was as follows: First Heat. They got away on the tenth score to a stragglingly start with Sully in the lead. Direct L. and Martindell came up on the outside to go into second place, Guy Ann back quite a bit. They raced all strung out to the half, with Wanda Volo on the outside. Duddy Patch made a try to break the back stretch the second time around. It was a beautiful race around the three-quarter pole with the horses well bunched. Turning into the stretch Duddy Patch came very fast on the outside, passing Martindell and beating Sully out in a sensational finish. Killarney, who had gone a long mile but paced the last end fast, finished third, being out by Martindell. Frank Hanover fifth, Guy Ann going down in the accident described above, and Wanda Volo sixth.

Second Heat. Duddy Patch and Guy Ann paced like a team to the half in 1:03 1/2, with Wanda Volo tucked in behind. When they struck the three-quarter pole Volo pulled up and entering the stretch was on even terms with Duddy Patch, racing the last eighth so closely matched that a blink would cover them. Martindell and Killarney had a great race for third and fourth money. Sully, who was not pacing right due to an injury, fifth. Frank Hanover sixth.

Third Heat. With Sully and Guy Ann drawn the field was narrowed down to five and they got away on the third score with Wanda Volo back about three lengths. Duddy Patch in the lead, Frank Hanover second, Martindell tucked in third, Killarney fourth. They continued in Indian file until everyone started for the drive. Frank Hanover made a great bid to get to the flying Duddy, but could not get nearer than Frank's neck. Martindell went to the front and stayed there, although Guy Britton gave her a great argument in the stretch, finishing almost neck and neck with the Sweeney mare. Marvin Brooke third, Peter Onward fourth, Guy Toddlor fifth.

Fourth Heat. They got away on the first score with Klondyke Grattan having a good lead. Hi-Sox second and Jerry Bars on the outside in third position, the others bunched. At the three-quarter pole Jerry Bars started to close in on Klondyke and they rounded up in a gallant rush down the home stretch to beat out the fast pacing Hi-Sox and Miss Victoria. Starrett Volo paced well but could not get through the gang, and the same thing happened to Direct L. who finished sixth.

In the second heat they got away on the first score with Klondyke Grattan having a good lead. Hi-Sox second and Jerry Bars on the outside in third position, the others bunched. At the three-quarter pole Jerry Bars started to close in on Klondyke and they rounded up in a gallant rush down the home stretch to beat out the fast pacing Hi-Sox and Miss Victoria. Starrett Volo paced well but could not get through the gang, and the same thing happened to Direct L. who finished sixth.

Free For All. The first heat Marjorie M. the favorite, got away in last position, quite a bit back. Marvin Brooke taking the lead, Guy Britton second and Guy Toddlor on the outside. They raced to the half in 1:04 1/2. At the three-quarter pole Marjorie M. started to mow them down and finishing fast through the home stretch almost got to Guy Britton, who was out of the neck. It was a great finish, Marvin Brooke was a close third, with Peter Onward finishing at his wheel. Guy Toddlor fifth. The time, 2:05 1/2, was within one-half second of the fastest mile paced during the meet.

Second Heat. It took six scores before they were sent away. This time Marjorie M. got away well and tucked in behind Guy Britton who was in the lead, Marvin Brooke third, Peter Onward fourth and Guy Toddlor on the outside. At the half, Marjorie M. went to the front and stayed there, although Guy Britton gave her a great argument in the stretch, finishing almost neck and neck with the Sweeney mare. Marvin Brooke third, Peter Onward fourth, Guy Toddlor fifth.

Third Heat. They got away on the first score with Klondyke Grattan having a good lead. Hi-Sox second and Jerry Bars on the outside in third position, the others bunched. At the three-quarter pole Jerry Bars started to close in on Klondyke and they rounded up in a gallant rush down the home stretch to beat out the fast pacing Hi-Sox and Miss Victoria. Starrett Volo paced well but could not get through the gang, and the same thing happened to Direct L. who finished sixth.

In the second heat they got away on the first score with Klondyke Grattan having a good lead. Hi-Sox second and Jerry Bars on the outside in third position, the others bunched. At the three-quarter pole Jerry Bars started to close in on Klondyke and they rounded up in a gallant rush down the home stretch to beat out the fast pacing Hi-Sox and Miss Victoria. Starrett Volo paced well but could not get through the gang, and the same thing happened to Direct L. who finished sixth.

Direct L. And Sully, Both Heavily Backed, Fail To Win Single Heat On Day's Card

12-year-old Marjorie M. Popular Sydney Mare, Gives Crowd Big Thrill By Capturing Free-for-all After Losing First Heat To Guy Britton.

The third day's racing at the Provincial Fair was featured by a chapter of accidents which caused delays in several heats. They were not serious, however, mostly broken harness, a lost shoe, a broken sulky; but one in the first heat of the 219 Trot and Pace was a close call when Guy Ann went down, throwing owner George Calbeck on his feet.

Wanda Volo just missed colliding with her by inches. A crowd was quickly gathered and helping hands unharnessed the mare and she was taken away apparently uninjured. Driver Calbeck was on his feet very quickly after the accident and although quite a bit shaken up, resumed driving in the next heat.

The accident was caused by the mare being held in very tightly behind Sully, and that could not be avoided because other horses were boxing her in. When she got into the clear a sudden lunge took her feet from under her with the above result.

There were fairly large fields in all the classes and considerable difficulty was experienced by Starter Webber in getting them away on anything like even terms. Most of the starts were satisfactory, however, few which did not meet with the approval of the fans, particularly the third heat of the 222 Pace in which Direct L. was given the word which of the same class Rosebud got away to a disastrous start.

Upsets took place in the 219 Trot and Pace when the favorite Sully 210, who had been heavily backed for first, he looked as though he would come through in the first heat, but in the last few strides Duddy Patch nosed him out.

In the second heat he seemed a bit lame and lost ground rapidly, finishing fifth, and he was drawn in the third heat. The slowest of the 219 Trot and Pace is difficult to describe, but as the writer saw it was as follows: First Heat. They got away on the tenth score to a stragglingly start with Sully in the lead. Direct L. and Martindell came up on the outside to go into second place, Guy Ann back quite a bit. They raced all strung out to the half, with Wanda Volo on the outside. Duddy Patch made a try to break the back stretch the second time around. It was a beautiful race around the three-quarter pole with the horses well bunched. Turning into the stretch Duddy Patch came very fast on the outside, passing Martindell and beating Sully out in a sensational finish. Killarney, who had gone a long mile but paced the last end fast, finished third, being out by Martindell. Frank Hanover fifth, Guy Ann going down in the accident described above, and Wanda Volo sixth.

Second Heat. Duddy Patch and Guy Ann paced like a team to the half in 1:03 1/2, with Wanda Volo tucked in behind. When they struck the three-quarter pole Volo pulled up and entering the stretch was on even terms with Duddy Patch, racing the last eighth so closely matched that a blink would cover them. Martindell and Killarney had a great race for third and fourth money. Sully, who was not pacing right due to an injury, fifth. Frank Hanover sixth.

Third Heat. With Sully and Guy Ann drawn the field was narrowed down to five and they got away on the third score with Wanda Volo back about three lengths. Duddy Patch in the lead, Frank Hanover second, Martindell tucked in third, Killarney fourth. They continued in Indian file until everyone started for the drive. Frank Hanover made a great bid to get to the flying Duddy, but could not get nearer than Frank's neck. Martindell went to the front and stayed there, although Guy Britton gave her a great argument in the stretch, finishing almost neck and neck with the Sweeney mare. Marvin Brooke third, Peter Onward fourth, Guy Toddlor fifth.

Fourth Heat. They got away on the first score with Klondyke Grattan having a good lead. Hi-Sox second and Jerry Bars on the outside in third position, the others bunched. At the three-quarter pole Jerry Bars started to close in on Klondyke and they rounded up in a gallant rush down the home stretch to beat out the fast pacing Hi-Sox and Miss Victoria. Starrett Volo paced well but could not get through the gang, and the same thing happened to Direct L. who finished sixth.

In the second heat they got away on the first score with Klondyke Grattan having a good lead. Hi-Sox second and Jerry Bars on the outside in third position, the others bunched. At the three-quarter pole Jerry Bars started to close in on Klondyke and they rounded up in a gallant rush down the home stretch to beat out the fast pacing Hi-Sox and Miss Victoria. Starrett Volo paced well but could not get through the gang, and the same thing happened to Direct L. who finished sixth.

Free For All. The first heat Marjorie M. the favorite, got away in last position, quite a bit back. Marvin Brooke taking the lead, Guy Britton second and Guy Toddlor on the outside. They raced to the half in 1:04 1/2. At the three-quarter pole Marjorie M. started to mow them down and finishing fast through the home stretch almost got to Guy Britton, who was out of the neck. It was a great finish, Marvin Brooke was a close third, with Peter Onward finishing at his wheel. Guy Toddlor fifth. The time, 2:05 1/2, was within one-half second of the fastest mile paced during the meet.

Second Heat. It took six scores before they were sent away. This time Marjorie M. got away well and tucked in behind Guy Britton who was in the lead, Marvin Brooke third, Peter Onward fourth and Guy Toddlor on the outside. At the half, Marjorie M. went to the front and stayed there, although Guy Britton gave her a great argument in the stretch, finishing almost neck and neck with the Sweeney mare. Marvin Brooke third, Peter Onward fourth, Guy Toddlor fifth.

Third Heat. They got away on the first score with Klondyke Grattan having a good lead. Hi-Sox second and Jerry Bars on the outside in third position, the others bunched. At the three-quarter pole Jerry Bars started to close in on Klondyke and they rounded up in a gallant rush down the home stretch to beat out the fast pacing Hi-Sox and Miss Victoria. Starrett Volo paced well but could not get through the gang, and the same thing happened to Direct L. who finished sixth.

In the second heat they got away on the first score with Klondyke Grattan having a good lead. Hi-Sox second and Jerry Bars on the outside in third position, the others bunched. At the three-quarter pole Jerry Bars started to close in on Klondyke and they rounded up in a gallant rush down the home stretch to beat out the fast pacing Hi-Sox and Miss Victoria. Starrett Volo paced well but could not get through the gang, and the same thing happened to Direct L. who finished sixth.

Aussies Sweep Opening Singles Matches Against German Davis Cuppers

BY BERNARD FREEMAN Associated Press Sports Writer

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 18—(AP)—Australia's young tennis stalwarts, Adrian Quist and Jack Bromwich, all but shut the door on Germany's Davis Cup hopes today, winning without the loss of a set the two singles matches that opened the interzone final between the two nations.

The Antipodeans, who required less than two hours to put both Germans to rout, gave up only 14 games in six sets, a remarkable display for top-notch Davis Cup competition.

First, 19-year-old Bromwich brushed aside Henner Henkel the world's third-ranking player, with a brilliant display of baseline accuracy, 6-2, 6-3, 6-3, and then Quist raced through Georg Von Metaxa, the Austrian who was making his debut in the United States, 6-3, 6-2, 6-1.

The Germans now face the all-most impossible task of taking all three remaining matches to the right to face the United States for the cup. If Henkel and Metaxa, who reached the doubles final at Wimbledon this year, can beat Quist and Bromwich in the team match tomorrow, they'll have another chance in the two remaining singles matches in which today's pairing will be reversed.

With both Germans utterly outclassed from the baseline, neither Bromwich nor Quist designed to waste energy by trying to come to the net.

The Australians were a bit worried before the match because Bromwich had lost both of his singles matches in the series with Japan. But the young Anzac, who his forehand shots with both hands on the racquet, was much improved. He hit his short, high, looping forehand and backhand shots that left Metaxa flustered as he advanced into fore court.

Quist appeared in for a tougher test against Metaxa, who had him twice in the second game of the first set to pull even at 1-1, but thereafter the Aussie drew away from the forehead and averaged high-lying strokes. He won the first set 6-3, 6-2, 6-1.

The Germans now face the all-most impossible task of taking all three remaining matches to the right to face the United States for the cup. If Henkel and Metaxa, who reached the doubles final at Wimbledon this year, can beat Quist and Bromwich in the team match tomorrow, they'll have another chance in the two remaining singles matches in which today's pairing will be reversed.

With both Germans utterly outclassed from the baseline, neither Bromwich nor Quist designed to waste energy by trying to come to the net.

The Australians were a bit worried before the match because Bromwich had lost both of his singles matches in the series with Japan. But the young Anzac, who his forehand shots with both hands on the racquet, was much improved. He hit his short, high, looping forehand and backhand shots that left Metaxa flustered as he advanced into fore court.

Oliver And Kunes Lead In Canadian Open

MISSISSAUGA COUNTRY CLUB, Toronto, Aug. 18—Two of the tournament's deepest-hued grid horses, better Ed Oliver of Wilmington, Del., and Gene Kunes of Chicago, a former champion, led a smashing attack on pay in the first 18-hole round of the Canadian open golf championships today.

With the game's big money winners also taking advantage of fine weather to blast Mississauga's par-72, Oliver and Kunes, who were two strokes under par, led a field of more than 150 that swarmed over the par-72 layout from early morning until dusk. The pair, who were in front at the end of the first round, were still in front at the end of the second round, when they were two strokes ahead of the rest of the field.

Both A. Well, manager of the club, and Ed Mead, who pilots Armstrong, first man in ring history to wear three crowns at one time, agreed to do an encore for Mike Jacobs as soon as the latter recovers from the cutting up Ambers gave him. Dr. Alexander Schiff, who took more than 10 stitches in Armstrong's lip, said Mead will be ready for the lip to mend properly. Armstrong will need an additional month to get into condition.

Henry has one of the worst cut lips I have seen in 30 years of treating fighters' wounds, Dr. Schiff told Mead. NEW YORK, Aug. 18—(AP)—A repetition of the 15-round thriller Henry Armstrong and Lou Amburgey in Madison Square Garden, New York today, but they're going to have to wait some time to see it.

Both A. Well, manager of the club, and Ed Mead, who pilots Armstrong, first man in ring history to wear three crowns at one time, agreed to do an encore for Mike Jacobs as soon as the latter recovers from the cutting up Ambers gave him. Dr. Alexander Schiff, who took more than 10 stitches in Armstrong's lip, said Mead will be ready for the lip to mend properly. Armstrong will need an additional month to get into condition.

Henry has one of the worst cut lips I have seen in 30 years of treating fighters' wounds, Dr. Schiff told Mead. NEW YORK, Aug. 18—(AP)—A repetition of the 15-round thriller Henry Armstrong and Lou Amburgey in Madison Square Garden, New York today, but they're going to have to wait some time to see it.

Both A. Well, manager of the club, and Ed Mead, who pilots Armstrong, first man in ring history to wear three crowns at one time, agreed to do an encore for Mike Jacobs as soon as the latter recovers from the cutting up Ambers gave him. Dr. Alexander Schiff, who took more than 10 stitches in Armstrong's lip, said Mead will be ready for the lip to mend properly. Armstrong will need