Winter Feed For Horses

For the idle horse in winter, or for horses that merely require what may be termed a maintenance ration, "The Feeding of Horses" circular, issued by the Dominion Department of Agriculture, recommends for every hundred pounds of the horse's weight a feed of one pound of mixed hay, one pound of clean oat straw, and one pound of turnips. To this might be added a small feed daily of bran and oats in equal parts.

Ensilage, although sometimes used in place of turnips and straw, is not a standard horse feed. The feeding of mouldy ensilage is to be guarded against. Some authorities claim that it induces spinal meningitis. Other rations that have been found satisfactory are: (No. 1)—grain composed of 3 parts oats, and 1 part barley; (No. 2)—grain mixture of oats, 3 parts, and corn, 1 part; (No. 3)—grain mixture of oats 10 parts; bran, 2 parts; oilmeal, 1 part; hay with rations as above outlined. (No. 4)—grain mixture of oats, 3 parts; bran, 1 part, fed with two green-cured oat sheaves, spare enough land to provide sur-and a limited amount of straw. This is a ration particularly adapted to horses on very light winter work in the western provinces. (No. 5)—grain mixture of oats, 2 parts; corn, 2 parts; and bran, 2 parts. To this may be added linseed oilmeal, 1 part, or 2 pounds of molasses daily if the horses are not inclined to relish their grain, or are in a low condition.

Agriculture In India

The outstanding feature of India's agriculture is that not only are the cattle not an integral part of the agricultural system but their numbers are, for religious reasons, largely in excess of all possible requirements. The cattle, said Lord Bledisloe in the Cawthorne Lecture, are not properly bred or fed, and therefore the supplies of manure, much needed by the soil, and milk, much needed by the urban population and a potential source of wealth to the ryot (peasant farmer) are both seriously inadequate. Because of the low fertility of the soil and impoverishment of the ryot, the latter is unable to with two green-cured oat sheaves, spare enough land to provide surficient food for his stock.

The country is indeed in a vicious circle, which creates baffling problems for local agricultural research workers. One of their main objectives is to raise the milk production level in the Indian cow without affecting the efficiency and stamina of the male progeny used for draught purposes.

Women Should Work Against Crime In U.S.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Mary Roberts Rinehart, the novelist, said yesterday that women have before them the greatest crusade they have ever attempted—"throttling the crime situation."

"They have shown by their work in the repeal movement," she said, "what they can do when organized. So now let them get to work on crime."

Mrs. Rinehart discussed a plan of attack on crime which she believed would be effective.

"To begin with, local vigilante committees could be formed by women throughout the country. These could make investigations, first within their own police district, and if a flabby—I mean crooked—police force is found, they could agitate about it. This would lead to the whole community's removal of unworthy police magistrates and judges."

(Canadian Press)

QUEBEC, Sept. 30.—His Eminence Cardinal J. M. S. Villeneuve has despatched a message of sympathy to Madame Poirier at Shediac, on the occasion of the death of Senator Pascal Poirier. The message reads:

"Regret profoundly, the death of Senator Poirier. Acadia has lost one of its most illustrious sons. I offer you my religious sympathy and beseech for you Divine support in this sorrowful hour."

Stomachless Dog Dies Of Old Age

EVANSTON, Ill., Sept. 30.—(A.P.)

Ajax, the dog, lived nine years without a stomach and then died of senility.

He did his part to contribute to scientific knowledge. When Ajax was three years old, Dr. A. C. Ivy of the Medical School at Northwestern University, took out Ajax's stomach just to show that a stomach wasn't necessary to existence and that it might be good medical practice to remove the organ in case of disease. Ajax continued a long and happy life with the small intestine doing the major portion of digestion, and the experiment paved the way for research on the role of the stomach in building up red corpuscles.

But Dr. Ivy today said that Ajax had died—of old age.

Here Are The Newest Pads In Making Up

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—Many tips in new fall feminine make-up were given today by Myrdall Cain, Minneapolis beautician, who is on the program of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association in annual convention here. Here are some of them:

Delicate Beauty
The fall ideal in make-up is to copy the delicate fragile beauty of the women of the Victorian era, yet retain the vitality of 1933.

Make-up—rouge, lipstick and powder—is lighter in color this fall.

Beauty patches are back. They are worn to accent the most attractive feature, but generally are placed near the eye when the hat is small and close to the mouth when the hat is large.

Combs Again
Comb—fancy, jewelled combs and the plain school girl tortoise-shell variety—are back, too.

An illustration of the new hair ribbon vogue was described for evening wear. With a white evening gown, flat tailored white ribbon bows were pictured as worn at the temples.

Finger nails may still be brilliantly colored, but the new fad in application of the polish is to cover the entire nail, leaving no white tip and sometimes no white moon at the base of the nail.

The new bob is longer—two inches below the ear lobe, but—the bob is not worn long. Instead, the hair is dressed up in back and held in place with combs and barrettes.

TOY BALLOON BRINGS HELP

The balloon was one of many released at a fête two days before, and floated farther than any other. By the terms of the contest, the finder of the tiny gas bag making

Strong Grain Market At Chicago

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—(A.P.)—Big export purchases of wheat at Winnipeg did much to put backbone into grain quotations today. But speculative demand here lagged and gains failed to hold at the last. Late estimates indicated 2,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat were acquired today to be shipped abroad. Great Britain was said to have been the largest buyer.

Wheat closed easy, at the same as yesterday's finish to 3-8 lower, corn unchanged to 3-8 advance, oats 1-4 off to 1-8 up, and provisions unchanged to 12 cents decline.

Quite Correct Says Beatty

(Canadian Press)

EDMONTON, Sept. 29.—"It is quite correct. The railways have taken cognizance of the communication and will make their reply in a few days. That is all it is possible for me to say just now," said E. W. Beatty, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway today, when shown a report from Montreal saying officials of the railway running trades unions had notified the companies they had been authorized by their members to call a strike.

B.C. Shippers And Growers In Skirmish

(Canadian Press)

KELOWNA, B. C., Sept. 29.—Kelowna District Fruit Growers today won their first skirmish with shippers, who, they charged, sought to violate rulings of the recently-created Stabilization Marketing Board by shipping apples to market in bulk carloads.

Determined to maintain the sanctity of the orderly marketing agreements reached this month, the growers resorted to passive resistance and to legal steps to achieve their purpose.

Two injunctions effective until Oct. 3 testified to the extent of their victory in the first serious test of the strength of the "cent a pound or on the ground" campaign. One prohibited any shipper from moving shipments of fruit in contravention of the agreements signed by growers and shippers. The other forbade the two major Canadian railway systems—the Canadian National and the Canadian Pacific—from moving any cars containing shipments supposedly in violation of the agreement.

Ancient And Honorable To Visit Saint John

(Canadian Press)

BOSTON, Sept. 30.—The ancient and honorable Artillery Company of Boston, one of the oldest military-social organizations in the United States, embarked tonight 295 strong for Saint John, N. B., aboard the steamer Saint John.

Arriving in the Maritime City tomorrow, "the ancient and honorable" will parade and lay a wreath at the cenotaph and then call upon the Lieutenant Governor H. H. McLean.

The company plans to return aboard the Saint John Sunday night.

N. Y. Mayoralty Fight Begins

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Joseph V. McKee, former aldermanic president, finally jumped into the New York City mayoralty fight today as an independent Democrat, dedicating himself to a war on "bossism, both Democratic and Republican."

Ending two days of uncertainty which threw the mayoralty campaign into a turmoil, McKee assailed John F. Curry, "boss" of Tammany Hall, John H. McCooey, Brooklyn Democratic leader, and called Fiorello H. La Guardia, fusion candidate, "a poor compromise by a faction of would-be bosses."

With McKee, mortgage banker and former university professor, entering the three-cornered race, Tammany backers of Mayor John P. O'Brien and fusion strategists began formulating plans for a campaign which promised to become one of the bitterest in the city's history.
