The New York World Telegram editorial, Dec. 26, "Without joining in the accusations of a so-called Pope, the Pope insists that the settlement be just in this the following months. The 'Chastisement' can be inflicted on the aggressor by the society of states, so that war will always be subject to the stigma of proscription," the defeated peoples should have hope of equal rights commensurate to their effective collaboration.

The Washington Evening Star editorial, Dec. 27: "The Pope sees the hope of the future in the restoration of the concept of human dignity and responsibility in both the peoples and their leaders, chosen by democratic methods. He sees the process of turning onto the international plane by an association of nations - that association must be universal based upon the principle that mankind is a spiritual unity."

"This implies that the world must be guided by the principles of even handed justice to all, with no permanent discriminations between the present victors and vanquished. Thus, and thus alone, can the current catastrophe be constructively terminated and the world's wounds healed."

Community Hall Opened At Parkdale

Parkdale (St. Avards) School District has just acquired a fine community hall, through the efforts of the Women's Institute. It was opened at a public function Friday night.

Mr. Lloyd W. Shaw, director of education for the Province, acting for Premier J. Walter Jones, dedicated the hall open. Mr. Percy Gay, president. An enjoyable program included numbers by Parkdale residents, assisted by several from Charlottetown. The evening was completed by an old fashioned sale of baked goods.

The hall was donated to the Women's Institute by the Prince Edward Island Rifle Association, and was formerly the Association's bungalow on the Kensington Rifle range, near the Charlottetown approach to Hillsboro Bridge.

Moved to a new site adjacent to Parkdale School, the building has been remodelled and now is an up-to-date hall with a seating capacity of approximately 300. It has an 18 by 18 foot stage, with two dressing rooms, while the floor space is 21 by 41 feet. The whole building is 31 by 73 on the ground. The Institute is a room in addition to the hall.

The Parkdale School Trustees decided a lot to be used as a School Hall and a community centre.

It does not mean to imply that we will not be giving the greatest attention to some other fisheries, but simply to indicate the importance and apparent promise of the inshore resource.

He said the plan to establish oyster 'farming' in the Maritimes has been meeting with success. It is believed that success in developing and applying efficient methods of clam culture would multiply the present money return to Atlantic clam fishermen.

The Board was informed that the replacement of the Grand River Que. Research Station, destroyed some months ago, now is readily completed. The new station, which Dr. Cameron said offered facilities unsurpassed by any of the others, will be formally opened in the spring. It is designed to serve the fishermen of Gaspe, the north shore of the St. Lawrence River and northern New Brunswick.

Damaged by Enemy Action - On Aug. 8, 1941, it was announced the ship had been 'damaged by enemy action.' No details were given.

Here is what happened: On July 7 with troops and supplies and was immediately unloaded. On July 14 enemy planes attacked her. Five bombs exploded on the ship, damaging the hull and exploded underwater, damaging the shell plating forward. Another hit the sports deck astern and pierced five decks before exploding. This caused much damage including a fracture of the engine room bulkhead.

Raging fires broke out and within eight minutes the ship was aflame. Capt. Greig decided to take the George into shallow water and she beached her. She burned for two days.

The Cunard White Star Line sent experts to the ship and salvage operations began after divers had plugged underwater holes. In October, 1941, the ship was floated, although no more than a 'dead' mass of machinery and charred debris.

On Dec. 28, 1941, the George left India in low and reached Karachi, India, on March 21.

For months workmen scurried over her mangled remains. Then, under her own power, she made her way to Bombay where she was drydocked for replating.

She left Bombay Jan. 20, 1943 for

A special meeting of the Royal Edward Chapter of the I.O.D.E. was held on Friday, Jan. 6, with the acting regent, Mrs. E. G. Saunders in the chair.

The national campaign to raise the Armed Services was a subject under consideration. This campaign has been authorized by the Minister of War Services, Major General L. R. LaFleur. The Minister's Office of the I.O.D.E. accepted this further opportunity for the sum of $30,000 to buy books, as the voluntary gift of money this organization has brought increased demand, but through that over one million books have already been distributed to the Armed Services.

The quota for Prince Edward Island is $2,000. A committee from the Royal Edward Chapter was appointed with Mrs. J. A. MacMillan as convener to cooperate with other chapters in this worthy work.

Although the I.O.D.E. has a budget through which this money is to be raised, the cooperation of the larger centres but not only in the whole Province, is needed.

An I.O.D.E. member said that "books and magazines are sent to our soldiers' salons and army camps more time reading than in any other leisure time activity. The I.O.D.E. is a very grateful public will respond as generously as possible to this worthy appeal as they have done in the past."

POETRY SHIPPING - "I have reason to be delighted with the performance in poetry shipping for the year 1944," Mr. Johnson said. "During the year we ferried more potatoes than we have any record of doing before. The number of carloads was 5,513, like 1938 when the total amount ferried was 2,000 carloads. The figures do not include turnips, and there has been a considerable increase in turnip production."

"There has also been a heavy increase in the movement of fertilizer which is a good thing for all concerned."

"I want to say that I think the farmers on Prince Edward Island are a tremendous credit to the province. They have realized the patriotic necessity of very great production, and they have every reason to be proud of their achievement on the food front."
