

The General Says:—

There are some very good reasons why my business is bigger each year than it was the year before.

Some years ago asphalt roofing was sold at high prices because the volume was small and facilities were limited.

When the General entered the field he broke up the high price combine by taking advantage of all possible manufacturing economies...

Eventually the General became recognized as the leader of the entire field, and today the best known and largest used brand in the world is

Certain-teed Roofing

The General's big success brought about an attempt by others to imitate his policies and prices, but they didn't have the General's wonderful facilities...

Today the market is flooded with low quality roofings, made to sell at cheap prices without regard to the service they will give.

When you roof your building with Certain-teed you have a responsible manufacturer's guarantee of 5, 10, or 15 years according to whether the thickness is 1, 2, or 3-ply respectively.

Certain-teed products are used and well known all over the world. Consult your local lumber and hardware dealers. They will quote you reasonable prices.

General Roofing Manufacturing Co. World's largest manufacturer of Roofing and Building Paper.

—HUSKING FROLIC.—Reminiscences of practices followed by the pioneer settlers was brought to bear upon the mind of those present when Mr. Marcisse Gallant, Mont Carmel, held what was commonly termed a husking frolic in connection with a bountiful crop of corn. This practice has gradually dropped off until now very few such gatherings among neighbors take place. The meeting had all the features of a real husking frolic of past years especially when a sufficient quantity of the boiled corn was brought forward and a part of the spontaneously prepared repast put before the guests.—R.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION

On Thursday evening, Oct. 7th, at the Drill Hall, a smoker was given by the Scouts Citizens' Band to bid farewell to one of their most valued members, Lieut. J. T. Sterns, who has joined the P. E. I. Siege Artillery and leaves shortly for the firing line. Gr. MacCallum, one of the young men of the town who is going forward with the Battery, was also present and the citizens took this opportunity of bidding him, also, good-bye.

The room was tastefully decorated with red, white and blue bunting and the allied flags were displayed from different points of the walls. Mayor Brennan occupied the chair and in a few appropriate words said that as President of the band it fell to his duty to deliver the address to Lieut. Sterns, which read as follows:

J. Frank Sterns, P. E. Island Siege Battery of Artillery. Sir: Upon the eve of your departure to accept a commission in the Prince Edward Island Siege Battery, now training for the front, we, the members of the Scouts Citizens' Band, cannot allow the occasion to pass without taking the opportunity of expressing our good wishes. We need scarcely observe that you are the third member of this organization to depart for overseas service since the outbreak of the war. A little over one year ago we assembled to do honor to our late member Neil McEwen, who had then enlisted in the First Canadian Contingent and who has since given up his life in the cause for which the Empire struggles and for which you are now about to go forward to do your part. This morning, another member, Wilfrid Cheveris left for Charlottetown to enlist. We fully realize that in taking this step you are making a great sacrifice, but as has been truly said "the soul of every good citizen in the Empire is just now haunted by an intense desire to do his utmost to end this war victoriously" and we believe it is a desire such as this which has prompted you to sever family ties and forego comforts of home and don "the Khaki." We congratulate you upon having obtained a commission in the siege battery. Your military training has been an exacting one, and possessing such you are well qualified to fill the very important position of being an aviator.

We will not say "good-bye!"—merely a passing "Good-bye" for we hope that ere twelve months shall have passed you will have returned again ready to resume the place which you have so acceptably filled in the organization since its establishment. Kindly accept, sincere good wishes, may Providence protect you and send you back unharmed. We know that you will perform your duty fearlessly and honorably—doing honor not only to yourself but likewise to your many friends whom you have left behind. In conclusion we wish you "God speed." Signed in behalf of the Scouts Citizens' Band at Souris, Oct. 7, 1915. J. W. BRENNAN, President. JOHN E. MACDONALD, Bandmaster. R. C. McLEAN, Secretary.

Dr. A. A. MacDonald, M. P. P. was next called on. He said that he had known both men personally for a long time and each was the acme of citizenship. In reference to the war he quoted that old Latin phrase "Dulce est decuram pro patria mori" but hoped that both of our young men should be spared to make a triumphant return home when the war of battle should cease.

Gr. MacCallum when called on thanked those present for the kindness and hoped that he should live up to their expectations when the call for bravery should come. Mr. A. E. Clarke voiced the sentiments already made and said that on the departure of Lieut. Sterns he had lost a valued friend, but he hoped that his patriotism should be rewarded by a safe return.

Mr. MacClure, Charlottetown, was then called on and in a few words remarked that although a stranger he knew in what high esteem the young men were held and what sacrifices they had to make in order to join the militia.

Mr. R. C. McLean was called on by the chairman and stated that the Citizens' Band might well be proud of its quota of men sent in defence of the Motherland. Three out of a total of eighteen having enlisted, one of them having sacrificed his life. This percentage could hardly be equalled in any peace organization and now when the latest member was on the eve of his departure it was only fitting that he be honored by a good reception.

Bandmaster John E. MacDonald spoke of the necessity of stimulating recruiting and eulogized the handful of British soldiers who were in the van when the tide of battle was turned from Paris to Berlin.

Messrs. Wade Hughes and Roy Crockett in a few words expressed their regret at the departure of two of their citizens but hoped that a greater reception would be awaiting them in their victorious march home.

Mr. J. B. Matthew said that he was proud to have the opportunity of addressing the departing men and voiced the sentiments already made by the preceding speakers. Messrs. Felix MacIsaac and H. H. Acorn spoke of the bravery of those who had joined the other contingent and that it would be repeated by those who were now on their way to the front. W. B. Leard was the last speaker and wished the boys God speed in the nice couplet "How sweet it is to die while facing fearful odds for the memories of our fathers and the temples of our gods." Judge Fraser was the next speaker and spoke forcibly of the necessity of all young men joining the colors as now the Empire was in a death grapple and unless young men responded Teacher—Now, children, what is it we want most in the world to make us perfectly happy? Bright youngster—The things we ain't got.—Boston Transcript.

MIGHT HAVE BEEN

At one of the annual fairs held at a small town in Russia, a gentleman observed a gipsy and a few haggling over the sale of a horse. Full of curiosity when the two separated, and anxious to know how such shrewd characters had bargained, the gentleman called the gipsy to him and inquired how much he had got for his animal.

The gipsy opened his hand and showed a ten rouble note. But isn't that very cheap? No, said the gipsy, he is dead lame. The gentleman then sought the Jew and said, So you have given ten roubles for a lame horse.

The Israelite laid his finger on his nose and said, Lame! He's sound as you are; I saw he was badly shod and only limped in consequence.

The inquirer returned to the gipsy and reported what the Jew said. The former gave a tremendous and most significant wink, and whispered: "He's as lame as a two legged stool. Had him badly shod on purpose to make them believe that that was the cause of his limping."

When this was communicated to the Jew he seemed for the moment taken aback, and hung his head; then with a little sigh and a shrug of his shoulders, he said, quietly: "Ah, well; it's all right. It was a bad ten rouble note!"
